DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—British air, navy and ground forces harried Germans along channel coast in series of raiding actions. Bombers were over Bremen with 200 planes while Commandos were on the French coast. Pacific action was scattered and minor save in China. Midway island was attack by Jap planes but there were no details. American generals in China conferred with Chinese leader and there were reports of Japs massing troops in Manchukuo. Australia announced an Allied sub had sunk an overloaded enemy transport and two supply vessels. There was a lull in Libya. Hitler flew to Finland to put pressure on Mannerheim for more aid in north.

SATURDAY — The Jap assault against Midway was going heavily against the enemy but the fight was continuing. Naval and air forces were hammering the enemy. Japs had thrown 100,000 troops against Chuhsien in the Chekiang province. British announced that the biggest convoy of arms and troops ever, had reached shores of India. Allies reported strong action against Jap subs in those waters, sinking two and possibly three, making seven for a week. British stopped the Tank and dive-bomber stabs in Libya and in Russia the activity of the Red air force was stressed, bagging forty planes in drive to clear the air over Murmansk.

SUNDAY — Admiral Nimitz declared Pearl Harbor had been partially avenged by the battle at Midway island. Enemy losses were two or three aircraft carriers, with all planes destroyed; one or two carriers damaged and most of planes on ships lost; three battleships damaged, four cruisers and three transports, with some of them most likely unable to reach home. British planes had another big day over the channel and Ruhr valley. Axis propaganda was trying to hustle Turkey to their side. Argentina seemed to be drifting with the Axis. British were claiming edge in Libya tank battle. Russian bombers sank nine German transports in the Baltic. The Japs were paying heavily for the offensive in China.

MONDAY—British planes struck at the Nazi sub base at Emden and also struck from Mediterranean air base. British repulsed two Libyan attacks. Czechs were forced to mourn for Heydrich in funeral procession. American and Jap battle actions were continuing in the North Pacific around Dutch Harbor. Experts were sure the Jap naval power had been heavily damaged. Australians were feeling that the danger of invasion was being lifted. Chinese admitted a break by Japs into Chuhsien. Reds listed 528 Nazi planes as week's toll. The task of moving the Japanese population from the west coast was completed.

TUESDAY—The crippled Jap fleet had fled into hiding but was expected to try another face-saving attack. British hammered the coast area in attempt to drive German air power out. Britain urged the French people to clear the coast. Sevastopol beat off more German attacks in Crimea sector. A new push in Libya by Rommel was halted by British artillery and Free French beat off another attack in their sector. Chinese reported that their troops were inflicting heavy casualties on Japs in ferocious fighting on outskirts of Chuhsien. American bombers pounded Rangoon in a daylight raid.

WEDNESDAY — Germans began a supreme effort to reduce the Russian naval base of Sevastopol but Soviets said the many charges were broken up. Germany's air force was active there. Free French were holding southern anchor of British line in Libya while British forces to the west successfully harried the enemy's rearward communications. British bombers raided arms plants in the Ruhr valley and blasted docks, railways and airdromes in France and Netherlands. British and American air force units arrived to aid Chinese. Lochner, AP writer, declared that Germans prayed for deliverance from Hitler. Two U. S. navy blimps collided off the coast, killing twelve. A lone British sub sank 5 Axis ships in Mediterranean. American bombers attacked Japs at Lashio.

THURSDAY—Nazis executed all men living in a village of 1200 and deported women and children to concentration camps and razed the town. The Heydrich assassiins were supposed to have been harbored in this village. Half the Jap fleet at Midway was rated as casualties and Nimitz said enemy armada was made up of thirty ships. Tokyo admits loss of only one airplane carrier. A strong U. S. cruiser was launched from a New York shipyard. Germans launched a new offensive in Kharkov area as Russian defenses in Sevastopol were holding the enemy in check. Three more allied vessels were sunk by Sub in Atlantic waters. Japs claimed landing men on Aleutian islands but U. S. Navy knew nothing of it. Gallant Free French were beating off intense Nazi attempts to drive them out of their positions in Libya.

Work on Savage River Dam Not to Be Halted

A report that funds had been withdrawn by the WPA for completion of the Savage river dam, and that work on the dam had been stopped, was termed a "gross misstatement of facts" by John J. McMullen, chairman of the Upper Potomac River commission.

Over 500 men are reported at work on the project.

The schedule of work this season is the completion of the spillway, finishing and surfacing of 7.2 miles of road around the pool, quarrying 70,000 cubic yards of stone to be used in the embankment, the construction of necessary buildings, and all other work on the project with exception of the embankment, it was stated by a joint statement from McMullen and Owen Hitchins, treasurer..

In the event that a satisfactory priority number can be obtained it is possible that the embankment will be completed this year.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES THAT

It was estimated that scarcely more than a million motor vehicles were operating in continental Europe, compared to over 6 million in 1939.

A fifty-one pound catfish was caught on a trotline in the Little Kanawha river at Parkersburg, W. Va.

Guides for enemy raiders to vital points have been spotted by aerial photographers.

The War Production Board gave permission for immediate construction of the oil pipeline from Longview, Tex., to Salem, Ill. The distance is 550 miles. The work is to be done in six months.

During "Avenge Pearl Harbor Day" last Sunday, 12,326 young Americans joined the country's sea forces in a mass enlistment.

Volunteers Sought In Reorganizing Observation Posts

Chief Observers Need Services Of Many Others Throughout County

The Aircraft Warning System of the U. S. Army Air Corps is reorganizing the observation posts in this county and volunteers are being sought among men and women, both young and old, accordingg to an announcement from the local American Legion post.

Volunteers are urged to get in touch with the chief observers at the various points. The duties will be light but are declared to be most important. They will not interfere with any other Civilian Defense activity in any way.

Chief Observers

Chief observers are as follows:

Accident—F. E. Spoerlein, Walter Haenftling, Earl Ault.

Deer Park—Clarence Rollman, J. Edward Helbig, Mrs. J. Lohr.

Oakland—I. R. Rudy, F. R. "Dick" Shaffer, A. G. Hosen.

Friendsville—Dr. Brown and his assistants.

"Forewarned is forearmed," said Mr. Shaffer, one of the Oakland observers. "The most of the civilian population has at one time or another wondered how they could best serve in the present war effort. Most Civilian Defense programs are effective only in case of an attack. However, this air craft warning system, directly under the supervision of the U. S. Army air corps, is to prevent or curtail the effect of an attack. Therefore it is very important, if not the most important, and at the same time requires the least training.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Beeson Snyder and son Richard spent Sunday at Mr. Snyder's former home in Martinsburg, West Va.

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ward, picnicked at Deep Creek Lake, yesterday.

Esther Davis, student at Bowling Green university, Bowling Green, Ohio, is home to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Davis.

Mrs. Bernard Sipes and son, of Johnson City, Tenn., are here visiting with Mrs. Sipes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Hardesty, and family at their home on Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Patterson announce the birth of a daughter, Linda Jean, on Tuesday, June 2. Mrs. Patterson was formerly Miss Ruth MacMurray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. MacMurray, of Sines.

Mrs. Robert L. Dandridge returned to her home in Baltimore yesterday, following a visit of a few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. Townshend Naylor. Mrs. Dandridge will be remembered as the former Miss Marjorie Linville.

The Everready Circle of St. Mark's Lutheran church will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow evening (Friday) at the home of Mrs. Newton Coplin, Second street. This meeting will be featured by a covered dish supper and the time is 6:30.

The 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. S. Townshend Naylor last Saturday. Subject discussed and demonstrated was "putting away winter clothing for the summer." The club will picnic at the Naylor home at Deep Creek Lake, on Saturday.

Irving Broadwater, Baltimore, spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. N. I. Broadwater. Robert Broadwater, who was just graduated from Harvard university and who spent a week or more here, has gone to New York City for a visit of several days.

The Senate voted unanimously last Thursday to declare war against Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania, satellites of Nazi Germany. The House had taken similar action the day previous.

New State Forester Visiting in County

Successor to F. W. Besley Is Touring Allegany and Garrett

Joseph F. Kaylor, who became the Maryland State Forester on June 1, will pay his initial visit to Garrett county this week. He arrived in Allegany county Tuesday evening and following a conference with those engaged in forestry work he began visiting forest lands in both counties.

Coming to Maryland from the U. S. Forest Service, Kaylor had recently been assigned to the Tennessee Valley Authority and before that, helped create the shelter-belt of trees on western plains. He now is studying the best means to conserve trees on the 2,500,000 acres of forest land in Maryland, to save money for the landowner and to prevent floods.

Kaylor also is interested in the use of the lands on Maryland's forest reserves on which vacation cabins have been built and in work to restore the chestnut tree, ruined by blight in recent years.

Kaylor was born in Greensburg, Pa., and attended the Pennsylvania State Forestry School at Mount Alto, Pa., and went to Indiana as assistant state forester before he finished there. Returning, he completed his work, and went into the U. S. forestry service. From that activity he went to the TVA.

SUNDAY: THE RISEN CHRIST AND HIS DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:33-48.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are witnesses of these things.—Luke 24:48.

The glory and gladness of the resurrection morning drove back the darkness of the tomb and replaced the disciples' sadness with holy gladness. God's message to His people is one of assurance and hope. The night may be dark, but the dawn will surely come.

Two of Jesus' disciples had been walking sadly along the road to Emmaus when suddenly a stranger was with them, telling them what the Scriptures taught about the Christ—His sufferings and His glory. Their hearts burned strangely within them (Luke 24:32), but they did not recognize Him until He broke the bread of their evening meal—and then He was gone.

But now they had a joyous message which sent them hurrying back to Jerusalem to the eleven who had gathered behind locked doors to discuss the reports which had also come to them of His resurrection. And suddenly—

I. "Jesus Himself Stood in the Midst" (vv. 33-43).

What a blessed and conclusive confirmation of their report. He, their beloved Lord and Master, stood there before them, alive and speaking His tender message of "Peace."

The disciples, however, were bewildered and slow to believe. Observe how kind and patient He was with these frightened and unbelieving men. And note what a splendid testimony it is to the truth of the resurrection that they who knew Him best expected proof before they believed.

Before we condemn them for lack of faith let us ask ourselves if we would have done better, and let us be thankful that their hesitation made assurance doubly sure. He was really there—alive. Partaking of food (which He did not need), and giving them opportunity to touch His body, He demonstrated the reality of the resurrection.

He next gave them a sure foundation for faith.

II. "Then Opened He Their Understanding" (vv. 44, 45).

This He did that they might "understand the scriptures." Their minds had become confused and He literally "disentangled" them. We need to have the knots and kinks taken out of our thinking about God's Word. Then we too will understand.

Dealing with the entire Old Testament (divided by the Hebrews into law, prophets and psalms), He thus gave it His endorsement. Men may deny, but Jesus approved the Scriptures of the Old Testament—and we are ready to take His word. "All things must be fulfilled" is His statement concerning Himself. There is our Lord's guarantee that the promises of His second coming, and all that is associated with it, as well as with His future reign, will be fulfilled.

This time of fellowship with the Lord around the Word of God was strengthening to their faith, but it had another purpose. The blessings of God are not for our own satisfaction alone, for it is His will that there be—

III. "Repentance Preached in His Name" (vv. 46-48).

There is a message to go out through His disciples to all nations. He died for the sins of the world. He arose for the justification of those who believe. There is remission of sin for those who in repentance and faith turn to Him.

Fellowship with Christ and an understanding of His Word which does not result in aggressive witness for Him is quite useless. We meet Him and study His Word not only that we may grow in grace, but that we may be witnesses to all nations.

To be a witness involves knowledge of a fact, to the truth of which the individual can bear testimony. The disciples were called to be witnesses, "not speculators, philosophers, moralists or legislators. They had neither to argue nor to dissertate, nor to lay down rules for conduct, nor to ventilate their own fancies. They were witnesses, and their business was to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" (Alexander Maclaren).

The Christian by life possibly more than by word is to "adorn the doctrine of God," as Paul put it (Titus 2:10), commending it to those round about him. Observe that such a witness is to start right at home, "beginning at Jerusalem" (v. 47).

It may be difficult in our times to send witnesses to distant lands, for ships are busy carrying the men and implements of war. But right in your Jerusalem there is a spiritual need, in your little town or rural community, in the city where you live, in your home, office, shop, or school. You who read this who are in the service of the country will find a "Jerusalem" in your camp or on your ship.

The British production head, after visit to war plants, said that a trip to Detroit would make the Nazis quit. "Confidence in allied victory is now a conviction," he asserted.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . .

Tires and the Truth

The American people have considerable justification for being indignant over the conflicting and confusing governmental publicity concerning tires and gasoline. About these things they have been subjected to an experience well calculated to undermine confidence and promote discontent.

* * *

Offsetting the President's recent optimistic remarks on rubber were the strong, though largely suppressed, pessimistic convictions of the various officials charged with responsibility either for rationing gasoline or the production of rubber. Naturally, none of these was going to say that Mr. Roosevelt talked loosely and too much, but certainly some of them thought so. Beyond question, his optimism was misleading and the facts bear out the darker view. To some extent, the President—unintentionally, of course—has impeded the program and prevented a clear grasp of the realities.

* * *

Because of this, it seems worth while to present the views of those who know most about the situation and have most to do with handling it. The basic fact, upon which there is no governmental disagreement, though there still exists a popular lack of understanding, is that the shortage is in rubber, not in gasoline. There is plenty of gasoline everywhere except in the East and there it is a question of transportation, not lack of supply. Nevertheless, sometime after July 1 gas rationing will be extended to the whole country, not to save gas but to save rubber.

* * *

The facts about rubber can be simply stated. First, even allowing for importations from South America and the synthetic rubber produced here, there is nothing like enough rubber on hand or in sight for war purposes. This is true, even if war requirements were reduced twenty-five per cent, which is not to be thought of. Quite clearly, then, the civilian population is going to have to go without rubber. Despite the President's optimism, there is no prospect of tires for civilian purposes for an indefinite period—probably two years or more. That fact ought to be acceped and no one in the Government ought to make statements calculated to diminish its force. This rubber shortage is quite the toughest civilian fact that has confronted us in this war and it is a disservice to the people to minimize it by cheerful statements. They are entitled to the undiluted truth and they have not had it. The politicians do not and will not give it to them. Yet, those in charge perfectly well know that more drastic steps have got to be taken before this year is out.

* * *

For example, before 1943 the RFC is expected to be buying hoarded and extra tires and two-car families are to be asked to give up one car. The Government will buy; there will be no confiscation, but the two-car owners are not going to be allowed to remain two-car owners. Further curtailment of business users of gasoline will be ordered, and every effort made further to reduce ordinary pleasure driving—by voluntary cooperation if possible; by Government orders if necessary. It is also proposed to encourage the "share-car" idea and to discourage the holding of large public gatherings which wear out rubber, such as fairs, conventions and big football games.

These and other methods to save rubber are being discussed in Washington and are in prospect for the country. All of them may not materialize but most are inevitable and that ought to be understood. The great bulk of automobile owners not only are not going to get new tires for a long time but they are not going to get retreads or substitutes. This is going to make a change in the lives of a good many people who do not appreciate it yet.

* * *

It is a mistake not to acquaint them early and fully with the facts so they can adjust to the necessary sacrifices. That is not being done. Instead, the President's cheerfulness over the outlook created an incorrect idea of the situation and none of his subordinates who are informed as to the facts had the courage to say so. They not only lack the courage to point out a Presidential mistake publicly, which is natural and, perhaps, proper, but they lack the courage to point it out privately. Illustrating this is the story recently told by a man who sat in on a White House conference. The President had made a suggestion. One of his chief aides said: "No, Mr. President, I am afraid I do not agree with you. I think you are wrong." Then he caught a look from the President and quickly said, "One minute, Mr. President, one minute. I see it now—it was just too big for me."

REV. H. K. JONES SPEAKS TO OAKLAND HIGH SENIORS

Episcopal Rector Delivers Sermon to Graduates Sunday On Four Debts of Individuals

Four debts that people as individuals owe were pointed out to the seniors of Oakland High school in the sermon to the graduates Sunday evening by Rev. H. Kearney Jones, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal parish. The services were held in St. Paul's Methodist church and the edifice was filled to capacity.

These debts on individuals are debt to self, debt to family, debt to society and debt to God, Rev. Jones declared. A summary of these four debts is herewith printed:

I:—Debt to Self.

Desire to be popular can be overdone, for everything takes time and energy that might be used in better and more profitable occupations.

Debt to self to keep bodies and minds strong and healthy. Body is more than a mass of chemicals; is home of your mind and soul. When we fail to take care of body we ignore the debt we owe self. As all knowledge reaches us through some part of the body, and if the body is weak or darkened the knowledge cannot get in or remain.

Many days have been almost valueless because the body and mind were in no condition to receive knowledge. "In order that there might be sound minds in sound bodies" is an inscription over a certain school gymnasium. The same inscription can be reminder to us of this debt to self.

II:—Debt to Family.

Family life is not merely a delicacy handed down to us on a silver platter but is the result of careful and constant preparation. There is a great difference between a house and a home, for any four walls and a roof can be a house, but it is only a home when the elements of mutual care, trust, understanding and love are ever present.

Parents do not talk about the hours spent at our bedsides in times of illness, nor do they speak of the sacrifices they may have made in order that we might be here tonight. Family life has to be built, and we have a part in its building. Thus, it becomes important that we recognize this debt and that we do nothing to bring about a breach of the conditions that make for true family life and a real home.

III:—Debt to Society.

Desire to be popular has sometimes wrought a deplorable havoc with social and moral standards. Some of the laws passed to protect society may appear to be of minor importance and we break some without thinking. It is hard to do so without affecting some other person.

Concerning speed limits and reckless driving—the theory of my life is my own, if followed here, often results in tragedy, not only to self, but to others whom we may not have known.

Then the Church has set up certain moral and social standards which we cannot ignore, e.g., "Love thy neighbor." If you break it you help to build up the already overabundant supply of hatred, prejudice, greed and ill-will that is in the world. The same is true of all other commandments and teachings of the Church.

We should not believe we have the right to be wrong in so called "little things," for the line of distinction between these "little things" and greater things soon vanishes, and the right to be wrong, or to do with my life as I please soon becomes the guide for all thought and action.

IV:—Debt To God.

All we have, all we are, possibly because of God's loving kindness. We hold all in trust and must use all in His service.

We do not have the right to do as we please in all cases, because we are responsible to God for our thoughts and actions. We must build up our spiritual life, and that is why being decent, fair, honest, truthful, etc., is so important.

We try to keep healthy and free from disease. We must likewise develop a nature immune to moral disease. Do this by becoming ingrained with a love of God and man; hatred of wrong things; intelligent recognition of rights and needs of others. Such an attitude will help us to see life clearly. If we would keep our vision clear, we must keep the windows of our souls clean.

"If we keep in mind Paul's text: 'owe no man anything, except to love one another,' we cannot forget the debts we owe to self, family, society and to God," Rev. Jones said. In concluding his address he asked that all might "accept these things with lives that answer in terms of usefulness, sincere friendship, true goodness and a deep love for God and man."

DEER PARK

Mrs. Harry U. Thrasher and daughter Elizabeth are visiting relatives in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lipscomb and children, Keyser, West Va., were visiting Mrs. C. S. Reis on Sunday.

W. E. Moon had charge of the Epworth League meeting on Sunday evening. The lesson was "Jesus in Galilee." Rev. Foster, of Mountain Lake Park, gave a talk on "Choosing."

Members of the Christian Service were entertained by Mrs. C. S. Reis Thursday eveningg.

Ray Friend made a business trip to Canton, Ohio, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lohr and daughter Winifred are moving to Cumberland.

A shower was given to Mrs. Frank Strachan by a number of her friends Monday evening.

The army still uses pigeons as means of communication when radio and wires are down.

Single copies of The Republican may be obtained at the Hamill Book and Stationery Store, corner Third and Alder streets, where the current issue of the paper is placed on sale every Thursday afternoon. Price, 5 cents per copy.

MT. LAKE PARK

Tuesday night, June 16th, is going to be a tough night on a lot of folks. Never having experienced a blackout we aren't just certain what we shall do to pass the time away from 9 to 12. Our friend, Mrs. Timothy Moon, suggested that it might be a good idea to go to bed and get some sleep. Anyhow we promise not to play the radio.

You will have an opportunity to help Mickey's band, and, incidentally, to help yourselves on Thursday, June 18, for the ladies of the Auxiliary are going to serve a "bangup" chicken dinner. Ladies' Aid hall in Loch Lynn, 5:30 p. m. Don't forget.

SEPTEMBER 8 SET AS PRIMARY ELECTION DATE

Congressional, Judicial, State, County or Legislative District or any election in Baltimore City, the Governor may, by proclamation, published once in no more than three newspapers in each county and in Baltimore City, suspend the operation of the election laws of the State and all rules and regulations adopted thereunder, as far as such laws and rules and regulations are inconsistent with the provisions of this sub-title."

The Attorney General pointed out that upon the issuance of such a proclamation all those absent in the military service are authorized to vote by mail in accordance with the provisions of the Voting By Mail Law. Such proclamation has been made by the governor.

Protest Sept. 14 Date

Election authorities had protested that the September 14 date would invalidate the absentee vote of men in the armed forces.

They said the state law providing for mail voting by service men requires that these ballots not be opened until ten days after the primary election which would be September 24 if the primaries were held September 14.

The same law, however, requires that party nominating conventions this year must be held not later than September 18. Thus, they pointed out, the conventions would meet and make nominations before the absentee votes had been opened and tallied.

Election authorities contended the primaries should be held not later than September 8 so the absentee ballots would count and Walsh upheld their view.

Chairmen Set Dates

W. David Tilghman, Jr., chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, said he and the Democratic chairman, Truman B. Cash, made the September 14 selection without having been informed of the possible consequences. He expressed himself as ready to recall the notification sent to Annapolis setting September 14, and to settle upon any other date which the election authorities considered satisfactory.

The law authorizes the two major party governing committees to set a date for the primary election limiting them only to the period between September 8 and 15. They undoubtedly have the authority to fix September 14 if they wish, but the fact is that any date later than September 8 will throw the entire election system into confusion.

July 24 Is Last Day to File

Governor O'Conor has advised that the last date on which certificates of candidacy for nominations in the coming primary can be filed is 45 days before the day on which the primary election will be held. This date makes July 24th the last day on which any candidate for nomination for State, Congressional, or County Office can file. General Walsh, in his opinion, pointed out that the last day upon which certificates of candidacy for nomination could be withdrawn would be thirty days before the primary date.

Remodeling of The Half Price Stores Nears Completion

Interior Is New, Modern and Well Lighted with Fluorescent Lights

The remodeling of The Half Price Stores, which has been in progress for several weeks, is now nearing completion.

Departments have been enlarged and relocated, one of the most important changes being the shoe department which is entirely new and up to date, providing ample room and seating capacity. Other departments have been modernized and enlarged.

The new celotex ceiling and side walls add beauty and give the store a bright appearance. The cashier's booth is centrally located and extra wrapping space has been added enabling the clerks to render quick and efficient service.

Considerable floor space has been gained by streamlining and consolidating various departments, making it possible to display new items to advantage.

Elementary Pupils Have Picnic Monday

About 150 boys and girls of the science classes and volunteer Red Cross knitters of the Oakland Elementary school spent Monday at Swallow Falls on a picnic.

After opening exercises at the school they left in buses with teachers, Mrs. Ray McManus, Miss Ann Dilgard, Bruce Jenkins and Mrs. D. Edward Offutt in charge.

Various games, hiking and racing were preliminary events to the luncheon as the big event. Prentice DeBerry, manager of the Oakland Creamery company, donated chocolate imps, and Mr. Jenkins explained the making of dry ice in which the imps were packed. Miller's Market donated the marshmallows, and cookies were given by the Economy, Warnick's and Frank Smouse's stores.

New Auto Use Stamp Needed By July 1st

Went on Sale June 10 at Postoffices and Internal Revenue Offices

The five dollar federal automobile use tax stamp went on sale at postoffices and internal revenue collector offices yesterday, June 19.

Motor vehicles of all types are required to have one of the stamps affixed or else the machine cannot be operated under penalty of federal laws. The stamps will be necessary for getting new gasoline ration cards in areas where motor fuel is rationed.

To Carry Serial Number

Guy T. Helvering, internal revenue commissioner, said he had been advised by the office of Price Administration, "That, in the issuance and use of gasoline rationing books, an important identification will be the serial number printed on the use tax stamp. In those areas where gasoline is being rationed, and in those areas where gasoline will be rationed, possession of the stamp evidencing payment of the use tax on motor vehicles will provide one of the necessary means of identifying the coupon books with the vehicle in the securing of gasoline."

Heretofore the government has had to depend chiefly on state and local police to enforce purchase of the stamps.

To Cover Fiscal Year 1942-43

The new stamp will cover the fiscal year beginning July 1 and will replace the existing stamp issued on February 1 and for which owners paid $2.09. It will be serially numbered and have spaces on the back for recording the make, model, serial number and state license number of the vehicle.

The stamp will be gummed on the face and the announcement said that "it is the desire of the bureau of internal revenue that the use tax stamp shall be placed on the windshield in a location that will not be in conflict with state requirements."

CHECK

IT'S EASY to whip a careless guy...but don't put Hitler and the Mikado in that class! The success afield of the Axis thus far has shown painstaking interest in details, careful preparation, fanatical attention to the "little things." We've got to fight them with the same kind of thoughtfulness and care!

Be A Good Soldier

The average home has in it a number of electrical conveniences. They must be made to last and be kept in operation "for the duration." Requirements of the armed forces have taken the materials that formerly went into these appliances. It is clear that all of us can help to win the war by giving attention to these things, having a serviceman check them, having minor repairs made to prevent breakdowns. Don't put it off! Make sure that you are a good soldier by asking for a checkup now!

Inventions for Victory . . .

"Never say anything can't be done. Say instead that as yet no way has been found to do it."

That's the advice of a man who knows what he's talking about—a famous inventor and engineer who has given us things like the self-starter and octane gasoline, to mention two of many. According to him, mechanical advances are being made even faster than usual today because of the pressure of war needs. Already we have new devices on our planes and tanks that enable them in many instances to outperform those made by our enemies.

We haven't stopped improving them and our other weapons, either. New war inventions are being produced all the time. More than 45,000 suggestions were sent in to the Patent Office last year by America's inventors, and 3,000 of them have been adopted to date. Some of these inventions have to do with new machines, like the outrigger tank that is really a rolling fortress, and the ground strafer airplane with guns in the belly of the plane. Others concern such things as emergency food rations and lightweight armored clothing.

The last war hastened the development of several new products—the radio, stainless steel, and dozens of new alloys and metals. There's no telling yet what things will come out of today's shortages and needs. Necessity is the mother of invention, all right, and she gets in some good licks in a country like this where inventors are encouraged by industry and by our traditional patent system that has been protecting their rights for more than 150 years.

TWO-WEEK HUNT FOR RUBBER IS UNDER WAY HERE

Outcome May Decide Whether Entire Country Will Have Gasoline Rationing For Duration

Citizens of America began another cellar-to-attic scramble this week, in search for scrap rubber, as the result of a two-week collection period requested by President Roosevelt.

The outcome may be a powerful argument for or against national gasoline rationing as a tire conservation measure.

Garrett county filling stations have received instructions from their companies to cooperate to the fullest extent in the collection campaign, which runs from June 15 to June 30.

If plenty of scrap rubber turns up—and the estimates of probable collections vary all the way from 25,000 to 600,000 tons—nationwide gas rationing may be voted down; if very little is salvaged, rationing is considered a virtual certainty.

Filling stations will buy proffered rubber at a penny a pound. Oil companies serving the stations will collect the piles and move them to central consentration points for sale to the RFC rubber reserve company at $25.00 a ton. All profit from the handling will go to designated charities, such as the USO, the army and navy relief funds and the Red Cross.

War production board salvage officials have emphasized that no bit of rubber would be "too small, too worn, too old" to contribute—from rubber bands and pencil erasers or raincoats, teething rings, girdles, suspenders and rundown rubber heels.

The scrap rubber drive means no money for anyone, except perhaps a little for the service organizations, but it is declared vital to winning the war and all filling stations are urging that people make it a patriotic duty to help. Many people will give their rubber, but those who expect pay, will be paid at the rate of one cent per pound.

Acceptable Rubber

Scrap rubber that is acceptable will include tires, tubes, hard rubber tires, crepe rubber soles, boots and overshoes, hot water bottles, tennis shoes and balls, rubber belting, rubber gloves, rubber sheeting, pads and matting, raincoats, rubber heels, bathing caps, rubber toys, ice cube trays, jar rings, plumbers' suction cups, sample tire sections, rubber ash tray tires, golf balls, and hundreds of other articles made of rubber.

Criminal Trials In Preston County Court Postponed

All criminal trials scheduled for the June term of the Circuit Court in Preston county, West Va., were held over until the next term of that court, according to officials of Preston county, and the assistant prosecuting attorney, Frank B. Everhart.

Three of the defendants were returned to the Kingwood jail in default of bond, and the others who had been indicted on charges the previous week were sent to their homes in the State.

Among those remaining in jail are Alva R. Martin, of Oakland, and Earl Freeland, of near Terra Alta, who are awaiting trial on indictments in which they are jointly charged with breaking and entering. The men are alleged to have stolen valuable household goods from Lulu Buckalew, of near Terra Alta, about two months ago, part or all of the stolen articles are said by officers to have been recovered at the home of Martin just south off Oakland.

Nation-wide clothing rationing went into effect in Australia.

With Our Men In the Service

Lieut. Robert E. Browning, of Oakland, is now on duty at the Lubbock Army Flying School, Lubbock, Texas, according to Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, Commanding Officer.

At the large Lubbock twin-engine school, where the Air Force is training heavyweight Aviation Cadets to fly its big bombers and transport planes, Second Lieutenant Browning is a flying instructor.

A graduate of the Oakland High school, he attended Mercersburg Academy, the University of Pennsylvania, and Frostburg State Teachers College and is a letterman in soccer, wrestling and basketball. He was accepted as a flying cadet on September 28, 1941, and received his commission May 20, 1942.

About 125 Attend Clubhouse Opening

Approximately 125 persons were in attendance at the official opening of the golf clubhouse at the municipal course last Sunday afternoon.

The inclement weather kept a number from the course, but they gathered at the clubhouse in time for the buffet supper which was prepared by members of the ladies' auxiliary. A number of foursomes, arranged by James Spencer, golf pro, between the reds and blues, were completed.

The club course has been altered somewhat, in order to make the starting point near the club house. Green number one is now what used to be green number two, and all the others are moved accordingly, making the old number one green, now number nine. The caddy house has been moved from its former location. The club house is now open and is being managed by Mrs. Spencer.

Cannery to Begin Operations Soon

That the cannery of the Southern Packing Company at Loch Lynn Heights would begin operations next week, probably next Thursday, was announced yesterday by Joseph Welch, plant manager.

The weather has been considered almost ideal for the growing of peas and a crop of 80,000 cases is expected from the 750 acres that are in cultivation among the farmers of the county. Farmers are receiving $67.50 per ton for their harvested crop.

Mr. Welch said that about 125 persons would be employed in the factory for a five or six-weeks' period.

The company also has 700 acres of corn under contract which will be harvested the latter part of August or early in September. Farmers will receive $16.00 per ton for the corn crop.

A number of women from the Methodist church will attend a Moorefield district meeting of the Women's Society for Christian Service, being held in Friendsville this afternoon. They include Mrs. Robert DeWitt, Mrs. Minor Sprague, Mrs. E. C. Liller, Mrs. S. H. Jackson, Mrs. Ray Teets, Mrs. Anna Smouse, Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, Mrs. Paul Mitchell, Mrs. J. William Butt, Mrs. Arthur Naylor, Mrs. Lewis Jones. The guest speaker is Mrs. C. C. Hyre, Clarksburg, W. Va.

BLACKOUT ON TUESDAY NIGHT TERMED PERFECT

First County-Wide Event Said To Be Highly Successful By Defense Coordinator for Area

Garrett county residents experienced their first county-wide blackout Tuesday evening and defense officials of the several communities could find no other words except "just about 100 percent perfect" to describe their pleasure over the complete cooperation of the citizens of the entire county.

It was the second test for Oakland and the 75 to 100 who took part went about their tasks in an orderly manner, quickly going to their posts at nine o'clock and remaining there during the entire three-hour period to guard against possible sabotage.

During the early part of the blackout, street and traffic lights remained on and persons were permitted to use their cars freely, with lights on the down beam. Houses and business establishments were blacked out however, and the cooperation of the citizens in this respect was highly praised by Lawrence M. Fraley, director of Civilian Defense for the southern section of the county.

The few lights that did remain on were quickly spotted by auxiliary and regular firemen and police. A boarder-house light was spotted on South Third street, from an observation post on Crook Crest, which was extinguished.

The yellow or alert signal was flashed to the control center here at 10:59 from Baltimore, and within intervals of 15 seconds the Power House at Sines, Kitzmiller and Friendsville were notified by telephone. At 11:06 the blue signal was flashed, and at 11:16 the red signal for total blackout came through. In about 15 seconds the fire house had been notified and the siren was blowing. Kitzmiller, Friendsville and the Power House were also notified. Other towns had been informed beforehand the time of the total blackout and they blew sirens or rang church bells to notify the citizens.

In the space of a few seconds Oakland was so black that as one person said, "the lightning bugs looked like they were carrying 50-watt bulbs."

During the total blackout a test was made for the Oakland Fire department when an incendiary fire was started at the north edge of town. But in less than five minutes the department had extinguished the blaze. A few automobiles were stopped at the outer edges of town.

The all clear signal was received at the central center at 12:01 a. m., and fourteen seconds later the fire siren notified the town that the blackout was ended. In less than two and one-half minutes all places had been notified.

Russell Pancake, manager of the C. and P. Telephone company here, was at the telephone throughout the period, and excellent service was rendered by the company in giving connections at the various points. The West Maryland Power company previously had installed emergency switches in Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Kitzmiller, so that when the total blackout signal was received it was a matter of but a few seconds until street lights were off.

C. E. MacMurray, at the power house, cooperated in the blackout for a short period, but could not keep the floodlights on the dam extinguished for the entire forty-five minutes, due to danger of possible sabotage there.

At the conclusion of the period air raid wardens from various sections called Fraley at the control center to report that cooperation in their areas had been "100 percent".

Cooperating in Oakland were the Firemen, the American Legion, the Boy Scouts, Police Auxiliary Firemen, Auxiliary Police and Air Raid Wardens.

Named Case Supervisor

Robert W. Stempie, Oakland, was named as a case supervisor on the Allegany county Welfare Board staff, on Tuesday. His appointment is for the period June 18 to October 1.

His experience includes five and one-half years as social worker with the Garrett county welfare board; two years of graduate study at the Pennsylvania School of Social Work, in connection with the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; a year as worker in the Family Society of Baltimore and a year as case worker in the child welfare program of Anne Arundel county. Stemple served as supervisor for three months last summer on the Garrett County Welfare board.

Naylor Resigns As Local Scoutmaster

Howard Naylor, who has been active as scoutmaster for Oakland Troop No. 1, for the past two or three years, has resigned that position, effective the first of July.

Mr. Naylor will remain as an assistant scoutmaster to assist in the work. No successor has been appointed by the Troop committee.

At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge last Friday, the organization voted to undertake sponsorship of the troop, with the members helping to keep the scouts active in advancing in their tests and merit badges, to supervise their camping activities and to assist in their regular weekly meetings.

Vacation Bible School Off to a Fine Start

The Daily Vacation Bible School, of the Oakland Protestant churches got off to a fine start this week, with more than a hundred children enrolled, and a staff of fifteen teachers and helpers. According to Rev. Minor Sprague, who is directing the school, the children are interested and attentive, and doing a high grade of work under most competent instruction.

The school, which is held in the Methodist church, begins each morning at 9:00, with separate worship services for the pre-school, first, second and third grade children, and for those older. Miss Elizabeth West, who teaches the pre-school class, leads the devotions of the Primary group, while the older, Junior group is led by Rev. H. Kearney Jones, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church.

After these constructive worship periods the children go to one of eight classes, depending on their advancement in elementary school, where they are taught those lessons of the Bible that are best suited to their character needs at their stage of development. The first three grades are taught by Mrs. Willard Elliott, Miss Nancy Bolden and Mrs. William McRobie, with Sarah Lewis assisting. Miss West with the kindergartners, and Virginia Lawton serving as pianist, secretary and general helper.

Teaching the Juniors are Miss Dorothea Fridinger, Mrs. Robert Hoffman, Mrs. Newton Coplin and Dr. A. B. Leamer, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church. Mrs. Roy Hauser and Evelyn Fraley are assistants in this department, while June Spear is pianist, secretary and general helper.

After a fifteen minute recess outdoors, the smaller children return to their classes for handwork and notebook-making in connection with their courses. The older children all enter a class in appreciation of religious art, taught by Miss Catherine Baker, in which they learn to benefit from knowing what good religious pictures mean to tell.

The school will continue through next week, with an afternoon picnic thrown in on Friday, and a closing program on Sunday night, June 28th. Children, Rev. Sprague says, may still enroll this week and Monday, and he urges parents to send them.

Twenty-Five Obtain Tire Certificates

Certificates issued to twenty-five persons for new truck and passenger tires and retreads from the rationing board, from June 11 to 18, inclusive, are as follows:

Truck tires, tubes or retreads—Wayne Friend, Monheim Produce Company, Noah Frazee, Orval Bittinger, Cobey F. McKenzie, Jackson Thomas, Earl F. Speicher, Kermit Glotfelty, George P. Fitzwater, Henry L. Gibson, Louis A. Purnell, Harve B. Mussard, Carl Richter, Samuel Nightengale, Menno Hershberger, William Bittinger, Pauline Frazee, R. Dale Rush. The totals were 20 tires, 11 tubes and 20 retreads.

Passenger tires, tubes and retreads—Dr. H. F. Glover, James S. Dodge, Daniel J. Folk, Elmer L. Kolb, A. C. Bruninger, Robert C. Ford, Daniel L. Beitzel. Totals, 3 tires, 3 tubes and 6 retreads.

Lutherans Plan For Children's Day and Reception

Members of the congregation of St. Mark's Lutheran church are planning a reception this evening for new members, in the assembly room of the church. Those who have joined the church within the past year will be special guests of the group.

The church is also planning to observe Children's Day on Sunday evening with a program and pageant, "Nature's Summer School," beginning at 8 o'clock. About forty young people are taking part.

SENATOR TYDINGS WILL SPEAK HERE ON TUESDAY

Will Address Group of 150 at Public Dinner Meeting of Junior Chamber of Commerce

United States Senator Millard E. Tydings will speak before a group of more than 150 persons next Tuesday evening, June 23, at a public dinner meeting of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce. Many more desiring to attend will be unable to do so on account of the limited number of tickets available.

The dinner is being held in the Methodist church assembly room which can accommodate just 150. Tickets for the dinner were made available last week and all were sold within a few days.

Senator Tydings will speak on "The General Outlook." Little else is being planned for the affair, except the dinner and some vocal selections by Mrs. C. C. "Dick" Helbig. The Senator's address will be the one event of the evening according to Charles L. Briner, Jr., president of the Jaycees, with other speeches eliminated.

Senator Tydings has been in Oakland upon several other occasions and is known as an interesting and convincing speaker. In his activities in the United States Senate he has been one of the few independent men in recent years who has spoken against useless spending and against the attempt upon the part of some federal officials to usurp power.

May Apply for Sugar At Number of Places

All persons desiring to make application at Oakland for sugar purchase certificates for canning purposes, will make such applications at the office of the local rationing board on the second floor of the Gonder building on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week, it was announced this morning.

No applications will be received at that office on any other days, it was stated, but applications would continue to be taken at the various places throughout the county as announced.

These are as follows: Kitzmiller High, Friday, Monday and Tuesday, 1 to 3; Grantsville High, Monday and Tuesday, 9 to 3:30; Accident High, Thursday afternoon and Friday; Friendsville High, in charge Charley Miller; Crellin, in charge Mrs. Lester Yutzy; Sang Run, in charge J. Frank Browning; Deer Park, in charge Mrs. Frances Comp; Vindex, in charge Mrs. Bernard, at school; Kempton, in charge Audrey Wise; McHenry, in charge Mrs. Hubert Bowman.

It was announced that industrial users could make applications for certificates on any business day at the local office in Oakland.

War ration stamp No. 1 will purchase the regular amount of sugar until closing time on Saturday, June 27.

Certificates Are Presented First Aiders

An opportunity for more advanced first aid work as offered to those persons who satisfactorily completed the Red Cross first aid course given here in the early spring, at a meeting on Tuesday night in the Knights of Pythias hall.

Those completing the course were awarded their certificates by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, who instructed the class during the ten weeks of study.

Dr. Baumgartner announced plans for the advanced group and most of the fifty-five who received certificates volunteered for further study.

Virgil B. Kelley, representing those who took the course, presented Dr. Baumgartner with a watch in appreciation of his time and efforts spent in instructing the class.

Frost Danger Apparently Is Now Past

Garrett county apparently has successfully passed the frost danger of the present period of storms, as the temperature last night did not sink lower than 45 degrees.

It had been predicted for some time that there would be a frost on the 17th.

During the past week there have been a series of storms and generally inclement weather with about one and one-half inches of rainfall and a drop in temperature to 43 degrees on the 16th.

During an electrical storm on Friday evening the steeple of the Catholic church in Oakland was struck by lightning but there was no serious damage. A church service was just about ready to dismiss at the time. The Oakland firemen were called during the emergency, but their services were not needed.

Seeks Democratic Nomination for Senate

DR. C. OSCAR HALL

The smouldering embers of politics burst into flame last week with the official announcement of one candidate, and this week there are three to add to the list which is now expected to grow rapidly.

Dr. C. Oscar Hall, Mt. Lake Park chiropractor, and mayor of the town, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator, while James W. Savage, of Sang Run, district No. 6, has announced for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner, and James W. Cover, District No. 2, has announced for Sheriff on the Republican ticket.

Dr. Hall has been a resident of Mt. Lake Park for seven years, and prior to that resided in Baltimore for a number of years. He is a world war veteran. His announcement which appears on another page of this newspaper, declares that if elected he will serve the people of the county in an able manner. Petitions signed by people in Kitzmiller and Friendsville, prompted Dr. Hall to become a candidate, he stated.

Candidates for office have until July 24 to file their certificates with the clerk of the Circuit Court, which is 45 days before the primary is held.

Second One for Sheriff

The second candidate to officially make his announcement for the Republican nomination for sheriff is James A. Cover, of district No. 2, Friendsville.

Mr. Cover is at present a rural mail carrier. He states that he has served as constable for the county and has had other experiences which should enable him to fulfill the duties of the office of sheriff. Mr. Cover is also a world war veteran, having joined the regular army June 20, 1918. He was overseas from August 9, 1918, to June 2, 1919, and was attached to the 51st base hospital. He was in the St. Mihiel sector.

Theodore Sines announced himself last week for the same nomination.

James A. Savage, Sang Run, Candidate for County Commissioner

In today's issue of The Republican the announcement of James A. Savage, of Sang Run, for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner, appears.

The candidate was born and reared in this county, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman G. Savage, of the Sang Run community. Mr. Savage has been a Republican voter since becoming of age and has been engaged in business for the past four years and is successfully carrying it on at this time.

Being well and favorably known by many of the farming class of the county with whom he is in close touch, he has the assurance of the great majority of them of their support at the primary on September 8.

Baptist Circuit Plans Vacation Bible Schools

The Garrett Baptist field has announced dates for two Daily Vacation Bible schools, the first to be held at Deep Creek, June 26, through July 4, and the second at Mt. Lake Park, July 6 through July 17.

The school at Deep Creek will meet every morning except Sunday, June 28, when the regular Sunday School period will be held. At Mt. Lake Park the school will meet every morning except Saturday and Sunday. Registration day at Deep Creek will be June 24, at 10 a. m., while at Mt Lake Park it will be July 3 at 2 p. m.

Rev. B. Finney Bragg, pastor, said that no more than 50 would be admitted at Deep Creek and no more than 100 at Mt. Lake Park. Ages are from four to sixteen years, inclusive

USO DRIVE GETS UNDER WAY WITH OAKLAND RALLY

Col. Victor A. Rule, State Representative, Was Chief Speaker; Parade Is Held

At the first patriotic gathering of its kind during this second world war, held last night in Oakland, Garrett county people were given an insight into the kind of men that the United States Army was interested in, and the reason for the United Service Organization campaign for funds, which was being inaugurated here.

This brief look into the service was given by Col. Victor A. Rule, State representative of the USO-Navy Relief joint war fund campaign, who told the fifty-one men who are to leave Friday, what the army would expect of them, and what they in turn could expect from the army.

He also explained how the USO was playing its part in taking care of the men in the service when they were away from the military or naval reservations.

Last night's affair was to give the proper send-off to the draftees and also to officially open the drive for $2,650, as the county's share in the nation-wide drive for $32,000,000.

A parade was organized by Charles L. Briner, Jr., chairman of the campaign in this county, and was composed of the American Legion, the Oakland band, Oakland Fire Department, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, a few draftees and Mickey's Loch Lynn band. The procession disbanded on Second street at the West Penn office where a program of speaking had been arranged.

Mr. Briner introduced representatives of various organizations, who spoke briefly—Mrs. Paul Naylor for the Red Cross; Howard C. Riggs for the American Legion; Walter W. Dawson for the Oakland Fire Department; E. Ray Jones for the Knights of Pythias lodge. Mayor L. M. Fraley then introduced Col. Rule, who spoke effectively and interestingly to the several hundred who had assembled. Preceding the speaking Dr. A. B. Leamer offered the invocation.

At a committee meeting a few days ago the county's quota of $2,650 was broken down into the following quotas for the various committees: Oakland $850; Friendsville $175; Mt. Lake Park $100; Bloomington $50; Deer Park $50; Swanton $25; Kitzmiller $300; Grantsville $300; Kempton $250; Crellin $100; Accident $100; Vindex $150; Shallmar $200; total $2,750.

It is hoped to raise the biggest part of the quota by personal solicitation and voluntary subscriptions. Proper recognition will be given for all donations, it was stated. Cecil Smith will act as treasurer during the campaign. A county-wide committee has been named and those named in each community will direct the activities of their local units.

F. R. Shaffer, of the American Legion, announced that all proceeds from the weekly Bingo games on next Thursday night, June 25, would be turned over to the USO campaign fund.

After last night's affair all draftees were given the privilege of attending the Maryland Theatre free of charge, through the courtesy of Bernard I. Gonder, manager.

The fifty-one draftees are scheduled to leave by train tomorrow morning for the Baltimore induction station. It is the largest group thus far to leave for the armed forces.

Air Corps Wants Observation Post Constructed Here

In the work of reorganizing the observation posts in this county for the aircraft warning system of the U. S. Army Air Corps, the local American Legion committee announced this week that it was the desire of the air corps that a building of some kind be constructed here immediately for use of the volunteers who are expected to offer their services.

The building must be in the town limits so that people will be available for duty twenty-four hours each day, and F. R. Shaffer, member of the committee, said it was planned to erect a small building somewhere along Third street.

Mr. Shaffer said that many construction items would no doubt be donated, and that others would be solicited for funds to complete the work as quickly as possible.

It would be the purpose of those manning the observation post to report the flight of every airplane over this area.

Other members on the Legion committee are Irvin R. Rudy and A. G. Hesen.

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

People these days are confronted with the dual problem of saving freedom from two very different groups, and it is up to us to be patriotic and keep that freedom at all costs.

First we have thousands of soldiers, sailors, marines, and flyers on far-flung battle fronts fighting the Axis aggressors, so that our nation can retain its freedom among nations, and that 25 other nations may have their freedom also.

To that end we are willing to go "all out" to attain that victory, whether it means hardships, sacrifices, or even death. To attain that goal we will back the government in its program of production and distribution of production to where it is most needed.

But there are those among high government officials who, while receiving the people's support for the war effort, use their time in encroaching upon the privileges and freedom that were granted in our Bill of Rights, Constitution and Declaration of Independence when this country was formed.

Frankness Needed

One main principle of our kind of government is that public officials should treat the people with perfect frankness. As American citizens we are entitled to all the facts except those which constitute actual military secrets.

If people are to be fined for making dishonest statements about sugar hoarding, why not a similar punishment for government officials who give false information?

American motorists are completely up in the air as to the future of car transportation. They are lost in the confusion of reports that come from Washington officials. One day a statement is made that is contradicted the next day. That is only one thing about which they are confused.

The American people don't want to be pampered at a time like this. They are sending men to war and financing its cost to preserve liberty at home. They are ready to sacrifice if there is need. They are ready to give up many freedoms which they have enjoyed so they can live in a free America.

But they are not willing to give up freedoms unnecessarily for which they are now fighting Germany and Japan in order to preserve these privileges.

While the war progresses those in authority are apparently trying to steal away these rights of ours, under the pretense of war needs.

It wouldn't be fair to the principles on which this country was founded to let them get away with it, anymore than it wouldn't be fair to our country not to support the actual war effort in every way possible.

Away Goes Freedom

Here's an example of how a person's freedom is disappearing. Just last week three government officials called on a farm citizen of this county. He probably called on quite a few, but of this one we are certain.

They were checking the amount of wheat grown there. They wanted the farmer to measure the amount but were told that he had no time for that as he had more important things to look after. So after they checked it themselves they informed him that he had planted more than his quota and would be penalized over $50.00.

The farmer declared the land was his own; that he had never asked the government for any kind of payments; that he felt he needed wheat and planted it; that he felt that he was at liberty to plant what he wanted and it was nobody's business but his own.

But in the past two years some "experts" pushed a bill through Congress imposing a penalty upon farmers if they grow more wheat than the government says they can grow.

This week the Secretary of Agriculture says farmers will receive benefit payments if they grow less than they agreed to grow, due to a surplus expected in this year's crop.

Half the world starving for wheat and they penalize a man for growing an extra acre or two. Is that taking away a man's freedom? And what will happen to the wheat surplus if they start using it with other resources to make synthetic rubber?

Many government agencies pay farmers and others for most anything, making them obligated to the government. That's taking away freedom in a roundabout way and the pressure to repay that obligation is going to be applied in some manner, in my opinion, around election time.

These are just two or three ways in which federal officials are trying to get in their licks when people are so occupied with backing the war effort that they may not notice until too late that their freedom has "flew the coop" at a time when they were fighting to preserve that very thing.

Can Fight Both

The citizens of this country can fight both of these attacks on freedom and democracy if necessary. But it wouldn't be necessary to fight them both if our government officials would keep in mind the teachings of the flag of our country.

We celebrated Flag Day last Sunday. We were told that the white in our flag was for purity, the red for sacrifice, and the blue for sincerity.

It wouldn't hurt our legislators in Washington and the leaders themselves to study that flag a little.

Medical Check-Up Is Advised to Keep Fit

Health of Individual Is of Utmost Importance, Dr. Riley States

On Keeping Fit

How long has it been since you have gone to your doctor for a physical check-up? If you have not had a complete going-over recently, r. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, gives you this advice:

"Everybody, young, old and middle aged, should have a complete medical examination," Dr. Riley said, "at least once a year. This is a wise precaution to take, at all times. It is especially important at a time like this when much of our usefulness depends upon our keeping well and when health and strength are among our greatest assets.

"The health of the individual is always of the utmost consequence to the individual himself—or, herself. Now, it is of equal importance to the nation. And one of the most worthwhile services that we, as civilians, can render in the present situation, is to keep well and to avoid sickness of any kind as far as possible.

"If you have not had a medical check-up recently, go to your doctor for a 'health' examination, just as you would go to your bank to have your account balanced. our doctor can tell you if you have overdrawn your physical account and can advise you as to the best way to bring your physical liabilities under control and to accumulate an effective working reserve.

"Incidentally, one of the advantages of going to your doctor for a health check-up while you are well, is that you give him a chance to discover disabilities while they are in the early stages and when the chances for correction or complete cure are greatest.

"In order that they may be released for more important services, we have begun to conserve tires, tin, and various other material resources that we have been accustomed to use with reckless extravagance. We can make an equally important contribution to the outcome of the war by conserving the health of the civilian population. It is up to each one of us to do our utmost in this respect."

Children's Day at Swanton

There will be a Children's Day service at the Methodist church in Swanton on Sunday, June 28.

The children's program will be at 10:30, followed by a basket dinner on the school grounds, and speaking and singing in the afternoon by members of the various churches of the community.

Wants to Be State Legion Commander

Daniel F. McMullen, of Cumberland, who has been active in American Legion affairs since Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 was organized 23 years ago, is a candidate for State Commander of the American Legion at the convention of the Maryland Department which will be held in Cumberland in August.

DANIEL F. McMULLEN

Mr. McMullen is a son of the late Hugh A. McMullen, former State Comptroller of Maryland. He is a charter member of the Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, and was a delegate to the first convention held in Baltimore in 1919. He served as commander of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 during 1932 and 1933 and was State athletic officer in 1935. He was a member of the State Executive Committee for the Mountain district in 1939-40. Last year Mr. McMullen was Maryland delegate to the National Convention of the American Legion in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. McMullen is also a charter member of Voiture No. 164, of the Forty and Eight Society, and at the present time he is chef de gare of Voiture 164. In 1938-39 he held the post of sous chef de train of the Grand Voiture of Maryland, Forty and Eight Society.

A native of Mt. Savage, Mr. McMullen, now 50 years old, has resided in Cumberland since he was six years of age. During World War No. 1 he served as a captain in the United States infantry.

Mr. McMullen is an attorney-at-law and is chairman of the Board of the Times and Alleganian Company, publishers of the Cumberland News, Cumberland Evening Times and Cumberland Sunday Times.

Members of the Senate Military committee have expressed the opinion that most "family men," those with dependent wives and children, could feel fairly certain of not being drafted for military duty anytime this year.

King George II, of Greece, was present at the graduating services at Annapolis on Sunday.

Advise Right Dental Care for Children

"The family dentist should be considered as a friendly guardian of one's health," is the advice of Dr. Richard C. Leonard, Chief, Division of Oral Hygiene, Maryland State Department of Health. "It is particularly essential" Dr. Leonard said, "that children have this attitude toward dentists. A recent bulletin from the American Dental Association stresses this health factor, as follows:

"Early establishment of dental health habits will help a child throughout life. Habits of neglect are difficult to overcome in later years, when strong, clean teeth are vital to health and happiness.

"Parents should teach the child that the dentist is his friend. They should not allow him to receive the impression that a visit to the dentist means unpleasantness and pain. Such impressions are usually created in a child's mind before he ever sees the dentist. Often, they are created by careless conversation and by misinformation given out by older children and even by older members of his family.

"Parents can prevent fear in the child by taking him to the dentist before the teeth are decayed. Thus, the first visit will consist of an examination only. Subsequent visits will consist of a simple cleaning or, at the most, the painless filling of small cavities. It is a grave mistake to so neglect a child's teeth that his first visit to the dentist must be associated with pain.

"Parents should use positive, rather than negative, methods in teaching children the need for dental care. Don't exaggerate the horrors of toothache. Stress the value of clean, healthy teeth. Instill in your child pride in his teeth. Children will look on the dentist as their friend provided that thought is implanted by their parents.

"A child should become acquainted with the atmosphere of a dental office and the ministrations of the dentist at two and a half or three years of age."

The Life Of St. Paul In Pictures At St. Paul's Methodist Church Sunday Evening

"The Life of St. Paul," a talking motion picture, will be shown at the Methodist church in Oakland on Sunday evening as part of the church's program of Bible study and religious education.

The picture, a full-length feature, is characterzied, according to Rev. Minor Sprague, pastor of the church, by good acting, dramatic moments and a faithful portrayel of the biblical account of the life and times of the great Apostle.

The story begins with the stoning of Stephen with its effect of Saul, leading to his eventual conversion from a persecutor of Christians into the flaming evangel of Jesus Christ, St. Paul. His ministry is faithfully portrayed: the disputes, the founding of churches, the mobbings and the triumphs. Through these experiences and his trial, shipwreck and imprisonment in Rome, his actions evidence the truth of his words: "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith."

It is stated by the pastor of the local church that he confidently believes this picture will teach those who see it more New Testament than most people would thoroughly understand in many weeks of study, and that its message will be helpful to all.

The service is scheduled to begin at 8:00 o'clock in the downstairs assembly room of the church, with entrance on Oak street. The public is given a cordial invitation to attend. There will be no charge, but there will be an offering taken.

On Sea, On Land, and In the Air!

We Know Our Nation's Strength But This Is No Time To Rest On Our Laurels.

There's still a great task ahead. Not only do we have to fight to win the war, but we also have to fight slimy propaganda and fascist lying. These are trying times; first Pearl Harbor, then Bataan. What the future holds only time and history will reveal. Each of us has a place in this "all out war". Doubtless we will be called upon to make sacrifices, but how small those sacrifices will be compared to what we stand to gain—a nation which is an invincible arsenal of democracy—in which we can all walk chin up, confident of the future our children will inherit.

Their's shall forever be a land of liberty, as it was conceived and fought for since the first Americans landed on these shores, defenders of a free way of life. We stand ready to do our part in intensifying America's strength on land, on the sea, and in the air. Yet in our readiness to do whatever our nation's welfare demands of us, we shall never lose sight of the little, homely services which we can perform for you day by day.

LET US HAVE FAITH THAT RIGHT MAKES MIGHT; AND IN THAT FAITH LET US TO THE END DARE TO DO OUR DUTY AS WE UNDERSTAND IT. –LINCOLN.

OUR DUTY IS PLAIN . . . The path of our duty lies in keeping faith that the cause we fight is a just one and that we will be victorious. Back of that faith is the courage that will make victory inevitable. Our duty lies in bolstering up that courage so that it remains high, even through setbacks. We must believe in our leadership, in our armed forces, and in production efforts. If we do our duty of believing unflinchingly, and put our shoulders behind the wheels of our national efforts, we will knock out the axis powers, their slimy propaganda and fascist lying and restore freedom and liberty throughout the world.

Rally 'round Uncle Sam, Americans!

Defense plans in hand—trumpet to his lips, he calls one and all to keep things moving. Coast to coast, boundary to boundary, the nation's going full speed ahead for your own defense, your neighbors', our democracy's defense! There shall be no bottleneck in our shipyards, in our munition plants, in plane or tank factories. . . . IF THERE IS TO BE NO BLACKOUT OF DEMOCRACY in the world! Answer the call—to rally around Uncle Sam; Liberty's guardian.

Our Nation's Defense Needs Have First Call
On All Raw Materials and Factories

This situation has caused a definite shortage of many of the things we'd like to have, but are forced to do without, due to the priority and rationing systems established by the government. However, in times like these, we ask you to cooperate with us in the same manner as all manufacturers and retailers are cooperating with our government to back up our armed forces on land, on the sea, and in the air, with ships, planes, tanks, guns, ammunition, which sooner or later will crush the powers which seek to destroy the principles that have made America the greatest of all nations in which to live.

We are Proud of Those of Our Personnel Who Have Enlisted Their Services With Our Armed Forces.

UNITING THE NATIONS—

Twenty-eight nations—Mexico and the Philippines joining the original twenty-six—solemnly, even prayerfully, celebrated United Nations Day. America's Flag Day became an occasion for flying the united banners of all the peoples who fight for a free world. In Washington there were speeches. Norwegians, Greeks, South Africans, Czechoslovaks, Dutch, Indians, Yugoslavs—all the unconquered peoples were represented by appropriate words of hope for a free future.

In quiet English villages the Home Guard paraded and efforts were made to find American, Russian, Chinese flags. In Russia, British and American military films were shown. In beleaguered China there were reminders that resistance to Japanese aggression is no longer a lone fight, but the common task of nations from every continent. In London's parade displaying brilliant uniforms from all branches of the armed services, girl bus drivers and clerks in working clothes marched proudly as representatives of "the people."

President Roosevelt's quiet message, including a prayer worth further attention, linked the United Nations by short-wave. On the whole it was an inspiring effort to help us realize the unity achieved so far in the common cause of resisting Axis aggression. Yet one listening could only think of how much remains to be done to bring the nations to express in the spiritual and moral realm the unity already achieved in the military and economic spheres.

By Lend-Lease and the marvels of modern mechanics the United Nations are using American planes and British tanks on a dozen fronts. Weapons and methods are being made interchangeable. But have ideas and ideals kept pace? If peace came tomorrow would there be enough agreement as to what the fighting is for to insure an equally united front to keep the peace?

Of course something has been done. The United Nations have taken the Atlantic Charter as a basic plan for the future. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill have added some specifications. So have Mr. Wallace and Mr. Wells more recently. The British-Russian-American agreements and the master plan for Lend-Lease have laid down an important political and economic framework.

But how far has the thinking of individuals gone toward an essential allegiance to the world community, an essential willingness to perform the duties of world citizenship? Above all, how far has a sense of brotherhood which must be the foundation of any lasting unity, pervaded the nations? How widely even within America and Britain has an understanding of man's spiritual nature overcome the materialistic divisions of race and place?

In face of the challenge to keep united in peace—seemingly harder than in war—it is well to recognize how much remains to be done. And it is imperative for us to understand that spiritual unity must come first. But the stocktaking need not be discouraging, for the foundations of that brotherhood are plainly present and are being built on by all who acknowledge the Fatherhood of God.

WARTIME FRUIT CANNING

"Stretch your ration of canning sugar to the limit."

The special sugar allowed for canning fruit has been issued you in trust so that you may keep good food from going to waste. Every jar of fruit you put up helps lighten the load on commercial canneries and also helps relieve overworked transportation facilities.

But remember, sugar supplies still are limited. Sugar still is being brought to the United States at great risk to the lives of many of our countrymen. So use your canning allowance carefully.

Keep in mind that sugar is not needed in canning to keep food from spoiling. But it does help fruit hold its color and flavor.

In the following paragraphs Dr Stanley gives some sugar-saving suggestions for the 1942 fruit canning season.

Pack Fruit Hot

Cook the fruit first in an open kettle, then pack it hot into jars in its own juice. That way you'll need much less sugar than if you pack the fruit cold; then cover it with a sugar-and-water sirup. By sweetening the fruit slightly, then heating it, you can draw out the juice from the fruit itself, in many cases make it unnecessary to can any added water.

Incidentally, packing fruit hot into containers accomplishes two other purposes. The precooking shrinks the fruit and makes it possible to make more economical use of limited jar space and rubbers. And it also cuts down on the time you have to process fruits in the water bath to kill the bacteria that may cause spoilage. A quart of precooked berries, for instance, need be processed only five minutes. Berries packed raw and covered with hot sirup need 20 minutes' processing in a water bath.

Juicy Fruits

To draw out the juices of fruits such as cherries, berries, plums,—sweeten the fruit slightly, then heat it very slowly, just to the boiling point. Keep it from scorching by stirring it from time to time if you set the pan of fruit directly on the stove. Or set the pan of fruit in another pan of hot water to precook.

Usually, it's best to separate the riper fruits from those that are less ripe. Then you can crush these riper fruits, heat them and extract juice from them. Preheat the less ripe fruit which you have set aside, in this juice. Add sugar to sweeten it slightly if necessary. Fill the jars. Make sure there is plenty of juice to cover the fruit. Process in a water bath.

If you like, crush all the fruit and heat it as suggested above. Add sugar or not as you like and can this crushed fruit to use later in shortcakes, frozen desserts, puddings and pies.

Less Juicy Fruits

Certain varieties of peaches and pears may not yield enough of their own juice to make the canning liquid. You'll get more juice from these fruits if you slice them and add a little sugar before you precook them. If there isn't enough juice to cover the fruit in the cans, use sirup to fill the jar. A sirup made from one or more cups of sugar to one quart of water is the suggestion. Since you have preheated the fruit and extracted some juice from it, you will not need as much sirup as you do when you pack the fruit cold. To complete the canning process the fruit in a water bath.

Using Honey or Corn Sirup

If you like, half of the sweetening you add to fruits for canning may be honey. Or up to one-third of the sweetening may be corn sirup. Naturally, it isn't practical to substitute both honey and corn sirup for sugar in the same can of fruit.

LOOK UP AT THE STARS

By RUTH TAYLOR

"When it is dark enough, you can see the stars."

Do you feel downcast and disheartened? Do you feel that there is no ray of light on your horizon? That all is gloom, that the war and its attendant evils are too much to bear—that ahead there is nothing?

"When it is dark enough, you can see the stars."

Look around you. The lads you knew have gone to war. Careless and thoughtless, you called them—but when their hour came they went with shoulders squared to courage and a gay tilt to their chins. They gave up cherished ambitions and went to face hardships, change, privations, even death. They are stars in the sky of your community.

Look around you. See how your neighbors have accepted the restrictions of war, uncomplaining and cheerful. Notice how gladly they do without those things which they thought were necessities: the housewife learning to make do, buying carefully and spending little: the business man regulating his business in order to do his part: the man who works with his hands, putting aside his hard-won long-sought standards of living, to speed production: the farmer, keeping everlastingly at back-breaking toil to raise the food for Victory. Here are real stars in your sky!

Look around you. See how unified your community is today. Notice the new sense of being an active partner that has come over hitherto pre-occupied citizens: how your fellow townsmen are joining in Civilian Defense, backing the U. S. O. and the War Bond Drives, giving of themselves as well as of money. Here are stars in your sky.

Look around you. See the courage in time of trouble, the fellowship of sorrow, the brotherhood of disaster. Everywhere there is evidence of a growing selfishness, of greater neighborliness, an impatience with selfishness, a striving for the right. These are imperishable stars in your sky.

"When it is dark enough, you can see the stars." Look up and rejoice;

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—U. S., Britain and Russia disclosed they were in agreement upon opening of second European front. A British-Russian treaty was announced which would prevent Germany from setting the world aflame again, after this war is over. German armies were pounding forward around Kharkov and around Sevastopol which looked like a determined effort. In Libya the Free French withdrew on British orders from Bi Hacheim after withstanding a 16-day attack of Nazis. Chinese still held the walled city of Chuhsien and guerilla forces were menacing advanced enemy positions. Nazi executioners continued reprisals in Czecho-Slovakia. A U. S. merchant ship rammed, shelled and apparently sank an Axis sub near Cuba.

SATURDAY—Facts of the Coral Sea battle in May showed an extraordinary victory over the Japs, with the aircraft carrier "Lexington" the only major U. S. loss. Fifteen or seventeen Jap warships were sunk and more than twenty damaged, preventing invasion of Australia. Red armies were holding against Axis offensive from Kharkov and around Sevastopol. American flyers in China wiped out half a force of 18 bombers and fighters. Chinese admitted loss of Chuhsien. A showdown battle was in progress in Libyan desert. Hawaii's air commander was considered lost in Midway Island battle. He was Maj.-Gen. Clarence L. Tinker. The Japs landed a small force on Attu, extreme end of the Aleutian Island group, but U. S. forces were operating against them.

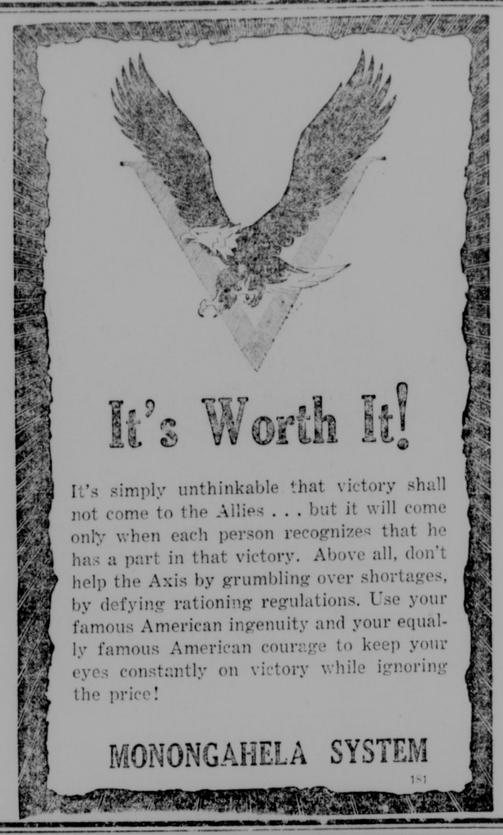
SUNDAY—U. S. flyers were striking at Japs on Aleutian Islands whenever weather permitted. Germany announced an extension of unrestricted submarine warfare in North Atlantic. Reds claimed the Nazi drive was checked in spite of sending fresh troops every hour against the Russians. Four U. S. bombers landed in Turkey and were interned. They were among those returning to an Egyptian base after bombing the Nazi Black Sea bases. Another U. S. convoy arrived in Ireland with offensive equipment. British were holding against Nazi tank attack in Libya. British flyers swept over nothern France in comparatively small action.

MONDAY — Russians held firm around Sevastopol but swayed below Kharkov. U. S. air support was held to be there. British and Axis were battling in a dust storm some twenty miles from Tobruk. Chinese lost Nancheng but recaptured Tsungjen. Allies and Japs traded air blows on and near Australia. A bomb explosion damaged the Paris town hall. United Nations pledged themselves anew to crushing Axis as number of Allies was raised to 28 with addition of Mexico and Philippine. Reds' claim varied with Nazis as latter claimed penetrating deeper and deeper into fortified belt around Sevastopol. All clothing was put on ration by Australia.

TUESDAY—A land, sea and air battle was in progress across the 1,500 miles of Mediterranean basin as the Axis attempted to take the Middle East with its oil, etc. Italians said a big British convoy had been crippled by Italian warplanes, two cruisers, a destroyer and four transports having been sunk. British had no word of this. Quite a number of Axis planes were shot down around Malta, but Italians claimed fifteen planes from two British aircraft carriers. In Libya the British eighth army was locked in a desperate struggle for its life. Axis forces had evidently isolated the garrison at Ain El Galaza. British around Tobruk were counter-attacking. Russian Black Sea fleet shelled the German assault lines around Sevastopol. At Kharkov the Germans claimed they had crossed the Donets river and wiped out advantages which Russians had seized early this spring. Russians said however there was no change. Japs were closing gaps in Japan. U. S. planes sank a Jap warship and damaged 7 around Aleutian islands where Japs were striving to conquer a few bleak islands on western tip. Japs bombed Darwin in Australia, third time in three days.

WEDNESDAY — Attacking with R. A. F., U. S. army bombers helped smash main Italian fleet, driving it home to shelter, allowing reinforcements of two big convoys to reach Malta and Tobruk. Italians lost a heavy cruiser, two destroyers while receiving damage to two battleships, two cruisers and two destroyers and losses to both German and Italian air fleets. British forces in Libya are now expceted to more than hold their own. Meanwhile forces there retreated from an Axis trap but stood firm in semi-circle around that port. Russians declared that shock after shock of German troops, artillery and tanks around Sevastopol and Ukraine sector below Kharkov were met and turned back by Red defenses and Reds were counter-attacking on Kharkov front. Two Jap columns in China pressed to within eighty miles of a junction in drive to control railway in that area. The Navy will concentrate on building airplane carriers at the expense of new battleships by calling for 500,000 tons of carriers with no provision for battleships. A carrier nearing completion will replace the Lexington and will have the same name. An enemy sub torpedoed two large American merchant ships in view of people at Virginia Beach. The fate of the sub was not known.

THURSDAY—Action in the Mediterranean and African theatre of war was increasing in intensity. U. S. planes scored 35 hits on two Italian battleships in naval battle, but British paid a stiff price in running two big convoys to Malta and Tobruk in the three-day battle. Spain reported two aircraft carriers pulling into Gibraltar for repairs. British in Libya admitted tank inferiority but were still holding positions in semi-circle about Tobruk. Reinforced Axis columns were trying to cut off the seaport's land supplies. Australia sounded a warning that news in Libya and Russia was not good. Japs forged ahead in China and there was nothing to indicate they had been ejected from their foothold on the Aleutian Islands. Reds said they threw back six attacks on Sevastopol but declared bastions. Two more ships were torpedoed and one ship reported escaping this was the greatest German offensive ever made against the Crimean six torpedoes fired by one sub.



It's Worth It!

It's simply unthinkable that victory shall not come to the Allies . . . but it will come only when each person recognizes that he has a part in that victory. Above all, don't help the Axis by grumbling over shortages, by defying rationing regulations. Use your famous American ingenuity and your equally famous American courage to keep your eyes constantly on victory while ignoring the price!

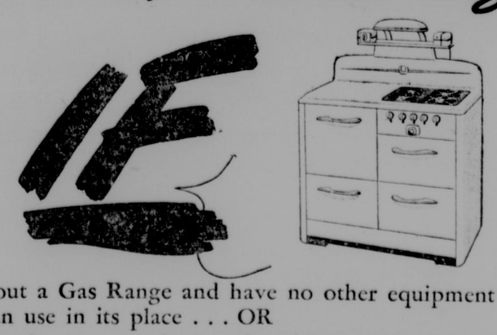
Now you can buy a New Gas Range



- You are without a Gas Range and have no other equipment which you can use in its place . . . OR
- Your Gas Range is worn out, destroyed or damaged beyond repair.

Now it is possible for you to secure a Gas range or Gas heating stove if you need one. The Government wants you to keep on using what you have now, if you can, but—if you actually need either one—you can get it. For the Government realizes how important proper cooking and heat are to health and morale.

If you do not have usable cooking equipment, all you have to do is sign the following statement which your dealer will prepare for you: "The following equipment . . . is required by me for use in my place of residence, in which there is no equipment of the type listed. Further, I do not have available any other equipment which I can use in my place of residence instead of the above listed equipment."

If your present Gas range must be replaced and your dealer upon inspection finds that it is worn out, damaged or destroyed beyond repair, he has a simple form which can be used to enable him to deliver the new equipment to you immediately.

The Same Rules Apply to Gas Heating Stoves. Before purchasing a Gas heating stove, check with your dealer or Gas company regarding government regulations affecting the use of Natural Gas for heating.

So . . . if you need a new Gas range or a new Gas heating stove . . . get in touch with your nearest dealer today and he will help you. Practically every Gas appliance dealer still has ample stocks and is ready to sell to you.

It's possible also to get a new Gas water heater—if you can establish definite need for one. Your plumber or heating dealer can help you determine this.

Changes Effective In Credit Buying

New Federal Regulations Govern Payment of Charge and Installment Accounts

Oakland stores are working out with their customers the new federal regulations governing the payment of charge accounts and installment accounts.

The regulations promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board, as a part of measures to prevent inflation, require that purchases made on charge accounts in May, that are referred to as thirty-day accounts, be paid in full on or before July 10. This means all purchases made in a given month must be paid for by the tenth day of the second month following. Old bills must be paid up also, but in order to avoid undue hardships a customer may make arrangements to make monthly payments which will clear up the account in six months, or he may make a "statement of necessity," in which he states such payments will work a genuine hardship on him, in which case he can have twelve months to pay.

But any new account opened must be settled for in the time specified.

Installment Buying Changed

Installment buying has been changed by regulations which went into effect May 6. On a number of items a twenty percent down payment must be made and on other items a down payment of thirty-three and one-third percent. The remainder must be met in twelve monthly installments.

Anyone failing to meet his account will have the facts reported to the Federal government.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Now They Can Be Told

Washington, June 13.

The President said the other day that production of war materials had reached a point where it would be more hurtful than helpful to the enemy to make public the figures—and that he would try to get some. That significant statement is a tribute by Mr. Roosevelt to the industrialists of the country.

* * *

To many of these he is—and has been—personally hostile and for ten years most of them have been used as targets by his Administration. Yet, after eighteen months, it is the job that industry is doing to which he points with pride—and justly. Because, everybody concedes now that, though slowed down by labor troubles and hampered by long administrative indecision and red tape, an industrial marvel has been achieved in the conversion of the plants and the turning out of the stuff. As things are today, the war and defense contractors are ahead of the President's own optimistic schedules proposed last January.

* * *

Actually they are producing planes, tanks, guns, munitions and war supplies faster than they can be used. It no longer is a question of production; it is a question of transportation to our own armed forces and to our allies abroad. It is interesting that production has now become the big thing of which the Administration has to boast—actually the one thing. Industry is magnificently doing the job because the Fords, the Sloans, the du Ponts, the Bruces, the Girdlers, the Weirs, the Kellers and other men of that type put aside thoughts both of politics and profits and buckled down to do the job.

* * *

Mr. Roosevelt's statement is the best evidence as to how well they have done it. Nor is its value diminished by disclosures that an occasional contractor has been making too much money and evading taxes through the bonus system. Those things are not true of the leaders of industry who really have performed this production miracle. One does not have to ascribe to them any greater degree of patriotism than that possessed by other people, but certainly they must be credited with no less. Even if is said that not to be concerned about profits isn't patriotism but just enlightened selfishness, the fact remains the same.

* * *

Considering the relations between these industrial leaders and the President, what they have done and his praise of it constitute about as stimulating an exemple of national unity as we have. It makes it pertinent to recall what Marshall Hindenburg in his World War "Memoirs" said of American industry: "Her brilliant, if pitiless, war industry," the marshall wrote, "had entered the service of patriotism and had not failed it. Under the compulsion of military necessity, a ruthless autocracy was at work—and, rightly, even in the land at the portals of which the Statue of Liberty flashes its blinding light acress the sea. They understood war."

* * *

This Hindenburg comment upon our war industry of twenty-five years ago is equally applicable to the war industry of 1942. Incidentally, it is interesting to note that the man who last time was the chief official factor in war production—Mr. B. M. Baruch—is, unofficially, a considerable factor now. Until very recently Mr. Baruch has not been even on a committee. Nevertheless, for a year before Pearl Harbor he spent most every week in Washington. Recognized as the best informed and experienced man in the country on the subject—recognized, too, as having no political or personal ax to grind, the story of the Baruch contribution is an extraordinary one.

* * *

When Pearl Harbor happened he just took up his residence here for the duration. He made up his mind that no one was going to make him mad and that nothing and nobody was going to discourage him from doing everything he could to help win the war. He has been in and out of the Presidential doghouse a number of times. Sometimes he would lunch with the President once a week; sometimes he wouldn't see him for weeks. He has been pushed around and patronized by self-important little people unused to authority. He has been sneered at as senile and self-seeking. He has permitted none of these things to disturb or divert him. He has kept right on making himself available, doing everything he was asked to do; showing no resentment when his advice, after being sought, has not been taken; no irritation at being overridden by the inexperienced and confused.

* * *

Little by little he has seen the sound and tested things he urged, first rejected, finally adopted. Today the War Production Board is operating largely on the lines of the old Baruch War Industries Board. Mr. Nelson has had the good sense to consult him on policy from the start. A good deal of time has been lost and the same competency at the top does not exist. But things are going infinitely better than they were. Today the disinterestedness and the ability of Mr. Baruch are generally accepted here and his advice is regularly asked and taken by those in charge. He has shunned publicity and has sought no credit. Nevertheless, his unshakable patience and unflagging persistence are reflected in those production figures which the President now rightly thinks it would discourage the enemy to know.

Summer's Defense Work

MARRIED

SNIVELY-HAMILTON—The marriage of Miss Mildred Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hamilton, of Oakland, to Sgt. Frank A. Snively, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Snively, of Easton, Maryland, occurred at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 30, in the University Park Church of the Brethren at College Park.

Local persons who attended the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hamilton and their son Harold J. Hamilton.

The Rev. John Long, pastor, read the single ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with pink and white roses, carnations and ferns. Before the ceremony Mrs. Francis Huyre, of Hyattsville, sang "Because."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a luggage tan street length siut with brown and white accessories and shoulder corsage of white roses.

Miss Elma Satley, Rhinebeck, N. Y., was maid of honor and was attired in an aqua and maize gown with white accessories and shoulder corsage of white roses. William Rigby, Washington, D. C., brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mrs. D. R. Thompson, College Park, for the wedding party and relatives.

In the center of the beautifully appointed table was placed a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom in soldier attire. Afterward the couple left for the Eastern Shore to spend their honeymoon.

Mrs. Snively is a graduate of the University of Maryland in Home Economics and is a member of Alpha Delta Phi sorority. She will return to Washington for the remainder of the summer where she is employed by the Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior..

Sergt. Snively will return to duty at A. P. Hill military reservation, Fredericksburg, Va., in the 629th tank destroyer battalion.

YOUNKIN-STEEG—Miss Lois M. Steeg, daughter of Mrs. Daisy M. Steeg, Baltimore, became the bride of J. R. Younkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Younkin, Ursina, Pa., on Saturday, June 13, at the Methodist church in Friendsville, with Rev. R. L. Greynolds, pastor, officiating.

The bride was attired in a street length frock of gold crepe with luggage tan accessories and wore a corsage of talisman roses and babysbreath.

Miss Martha Huotari, maid of honor, wore a street length dress of aqua crepe with brown and white accessories and had a corsage of yellow roses. The bride's mother wore navy blue with red roses, while the mother of the bridegroom wore maroon and white and American beauty roses. Edward Holliday was best man. Mrs. W. J. Glenn played the traditional wedding march by Felix Mendelssohn.

The bride is a graduate of Western high school, Baltimore, the Maryland Institute of Art and Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. She has taught art in the Friendsville, Accident and Grantsville schools during the past year. The bridegroom was graduated from Confluence high school and is studying electrical engineering at the U. S. Naval Training school, Detroit, Mich.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a brief honeymoon on the Great Lakes. They will reside in Detroit for the present.

Guests included Mrs. D. E. Steeg, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Younkin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Younkin, Miss Betty Younkin, Ursina, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Rathbun, Mr. and Mrs. Emroy Bolden and daughter, Mary Virginia, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Getty, Miss Velora Swauger, Grantsville; Capt. and Mrs. Benj. COVINGTON-SMITH — Miss Dorothy Smith, Kitzmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ney Smith, Blaine, W. Va., and Jack Covington, son of Mrs. Evelyn Covington, Cumberland, and J. H. Covington, Staunton, Va., were married last Thursday afternoon, June 11, in the Methodist church at Kitzmiller, with Rev. Howard R. Wriston, pastor, officiating.

Miss Anna Belle Covington, Cumberland, was maid of honor, and Miss Ellen Harwood and Miss Ella Bell Welton, Moorefield, W. Va., were the bridesmaids. Julian G. Williams, Cumberland, was best man, and Carroll N. Smith, Blaine, and William C. Long, Keyser, were ushers. Harry Wilson, Jr., Front Royal, Va., was ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of Potomac State college, Keyser, and Madison college, Harrisonburg, Va., where she received her degree in home economics at graduation exercises earlier this month.

The bridegroom also attended Potomac State, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and received his M. S. degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, last month.

A buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Grace Smith, after which the couple left for Charleston, W. Va. where he is employed as chemical engineer with the duPont company.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Jackson, Oakland, were among those attending the wedding.

BEVANS-CAREY—Miss Alice Ada Carey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Carey, of Long Stretch, and Elwood Lee Bevans, son of Sgt. Walter Lee Bevans, of Washington, D. C., were married last Wednesday, June 10, in Midland, with Father Fisher officiating.

The bride wore a dress of blue marquisette and a corsage of red roses. Her matron of honor, Miss Mary Carey, wore a pink marquisette dress. Vernon Poline was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. The couple will reside in Baltimore, where both are employed.

BROADWATER-BEACHY — Miss Anna Maxine Beachy, daughter of Mrs. Althea M. Beachy, became the bride of David LeRoy Broadwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin U. Broadwater, all of Grantsville, at a ceremony performed February 22.

The ring ceremony was read in the parsonage of the Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, Cumberland, by Fred M. E. Grove.

The bride wore a blue crepe dress with blue accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Broadwater is a graduate of Grantsville high school, class of 1942. Mr. Broadwater, who is employed at the Glenn L. Martin plant, in Baltimore, is a graduate of Grantsville, class of 1940.

The couple left for a week's honeymoon in Detroit, Mich., and other nearby points, following the bride's graduation from high school last week. Upon their return they will reside in Baltimore.

MT. LAKE PARK

If you happened to be tuned in on your radio on Monday at 1:30 p. m., and dialed Morgantown Station, you would have heard an interesting program. Miss Frances Grimes was guest over that station and was interviewed by a national interviewer. A survey was being conducted on unusual careers and vocations of women. Miss Grimes was on the air one-half hour, and in that time answered a great many questions regarding her work at the Morgantown Airport. She holds a private pilot license and will shortly acquire her commercial license. At the present time she has seven subjects pertaining to flying, which she teaches at the University, and has a large class of student flyers at the airport.

GRANTSVILLE

Told of Navy Life

Lt. Com. R. D. Hill, U. S. N., in his address to the graduates of Grantsville high school, portrayed the education and life of students in the navy, both in school and practice at sea followed by their training after Naval War College.

He also gave an interesting account of his own naval education and life in the service of the navy. He said that we must expect a long war, and informed the class that the Navy Aviation Service, which heretofore only accepted college graduates is now open to high school graduates.

Concluding, he stressed that every American is daily becoming more and more a part of this war, and that every effort or contribution at home is helping more and more to win this war.

Walter Dawson, member of the county board of education, spoke briefly, and presented the diplomas.

F. V. Getty, principal, presented the following awards:

Balfour medal to Miss Elizabeth Jane Beachy, for outstanding achievement; leadership medal to Charles Bender, for leadership in school activities; for general citizenship, Helen Glotfelty, and Melvin Brenneman were awarded a book on citizenship; the scholarship award, a year's subscription to a national magazine, was presented to Bernice Broadwater. Miss Corlista Pearl Murphy and Mr. William Max Buckel received honorable mention for scholarship and school activities.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE TASK COMMITTED TO THE DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 28:16-20; Mark 16:14-20; Luke 24:49-53.

GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15.

Witnesses of the resurrection—that privilege of the disciples carried with it the responsibility of declaring the good news of completed redemption to all the nations of the earth. In doing so they were destined to meet opposition and unbelief, to feel weariness and to know discouragement. So the Lord, before leaving this world for His present ministry at the Father's right hand (Mark 16:19; Heb. 7:25), prepared them by giving them a divine commission, which they accepted and acted upon with the assurance of His power and blessing. The lesson is summarized in the words, "Go ye" (Matt. 28:19); "They went forth" (Mark 16:20); "And He . . . blessed them" (Luke 24:50).

I. "Go Ye" (Matt. 28:16-20).

God's plans are never small plans. World evangelization, nothing less, was the goal He had in mind, and to which Christ commissioned this little group of humble folk who were His disciples. It was not only a great commission, but a daring one.

Back of such marching orders there must be authority and power—and Christ had them (v. 18)—all power and all authority. No need to measure or compare, for His is the ultimate and complete authority. This is the One who said, "Come unto me"; then, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men," and who now says, "Go." If we heed one command, should we not absolutely obey the others?

The message is His message, the gospel (Mark 16:15). It is the only message! The witnesses of Christ are not called to educate and civilize the heathen without winning them to Christ. To do so is only to prepare stronger and more skillful enemies of all that we count holy.

But a great program means nothing if it is not carried out; a great commission is only words unless it is accepted and obeyed. We read of the disciples that—

II. "They Went Forth" (Mark 16:14-20).

The call and command are given in this passage. The power is made clear and somewhat in detail, but the significant thing is that they actually went forth to preach.

The response of these early Christians was immediate and enthusiastic. Would that such a spirit had characterized the church through all the generations since then, for if it had, the commission would long since have been carried out. Dr. R. A. Torrey has estimated that if everyone in a church of 2,000 were to win one soul a year, and each convert win one soul each year, the world would be evangelized in less than 35 years.

But while on the whole the church has failed, there have been valiant souls all down through its history who have given themselves to the business of soul-winning. With them, as with these of the first century, the secret is ever "The Lord working with them." We read that as He was leaving this earth and His disciples, He lifted up His hands—

III. "And He . . . Blessed Them" (Luke 24:49-53).

God has always honored those who in faith have obeyed His command. The whole history of missionary endeavor bears eloquent testimony to that fact.

Sometimes we marvel at the success of a great movement, such as that founded by John Wesley. The answer is that God found a man, or a little group of men or women, willing to take Him at His word and step out in earnest purpose to obey Him. "For forty years John Wesley carried on his mission of canvassing for Christ 'as a parliamentary candidate canvasses for votes in his constituency in the strenuous three weeks before an election'" (Arnold's Commentary). Little wonder that with the blessing of Christ upon his work brings joy to many even to this day.

Note that the disciples who had been made sad and despondent by their parting with Christ at Calvary now went away in joy. The joy of the Lord is the strength of the Christian worker. It gives him abundant grace and power in the hour of need and makes him a fruitful servant.

A Warm Soul

I saw once lying side by side in a great workshop, two heads made of metal. The one was perfect; all the features of a noble, manly face came out clear and distinct in their lines of strength and beauty; in the other, scarcely a single feature could be recognized; it was all marred and spoiled. "The metal had been let grow a little too cool, sir," said the man who was showing it to me. I could not help thinking how true that was of many a form more precious than metal. — Canon Teignmouth Shore.

Donald Nelson said America was "over the hump" in war production but warned that "as for inconveniences, discomforts and hardships that you and I will have to edure—why we haven't even got to the foothills yet."

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

Our groceries are the arteries of trade for our own farmers. The farmer concentrates upon the various technics of production; as a general thing he is not one hundred per cent qualified to market his product. The large city markets are not only remote, and more so now because of the increasing State and Federal restrictions, inspections, etc., but also designed to take advantage of the farmer. His only hope is the local business man. Now if the businessmen form themselves into an association expressly to buy produce from local farmers for their own trade and also erect a warehouse and storage, and serve as middlemen for the city trade, our farmers will see a new era.

An experiment of this idea by one grocer was made during the past week.

Several weeks ago the writer and his wife were invited by Ed. Schmidt, proprietor of the Economy Store, to a country ham dinner. It was a ham cured by Solomon Snyder in the Red House community. Mr. Snyder is an old and expert hand at curing hams. This ham had every quality that one craves. It was as tender as filet mignon, juicy as a sturgeon steak, and redolent with the fragrance of hickory-smoke.

We were convinced that this ham could more than hold its own with Smithfield, which, by the way, is greatly over-rated. This was attested by the Maistre de Cuisine of Baltimore's most fashionable hotel. I told Schmidt that he should try to open up trade with high-class hotels and restaurants. So this past week we trucked a goodly number to Baltimore. On our way down we made stops in Cumberland and Hagerstown and found a ready market and got a top price.

An instance of this ham's immediate popularity was in the Dutch Kitchen, rated as among the first five Maryland restaurants. This restaurant is near the square in Hagerstown. We sold a ham to Mr. Kaliopolis, the keeper of this tavern. After finishing dinner and about ready to leave he remarked to one of his pet customers, who was the first to eat a slice of Garrett county ham, that we were responsible for bringing it. Whereupon the pet customer said, "It is absolutely delicious; I would like to buy a whole ham." Kaliopolis said, "Let's finish this one first." The pet customer replied, "I insist on having a whole ham for my own larder." There was nothing for the tavern keeper to do but give in, and so another Garrett county ham was sold.

If you plan to be in Baltimore tomorrow you might be able to order Garrett county ham—that is if you don't mind paying $1.50 to $2.00 for your dinner—at the Emerson Hotel, Miller's Restaurant, Marconi's, the Southern Hotel and Dubner's. It will be printed on the menu as Garrett County Hickory Smoked Ham unless the proprietors deem it might get them in trouble with the State Health Department.

To our consternation we learned on the last day in Baltimore that, according to a law passed in March, 1937, in the State of Maryland, that we were ham bootleggers. For the protection of the public from tainted meat, Maryland, as well as Baltimore City, had passed a series of laws or ordinances that makes it unlawful to sell a Garrett county ham within the city limits, either to a private citizen, retailer, restaurant, hotel or at wholesale.

From our limited point of view it seems grossly unjust. The welfare of the public health in a large city is a complicated matter. Meats must be inspected from the slaughter-house to storage. Because of the expense of inspection the city has made a ruling that no meats produced in Maryland (cured hams included) can be sold in Baltimore outside a radius of forty miles from the city line. But the general public craves a good country ham, and this past week there was strong evidence of an increasing market and one that would bring top price if the ham could remain on a high standard.

There is no reason why Garrett county production, if properly organized, could not successfully compete with Smithfield. The very fact that the Emerson Hotel paid Ed Schmidt two cents more on the pound for Garrett county ham than the Smithfield is already sufficient proof. If the ham cannot be sold in Baltimore there are many other equally good markets.

Now the point of this whole story is this: Only a local business man with iniative could have accomplished this for our farmer class. If all our grocery stores could form their own cooperative, insist on cash sales, get on a well-organized working basis with our own farmers, the ywould not only prosper, the community would prosper, and the excellent quality of our products would be gladly accepted and used by a wide and select patronage.

Perhaps in this shuffle of economic conditions brought on by the war it will mean a new set-up. It all depends if our local men are smart enough and cooperative enough to seize their opportunity.

LIVING ELECTRICALLY

Whether you realize it or not, war nerves are affecting you and the members of your family. Don't add to this strain the added burden of eyestrain caused by poor light. Equip your home with modern I. E. S. lamps, the lamps that give clear, strong, but glareless light, scientifically correct for easy seeing. A floor lamp such as the one pictured above gives ample, safe light for reading the newspaper or knitting for the Red Cross. Its diffusing globe screens out harmful glare; its wide-spreading, white-lined shade lets the soft light spread about the room. It gives ample light for two people to read or work by. Other models include table and desk lamps, junior floor lamps, pin to wall lamps, and ceiling fixtures. Be sure to look for the I. E. S. certificate of compliance when you buy lamps and fixtures.

MONONGAHELA SYSTEM

Soldiers of Production

America's "soldiers of production," men and women working in the plants of American industry, have their uniforms, too. Some uniforms worn by G-E workers on vital production jobs are shown below.

1. Not a gas mask, but a special nose mask to guard his breathing, is worn by this spray painter at his job in one of the General Electric plants.

2. Like a man from Mars, the "cold room" research man is a strange sight as he tests airplane instruments for high-altitude performance in a G-E laboratory.

3. Frankenstein? No, just another G-E worker. His job is sandblasting big turbine castings for Uncle Sam's ships at one of the General Electric plants.

4. The helmet he wears is to protect him from light! The rays from a welder's arc could cause blindness if he did not wear this strange headgear.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Bass Season Will Open on July First

Bass fishing in this county opens July 1 and extends to November 30. The old date was June 15, but the Maryland State Game and Inland Fish Commission changed the date to July 1.

This change was made, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, because brood bass were being caught off the spawning beds and this was looked upon as detrimental to good fishing.

The creel limit for bass is ten a day and there is no limit on hours for fishing. Other fish that may be taken from streams during the bass season are pike, blue gill and perch. The legal size for bass is nine inches, pike, fourteen inches; and perch, seven inches. There are no restrictions on the size of blue gill.

Garrett county's bass streams are the lower end of Savage river, Deep Creek and the Casselman river.

Trout fishing season which opened on April 15, will close July 15, overlapping the bass season by fifteen days. Minke said the trout season had been good but that there had been a scarcity of fishermen at isolated streams in Allegany county, due to the gas rationing program. The limit on trout is ten a day. Rainbow trout may be caught in the Youghiogheny below Swallow Falls, July 1 to November 30.

DIED

MRS. SARAH VINTON LANDON

Mrs. Sarah Vinton Landon, aged 95, widow of William E. Landon, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. V. Harvey, on Sunday evening, June 14, at the Hamill apartments on Second street, following an illness of about weeks.

She was a daughter of the late William and Jane Vinton and was born in Marietta, O., April 11, 1847. She came to Garrett county about 1900 and lived in Mountain Lake Park until the death of Mr. Landon in 1931.

Surviving are two daughters and one son: Mrs. W. P. Heckman, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. C. V. Harvey, Oakland; and William H. Landon, Mt. Lake Park; four grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren; also one sister, Mrs. James Gregg, Omaha, Neb.; and one brother, S. L. Vinton, Glenwood, Iowa.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Leighton funeral home in Oakland, in charge of Rev. Minor Sprague, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church. Interment was in the Oakland cemetery.

Pallbearers were William Landon, III; Fred Landon, Harold Harvey, Arthur Humberson, Britton Martin, and Isaac Turney.

WILLIAM GRIFFITH FRIEND

William Griffith Friend, aged 49, died at his home east of Romney, W. Va., early Monday morning, June 8. He had been in failing health for some time but recently was thought to have been improving.

Mr. Friend was born in Swanton and moved to Romney about fourteen years ago. Surviving are his wife and three children, William, Lyle and Guthrie; also five brothers and four sisters.

Funeral services were conducted at Swanton on June 11, by Rev. W. W. Hibbs, of the First Baptist church, Romney, with burial in the cemetery there.

IRA F. GROVES

Funeral services were conducted on June 9 at Zion church, near Masontown, W. Va., for Ira F. Groves, well known musician and choir director in Preston county. He died June 6, in a Morgantown hospital. Interment was in the Zion cemetery.

Mr. Groves had been a resident of the Masontown section for many years and had traveled through Garrett county for a number of years instructing in music. He was about 75 years old.

A brother, Victor L. Groves, Bruceton Mills, and two sisters, Mrs. N. P. Mencar, and Mrs. Louis Freeman, Clarksburg, survive.

FRANK CUSTER

Frank J. Custer, 59, died Sunday, June 14, in Reeves clinic, Westernport, three hours after he was admitted for treatment for pneumonia. He had resided on a farm in this county, near Barton, all his life.

A son of the late Jervis and Amanda Magruder Custer, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ezra Michaels and Mrs. F. C. Michaels, both of this county.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday.

Death of An Infant

Clarence Allen Shuttleworth, three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Shuttleworth, died suddenly on Monday morning at the home of his grandfather, Jackson Shuttleworth, near Red House.

Surviving are his parents, two brothers and a sister, Jackson, Richard and Elva Belle.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning from the Red House Lutheran church with Rev. A. K. Jones, pastor, in charge. Interment was in the Red House cemetery.

Single copies of The Republican may be obtained at the Hamill Book and Stationery Store, corner Third and Alder streets, where the current issue of the paper is placed on sale every Thursday afternoon. Price, 5 cents per copy.

GORTNER

Services will be conducted in Union church here on Sunday morning by Emra Fike, of Eglon, and in the evening by W. C. Dunson.

Elmer Beachy and family, of Meyersdale, were visiting relatives here for several days.

Paul and Billy Welch were in Baltimore Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. Artie Dodge and son were visiting in Morgantown on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Dever was surprised on Friday evening when a number of her friends came to celebrate her 75th anniversary. The following made up the party of visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White and daughter, Otho Friend and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk, Mrs. Amanda Hoff, Mrs. Sam Johnson and children, Miss Lena Slabach, Sam Slabach, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yoder and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swartzentruber and children, Howard Skidmore and Mr. Dunham. A social hour was spent, and refreshments were served.

Noah Slabach is engaged in painting Ray Gnegy's dwelling located in Pleasant Valley.

Mrs. W. E. Spoerlein, who was seemingly recovering from a recent hospital experience, was taken suddenly ill on Friday. Members of the family who were in Baltimore, were immediately summoned to the home.

Samual Friend was home from Baltimore for several days recently. Other guests at the Friend home over the week-end were Miss Bethel Sanders, of Hutton, and Junior Paugh, of Loch Lynn.

Gerald Miller and Henry Swartzentruber returned to Camp Grottos, Va., on Tuesday after a week's visit here. They were accompanied by Miss Louella Swartzentruber, who expects to remain in that community.

Mrs. Paul Welch and son Donald were guests at S. W. Slabach's on Sunday.

Melvin Bolyard, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bolyard, was taken to Morgantown Hospital on Friday for treatment.

Mrs. D. J. Swartzentruber received a message on Sunday night announcing the death of her sister, Mrs. Susan Swartzentruber, at Norfolk, Va.

A revival meeting being conducted by Pastor Foster began at Lynndale school house on Wednesday evening. Miss Salome Summy, of Meyersdale, returned to her home on Monday after visiting at the Swartzentruber home over the week-end.

Ira Yoder and members of his family accompanied a health nurse to Hopemont on Wednesday where the daughter of the home was examined at a clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Slabach and three grandchildren spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lohr, at Lynndale.

John Sisk and family and Miss Esther Moon, of Loch Lynn, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee.

Miss Lydia Biler, of Salisbury, Pa., Mrs. Elwood Schlossnagle and daughter Helen and Pastor Olonzo Fike, of Loch Lynn, were recent callers at the S. W. Slabach home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beachy had as their guests on Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Moses Beachy, of Salisbury.

Miss Laura Mae Koblentz, Grantsville, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Yoder, this week.

W. B. Burruss spent last week at Hemlock Hollow, near Mason. Members of the Lee family were engaged to get the property in readiness for his daughter, Miss Barbara Burruss' visit, who expects to arrive from Chicago in a short time.

Mr. Landis, Joseph and Myron Bender, Misses Rhoda, Addie and Ada Bender, all of Meyersdale, were here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Swartzentruber on Sunday.

Among those from Gortner attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Susan Swartzentruber at Norfolk, Va., was Simon Swartzentruber, and other members of the Swartzentruber family.

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, JUNE 25, 1942. NUMBER 18.

Stand Steady! . . . . . .

Daniel Webster once was giving one of his stirring and eloquent addresses in a large hall on the second floor of an old building. The room was packed with people, crowded close together . . . many of them standing. As Webster talked the crowd began to sway in rhythm with his words. There was imminent danger that the vibration would cause the building to collapse. Sensing the danger, Webster stepped to the front of the platform, held up his hand and, in a voice of command, shouted: "Stand Steady!"

Stand steady! A nation swaying to the rhythm of war-hysteria needs that message today. We need to firmly plant both feet on the good earth and brace ourselves for the days ahead.

Stand steady! Bad news, rumors, disappointments, fear will try to topple over our spirits. Against it all, we must stand as firm and steady as a giant oak in a gale. We must root deep in the faith of our fathers . . . faith in God and in each other.

Stand steady! We must stand as steady as Joe Louis does when mowing down his opponents with blows that flash like lightning and crash like thunder. We must let our enemies know that they, too, have taken on a champion!

Stand steady! As Atlas supports the world upon his shoulders, America must stand steady, supporting and upholding the world of freedom, justice and goodwill.

Stand steady! We must face limitations and sacrifices with high courage. We must take them all, not lying down, but standing up, in the full stature of our manhood.

Stand steady! Let us keep our feet on the ground-of-reality and our heads in the clouds-of-hope. While we meet, battle with, and subdue the problems of each day, let us hang on to the ideals of the American Way of Life with a firm resolve to win the peace as well as the war.

Stand steady!

Oakland Firemen Prepare for 7th Annual Jubilee

Will Be Held This Year From June 29 Through Saturday, July 4

Oakland firemen are making final arrangements for the seventh annual celebration which is scheduled from Monday, June 29, through Saturday, July 4.

Fire companies of the tri-state area have been notified by card and replies are being received assuring a number of them expect to be present on Saturday, July 4, to participate in the big parade which is scheduled for the closing day.

July 4 will be the feature day with the parade beginning at 1 o'clock.

Amusement, shows and rides will be provided by the World of Fun Shows. They will be here the entire week. The carnival grounds will be located on the old Glades Hotel lot, the same place as for several years previous.

The week's entertainment is expected to draw many people to Oakland during that week.

June War Bond Sales Passes Half-way Mark, Report Shows

Although almost doubling its quota of war bond sales during May, a report this morning for June shows that the county up to June 23 had raised only a little more than half.

The June quota was $22,300, and up to the close of business on Tuesday the records at the U. S. treasury department showed sales amounting to $11,608.75. This total did not include sales at the First State Bank at Grantsville and the postoffice at Deer Park through the period June 9 through June 15.

The May quota for the county was $14,200 and the total for that month was $25,148. Banks sold $19,543.75 of this amount and postoffices $5,456.25. Other agencies sold $148.00.

DIED

RAYMOND D. HOUCK

Raymond D. Houck, aged 52, died very suddenly about 7 o'clock this morning, at his home on Second street, as the result of a heart attack.

He was a son of Mrs. Daniel Houck, Mt. Savage, and the late Mr. Houck, and was born in Cumberland, December 31, 1889, at the time his father was sheriff of Allegany county.

He was a coal operator and real estate dealer and had resided in Oakland for quite a number of years. He was a member of the Episcopal church and a member of the vestry of St. Matthew's church, Oakland. He was a former city councilman and belonged to the Woodmen of the World.

Surviving are his widow, the former Coyla Barnhouse, of Cumberland, a son Douglas and a daughter Rose Marie; also two children by a former marriage, Daniel Houck, in the naval reserve, now in training at the Norfolk Training school; and Miss Lucille Houck, teacher in the high school at Lonaconing; also his aged mother.

Funeral services are not yet complete.

With Our Men In the Service

Corporal James Logan Weber, having successfully completed his three months' course at the air forces officer candidate school at Miami Beach, Fla., has received his commission as 2nd Lieut. in the air forces of the U. S. Army. His duties will be to direct vital administrative and supply operations of the rapidly expanding army air forces ground forces, thus relieving trained pilots for full time flying duty. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Weber, Oakland.

* * *

Sgt. Charles O. Ross, Jr., Friendsville, remains on duty at Pine Camp, N. Y., where he has been stationed since his induction into the army May 8, 1941. He was recently promoted to assistant chief clerk in headquarters office of the fourth armored division. Sgt. Ross was graduated from Friendsville High school and was engaged in business at Friendsville when called to the army. He recently spent a ten-day furlough with his family, returning to camp June 15.

* * *

Former Corporal D. Lester White, of this county, has received his promotion to one of the highest non-commissioned grades in the army, receiving his third stripe as sergeant in the 175th Infantry's company M.

Sergt. White was inducted in April, 1941, and assigned to duty with the 175th infantry. He participated in summer maneuvers at A. P. Hill in June, 1941, and also the army games further south in the fall. He is now chief assistant in the pay roll section of the service company.

Sgt. White is at his home east of Loch Lynn Heights on a brief furlough.

* * *

The promotion of Joseph W. Whorton from the rank of Corporal to the rank of Sergeant was announced by Col. Earl H. DeFord, commanding officer of the air force bombardment base at Will Rogers field, Oklahoma. Sergeant Whorton, son of Mrs. Mary Whorton, Oakland, has been on duty since February 3, as a clerk.

* * *

Baxton F. Hoye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoye, Sang Run, now located at Raritan Arsenal, Metuchen, New Jersey, was recently promoted to the rank of corporal. He has been in the service for seven months. Corporal Hoye is the third best rifle shot in his company.

* * *

Robert Stevenson, stationed on the U. S. S. Indiana, was at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, Mt. Lake Park, for a few days.

Ervin Smith, Jr., located at Camp Pine, New York, has a short furlough and has been spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Smith, on South Third street. He will return to camp, Sunday.

Farm Loan Association Man To Make Weekly Visit

W. C. Bailey, of Romney, W. Va., who has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan association group office at Keyser, W. Va., will be in Garrett county on Tuesday of each week at the office of Stuart F. Hamill, to transact association business for the county.

The association office was recently removed to Keyser, where the administration of four counties, including Garrett, is carried on.

Fifth Registration Is Scheduled For Tuesday, June 30

Will Be Conducted in the Six High Schools in the County

The fifth registration under the Selective Service Act, will be held throughout the nation on Tuesday, June 30, this time for all men born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924.

Registration in Garrett county will be at the high schools, and hours of registration will be at 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. The centers have been designated by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools who was named chief registrar by the local draft board over two weeks ago. If a high school in some other county is more convenient, persons may register there, it was announced by the local draft board.

The place of registration and chief registrars are:

Oakland High, F. D. Bittle.
Grantsville High, F. J. Getty.
Friendsville High, W. J. Glenn.
Accident, B. O. Aiken.
Kitzmiller, O. P. Jones.
Kempton, Asa Lewis.

The chief registrars at the six schools may obtain other teachers as helpers.

Named to Draft Board

Milton Pritts, Kitzmiller, has been appointed a member of the Garrett County Draft board, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Terrence F. O'Donnell, Kitzmiller, in April, due to ill health.

The Board, which has maintained offices in the Gonder building on Second street, will move to the Brown building, 16 Alder street, on Saturday afternoon, it was announced yesterday.

Although no orders have been received yet concerning the calls for draftees during July, it was assumed that the number called would be large. It was announced that twenty-four out of the forty-eight who left last Friday, were rejected because of physical condition.

Garrett County Still To Be Exempted From Gasoline Rationing

Word Received Here Yesterday By F. E. Rathbun From State Officials

That Garrett county would still be exempt from gasoline rationing when permanent gasoline rationing in the east got under way in July, was learned yesterday when F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, received word from state officials that the services of school teachers would not be needed in this county for any registration work.

The telegram came from T. G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools, and Leo H. McCormick, state director of the Office of Price Administration.

The services of Mr. Rathbun and the teachers of the county were requested some time ago and they were in readiness to perform any tasks required, but the telegram informed Mr. Rathbun that "As Garrett County is not to be rationed, you will not be affected and your services will not be required."

Date Delayed in East

The start of permanent gasoline rationing in the east was postponed from July 15 to July 22 in order to give motorists there an extra week in which to organize car pooling clubs.

The OPA authorized the use of the war bond seal in the upper left hand corner of each ration card for the purchase of gasoline, to tide them over the extra week. The purchase value of the seal will vary with the type of card.

Must List Merchandise With Board by June 30

Attention is called by the War Ration board to the merchants of this county that under the maximum price regulation the list of merchandise accompanied by the maximum March prices should be into the office of the local rationing board on or before June 30.

Failure to comply with this regulation may cause inconvenience to merchants, it was stated.

Several Merchants Plan To Close on July Fourth

Several merchants of Oakland are planning to close their places of business all day on Saturday, July 4, remaining open on Friday evening, to take care of their customers.

A. D. Naylor Named President of First National Bank Here

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, A. D. Naylor, vice-president of the organization for a number of years, was elevated to the presidency. The election was to fill the vacancy created by the death of Fred A. Thayer, Sr., which occurred on Wednesday, May 20.

E. Ray Jones was elected vice-president to succeed Mr. Naylor.

Jaycee Service Man Project Is Now Underway

Name of William K. Glotfelty Is Selected for First Week

The service man project of the Junior Chamber of Commerce was inaugurated on Tuesday evening when Senator Millard Tydings drew the name of William K. Glotfelty, who is to be the recipient of special letters and perhaps gifts during the coming week.

The Jaycees are going to select the name of one person each week from among those from Oakland who have entered the service. During the week they are asking that citizens at some leisure moment, while they are in one of the three drug stores or at Hamill's Stationery store, write this person a letter on pads that will be provided; also that they purchase, if they feel inclined, some small item as a gift.

These letters and items will be collected each Thursday and sent to the one who is named for that period, and a new name will be drawn for the following week.

William K. Glotfelty, chosen this week, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Glotfelty. He is stationed at Fort Dix, N. J.

All-Night Blackout Scheduled July 15

Half Hour Total Test Period Will Come During That Time

Normal traffic will be permitted during the statewide dusk to dawn blackout on July 15, except for a half hour total test period when all but emergency vehicles will be "frozen."

The rules and date for the statewide drill were set Tuesday at a conference of officials. A stringent observance of the blackout requirements was asked so that it would show that the state was ready in the event of a real raid.

Normal car lights will be permitted through most of the blackout but street and traffic lights will be extinguished during the total test and all cars halted.

This will be Oakland's third blackout and the second one for the county. The cooperation in previous blackouts has been praised by civilian defense officials of the county.

War Stamp No. 5 Good for Two Pounds

War stamp No. 4 will be good for the purchase of one pound of sugar until the close of business on Saturday, June 27.

Stamp Number 5 in the consumer's war ration book No. 1 may be used by the consumer between June 28 and July 25 for the purchase of TWO pounds of sugar and stamp number 6 may be similarly used between July 26 and August 22 for the purchase of two pounds of sugar, according to the War Rationing Board.

These are provisions for the use of stamps for which no period and weight value was previously included in the regulations. This does not increase the amount per week but gives consumers the opportunity to buy for a four weeks' period at one time.

Grantsville Man Reported Officially Lost by U. S. Navy

George Verl Edwards, storekeeper third class, of Grantsville, was one of fourteen Maryland men reported missing in action in the fifth casualty list released on Tuesday by the Navy Department.

The youth is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Edwards, of Grantsville.

He enlisted in the Navy at the age of seventeen three years ago. Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers and two sisters in Grantsville.

A. G. Ross Candidate Clerk Circuit Court

Seeks Re-election to That Office; Bishoff Announces for Orphans' Court

Albert G. Ross, who has been clerk of the Circuit Court for the past ten years, having been appointed by the court at the death of the late E. Z. Tower, and later being elected to that office and re-elected four years ago, is a candidate for renomination.

Mr. Ross was Mr. Tower's deputy clerk for sixteen years, giving him twenty-six years of experience in that office where he has performed his duties to the satisfaction of the public which he serves.

Mr. Ross is a son of a Civil War veteran and has been a resident of Oakland his entire life, filling positions of trust ever since coming to the age of manhood. In his announcement he asks the support of the voters "solely upon my qualifications gained through years of experience." He declares the "law will be my guide."

Mr. Bishoff Announces

In today's issue Thomas E. Bishoff, of Oakland, district 7, announces his candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court, subject to the result of the September primaries.

Mr. Bishoff has been a member of the court for the past twelve years and from the records and first hand information he has executed the duties devolving upon him satisfactorily.

His experience in the office well qualifies him for the position he again seeks, in the opinion of his friends and those who are acquainted with him.

Mrs. Smouse A Candidate

Mrs. Vernie R. Smouse made her announcement for renomination as a candidate for the office of Register of Wills on Tuesday.

Mrs. Smouse won in the election to this office in 1934 and again in 1938, and her service in the position has made her well acquainted with its duties. Her announcement states that her experience will be helpful in serving the people further in that capacity. Mrs. Smouse is a resident of District No. 14, Oakland, her home being situated on South Third street.

Mitchell Out for Sheriff

James W. "Slats" Mitchell, of election district No. 2, Friendsville, has announced himself a candidate for the nomination of Sheriff of Garrett county, subject to the Democratic primary election on September 8.

Mr. Mitchell is now serving as deputy sheriff, in which capacity he was appointed following the resignation of former Sheriff and Deputy, Clarence Spear, two years ago.

He declares his present duties have given him many contacts throughout the county and because of these he is well known in most sections. His formal announcement appears in today's issue and he asks the support of the Democratic voters throughout the county at the September primary.

Thus far he is the only Democrat to announce for this position.

Temperature Drops To 39

The temperature dropped to 39 degrees this morning to give farmers and victory gardeners cause to contemplate the damage that could have been caused by a frost at this season of the year. It was the coldest temperature of the week and was two degrees colder than the previous day when 41 was recorded.

The highest temperature of the week was reached on Sunday when the mercury rose to 82.

During the week 1.37 inches of rain fell in this area.

Air Raid Warning Signals to Sound

Beginning Saturday, June 27, periodic tests are to be made of all air raid signals in the state, according to the state director.

The air raid signal will sound each Saturday at 11 a. m. Where there are whistles or sirens there will be short blasts, at intervals of two minutes, with one long blast for the "all clear" signal.

The siren is to be used in Oakland. The siren for a fire will be the regular sound, but for the air raid warnings the siren will remain at high pitch.

Vandals at Cemetery

Some citizens of Mt. Lake Park have reported to this newspaper the fact that vandals are at work in the Oakland cemetery.

Some flowers that had been transplanted over the graves of persons there have been dug up, and others cut off close to the ground.

As one of them remarked, "It just isn't safe to leave any containers there, they will be stolen."

County Contributes 90,000 Pounds Scrap Rubber In Campaign

Drive for Material Will Continue Until Tuesday, June 30th

Garrett county has contributed 90,000 pounds—forty-five tons—to the campaign to collect scrap rubber, it was announced by Ray Teets, county chairman.

Of this amount about 35,000 pounds have already been turned over to the Standard Oil company. Mr. Teets said that about 2,000 pounds had been donated, the balance having been purchased for one cent a pound. The State Roads garage produced 1,792 pounds of scrap rubber, all of which was donated.

The collection will continue to June 30, with practically every filling station in the county cooperating in the drive. Mr. Teets said he had contacted most of the garages in all towns of the county to arrive at the estimated amount for the county thus far.

June Tire Quota Is Already Exhausted

Walter W. Dawson Explains War Ration Board's Position in Issuance of Certificates

Garrett county's June quota for new truck and passenger tires, retreads and recaps is exhausted, Walter W. Dawson, war ration board chairman, announced this morning, and the applications greatly outnumber the monthly quota.

Mr. Dawson pointed out the number of tires and tubes for which a local board may issue certificates is determined by a monthly quota. The shortage of rubber caused such quotas to be decreased and now some of the most vital needs of the community are left unsupplied. Thus many persons eligible to receive tires and retreads, under the provisions of the tire rationing regulations, must go without, he said.

When the quota has been exhausted the board cannot issue a certificate.

The July quota will not be released until after today and it is expected to be lower than that of June.

The board cautioned all eligible motorists to have their tires recapped when the tread design has just about disappeared, when the casing is sound and free from fabric breaks and the side walls free from cuts, when the beads are whole and unbent.

The Board said many applications for recapping have been received at a stage of tire wear at which recapping is impossible. Every motorist is urged to arm himself with the knowledge necessary for tire conservation.

Those securing certificates for truck tires, tubes and retreads this week were Grover C. Stemple, Stanley Coal Company, Carl Richter, W. L. Sharpless, Boyd Warsaw, Elmer Duling, Wade H. Broadwater, H. R. Ringer, Clyde A. Glover, Eugene L. Sines, William Whorton, John A. Manges, Orval C. Glotfelty, Bruce C. Brenneman, Robert C. Ford, Frank Edward Bowser, Garry D. Ridder, William L. Nedrow, Reckard and Glotfelty, Jonas Peck, Darrell Owen Martin.

Passenger certificates: State Department of Health, Albert W. Baker, Angela G. Smart, J. R. Ream and Lloyd W. Cook.

Injured In Car Accident

Charles Fulk, farmer and manager of a sand plant south of Oakland, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, suffering from a slight concussion of the brain and several fractured ribs as the result of an automoble accident last Saturday noon on the turn of Route 219 at Thayerville. The car which Mr. Fulk was driving turned over. He was the only occupant of the vehicle.

TYDINGS SPEAKS ON PROBLEMS OF WORLD CONFLICT

United States Senator Is Honored Guest at Public Dinner Meeting of Oakland Jaycees

United States Senator Millard E. Tydings, although expressing his confidence in the ultimate outcome of the present struggle in favor of the Allied nations, in his address before the people of the county on Tuesday evening, yet painted a picture of sacrifice beyond our imagination in loss of men, and in the highest forms of taxation, and expressed his belief that we had only just started in this world struggle.

After touching on the fact that truth was "the most serviceable thing we had in public discussion," and stating that "truth in the end would serve to aid us in ultimate victory," the Senator discussed briefly a few angles of the war, and then led a question and answer discussion which lasted for almost two hours, with the 150 or more people attending, hesitating to bring the meeting to a close.

Little Danger from Invasion

He declared this war was different from all other wars, with the present one being fought on so many different fronts, and advanced the opinion that before it was over it would be fought on all six continents and all seven seas. However he stated that with our state of preparedness at the present time he thought it would be foolhardy for any nation to try an invasion of North America and didn't believe that an invasion of any significance would ever come to this land.

The Senator was honored guest at a public dinner meeting of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce held in the assembly room of the Methodist church. Tickets were held to 150 on account of the limited space.

Senator Tydings stressed the financial angle of the war, not criticizing anyone in particular but merely pointing out the expenses of war which were becoming greater all the time, and the fact that the burden would all come home to us as individuals in increased taxation to the point no one had yet dreamed. He even visualized a rising debt which would reach the unheard of proportion of perhaps two hundred billion dollars,

Demonstrations on Insect Control to Be Given June 26-27

Due to many requests for help in insect control Dr. C. Graham, extension entomologist of the University of Maryland, will be in the county for eight demonstrations during Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27, it was announced by Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent.

Miss Long has selected eight communities for the demonstration, so that all in the county might have an opportunity to be at one of these places.

The following schedule has been arranged:

Friday, June 26—Oakland, Delbert Davis, 7th and Green street, 10 a. m.; Bittinger, Mrs. W. E. Buckel, 11:15 a. m.; Grantsville, Mrs. Hobart Speicher, lot back of Reformed church, 1:30 p. m.; Finzel, Lillian Baker, 4-H garden club member, 4:15 p. m.

Saturday, June 27—Accident, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Yost, 10 a. m.; Friendsville, Charley B. Miller, 11:15 a. m.; Deer Park, Mrs. Clarence Rollman, 1:30 p. m.; Kitzmiller, Mrs. Emma Ridder, 2:15 p. m.

At each place there will be a 30-minute demonstration, which will consist of a talk and application of dust or spray.

North Glade Citizens Before the Commissioners

A delegation of citizens from North Glade were before the County Commissioners on Tuesday with a request that the Commissioners transfer the necessary funds with which to construct the North Glade school that has been authorized by the Maryland legislature.

The Commissioners are authorized to spend $8,000 for this school, but efforts are being made to have the $10,000 which was to be used to construct a school at McHenry, to be transferred to the North Glade account, since the people at McHenry have apparently decided not to build there. The Commissioners reached no decision in the matter.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

In reading the Life of Benjamin Franklin, by Carl Van Doren, one observes in most every chapter of Franklin's life-long habit of the daily walk. Today we are so organized that we must travel greater distances and it must be done in a hurry. Thus our movement from one place to another is on cushioned wheels. This has contributed to the lessening of our physical and mental health. Walking corrects posture, expands the lungs, conditions the muscular life. The stomach and lungs derive the greatest benefit. It is also true that the mind becomes clearer when walking. Franklin would always take along a note book. Many of his writings and lectures had their source in the daily hike.

People who live in small communities within the splendor of mountain and meadow landscape might just as well be confined to the squalor of New York's East Side, because their walking habits are just as confined to streets and rooms, or when they leave their hideout it is amusing to hear them brag about a recent trip to a far distant city or a hurried trip to the West. Their conceit has misled their curiosity so that they are more interested in big distances and big places rather than the things that are intimate and near. It would be a little risky to state what percentage of the residents of our community have during their lifetime hiked over the trails of the county. Apart from the hunter and the fisherman they would be very few.

Walking is liberating to the mind. The view of wide and peaceful landscapes enriches one's vision of beauty, does away with our petty resentments, the daily irritation of contact with neighbor either in business or society. If one would walk more regularly, and by walking I mean a planned hike down a lane, up a mountain path, over an abandoned road or old trail, he would return to work and home a much more lovable and livable person.

The joy and profit of a hike was demonstrated the first week in April. During that week the writer walked fifty miles through the little-known and too much misunderstood Smokehole Country, which Bruce Crawford, of Charleston, West Va., speaks of as "remote region with its Shangri La inhabitants." Nothing could be further from the truth than to identify the Smokehole with "mountain dew." Our ignorance of the real nature of this landscape is due to our puffed-up ideas of travel. We actually have never visited the place, because when off duty for a few days it is more fashionable to visit Atlantic City. Any place is more fashionable where we have the opportunity of spending money. If to gain pleasure we must spend money, let us remember that this is even less than childish. Certainly the more solid pleasures, the more beneficial enjoyments of body and mind, the adding to our store of interesting people and places is like Russell Conwell's "Acres of Diamonds"—in our back yard.

The Smokehole region is but two days' hike from Oakland. This April trip was replete with lasting impressions. Often it will be a pleasure to relate of the day our party climbed to the top of Cave Mountain and called on Andy Ayres, 92 years old, and listened to a recounting of his life, all of which has been spent on its crest. His picture was in The National Geographic Magazine in connection with the article on West Virginia, which came out about two years ago.

From there we retraced our steps to Hermit Island where we were the guests of Charles Neville. On this island is a beautiful and well-equipped hunting and fishing lodge. The middle of last month Frank Kley and the writer were entertained by Charles Neville, together with ex-Judge Charles Baker, Carroll Price and Oscar Sauerwein, of Morgantown. We had come for the purpose of trout fishing. The South Branch decided to go on a rampage. Three o'clock Saturday morning the gang had to dress and remove the cars from the island. By 12 noon the flood had reached its crest. Just the lodge and about one acre of ground surrounding it was all that was left above water on the island. However, despite the flood, the fellowship and food were excellent. Charles Neville lives in Franklin. He is a keen sportsman, a regular fellow who enjoys his friends, and keeps them.

Getting back to the April hike, after rummaging around the environs of Hermit Island, meeting the Kimbles, Shreves, Alts and Shirks, which are names of people whose families settled the Smokehole two centuries back, we started north along the eastern rim of North Fork Mountain. This trail took us through the very heart of the Smokehole country. One must walk over this mountain and pause frequently in order to absorb the unique landscapes that flow aslant with indescribable grace and most interesting irregularity into each other's formations. There is here two very dissimilar landscapes—one is the forbidding peaks of giantesque rock, harboring the fury of wind and foul weather; the other is the inviting sheep-sward surrounding a weather-beaten, well-built primitive log cabin, entwined with rose and ivy. The eye moves from the calm of the pastoral to the combat of elemental forces that rage in the towering heights. This particular hike was 14½ miles.

On arriving at Petersburg we were invited to spend the night with Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Allen. Tales of long ago were recounted by Mr. Allen, an old bear hunter. But his forays into the out-doors have also resulted in many other valuable trophies. I made a list of the antiques and arti-facts that he has stored away in his attic. If anyone is interested in obtaining genuine hand-made articles of furniture and domestic implements they should by all means visit Elijah Allen, 14 Myrtle street, Petersburg, W. Va. He has the very things you have been searching for, for years.

Many valuable lessons in health and contentment are learned on the hike. One can't help observing, in the words of Joel Woodruff, that "one of the symptoms of our nation's decline is the shunning of winter." So many people miss the cycle of the seasons, the open road, the simple, rugged ways of mountain folk. Ours is a nordic race that if wandering "beneath the Spanish moss" will lose its virility where the last scene of its earthly estate can be symbolized in a tattered old man riding a mule to a cockfight.

Washington Snapshots

By JAMES PRESTON

The country is in revolt—at least, that's what many Congressmen think as they read their mail these days. Protests from the folks back home are pouring in—protests about the administration of many of the current wartime controls, particularly those imposed by the Office of Price Administration and the Office of Defense Transportation.

The majority of the protesters seem to realize that some controls are essential for the duration of the war. But they don't want the controls abused; they don't want more restrictions than are absolutely necessary; and they want to be sure that when the war is won the controls will be removed.

Wage stabilization is still a burning issue as pressure continues for an effective check on all the factors that contribute to inflation. Observers here believe that President Roosevelt will be requested to set up a board to coordinate and direct national stabilization of voluntary wage agreements. Armed with a White House directive, the board could step into the field of negotiated wage adjustments with several weapons.

Among other things, it could declare "disputes" and certify them to the War Labor Board, which now has the power to adjust and dispose of all labor disputes which may affect the conduct of the war; it could have the WPB Labor Division negotiate industry-wide wage agreements; it could request the Army and Navy to renegotiate contracts with firms so that future profits would be cut to a point where companies could not grant pay raises.

Whatever the methods used, opinion here is that some way will have to be found quickly to prevent wages from getting out of hand and pushing prices up.

Legislation to prevent labor unions from escaping liability under the federal anti-racketeering laws is scheduled for early consideration on the House floor. A bill introduced by Representative Hobbs of Alabama in effect would repeal a recent Supreme Court decision which exempts labor unions from coverage by the 1934 anti-racketeering act.

Labor spokesmen and some Administration leaders are urging rejection of the bill on the ground that it would prevent any type of transportation strike and would invite an anti-labor movement in Congress.

Key provision of the bill is contained in this sentence: "Whoever in any way or degree obstructs, delays, or affects commerce, or the movement of any article or commodity in commerce, by robbery or extortion, shall be guilty of a felony."

The recent order of the War Manpower Commission requiring many employees in war industries not to change their jobs is regarded as only the first of similar orders to come, as the Commission works out details of its plan for wholesale mobilization of workers for war work.

Government officials realize that industry must have many thousands of skilled employees if it is to continue to win the battle of production and beat its output schedules in the future as it has in the past.

It was estimated that 1,000 persons were streaming into Baltimore each week obtaining jobs in defense industries.

The Unconquered People

—Illustration by Edmund Duffy, Baltimore Sun cartoonist.

Imagine reading the following Government announcement in The Republican:

"All men of Grantsville, in Garrett county, have been shot. The women have been deported to a concentration camp and the children sent to appropriate centers of education. All buildings of the well kept homes were leveled to the ground and the name of the town was immediately abolished."

Those were the words of an official Nazi statement issued a few days ago except that the town was named Lidice, a quiet little community of Czecho-Slovakia, near Prague.

In Lidice (pronounced Leed-eet-say) men and women lived where their ancestors had lived for more than 600 years. A Lidice son brought his bride to his parents' home; his children were born in the same room where his grandfather first saw light. Above the roofs of the town rose the spire of St. Margaret's church, a symbol of community faith since the church's building in 1736.

In Lidice, a farmer with earth sticking to his boots, greeted the coal-dusty miner who as a boy sat beside him in school. On a warm day the tapping of the shoe repairman sounded through an open door like a faint echo of the blacksmith's hammering. A storekeeper going to the tailor shop paused on Wilson street—named for the American President to gossip with a man carving wood before his front door. Children laughed and played or were drawn to kitchens by the sweet scents of the cakes their mothers baked.

Life was not so easy after the German conquerers came. The men had to do what the rulers ordered. Limits were set on worship in the church and on schooling for the children. The women did not have such good things or so much to fix for meals. But the people lived on, they worked, they loved, they dreamed—oppression had been upon them in the past, but "Wilson" street seemed a reminder that to a people of unconquered spirit, freedom at last returns.

Then two men fatally wounded Reinhard Heydrich who, as Nazi "protector" of Czecho-Slovakia, earned the title of "Hangman." That happened on a highway which doesn't even go through Lidice. The Lidice people told the Nazi secret police that they didn't know anything about the two men.

But the Gestapo agents learned that Lidice folk still dreamed of freedom. They claimed they found a radio, forbidden by German conquerors, arms and munitions. Several of the Lidice young men had escaped to join United Nations forces fighting the Germans. And the Nazis follow their policy of bloody vengeance—a policy which has meant the murder, in retaliation for the death of Heydrich, of more than 700 innocent men and women.

So when you read or hear the name of Lidice imagine what it would mean if Grantsville were crushed to the earth, its name scratched from all records, the bodies of all its men dumped into a common grave, their widows imprisoned, and the doubly-orphaned children in the hands of vengeful and merciless foreigners more blood thirsty than the untamed savages of the American continent in the early days.

NEW GERMANY

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Warnick and family entertained Mrs. Ida Warnick and Mrs. Dorcas Warnick with a birthday dinner on Sunday. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Weimer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Warnick and family, all of Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gabral and family, Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Warnick, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Warnick and son, Cresaptown; Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Warnick, Jennerstown, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Parker Warnick and family.

Miss Bernice Otto, who has spent the past three weeks as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Otto, has returned to Baltimore, where she will enter her last year in training for a nurse at Church Home and Infirmary hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murray and son, and Miss Freda Broadwater, who have been spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Broadwater, have returned to Baltimore.

The Women's Guild, of the Reformed Church will meet this Sunday morning after Sunday School.

Miss Maxine Martin is visiting her relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Warnick, of Baltimore, visited Mrs. Althea Beachy.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Felix and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dunn, all of Johnstown, Pa., were visiting relatives here over the past week-end.

McHENRY

Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Paugh and son Dale, spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Harvey.

Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Glotfelty were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Glotfelty and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bland, and Odell and Iva Glotfelty.

Private Robert L. Glotfelty, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, was here over the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Glotfelty.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speicher and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowman and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glotfelty and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Glotfelty, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Duckworth, Keyser Ridge, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Brenneman.

Private "Bud" Friend, Aberdeen, visited friends here, Sunday.

Mrs. Arch Glotfelty and Mrs. John Glotfelty and son Lester, were shopping in Cumberland on Saturday.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Glotfelty were Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Davis, Thomas, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Glotfelty.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Glotfelty visited Mrs. Marion Galbreath, one evening this week.

Homemakers of State Spent Day at College

Homemakers' Day at the University of Maryland on June 17, which, because of war conditions, was planned in place of the annual one-week short course for rural women, attracted a crowd estimated at more than 1,200. Mrs. C. C. Beachy, Grantsville, and Mrs. W. W. DeWitt, Hoyes, attended from Garrett County, along with the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Marianna Lee Long.

In extending greetings, Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University, attributed the large attendance in spite of emergency conditions to increased interest in public affairs.

The program, planned by Miss V. M. Kellar, assistant director of the Extension Service, featured two speakers who were able to give first-hand information regarding countries which are now in the hands of our enemies.

Speaking on "The Fate of the Philippines," Dr. Diosdado Yap, Technical Adviser to the Filipino Federation of America, declared that "the Filipino people, raised, nurtured and educated under the tutelage and influence of the U. S. and whose life is practically patterned after that of the American people, will never, can never, and must never be happy under the yoke of Japan."

George Platt Waller, who was diplomatic representative of this country to the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg until less than a year ago, described conditions in that country just prior to and following its occupation by Germany. He pictured vividly the ruthlessness practiced toward the native people in the attempts to make Nazis of them.

Miss Mary I. Barber, Food Consultant to the Secretary of War, told the women of some of the problems encountered in providing adequate, healthful food for the armed forces. "There is a well-thought-out plan behind army meals," she said, but cautioned that "its success depends upon whether the men eat what is provided for them." She urged the mothers to educate children to eat the foods which are essential for good health.

West Virginia's oldest resident, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Shaver, 105, died June 17, near Sutton. She has 105 great grandchildren and 3 great great grandchildren.

Arthur Pryor, 71, noted bandmaster and composer, died at his home in New Jersey.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

TO ALL PRIVILEGE PERMIT HOLDERS
AT DEEP CREEK LAKE

We wish to notify the public that in order to comply with the rulings of the Federal Power Commission and the War Department with respect to the protection of vital units of property, we have found it necessary to place certain restrictions upon the use of boats and other crafts in the waters of Deep Creek Lake.

Effective with this Notice, it shall no longer be permissable for any boat or other craft in the waters of Deep Creek Lake to come within 1000 feet of either the breast of the Dam or the intake tunnel. To aid in determining the restrictd area, markers have been placed on the shore and in the water and these markers will be kept in place for the duration of the war.

Any travel in the area restricted will be a violation of the rulings made by the Federal Power Commission and the War Department and will be subject to investigation by the proper authorities.

The cooperation of the public in this matter is earnestly requested.

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

We're Glad to Get the Facts

Oakland, Maryland
June 19, 1942.

The Republican,
Gentlemen:

Attention: Scoop.

I assume everybody in the county, who subscribes to your paper, looks forward with as much interest as I do in receiving current issues, hoping for news and FACTS. Yesterday afternoon, June 18, I was very much disappointed in the section of your article, by Scoop himself, entitled "Away Goes Freedom."

I wish to emphasize, before further comments, that as far as I, or the policies of the Extension Service, am concerned, there are many things that we do not approve of as an individual or a department; however, the function of our office is educational. Therefore, the Service is interested in facts being given to the people in regard to any program or activity in connection with the Service.

First, in no case have three government officials been authorized to contact any farmer in Garrett county to determine wheat acreage. Second, should anyone, regardless of what number, contact a wheat farmer, he in no case is authorized to tell the farmer the amount of penalty, if any, that might be imposed upon him should he violate any regulations in the Wheat Marketing Quota Program. Therefore, someone has made false statements if he advised Scoop that three government officials approached him to measure his wheat and advised him as to how much penalty could be imposed.

In regard to "experts" pushing a bill through Congress, your attention is called to the fact that the Wheat Marketing Program is not put into effect by Congress until approved by more than two-thirds of the wheat growers eligible to vote. Any wheat grower not eligible to vote has not been growing enough wheat to be affected by any part of the Program. The wheat referendum is conducted each year to determine the desire of the wheat growers that is, if they wish a Wheat Marketing Program or not. This year, on May 2, the wheat referendum was conducted in the United States and carried by 81.8 percent, which, as you can see, is more than a two-thirds majority; therefore, if the farmers do not like this program, they should get on their feet and say so.

Again I call your attention to the fact that I am not justifying any program or action by any government agency other than the Extension Service. It is the responsibility of all of us during the emergency to quote facts only and base any comments made upon those facts. Comments by individuals on facts is what we call freedom of speech; however, when misstatements are made, that might be called where propaganda begins.

Assuring you my cooperation at all times in assisting you in securing official procedures on any agricultural program carried on in Garrett county, I am

Very truly yours,
JOHN H. CARTER,
County Agricultural Agent.

Anxious for Facts

We are as anxious to obtain facts and print them for the education and enlightenment of our readers as is our friend Mr. Carter, but we don't have to take the responsibility of those who deliberately misrepresent the facts.

In this case a member of The Republican staff was told what we imparted last week. In relating them we said three officials had called, whereas the farmer had said that there were two, but otherwise they were correctly set down—as the farmer had stated them.

And nothing alters the fact that people are gradually losing their freedoms, whether it be by their lack of interest, or whether it be from directed socialists or socialistically inclined New Dealers in Washington.

Anyone who is prohibited from growing the things he needs on his farm, or who is inveigled not to grow it by the offer of benefits or parity payments, is losing his freedom and selling himself, even though perhaps unconsciously. Those offering such benefits are using them as bribes in effect whether they actually say so or not.

At a journalism conference last fall a Washington journalist spoke of the increasing difficulty in getting actual facts from heads of government agencies. It was their purpose to give out information that had been carefully gone over, with bits of propaganda stuck here and there, and the actual facts left to the imagination. They were inclined to make only vague statements that actually told people nothing but filled them with hope that "everything is all right."

* * *

Yes, we are gradually losing our freedoms and we will have to fight to regain them and keep the freedoms which we still have.

Why can't a free-born American citizen get a job in a plant without having to pay tribute to a high-powered labor leader?

What do constitutional rights mean when a man cannot work without paying private organizations for the privileges?

What about the system we call private enterprise? That system under which every man is free to go as far as his abilities, energies and ambitions can take him? Under that system wealth has been distributed more widely and evenly than under any other economic system.

Federal agencies apparently are doing all they can to bring an end to private enterprise, even though they have found that without private enterprise there could be no war production on such a scale as is the case today.

Of course, we are bound to have our freedoms restricted by the war effort, but no one should kick about these. The freedoms that are disappearing through concerted effort of the New Dealers, who use the war effort as a blind—those are the freedoms which we must fight to retain.

* * *

How about the freedom of the ballot? The free distribution of money under the guise of relief, welfare, farm aid, etc., in an attempt to change the minds of voters.

At the last election it was well established in many counties that farmers checks for participation in the triple-A program were distributed just prior to election, when in other years payments were not made until several months later.

And while asking questions this week, why the increased activity in the Farm Security Administration in Garrett county? A man from the regional office near Philadelphia was here last week and in the course of conversation, mentioned that Garrett county was considered one of the important counties of the entire area.

What makes it such a special area at this time? Is it because it still remains a staunch Republican county in spite of the concentrated efforts of the New Dealers to change it over?

There has been a Farm Security office in Grantsville for several years. Recently they opened an office in Oakland.

The National Farm Bureau organization has made a protest against many practices of the Farm Security administration and yet they have a liberal Federal allotment of funds to carry on their work. Is it a softening up process for the fall campaign and the Presidential campaign two years hence?

Tax Discounts Will Cease On Wednesday, July First

The discount to taxpayers who pay their taxes during the first six months of the year will cease on June 30.

A discount of three per cent has been allowed during May and June and a greater discount during previous months, but from July 1 to October 31 those paying their taxes will be compelled to pay the full amount of their tax bills.

CALCIUM IN THE DIET

A mineral of great importance in the diet is calcium. Calcium is needed for the strength and hardness of the bones and teeth, rhythmic beating of the heart, coagulation of the blood, and for the health of nerves.

Milk is rich in calcium. Therefore, I stress the rule—one pint of milk per adult each day and one quart of milk per child, each day.

It doesn't take much effort to consume one glass of milk at each meal. If the family doesn't like milk, there is a great burden placed on the person who plans the meals. It is up to the clever cook to discover ways of enriching the food with milk. It may be used in or on cereals, in soups, sauces, as cheese, or in milk dishes as cocoa, custards, junkets or milk puddings. All children and most adults enjoy ice cream and there is no better way of adding to the calcium supply.

Cream Soups.

Two c. vegetable puree, 2 c. milk, 2-3 tb. butter, 2-3 tb. flour, 1 t. salt, 1-8 t. pepper.

Prepare the puree by forcing the thoroughly cooked vegetable with the liquor through a strainer. Make a white sauce with the remaining ingredients, add the puree to this and cook over water until the flavors are blended. NOTE: A slice of onion cooked with the vegetable is a desirable addition. The thickness of the white sauce depends upon the character of the vegetable puree.

For tomato soup add 1-8 t. soda to the puree before adding it to the white sauce. Tomato and asparagus purees should be added to the white sauce immediately before serving. For potato soup omit the flour in the above recipe, and add mashed potatoes to the hot seasoned milk until the desired thickness is obtained. Garnish with chopped parsley.

Desserts Based on Soft Custard

Fruit Custard. Slice peaches, bananas or oranges; add sugar; chill individual serving dishes; pour over chilled soft custard.

Trifle. Cut stale cake (sponge cake is particularly good) to fit the bottom of serving dishes; pour thoroughly chilled soft custard over the cake. Top with whipped cream and garnish with a cube of red jelly or a halved red cherry.

Cheese is also a good source of calcium and there are many interesting and tasty dishes which call for cheese. When you are wanting a nourishing dish, why not serve a cheese souffle, or rarebit or omelette? Hot cheese tarts are tasty and celery stuffed with cheese makes a good accompaniment for tomato juice or as a part of a salad. One can add variety as well as calcium to soups and canapes by the use of cheese. Sprinkle grated American cheese or Paremesan cheese on clear consomme or any cream soup.

Cheese Fondue

One c. scalded milk; 1 tb. butter; ½ t. salt; 1 c. soft bread crumbs; 1 c. grated or broken cheese; 3 egg yolks; 3 egg whites.

Mix the first five ingredients. Add the yolks of the eggs beaten until thick. Cut and fold in stiffly beaten egg wites. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven 350 F. until set.

Welsh Rarebit

Two tb. butter, 2½ tb. flour, ½ t. salt, ½ t. mustard, dash of cayenne pepper, 1 c. milk, 1 egg, ¾ c. grated cheese.

Make a white sauce of butter, flour, milk and seasonings. Place over hot water, add cheese and cook slowly with constant stirring until the cheese is melted. Cool, pour part of sauce over slightly beaten egg, return to double boiler and stir until egg is thickened.

Other foods rich in calcium are oranges, carrots, cabbage, spinach, kale, collards, turnip tops, broccoli, beet tops and cauliflower. Since leaf and stem vegetables are generally richer in calcium than the other vegetables it is wise to serve a raw salad every day. However, we must remember that while fruits and vegetables are relatively rich in calcium, milk above all other foods supplies an abundant amount of calcium, and furthermore the calcium of milk is more readily used by the body.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Winston Churchill returned to U. S., this time for conference with President on second front possibility. Army announced a superfighter, like a British commando, was being trained for use against Japs. A Norse ship was sunk close to the coast. Existence of a U. S. army bomber command in China was disclosed. The Japs were reinforcing their air force there also. Reds admitted Sevastopol was hard pressed but Nazis were not making much headway in spite of continuing assaults. The British army in Libya was cut in two, one part going to Tobruk and the other toward Egyptian border. The Red parliament roared its approval of a second front. Stimson declared the danger of an immediate Jap attack on west coast was greatly diminished due to recent American successes in Pacific naval action.

SATURDAY— Cuba and U. S. signed a treaty of military cooperation, providing for establishment near Havana of an air base. Washington was keyed up by the war parley between Churchill and Roosevelt. Britain's were irritated by the setback in Libya. Masses of Germans hammered at the gates of Sevastopol but Reds claimed they were repulsed. Reds gained some around Kalinin. Chinese reported local successes but Japs made new gains in a backdoor drive upon the coastal Fukien province. Turks were said to be leaning slightly toward Germany, but they denied the Nazi claims that U. S. planes had deliberately flown over Turkey, enroute to Rumania.

SUNDAY—The Navy reported that the Nazis had mined the Virginia coast that explosives had sunk one ship and blasted another. Navy also announced that Japs on Aleutian island points were "getting smacked" whenever there was a rift in the fog banks. Germans admitted that the Allies had strongly increased their defenses against Axis sub attack. The Maritime Commission said arming of merchant ships would be completed within a few months. British reported holding the Nazis in Libya. Ten German divisions, 150,000 men, were storming Sevastopol but eight assaults were reported repulsed by Reds. British planes resumed large-scale attacks on French coast and again bombed Emden, German naval base. Cripps in London, said a second front would be opened.

MONDAY—The Germans took Tobruk in Libya, probably with 25,000 prisoners, and the Axis victory imperiled the allied plans for a second front, and removed a big obstacle to Nazi drive on Suez. Reds admitted Nazis had driven wedge into defenses of Sevastopol. A sub shelled the government telegraph station on Vancouver island west of Canada with no damage. Japs landed more men in the Aleutians in attempt to set up base there. Army bombers sank a transport and hit a cruiser there. A Senator urged construction of subs to be used for cargo vessels. British planes hammered Emden for second night in row, and also raided other points. Chinese troops, fighting with rocks, hand grenades and machine guns, repulsed seven attempts of Japs to storm a mountain pass along one of the fronts.

TUESDAY — A fast concentrated blow at the foe is being planned by Roosevelt and Churchill in conferences in Washington. Navy announced it had instituted convoys along east coast for protection of shipping. Serb guerillas were driving Italians into mountains in Montenegro. Channel aerial warfare flared up again with British making daylight attacks on French coast with reports of commando raids. Germany retaliated for Emden bombing by dropping bombs on Southampton. Germans renewed their offensive on Kharkov and continued to drive on Sevastopol as Russia and Germany entered second year of the war. New sabotage in South Africa was linked with Rommel's drive in Libya which caused Tobruk to collapse.

WEDNESDAY — Navy announced that within 12 days 13 ships had been sunk in Caribbean, and White House conferences were thought to be on sub-control. The House voted 43 billion for an army of 4½ million. Russians said German drive on Kharkov had forced the defenders back to new positions but that German attacks on Sevastopol with superior forces were being repulsed. Americans were constructing a port on the Persian Gulf to speed supplies to Russia. Two new U. S. destroyers were launched. U. S. subs sank four Jap vessels off East China coast. Argentina was stirred up over Axis sinking of one of their vessels. The ferrying command was declared to be taking on increasing importance.

THURSDAY — Axis armored columns were moving up for an attempt to outflank and encircle the British army's positions along the Egyptian border. Germany was disregarding men in attacks against the Reds in Russia. Switzerland reported the Nazis were ready for mass drives both on Russians and in Egypt. Chinese reported recapture of important town complicating Jap attempt to conquer all of important railway. Japs were making a drive against a Chekiang air field.

CALIFORNIA PUBLICATION POINTS OUT WHAT AILS THE CONGRESS AND THE PROPER REMEDY

From "Southern California Business"

Many congressmen are wondering: Why all the criticism? What has Congress done that's wrong? Congress isn't responsible for certain failures in the war effort, is it? Hasn't Congress delegated most of its power to the executive and hasn't it done, on the whole, what the executive wants done?

Congress, since the war began, has done little that is wrong. But it has done little that is right. Congress has delegated its powers for the most part and its remaining powers have been subject substantially to executive direction. The point is Congress, on its own, has done little.

This present position of Congress is no fault of all congressmen. Some are statesmen. Some have tried to maintain representative government and have attempted to have Congress perform its constitutional function of independent legislation. But the majority have either directed or permitted the present course and the public does not like it.

The mounting public discontent makes it seem likely that the public next November will revolutionize Congress. They will send citizens to Washington who will represent them (not sectionally but nationally) and who will do it by reconstituting Congress so it has the powers of representation. The people will elect citizens who, among other things, will invoke again the powers Congress once possessed.

Unity Essential

National unity is essential in wartime. National unity, however, in this country is not promoted by an unquestioning obedience to administrative rules, good and bad. National unity is promoted if orderly criticism is permitted and criticism can be orderly if Congress reflects and takes leadership in conducting it. National unity is promoted and the war effort and the chief executive are best supported if Congress is composed of good and wise men and if they back it and him with sound legislation.

Millions of people are doing a lot of thinking about our congressional situation. The thinking is not a mere agglomeration of criticism but it has substance and form and a decidedly similarity, regardless of the part of the country in which it originates. In other words, a meaningful and healthful national consciousness is about to express itself.

To find words to describe this new consciousness is not difficult for any careful observer. The whole thing is plain and makes encouraging sense.

The people want leaders and statesmen for Congress. One way to describe what they want is first to point out what they do not want.

Vote Baiters Not Wanted

They do not want men who are more interested in votes than in principles. They do not want candidates, who try to hide their meaning with fancy words. They do not want equivocators or "fence-straddlers." They do not want those who will embrace any class policy simply because it looks like a block of supporters. They do not want "rubber stamps." In this battle they do not want representatives who play to the audience, who take their eyes off the fight and looking back inquire, "How'm I doin'?" In short, they do not want little men for a big job.

They want men like John Stuart Mill, the great English liberal, who never wished to become a member of Parliament. His neighbors and friends prevailed upon him to enter his name as a candidate. In the race he had to speak before meetings. The first was a large labor gathering. A member of the audience arose and asked, "Did you say so and so against the British Labor Movement?" And Mill, still not wanting to go to Parliament, replied, "You bet I did." And he proceeded to give his reasons. The labor audience loudly applauded. Here, for the first time in their experience, was a candidate who did not equivocate. He said what he thought to be right instead of what he guessed to be popular and he said it plainly without dodging and without hedging. He was elected and re-elected.

Proved Ability Desired

The men the people want will be men of proved ability, successful in their chosen callings, not misfits or failures looking for jobs.

The men the people want will regard public office as a public trust and an opportunity for service, not a chance for gain or a personal career.

The men the people want will be wise enough to know that honesty and frankness are the only sound bases for public policy as well as private conduct.

The men the people want will be gifted with a deep understanding of the principles of representative government in a free society. And so little will they be moved by desire for power, popularity or party, that they will not compromise these principles for a single vote or ten thousand votes.

Methods Simple

The methods for effecting these wishes of the people are simple. They likely will take form within the next few weeks. There will be no superdirecting organization except the driving force of an unsuppressible desire to save and serve our country. There will be no regard to party for statesmen and leaders are registered in both parties.

Citizens in each congressional district will determine for themselves if their representative in Congress is a statesman. If the answer is "yes," they will stick by their man. If the answer is "no," then steps will be taken to:

(1) Find and prevail upon some leader to offer his name as a candidate, preferably one who will have to make a real sacrifice to so submit himself for election and for service in Congress.

(2) In California, at least, see that congressional selectees are nominated between May 27 and June 20 that they will be eligible for the primaries on August 25.

Own Organizations

These citizens will set up their own district organizations to promote, as they see fit, the leaders they choose to represent them.

Men of leadership are about to join those statesmen now in Congress. John G. Holland expressed in verse what the people are about to express in votes. They are going to place in national responsibility:

Men who the lust of office does not kill.
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy.
Men who possess opinions and a will.
Men who have honor—men who will not lie.
Men who can stand before a demagogue and damn his treacherous flatteries without winking.

Garrett County Still Back In Defense Quotas

How Garrett county stacks up in the number of civilian defense volunteers as compared to the quotas set by the office of Civilian Defense, is shown by figures released by Isaac S. George, executive director of the Maryland Council of Defense.

Air raid warden quota 220, as of May 31, 1942, actually 41; auxiliary firemen quota 88, actually 79; auxiliary police quota 88, actually 76; emergency medical quota 66, actually 36.

Garrett county was pointed out as the only county behind its quota in all four classifications. The figures for Maryland as a whole are in excess of OCD specifications. The state has 36,588 air raid wardens against a recommendation of 23,809. The auxiliary firemen quota is 7,251 and the state reports 13,419; auxiliary police quota of 7,251, and actually 5,787; emergency medical quota of 5,418 and actually 9,325.

MARRIED

HOFFMAN—SCHLOSSNAGEL — Mrs. Arthur Schlossnagel has announced the marriage of her daughter, Helen, to Mr. Glenn Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman, of Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pennsylvania.

The ceremony was performed on Saturday, June 20, in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland, with Rev. A. B. Leamer, D. D., pastor, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of the late Arthur L. Schlossnagel and a granddaughter of Mrs. John Ault, Oakland. She attended Oakland High school and was graduated with the class of 1933. She attended Frostburg State Teachers' college and Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and while in Teachers' college was an active member of the "Little Theatre," appearing in several of the school productions. Since her graduation in June, 1936, she has been employed as a teacher in the public schools of Garrett county.

The groom attended Selinsgrove High school, Selinsgrove, Pa., and was graduated in 1934. He attended Penn State college, State College, Pa., from where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1939. Following his graduation he accepted a position as field man with the Carnation company and in August, 1940, he was transferred to Oakland where he was made plant manager of the milk receiving station here. In August, 1941, he resigned that position to accept one as State dairy inspector, connected with the University of Maryland, College Park.

For the ceremony the bride was attired in a dress of navy blue with white accessories and wore a corsage of orchids.

After a short wedding trip the couple will reside at College Park.

CUPLER—DURST—Before an improvised altar, decorated in pink and white gladioli and candelabra of white tapers, Miss Margaret R. Durst, daughter of Mrs. Olin F. Durst, Narrows Park, Cumberland, became the bride of John A. Cupler II. of LaVale.

The ceremony was solemnized at 4 o'clock at "Happy Hills," east of Grantsville, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hafer, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Cumberland, officiated.

Mrs. G. Morgan Smith was matron of honor and her cousin's only attendant. Lewyn Davis served as Mr. Cupler's best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Lloyd Durst, of Lonaconing, and was attired in a gown of French Chantilly lace and carried a bouquet of blue delphiniums.

The bride is a member of the faculty of Allegany High school, Cumberland and holds degrees from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Mr. Cupler is a graduate of Allegany High school and attended Potomac State College, Keyser. He is the owner and general manager of the National Jet Company, LaVale.

The guests who witnessed the ceremony were from Cumberland, Frostburg, Pittsburgh, Washington and Oakland, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruckert, of Washington; Mrs. George L. Sincell, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Benj. H. Sincell, Mrs. Donald R. Sincell and Mr. Harry C. Sincell, all of whom are close relatives of the bride.

Miss Kathleen Field, who has been in training for a nurse at Gallinger hospital, Washington, D. C., since January, is to be given her cap today, having completed a certain portion of her training.

Get Permission to Purchase Road Tar

The County Commissioners have received permission from the Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C., to purchase over 30,000 gallons of patching tar and around 1,000 gallons of surfacing tar for use on county roads this summer.

The Commissioners stated they would use the surfacing tar to cover one mile of the Bloomington hill road, and the balance would be used throughout the county wherever needed.

Daily Vacation Bible School To Close Its Sessions Tomorrow

The Union Daily Vacation Bible School of the Oakland churches, which began on Monday of last week, will come to a close with a picnic on Friday (tomorrow) and a public program to be presented on Sunday evening.

Those connected with the school are of the opinion that it has been most successful and the children have been enthusiastic. One hundred twenty-six children were enrolled, of whom all but nine were regular in attendance and made sufficient progress to receive certificates of recognition. These will be awarded at the program at the Methodist church on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock.

At this program meeting the children will demonstrate the kind of instruction they have been receiving with singing, dramatization, story-telling and memory work, and will have on display the notebook and picture work they have been doing in their courses. All the children are expected to be present and all parents, friends and interested persons are invited to witness the type of Christian instruction the children are receiving at the hands of the several churches.

The picnic on Friday will be held at the Terra Alta park and playground. The school will dismiss at 11:00 and the children taken to the park in private cars, with the return beginning at 4:00 o'clock. They will take their own picnic lunches and will receive a treat of pop and ice cream. At all times they will be attended by their teachers.

This splendid school was made possible, according to the Rev. Minor Sprague, director, by the devotion of teachers and helpers, the cooperation of parents and pastors, and the contributions of the people of the community made at the Union Lenten services. Rev. Sprague also pays tribute to Mr. Harland L. Jones, who has been the able and interested treasurer of the school for several years.

Baptist Bible School Off To Good Start

The Daily Vacation Bible school at the Deep Creek Baptist church got off to a good start on Preparation Day, Wednesday, June 24, with 35 pupils registered. Nine teachers and workers are conducting the school. The limit of 50 is expected to be reached, so children are urged to enroll early.

All members of churches of the Baptist field will begin a study of the Baptist manual at the prayer meetings, beginning in July, according to Rev. B. Finney Bragg, pastor. These manuals contain the Baptist declaration of faith.

Christian Church Meeting At Friendsville

There will be an all-day meeting of the members of the Christian church in Friendsville on Sunday, June 28.

A picnic dinner will be served in the church basement. Special services will be conducted by Mark Smith and Henry Knoell and possibly by C. A. Nicola, it was announced. Rededication services and a vacant chair service in memory of those who have passed on will be held.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Wallace "Build-Up"

Washington, June 20.

The strenuous effort to make Vice-President Henry Wallace into a superman has been pushed just a little too far. The key was pitched too high. Too many superlatives were used. The overpraise brought the inevitable reaction.

* * *

Some of his associates in the Senate have begun to laugh and his "dearest friends" in the Administration to make unkind and underhanded comments—as one's dearest friends so often do. It is a little tough on Mr. Wallace, who is an amiable, likable and sincere (though somewhat vague) man, with plenty of intelligence and high character. But to picture him as a great world statesman, a far- sighted internationalist, a profound economist, an administrative genius and a gifted philosopher with a penetrating understanding of all human problems—that just is overdoing it.

* * *

Certainly, it has been overdone for what is known as the Douglas group, composed of advanced New Dealers who, rightly or wrongly, regard Justice W. O. Douglas as a superior man to Mr. Wallace, meriting consideration ahead of the Vice-President should at some future time—say 1944—the road be open to the White House. And it has been overdone, too, for the friends of Mr. Paul V. McNutt, the handsome Indianian who two years ago aspired first for the Presidency and later for the Vice-Presidency.

Interestingly enough, this Wallace campaign seems to have been slightly overdone also for certain members of the White House "inner circle." These take the view that the Wallace tributes were so high and the Wallace eulogies so glowing that it would now be possible to say more of the President, himself. This offends alike their sense of proportion, their conception of propriety, and their feeling for the truth. The extraordinary thing is that this prolonged and sustained eulogizing of Mr. Wallace is based wholly on a single speech made in New York some weeks ago.

A careful reading of this speech and a check with various detached persons fail to reveal anything remarkable about it—that is, to the average mind. Certainly, there is not in it a single concrete practical suggestion concerning the post-war period with which it chiefly deals. In defense of this, however, we are now told that those who deal in the concrete are the crackpots and the wise are those who generalize. That is a strange, new notion, but it has to be accepted to regard the Wallace speech as great. Mr. Wallace did speak of the "unsoundness of a world "half free and half slave"; he did discourse upon what he called the "era of the common man"; he did refer to this as a "people's war"; and he did comment upon the "people's revolution" which began with the establishment of the American Republic. But, there was nothing in the speech that the late William Jennings Bryan, the late Robert M. La Follette and the late Billy Sunday had not said over and over again. And neither the ideas nor the words were original with them.

Nevertheless, the radicals went almost into hysterics about it. They labeled it a "great historic document"; they insisted that Mr. Wallace had blazed a trail," "revealed the way" and "given the world hope." One weekly magazine went so far as to compare it with Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The newspapers generally were upbraided for failure to appreciate the greatness of this speech. Some attributed this neglect to ignorance; one highly intellectual writer a few days ago saw in it a conspiracy of "half-witted editors" to keep an "inspired message" from the people. By now, the whole thing has become ridiculous and Mr. Wallace has suffered in prestige.

It is likely, of course, that these overheated individuals who have been shrieking about the Wallace speech will now assail those who consider it an ordinary piece of rhetoric as either hopeless ignoramuses or paid reactionaries, animated by some sinister motive. But the fact is that the extravagant outpouring of praise not only has made the naturally modest Mr. Wallace very self-conscious but has aroused suspicions among the low-midded which do him no good. It is all very well to deplore political speculation at this time, but how is it to be avoided? With the President following up his purely political appointment or the unsavory Mr. Frank Hague with purely political conferences with Mr. Jim Farley, Mr. Ed Flynn and others on the New York situation, what is more natural than that politics should be seen in the sudden rather absurd elevation of Mr. Wallace to the Lincoln level by ardent admirers? At any rate, quite a number here see 1944 politics in it. And some are distressed that it should be so.

CHILD LOST FOR 30 HOURS FOUND SLEEPING ON RIVER BANK

James Smith, 5, Wanders From New Germany Home Tuesday Morning

Badly scratched and suffering painfully from insect bites, James Smith, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, New Germany, this county, was found asleep about four miles from his home last Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by two Baltimore campers twenty nine and one-half hours after he had wandered from his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore, who found the child, in a sitting position, sleeping just a few feet from the edge of Savage river about a mile and a half up the stream from Merrill, while they were fishing in the stream, told authorities that they didn't know that a child was lost but thought it strange that a boy so young should be out in the woods by himself. They said he was badly scratched and, except for a torn blouse, the child was naked.

Moore said they returned to a house that they had passed earlier in the day and informed Mrs. Elwood Merrill, who resided there, and Lawrence Bianchi, an evangelist minister, that there was a child up the stream asleep and asked them if they knew who it could be. Mrs. Merrill and Bianchi immediatly found the boy and returned him to his parents, who were just returning from a search through the woods with a large group of persons, headed by three state troopers.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who reported the child missing Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, after searching all night, told state police that they had gone to Grantsville Wednesday morning to register for sugar and had left the child with three brothers and a sister. The brothers, Delbert, 10, Cecil, 12, and Raymond, 16, according to the Smiths, left home at 10 o'clock to repair a road leading to the farm house, but instructed the child to stay with the daughter who was doing the housework. The daughter told officers that she did not see the child after her brothers left and assumed they had taken him along.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith told officers that they began to search for the child as soon as they returned home, knowing him to be feeble they didn't think he would be able to walk so far and hoped to find him before dark.

Taken to Physician

The child was taken to a Grantsville physician where he was treated for scratches and insect bites. He was described as "scratched and bruised" but was permitted to return home with his parents.

State Troopers who conducted the search were Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch, Troopers G. S. Dunlap and G. M. Browning. Officers said they were aided in the search by approximately seventy-five Garrett county residents.

Orphans' Court Proceedings

The Orphans' Court for Garrett county was in session on Tuesday.

Among the proceedings was the probate of the last will and testament of Fred. A. Thayer, late of Oakland. Mr. Thayer's will was executed March 23, 1939, and witnessed by Coral E. McRobie and Ernest Ray Jones. Letters testmentary were issued to the two sons of the decadent, Frederick A. Thayer, Jr., of Oakland, and Ralph T. Thayer, Hagerstown.

Miss Helen Townshend, of Catonsville, Md., was appointed administratrix of the estate of her deceased father, the late Arthur Townshend, Sr., of Oakland.

The will of Jennie W. Gage, late of Friendsville, was admitted to probate and letters testamentary were issued to Mrs. Kathryn M. Wharff, Norval Speelman and Joseph E. Schroyer were witnesses to the will, which was drawn June 9, 1937.

Administration Accounts Passed

Estate of John H. Dorsey, late of Grantsville; first account; William L. Thomas, executor.

Estate of Amos D. Harvey, late of Gorman; first and final account; Rosella L. Harvey, administratrix.

In recess of Court, letters of administration were granted to Mrs. Ella Michael and Mrs. Clementine Michael, of Westernport, on the estate of their deceased brother, Frank Jervis Custer.

There is talk in Washington that tires from owners of "non-essential" automobiles would be bought up.

Requirements For Entrance Into Navy Have Been Changed

Navy applicants who have found the entry physical examination too exacting, are now offered another chance to enlist in the United States Navy, with new Bureau of Personnel regulations changing requirements in a manner which will make it possible for thousands who have been rejected as Navy material to enter upon a Navy career.

The changes, as announced by Lieutenant Paul R. Warmee, officer in charge of Navy Recruiting for the state of Maryland, are in regard to portions of the physical examination relating to the teeth, the eyes, the weight and height of the applicants.

The requirements have been changed considerably, and all applicants who have been rejected for any physical difficulty, are urged to try again, by applying at their local Navy Recruiting Station.

ALCOHOL FACTS VERSUS DRINKING PROPAGANDA

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 21:17; 23:32; Isaiah 5:20-23; Hosea 4:11; Joel 3:2, 3; Ephesians 5:18.

GOLDEN TEXT—If sinners entice thee, consent thou not.—Proverbs 1:10.

The facts are on the side of the one who opposes the liquor traffic, and they are so plentiful and so devastating that the industry does not care to face them. Their "best bet" is to use propaganda so skillfully prepared as to disarm the reader. If the propaganda is truthful, it is only because it has to be, and only in that measure.

Our lesson suggests several points in the liquor propaganda, each of which we can prove to be untrue.

I. They Say, "Enjoy Life, That's What We Are Here For" (Prov. 21: 17).

Consider the ads of the liquor trade. They carry the beautiful lady, the brilliant young man, the socially correct surroundings, riches, ease, etc. They suggest that even the grandmother in the home approves the use of intoxicants to bring comfort and pleasure to the breadwinner in the home.

What is the truth? Man is not here for pleasure; he is here to serve God. History demonstrates that the nation that lives for pleasure, especially in connection with the use of intoxicants, is doomed to extinction.

II. They Say, "Liquor Is Not Dangerous" (Prov. 23:32).

It is presented as a pleasant and harmless stimulant, when in fact it is known to science, to police and social welfare workers as a narcotic which not only upsets digestion and deranges physical processes but, most vicious of all, "affects personality by its action upon the certain specific brain area. It disturbs, confuses, slows down, and removes the restraints, the checks and balances which make a well-rounded personality. It is the highest functional level of the brain, the personality level, which is first put into eclipse by the action of alcohol" (Carson Taylor).

III. They Say, "Those Who Oppose Liquor Are Fanatics" (Isa. 5: 20, 21, 23).

The prophet answers that claim by pointing out that those who favor the use of alcohol are the ones who call evil good and good evil, etc. A little study of liquor propaganda as it appears in the advertising of the industry soon demonstrates that fact. Of late they have been trying to convince us that beer is just a soft drink for the home. Any policeman who has seen a man drunk on beer, and any social or religious worker who has seen the destruction it has wrought in the home and in society, knows that is not true.

IV. They Say, "Strong Men and Leaders Are Drinkers" (Isa. 5:22).

Sadly enough, many of our leading men do indulge in liquor, but if the truth were out, it would be known that they are less capable as leaders and weaker men for their use of it. And who has not seen a leader become a poor derelict by the alcohol route, or a strong man become a jittery mental, moral, and physical wreck in the same way.

The work of a nation in both war and peace is done by sober, steady, trustworthy men who have a "clear head," not because they use a certain whisky but because they do not use it.

V. They Say, "The Pleasure Is Worth Price" (Hosea 4:11; Joel 3:2, 3).

The wicked ones who captured Israel felt they made a good trade when they gave a boy for a harlot, or exchanged a girl for wine. The modern system of making merchandise of boys and girls is not as openly crass as that, but when you figure the cost of alcohol to our land, be sure to add in the girls who have gone into iniquity by the way of tavern hostesses and the boys who have lost everything sacred because of "booze."

Remember too that the beer makers are deliberately using this war to cultivate a taste for beer in millions of young men—their future customers—and we are letting them get away with it, right in the army camps.

VI. They Say, "Drinking and Religion Go Well Together" (Eph. 5:18).

The contrast of Paul gives that claim the direct brand of falsehood. Being drunk with wine is the exact opposite of spirituality.

Liquor interests know that if church members can be led to believe that wine at dinner, beer as a soft drink—and an occasional social cocktail—is not incompatible with religious life, they will have effectually shut the mouth of the opposition they fear the most—the church.

Let pastors and church boards deal plainly and drastically with drinking church members, and the church will profit spiritually, and and again become an effective means of stemming the tide of social iniquity which is engulfing our nation.

Draft headquarters announced that married men with children would be the last to be called into service but emphasized that they could count upon no permanent deferment.

MT. LAKE PARK

With no particular programs scheduled for the summer, other than the Camp meeting to be held in the Tabernacle, starting the 26th and closing July 5th, it was good news to hear from Mrs. W. B. Love that the Ladies' Bible class of the Bethel church would have a Variety program sometime in July. From all we could gather it's going to be an entertaining evening. There will be pictures, music and vaudeville numbers. It will be good and there will be real talent.

Wednesday afternoon at the bowling alley the Woman's Civic club gathered for its first meeting of the year. There were 13 members present.

Of interest to many summer people here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss June Brown (Izetta Jewell) to George Keane. The service was read on Thursday, June 18, in the Church of the Transfiguration—Little Church Around the Corner, New York. The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Izetta Jewell Brown, was given in marriage by her step-father, Hugh Miller. Her father was the late Congressman William B. Brown, of Kingwood. Mrs. Keane who studied dramatics in Paris, was an understudy to Helen Hayes.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Mickey's band desire to thank all those who patronized the chicken supper last Thursday. One hundred sixty-five suppers were served. A nice sum was realized, which will be turned into the band fund. Parents of the boys are urged again to attend the meetings and take more interest in their band.

C. P. Martin, who is special district deputy of the I. O. O. F., had as his guests last week, Harry E. Fisher, Grand Master and the elective officers, all of Baltimore. This was Mr. Fisher's first visit to Garrett county, and he expressed himself as delighted with Mt. Lake, Oakland, and all of Garrett county.

At a special meeting of the Lake Lynn Lodge of Rebekahs No. 97, held last Friday the lodge was honored with a group from the Rebekah Baltimore assembly. President of the Assembly, Sister Mary Smith; Vice President, Sister Nettie Collins; Warden, Sister Wordal; Secretary and Past President, Sister Celeste Thomas. As an honor guest the lodge had Special Deputy Sister Ayers, of Colfox Lodge No. 8. The local lodge was well represented. Following the business session there was a social session and refreshments served. Mt. Lake has been particularly fortunate in so much as their work in the I. O. O. F. and the Rebekahs has gained for them real recognition from the Baltimore Assembly. Considering the size of the towns, they have done an amazing amount of work, which the larger lodges have been quick to see. Much of this has been through C. P. Martin, of the I. O. O. F., and through many tireless workers in the Rebekahs. That they are rapidly gaining recognition from Baltimore and other places is not surprising. Certainly they deserve much praise.

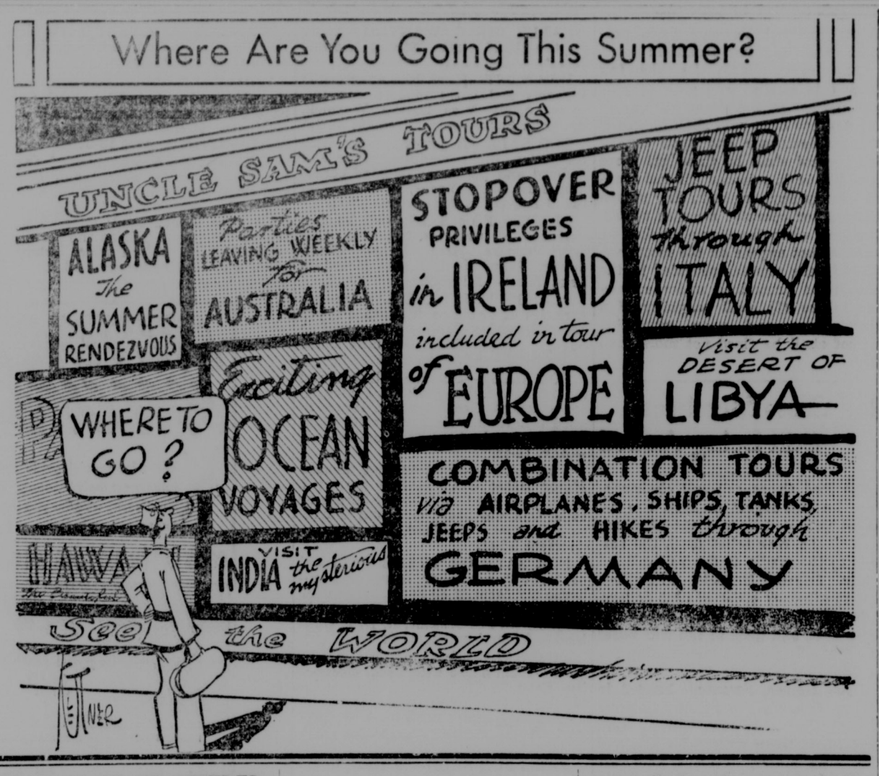
Corporal Harry Hardesty and Mrs. Hardesty are at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., where Corporal Hardesty is attached to headquarters at chief pay clerk.



SERVICES OF REGISTERED PHARMACISTS REQUIRED

5,000, Or Six Percent Of All In U. S., Will Be Called For Service

Measures advocated by the State Board of Pharmacy and the State Bureau of Food and rugs to insure compliance with the State law requiring the service of registered pharmacists in the prescription departments of retail drug establishments are outlined in a recent informal report from Dr. L. M. Kantner, Deputy State Food and Drug Commissioner to Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department. Dr. Kantner's report follows:

"The statement of the Chief of the Selective Service Board that 5,000 pharmacists will be needed for the army, indicates that approximately 6 per cent of the pharmacists of the United States will be called for military duty. Maryland's share of this total will be from 70 to 80 of the 1,089 registered pharmacists that were practicing in the State as of January 1, 1942. There was an existing shortage of registered pharmacists in the State before the Selective Service Law became effective; the increased demand is giving the Board of Pharmacy and the enforcement officials much concern.

"Because of the important part that pharmacy plays in public health there can be no let up in the enforcement of the Pharmacy Laws. This is particularly true at a time like this when the health and well being of the civilian population should be safeguarded in every way possible.

"The Maryland law requires that a registered pharmacist be on duty at a drug store at all times. Physicians' prescriptions, poisons, and other dangerous drugs, may be dispensed only by a registered pharmacist. The Board of Pharmacy has served notice that full compliance with this law will not only be expected but will be required. So far there has been gratifying cooperation from practically all of the pharmacists in the State.

"Various measures have been proposed and are under consideration, including shortening the hours during which the stores are open. The Board of Pharmacy is exercising extreme care with regard to granting registration through reciprocity with other States. Every candidate for reciprocity is thoroughly investigated as to character, training, ability and previous record.

"Particular attention is being given to the enforcement of the Barbituric Acid Act, to prevent the use of sedatives and other dangerous drugs, except under the direction of an attending physician."

War Speeds Road To Alaska

Events since the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor have focussed world attention on our Pacific defense triangle of Alaska, Hawaii, Panama and California. Most exposed and least prepared point in this strategic group is the territory of Alaska. Because the Alaskan route from Tokio to California is 1,400 miles shorter than the better defended Hawaiian route and because Japan's great naval and air base at Paramushira is only 750 miles from our Aleutian Island "bridge", the danger of direct attack is probably greater from that direction than from any other.

Alaska is closer to Asia than any other American point. The peninsula juts westward to within 54 miles of Siberia. Only eight miles of water lie between America's Little Diomede Island and Russia'a Big Diomede. The Aleutian Islands stretch out to within 660 miles of Japan's naval base at Horomushiro. Over the North Pole, Alaska is closer to the continent of Europe than any other part of the United States and air flights across the top of the world are today feasible. For these reasons of location and bases, Alaska is the best route for an eventual American offensive against Japan. The neighboring chain of Soviet bases and air fields increases the offensive value of Alaska, in case Russia is later able to fight Japan, in addition to driving back Hitler.

In recognitoin of these vital facts, the United States is spending ten times the $7,200,000 purchase price paid for the territory in 1867 to add strength to Alaska. Air, submarine, and naval bases are being built and enlarged by the army and navy. To supply these bases a land connection is now essential. Until the present time practically all traffic between the United States and Alaska has moved by sea. No road or railroad existed. The traffic by sea can be maintained only so long as we have sure control of the surface and underwaters of the Pacific. Danger that surface craft or aircraft or submarines operating off our coast may make it impossible to transport the needed supplies for the full equipment and expansion of our Alaskan military and naval expansion has hastened work on the long-planned highway to Alaska.

Long negotiations between the United States and Canadian Governments were climaxed early in March with the announcements that the Canadian cabinet had approved the project, already recommneded by the United States-Canadian Joint Defense Board. U. S. Army Engineer troops established at Dawson Creek, British Columbia, the first main base for survey and construction of a pioneer road over the nearly 1500-mile route. That job completed, the Public Roads Administration will build a crushed-rock motor highway 24 feet wide over the same route. For defense or for offense it will prove a powerful weapon in the hands of the United States.

Over this road will travel military trucks, bringing essential supplies of food, clothing ammunition, gasoline and oil required by our enlarged forces. In emergencies, the military could be transported by land instead of by sea. Naval vessels and planes could be based advantageously to keep enemies away from continental shores and patrol large areas of the Pacific.

In addition to its outstanding military significance, the Alaskan highway will have greater economic value in peacetime. The territory's great handicap has been the lack of transportation facilities, as there is only one railroad within its boundaries and highways are few. The defense highway will serve as a nucleus for an expanded road system through the territory, which will undoubtedly lead to future development of Alaska's latent mineral, agricultural and forest resources. A road linking the United States and Alaska is sure to bring a steady stream of settlers to Alaska to homestead its farm lands and engage in the many industries possible in the territory. Future defense of Alaska will be greatly simplified by the presence of a permanent population of several millions of our citizens. Early completion of this roadway will weld the territory of Alaska, both economically and strategically, into the body of the nation.

GRANTSVILLE

Pearl Harbor Survivor Home

One of the survivors of Pearl Harbor, Donald C. Schaefer, gunner's mate, second class, son of Henry C. Schaefer, is spending a nineteen-day leave with his father and sister, Lois, in Grantsville.

Two weeks before Christmas, Mr. Schaefer received word that his son was dead. The day before Christmas a telegram stated that "Donald Schaefer is alive." About the middle of January Mr. Schaefer received a letter from his son. This was the last word he had received until his son surprised him at three o'clock last Wednesday morning. This is his first visit home in three years.

During his four years' enlistment in the navy he had been promoted three times. Although he was on duty during the attack on Pearl Harbor he was uninjured. He is being transferred from the west coast to the east coast and will report at Norfolk, Va., after next Tuesday when he will reenlist.

THE SUGAR SITUATION

A front page Editorial in the Cumberland Sunday Times

Cumberland housewives, together with those throughout the nation, find it difficult to reconcile the sugar situation as it has been outlined by the government, with the facts as determined by investigation and set forth in the New York Times and other metropolitan newspapers that have been going to the bottom of a rationing plan. What the housewives want to know is this: Why are they compelled to stand in line and register for a limited amount of sugar to be used for canning purposes, when, it is well known, the supply of sugar on hand this year is 400,000 tons more than it was in 1941 which, in turn, was considered by experts an abnormal year for sugar sales?

In other words at the beginning of the present month there were 8,500,000 tons of sugar in the store houses of the United States. At the time the sugar rationing was planned, it was estimated that there would be only 5,300,000 tons. It would seem that with this increase in the sugar supply, there would be a liberalization of the rationing edict. Yet such is not the case. In many sections of the country, including Western Maryland, this is the preserving season, but sugar for this purpose is virtually unavailable. Sugar within limited amounts may be had for canning, but canning and preserving are different things and the latter requires much more sugar than the former.

Sugar refiners and producers are urging the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board to increase the allowance of sugar to be had under the rationing system. They point out that their warehouses are filled to bursting. They want to move this sugar to make room for fresh supplies from this year's production. They explain that sugar cannot be stored out-of-doors and unless they can get sufficient space for the new crop it will go to waste. Small wonder that with such a condition existing the housewives of the nation are all at sea and are beginning to get a little hot under the collar. They argue that the preservation of food stuffs during wartime is not only good economy, but a substantial part of the war effort. As long as there is plenty of sugar they cannot see why they are not allowed to go ahead with this work of preservation.

The federal government, or those agencies of it responsible for the rationing of sugar in the first place, are not to be criticized because they adopted this precautionary measure. It was no doubt honestly believed that the sugar supply would be far less than it is. Likewise, it was foreseen that vast amounts of molasses would be needed for the manufacture of alcohol which would eventually be used in making munitions. But under a more recently adopted plan, most of the alcohol for this purpose will be made from grain. Thus, apparently, there is sufficient sugar to permit the easing up of the rationing system. Conditions have changed, but the government has not kept pace with them. The effect this has upon the people is disconcerting. They are confused by it all and become distrustful of every measure adopted for the regulation of ordinary life in wartime. This does not make for the morale we must establish if we are to win the war.

Tydings Speaks on World War Problems

two-thirds of the estimated assets of the entire nation.

Must Give Up Many Things

On the political angle to the war, he asserted we would have to sacrifice many political freedoms, freedom of speech, of the press, and curtailments of many things to such an extent that gasoline and tire and sugar rationing would be only as "May zephyrs."

Declaring that the prosecution and winning of the war at the earliest possible date was the biggest question, nevertheless he disclosed some of the difficulties of doing it quickly, as it took time to get weapons and materials to all fighting fronts which were scattered all over the world. He predicted a navy of two million men, an army of six or seven million, and an air force of one and one-half million men by next year.

Questions Ably Answered

The Senator answered all questions asked in a clear and able manner. On the question of how long the war would last, he felt there was no possibility this year, possibly in 1943, but likely in 1944.

On the question of subs in the Atlantic he felt that the sinkings would keep up but looked for a reduction. In his own opinion he thought convoys and daytime sailing would decrease the losses materially.

On the question of a second front he expressed the need of one but felt that one should not be opened up until we were prepared to avoid another Dunkirk.

On the question of how much material was being lost in transport to other lands, he said less than five percent.

On taxes he indicated that every kind of tax would be included in the new tax bill, as the government expected to raise 25 billion dollars, or in other words, one out of every four going for Federal taxes.

On inflation—He considered it a very terrible thing, an experience which people were not conscious of, but felt there was no great danger of inflation as long as people retained confidence in government and as long as the government kept itself sound and realistic and hard-headed in regard to finances, always believing that two and two equaled four.

He expressed the hope that we as a people would think during the war what the united nations were fighting for—the peace that would follow. In concluding he hoped that when peace did come and proposals about universal peace, that people would not accept some panacea too quickly but that they would wait until some sound course was adopted.

He declared unless we did make a lasting peace upon honorable and sincere terms that we wouldn't be worthy of the past of our forefathers who had struggled so for the liberties which we have enjoyed in America.

Service Man Project

The Jaycee service-man project was inaugurated with Senator Tydings drawing the name of the Oakland young man who would be the special person of the week to receive letters and short notes and any present from the citizens here. The name of William K. Glotfelty was drawn, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Glotfelty, who is stationed at Fort Dix, N. J. Senator Tydings wrote the first note.

The guest of honor was introduced by Asa T. Matthews and other items on the program included the singing of America and the Star Spangled Banner, the invocation by Dr. A. B. Leamer, the welcome by Charles L. Briner, Jr., president of the club, and solos by Mrs. Ethel Helbig.

The speaker is considered one of Maryland's outstanding figures. He was born in Havre de Grace, and admited to the bar in 1913. He was in the Mexican Border campaign in 1916 and served with the A. E. F. in France, leaving as a Lieutenant-Colonel of the 29th division Machine Gun unit.

He became a member of the Maryland delegation 1916-17. In 1923-27 he was a member of the 60th Congress and has been a senator since 1927.

Church of Brethren To Conduct Services In School Auditorium

The Church of the Brethren will conduct services in the Oakland High School Auditorium on this Sunday, June 28, at 8:00 p. m.

There will be special numbers of music, and congregational singing followed by a sermon on the subject: "Religion Always Comes Back," by Rev. Olonzo P. Fike, of Mt. Lake Park.

This service will introduce the services to be held by this denomination in Oakland throughout the summer months.

Services from this date will be held on each Sunday as follows:

On the first and third Sundays of the month preaching services will be held in the morning at 11:00.

On the second and fourth Sundays of the month in the evening at 8:00.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Single copies of The Republican may be obtained at the Hamill Book and Stationery Store, corner Third and Alder streets, where the current issue of the paper is placed on sale every Thursday afternoon. Price, 5 cents per copy.

Local Legion Post Endorses A. G. Hesen

Is Recommended for Dept. Vice-Commander, in Charge of Mt. District

At the regular meeting of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, the members endorsed one of its past Commanders, A. G. Hesen, for the office of Department Vice Commander, in charge of the Mountain District. State officers are to be selected at the State convention at Cumberland, in August.

In addition to being a past commander of the post Mr. Hesen has served the post in the capacity of chaplain in 1929, Vice Commander in 1930, Post Commander in 1931, 1932, and 1935. During his term of office in 1931 the post attained the highest membership in its history. He has also served on various committees, including Grave Registration, Rehabilitation and Community Service. At present he is a member of the Department of Maryland Executive Committee, having first been elected in 1940 and again in 1941. Mr. Hesen is also a member of the 40 and 8, Voiture 164 of Cumberland. He has been a member of the legion for 22 years.

During the last war he served on the Mexican border and then overseas for a period of nineteen months as a member of Field Hospital No. 7—of the 3rd Division. This division was part of the original First Army and participated in all major engagements from Chateau Thierry to the Argonne, and Army of Occupation on the Rhine.

Use Tax Stamps Must Be On Autos July 1

Auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5.00 on sale in all postoffices and offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue, and which must be purchased on or before July 1, will be serially numbered, will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, engine number, and State license number of the vehicle.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue said he had been advised by the OPA that, in the issuance and use of gasoline rationing books, an important identification will be the serial number printed on the use tax stamp. In those areas where gasoline is being rationed and in those areas where gasoline will be rationed, possession of the stamp evidencing payment of the use tax on motor vehicles will provide one of the necessary means of identifying the coupon book with the vehicle in the securing of gasoline.

Every owner of a motor vehicle which is used upon the highways should call at his local postoffice or at the office of the Internal Revenue Collector and secure a $5.00 use tax stamp and affix it to his vehicle on or before July 1, 1942, the Commissioner said.

It is the desire of the Bureau of Internal Revenue that the use tax stamp shall be placed on the windshield in a location that will not be in conflict with State requirements. The State requirements for Maryland are that the stamp be placed on the windshield wherever desired. Section 3540 of the Internal Revenue Code prescribes the following penalties:

"Any person liable for the tax under this section who uses or permits the use of the motor vehicle before tax has been paid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $25 or imprisoned for not more than thirty days, or both. Any person who uses or operates a motor vehicle at a time when the stamp, sticker, or tag does not appear on the motor vehicles in the manner provided in the regulations prescribed under subsection (e) or (f) shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $25.'

Red Cross Members Still Being Added

The Red Cross roll call chairman, since its last report in May, has received fifteen dollars, eight of which goes to the War relief fund, the balance to the credit of the roll call.

Mrs. Eugene Harpold, Kitzmiller, sent in a money order of nine dollars, eight of which was made by selling scrap iron, and goes to the war relief fun. The other dollar membership fee was paid by Mrs. Iva Walker.

Clyde Humes, Swanton, handed in the membership fee of Mrs. Arthur Rhodes. Mrs. Willard Elliott, Oak street, sent three dollars for Mr. and Mrs. Silas Miller, Accident, and Bert M. Welch, Oakland. Mrs. F. D. Bittle obtained the memberships of Mrs. Catherine V. Dunkett and Miss L. D. Selden, of Mt. Lake Park.

According to Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, roll call chairman, this brings the roll call up to $933, with 796 members. The quota is $1,200.

Founded Upon A Rock . . .

By RUTH TAYLOR

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

The testing time has arrived. We will now learn whether or not we have truly founded this republic upon the rock. We have taken our democratic way of life for granted. Upon national holidays we have assembled to listen to speeches about the past, to stories of the hardships which the founders of our nation went through. We have agreed that we had a great heritage, and then we have gone back to our own comfortable way of living.

Now is the hour of trial. From all quarters of the globe, the forces that hate democracy because it is practical exemplification of the monotheistic doctrine of the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God, are descending upon us.

The founders of this country built a nation upon the belief that man is entitled to freedom, that he is capable of self-government, that his beliefs are between him and his God alone. Under this doctrine we have prospered until that prosperity has aroused the envy and covetousness of those who saw only the success and not the cause, who could not see that a man would work harder for himself than for a master.

We, the inheritors of this house, have been negligent, indifferent, overconfident—and now we are faced with the necessity of fighting to the finish for our democratic way of life. If enough of us believe in democracy, in equal rights for all men, Democracy will live, no matter what gales may storm down upon us.

But we now have to prove that we believe—we have to put democracy into action. We have to give up many of the things we deemed necessary, we have to work harder, discipline ourselves more rigidly, work together in factory and field, fight on the land, on the sea and in the air for the preservation of the freedom without which we do not wish to live.

If we do this, if we put democracy into action, we will win—for the house of our republic is founded upon the rock of freedom for all, and that rock will endure forever and a day.

WILL NOT HOLD TENNIS TOURNAMENT THIS YEAR

Woman's Civic Club of Mt. Lake Park Reaches Decision Due to Present War Conditions

Decision not to hold the Western Maryland Championship Tennis tournament at Mt. Lake Park this year was reached by members of the Woman's Civic club of the Park, under whose auspices the annual event has been held. For twenty-two years it has been the leading August feature of the Mountain Lake Park season.

The action was taken, according to a resolution, "For the purpose of fully cooperating with the National Defense Program; and further, in view of the uncertainty of adequate transportation and gas rationing; and also increased financial demands, by reason of the war, on the Park and Oakland for charitable and other community interests."

Those familiar with the handicaps which the club faces in holding the tournament under normal conditions, will heartily approve this decision, according to one of the members. There is no local group of tennis players here to rely on, as during the past five years an average of three players from Oakland or the Park have competed among the 35 to 40 who enter competition for the Men's Challenge cup.

Most of the players come by auto with last year over half from Baltimore and Washington, where strict gas rationing is now in effect.

It was pointed out that the club's action applies only to this year and will in no way prevent a resumption of the Western Maryland Championship tournament when the country is again at peace.

New Tabernacle at Mt. Lake Park Will Be Dedicated July 4

A formal dedication of the new tabernacle at Mt. Lake Park will be held Saturday afternoon, July 4th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Dr. O. H. Callis, of Wilmore, Ky., president of the Camp Meeting Association, will be in charge of the service, assisted by the Board of Trustees, and the evangelistic talent engaged for this year, composed of the Gaddis-Moser Evangelistic Party of Winona Lake, Indiana, and Dr. John R. Church, of Winston-Salem, N. C.

The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

War Bond Quota For July Is Set

The war bond quota for July for Garrett county has been set at $32,500 by the U. S. treasury department, which is over twice as much as the May quota.

The June quota was $22,300, and it is believed the county surpassed this figure as the two banks and the Oakland postoffice reported a total of $17,731, leaving only $4,569 for the rest of the county. The sales at the First National Bank of Oakland alone totaled $11,800. The official figures for June will not be known until later.

Bill Spiker Is Chosen in Jaycee Project This Week

The name of William Spiker was drawn this morning by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in continuing its "service man project," and thus Spiker's name will be posted in the three drug stores and at Hamill's, where persons may write to him collectively and leave some small and inexpensive gift, sometime during the week.

Spiker, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dice Spiker, south of town, is now in Australia, in the army air corps. He formerly was employed at the Ray Teets garage.

Emeric Dusic, originator of the project, reported this morning that quite a number of people had written to William K. Glotfelty, who was selected last week, and that several gifts had been left for him at the stores. These were gathered up and will be mailed to him immediately at Camp Dix, N. J., where he is stationed.

Citizens were urged to cooperate in this project to give encouragement and pleasure to those in the service.

Red Cross Asked to Fix Large Amount of Surgical Dressings

Will Require Over 400 Hours of Work Each Week—Volunteers Sought

The local Red Cross chapter has received a call from National Headquarters for a large amount of surgical dressings, which will require over 400 hours of work each week from August to December 31 by local women to meet the need, according to Mrs. E. Z. Tower, county chairman.

The need for more volunteers to help in this work was expressed by Mrs. Tower before the meeting of the Oakland Civic club on Tuesday afternoon, held in the Red Cross headquarters, 3rd floor, First National Bank building.

The quota for the Oakland chapter is 36,000 dressings and will be for those in the service. The work has to be done under the supervision of a trained person and Mrs. Willard Elliott was appointed as supervisor of dressings and will be sent to Annapolis for a three-day course.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner was the speaker at the Civic club meeting, talking on "Trends of Modern Medicine." He told of research and discoveries being made in the field of medicine.

This was the final meeting for the season and Mrs. W. W. Dawson and Mrs. W. W. Grant were joint hostesses. The club will resume its meetings in September.

Several Merchants Plan To Close on July Fourth

Most of the merchants of Oakland are planning to close their places of business all day on Saturday, July 4, remaining open on Friday evening, to take care of their customers.

FRANTZ NAMED PRINCIPAL OF OAKLAND ELEMENTARY

List Of Teacher Appointments Not Yet Completed, County Superintendent States

The appointment of Merle D. Frantz as principal of the Oakland Elementary School, was announced by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, this morning. Mr. Frantz succeeds Clyde Dahlgren, who has resigned to enter the armed services of our country.

Mr. Frantz is a native of Garrett county. He was educated in the public schools of the county, having graduated from the Friendsville High School in 1925. He later attended the State Teachers' College at Frostburg, graduating in 1929. He has been a member of the teaching staff of the county since that time. While in service through taking advanced extension work and summer school attendance he has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science by the University of Maryland.

Mr. Frantz has had a varied teaching experience in the elementary field. His first years were in the rural schools of the county. Since then he has held different teaching positions in the graded schools at Crellin and Friendsville. While teaching in Friendsville he also served as a member of the town council. He resigned his position there to become principal of the Loch Lynn School, at which he served very successfully, Mr. Rathbun said, until he received his present appointment.

Mr. Rathbun stated yesterday the list of teacher appointments for the county was not yet completed, as there would be a number of changes and additions, due to war conditions.

Canning Sugar Quota Has Been Increased

Local Board Announces Advance From 9 to 12½ Pounds Per Person

That the annual allowance of sugar for canning purposes had been increased from nine pounds (36 quarts) per person, to twelve and one-half pounds (50 quarts) per person, per year, was announced this morning by the local rationing board.

Those who are entitled to an additional allowance by reason of this increase may apply to the local office for the additional amount due them. Applications, either for the additional allotments, or for the entire season's allowance, may be made at the office of the local board in Oakland on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays during the month of July. Applications may be made by mail at any time during the month of July.

The above allowances of sugar are for the canning of fruits only and no allowances of sugar can be made for the canning of vegetables or for pickling.

Stamp Good for Two Pounds

War stamp No. 5 in the consumer's war ration book may be used by consumers between June 28 and July 25 for the purchase of TWO pounds of sugar and stamp number 6 may be similarly used between July 26 and August 22 for the purchase of TWO pounds of sugar, according to the board. This does not increase the amount per week but gives consumers the opportunity to buy for a four week's period at one time.

The board said that there was considerable confusion this week among both grocery proprietors and individuals about the amount.

Season on Bass Will Continue Five Months

Five months of bass fishing were inaugurated on July 1 in this county and Allegany county. The day also marked the open season for perch, catfish, blue gill, pike, fall fish and all other species of fresh water fish.

The trout season overlaps the bass season by fifteen days as the trout season which opened on April 15 does not close until July 15. The bass season will be concluded on November 30.

Fishermen may keep any legal sized bass caught in Savage river as long as the trout season remains open. There is no limit on hours for bass fishing, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, except in trout streams where hours are from 6:30 to 9 p. m. The size on bass is ten inches or more and the creel limit is ten.

Bass fishing in Garrett county is usually done in the Casselman river and Deep Creek lake.

Let Freedom Ring!

Echoing and re-echoing through all the turmoil of today, the clear, loud ringing of our Liberty Bell is a symbol of all that we Americans have to live for! Staunch, sturdy—from the beam from which it is suspended, to the gong that strikes out its message, our Liberty Bell signals to a waiting world of oppressed peoples that though the struggle be long and hard, the call of Liberty will again ring out around the world . . . as it still rings out for every American.

Gilson Is Sentenced In Federal Court

Deer Park Man Must Serve Eight Months in Federal Prison

Guy Gilson, 70, this county, was sentenced Tuesday, in Baltimore to serve eight months in the federal penitentiary at Petersburg, Va., after he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a 40-gallon still at his home on a farm near Deer Park.

K. Thomas Everngam, assistant United States attorney, said Gilson admitted also that he had possessed 100 gallons of whiskey mash. Everngam told federal Judge William C. Coleman that Gilson had been convicted on three previous occasions of liquor charges.

Internal revenue agents told Judge Coleman that Gilson had been selling liquor for the last fifteen or twenty years.

Defenders of Faith Purchase Deer Park

The Defenders of the Faith, a religious organization which purchased the Mt. Lake Park Association property about two years ago, has announced through C. A. Maddy, director, that it has also completed arrangements for the purchase of the Deer Park hotel property.

This organization has property at Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., Intercession City, Fla., in addition to the property at Mt. Lake Park.

Mr. Maddy said they would make repairs to the main units of the hotel. The property consists of about 360 acres, and besides the hotel there are a number of cottages.

HUGE CROWD EXPECTED TO ATTEND FREE LUNCHEON

Will Be Held At Mountain Lake Park Saturday Afternoon Following Dedication

Immediately following the dedication of the new camp meeting auditorium at Mountain Lake Park, the old association will distribute free luncheon, such as sandwiches, doughnuts and drink from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. The band from the nearby town and the instrumental band of the Mission's evangelistic party will furnish the music and entertainment.

Representatives of the Intercession City Biblical College will explain how students can work their way through that Florida institution.

Many choice lots in the Park and acreage around it will be sold under the hammer to the highest bidder. A free lot valued at fifty dollars will be given outright to some one of the guests. The assemblage will gather around the Sweet Spot on the campus of the amphitheatre.

Regular Postoffice Hours on Saturday, July 4th.

The Oakland postoffice will observe regular Saturday hours on July 4th, with one city delivery in the morning and the windows closing at noon. The rural carriers, however, will not make their usual trips.

Most of the stores and other business establishments of town will be closed all day on the Fourth, with the grocery stores remaining open Friday evening for the convenience of their customers.

Golf Club Auxiliary Selects Its Officers

Mrs. William Naylor was elected president of Women's Auxiliary of the Oakland Golf club at a meeting of that group on Monday, June 29.

Others chosen were Mrs. Bruce Jenkins, vice-president; Evalyn Fraley, secretary; Mrs. B. I. Gonder, Jr., treasurer; Dorothy Spencer, tournament captain; Mrs. Lawrence Fraley, house chairman; Mrs. Hugh Echard, chairman of the social committee.

Beginning this month meetings will be held the last Monday of the month at 7:30 o'clock at the clubhouse. Dues will be 25 cents per month.

On Friday, July 10, each member is to bring a guest with her to the municipal course to play golf. Plans also include a card party, to be held sometime this month.

Search for Scrap Rubber to Continue Through July 10th

With a total of only 219,000 tons collected thus far, President Roosevelt on Monday extended for ten days the drive to round up all available scrap rubber.

The scrap collection campaign originally was scheduled to end at midnight Tuesday, but by extension, will continue through July 10.

No campaign goal was ever set because no one had any definite idea of how much might be available, but pre-campaign estimates ranged all the way from 25,000 to 600,000 tons. Maryland reported 1,307 tons from June 17 to June 27.

419 REGISTERED IN FIFTH DRAFT CALL TUESDAY

Youths 18 to 20 Register for Possible Service—May Be Called To Work in War Effort

A total of 419 Garrett county youths 18 to 20 years old, were registered Tuesday at the six high schools of the county in the fifth registration ordered under the Selective Service Act.

With the other four registrations this now gives the Federal government a list of almost six thousand persons in this county between the ages of 18 and 64, inclusive. As yet the last group is not subject to induction into the armed forces, nor is the fourth group which included those from 45 to 64, but both these groups are subject to being called to work in the war effort.

In Tuesday's registration the highest number came to Oakland high school, with Grantsville having the next largest number. The totals at the six high schools were as follows:

Oakland	172
Kitzmiller	64
Kempton	19
Accident	39
Grantsville	87
Friendsville	38
Total	419

There are now registered with the federal government a total of 5,870 men from this county. Divided according to the registrations they are as follows:

First registration	2,378
Second registration	127
Third registration	1,114
Fourth registration	1,832
Fifth registration	419
Total	5,870

Draft Board Continues To Mail Questionnaires

The Garrett County draft board continues to mail questionnaires to those who have been registered under the Selective Service Act.

Questionnaires for the purpose of classification in the draft have been mailed to 750 persons in the third registration thus far. All in the first and second registrations were mailed questionnaires sometime ago.

Occupational questionnaires were mailed to all in the third registration several weeks ago and 1900 have now been mailed to those in the first and second registrations, H. L. Jones, clerk, reported.

FIREMEN'S CELEBRATION TO END SATURDAY NIGHT

Mammoth Parade Scheduled for One o'Clock P. M.; Number of Fire Companies to Participate

The firemen's seventh annual celebration will be climaxed Saturday with a mammoth parade of fire companies from the tri-State area.

Joseph Stanton, of the parade committee, announced this morning that eleven fire companies, two bands and one drum corps had already answered invitations and that a number of additional favorable replies were expected before Saturday.

The parade will form on Oak street and will move west on Oak to Third, Third to Crook, Crook to Second, Second to Alder and around the square to the carnival grounds. The parade is scheduled to move at one o'clock.

Amusements, shows and rides are being provided by the World of Fun shows. They will remain here the entire week. The carnival grounds are located on the old Glades Hotel lot. The carnival has been here since on Monday.

Oakland Man Loses Fingers in Steam Roller Cogwheel

Lawrence Means, aged 62 years, of Oakland, lost all the fingers of his right hand and a portion of his thumb when they became caught in the cogs of a steam rollers at Loch Lynn Heights last Friday afternoon.

The injured man is employed by the County Roads Department of the County Commissioners and was operating a roller enroute to a highway repair job. His glove became caught in the machinery and his fingers were severed in an instant.

He was taken to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where he remains. Besides the injury to his hand Means suffered from shock and loss of blood, but is now improving.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

The celebration of Independence Day (July Fourth) when first established was of a serious nature. It was a celebration in which the whole community took part. The program was carefully planned weeks ahead. It would generally start with a colorful parade made up of marshall, bands, and floats. Following the parade would be a formal program when the Declaration of Independence would be read, a patriotic address be made by a prominent speaker, a band concert, and a tournament and baseball game. In the evening there would be elaborate fireworks provided by the community. In between these formal community observances there would be picnic parties held in the various groves.

The most remembered Fourth of July was some thirty years ago. Somewhere I still have a picture of the parade held in Oakland. Dr. Henry McComas was the Grand Marshall, and the combined Oakland-Keyser Band under Prof. McIlwee stirred the huge throng with its martial and concert music. In the early afternoon a program was held from the long veranda of The Oakland Hotel (which has since been dismantled) above where now The Carnation Milk Plant stands. Ann Manges, the daughter of Rev. Edmund Manges, who was Pastor of The Lutheran Church, read The Declaration of Independence. I do not recall who made the address on that particular occasion. After the program was finished a Tournament was held on the long cinder drive in front of the Hotel. That particular tournament was won by Blaine Giessman and he named the Queen of the Tournament, who later became his bride. In the evening on Crooks Crest a large assortment of fireworks illuminated the sky. The entire program was made possible by town finances. It was considered a legitimate expenditure in view of the significance of the holiday.

But for many years the serious side of Fourth of July has been forgotten. No longer do we have a parade or program; or community fireworks. It has been found necessary to pass ordinances limiting the use of fireworks to prevent accidents. What fireworks have been consumed in recent years have been used merely in terms of fun. No patriotic significance has been kept in connection with their use. And instead of being a part of a community program they have been fired off by individuals. This, together with a Carnival, for the benefit of the Fire Department, is all there is left of the celebration. It is legally still a holiday—but it no longer represents to the community mind a commemoration of our Independence. In various places efforts have been made to revive its meaning—but the original sentiment is absent. The Oakland Fire Department is a worthy and competent organization. The whole community can point with real pride to its fine record. It has grown in efficiency to the extent that the Community feels reasonably secure against every kind of fire hazard. If there exists no longer a sentiment for Independence Day it is justifiable for our Fire Department to take advantage of the Holiday for the purpose of raising money.

Perhaps one of the reasons why Independence Day has lost its meaning is due to the gradual realization that America has been losing its freedom. Its political system has been vastly altered by foreign ideas and domestic strife, and its dehumanising results, between capital and labor. The mounting of taxes, the disregard of the Monroe Doctrine, the involvement of this nation in a war created by foreigners—all these factors now make Independence Day but a memory rather than a continuous reality.

Instead of fireworks to commemorate the winning of our freedom in 1776, we find ourselves July Fourth, 1942, in a grim struggle which involves the possibility of losing our Independence. There will be scarcely any fireworks this year. Instead we find ourselves making real fireworks. They will not be shot off to merely illumine the sky—or as risky fun for children and grown ups. They will be bombs, torpedoes, bullets and grenades shot at the foe. They are messengers of death. The whole world is being consumed in a conflagration. The skies in all hemispheres are alight with screeching bombs.

Perhaps if we had kept alive our love of Independence and its old-fashioned observance we might not have come to this hour. We have lost much of our freedom because we became careless, and because we abused it. The sober question is whether by means of these newly fashioned and titanic fireworks our freedom can be restored. This is possible, but not unless coupled with it is a love for freedom. And by the attitude of the American citizen during the past generation when the love for freedom has been superseded by the love for pleasure and selfish profit it will take a mighty social upheavel to recall us to our original purpose, and God willing, our destiny.

A Two-Man Machine Shop Contributing To War Effort

Small manufacturers and machine shops looking for a chance to participate in war work for the Army and Navy might take a leaf from the book of the Bairs, father and son, in Eberly's Mills, near Harrisburg, Pa.

Untrained in modern management, not favored with fat bank accounts or unlimited credit, and with a minimum WPB help, the Bairs today are fast setting a mark that small business can shoot at.

Joseph H. Bair is a mechanical engineer, a doctor of philosophy, a psychologist, a poet and fiction writer, an inventor, and a poor man.

His son, Richard H. Bair, is a machinist by trade.

Last fall, Dr. Bair and his son, Richard, put their heads together and decided there was work for Americans to do.

Their equipment, in addition to a streak of inventiveness and the "know-how" to make shift with materials at hand, were a 13-inch lathe, a No. 0 milling machine, a drill press, and a five-inch power driven back saw, all small, and all dating from 1912.

In addition, they had for quarters the roofed-over foundation of their home, destroyed by fire in 1939.

They already had been working for a few months on some precision work for a large safe manufacturer.

By October, through an acquaintance in Harrisburg, young Richard, 27, stumbled on a job turning out repair parts for a prime contractor doing maintenance work on government ordnance machinery.

The lathe, the milling machine, and the drill press were useful on this work, but there still were machine-hours to spare for more production.

So the Bairs decided to call on Ritchie Lawrie, Jr., then manager of the Division of Contract Distribution in Harrisburg, and now War Production Board manager there. Lawrie told them to list their available tools. As an afterthought, they listed the hacksaw.

Almost at once—by messenger, because they have no telephone—the Bairs heard from Lawrie that a large arms contractor in the district required some hacksaw work, butting blooms—big 6x6 inch nickel steel bars, weighing 2,100 pounds each—into billets, or slices weighing 80-odd pounds, for aerial bombs..

They didn't have the equipment—their hacksaw was too light for the job—but they had the know-how and they had room to install the equipment if they could find it. The contractor promised them a trial order of 500 tons if they could obtain saws.

The next step was to shop for saws. Richard says he soon found that he'd probably have to wait months for machines, so—

"I went to visit a manufacturer near Philadelphia and he had just been notified that an order of eight 7-inch hacksaws—just the right size—which had been on the docks for shipment to Batavia, Java, was being returned because of the war in the Pacific. The prime contractor gave me an A-1-a priority and I froze right onto them."

So the saws were installed and the Bairs set about rigging up special stands to hold the 2,100 pound blooms while the saws were at work. The eight new machines operated at low speed—60 strokes a minute. They took more than 90 minutes to saw through the big blooms.

The Bairs set to work and by simple installation of larger pulleys increased this operation to 120 strokes a minute.

Then they turned to another experiment.

In the big prime contractor's plant, the blooms are loaded by big magnets on the truck which takes them to the Bair shop. The Bairs find the blooms have thus themselves become magnetized. This keeps the steel shavings from the saws from falling to the floor and prevents the use of a coolant or lubricant in the cuts, because the liquid increases the magnetic action.

So the Bairs reset all the saws, right in their own shop, so they draw instead of pushing—thus pulling the shavings out of the cut with each stroke of the blade.

Little by little, father and son are overcoming every obstacle that presents itself. They've rigged up a small crane to lift the blooms off the trucks, using second-hand material out of junk yards to do the job..

They have wired the plant for 220 volt current and now the Bairs laugh that every time their saws and machines are operating, they use so much current all the lights in the neighborhood go dim.

But the neighborhood doesn't mind—it's all part of the game of producing for our war.

And with the electricity in and the saws reset, the Bairs are planning to expand further by purchasing other machines and making their operations more versatile. In addition, they have just launched a three-shift operation.

The story of this little enterprise goes 'way back to pre-World War I days, when Dr. Bair realized a considerable sum from the sale of rights to a laundry drying machine he had invented. He quit his job as professor of psychology at the University of Colorado and journeyed east, whence he originally had hailed.

Near Harrisburg he found a big old stone-and-wood house which had been a cooperage, dating from post-Revolutionary war days. There he and his wife and two young sons settled so he could spend his life inventing things. He bought his machines and installed them in an outhouse on the property.

When the first World War broke, Dr. Bair turned to making precision artillery parts for the Bureau of Standards and experimental surgical instruments for the army.

His sons grew up, one to be a writer, another, Horace, to be a die-maker, and the youngest, Richard, a machinist. In the '30s, they operated an auto painting shop in the work shed and stored their machines in the cellar.

The final catastrophe was the burning of their home in 1939. To the average man, they were left with nothing. To the Bairs, they merely had a little bigger job to do.

Phoenix-like, from the ashes of their home and hopes, they were able within two years to start the little enterprise which is flourishing in the foundations of the old home today. The family lives in a couple of little houses on the premises—one of them being the old work and paint shop and plans for future expansion.

Meanwhile, they are repaying their bank loans and, on the side, Dr. Bair continues with his inventing—he already holds 60 patents. A couple of his projects already are being called to the attention of the services.

ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. King, James King and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Nestmann, of Wheeling, were here on June 24 and 25 as guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. King. Mr. P. E. King was at one time principal of the Grantsville school and may be remembered by some people of the county. He is now principal of Triadelphia High school in Wheeling.

Unique Church Celebration Planned

Arrangements have been completed to commemorate in a reunion service the fiftieth anniversary of a class of twelve, who joined Zion Lutheran church by the rite of confirmation on April 10, 1892.

Adequate notice will be given of several unusual features of the celebration. All twelve of those confirmed are still living and remain members of the Lutheran church. An invitation has been extended to each one to be present at the celebration, as follows: The Rev. Walter, of Arlington, Neb., who confirmed the class and who after 52 years is still active as a minister. He will be present on the occasion and will preach the reunion sermon.

The members of the class include Rev. Hartman, Chicago; John A. Georg, Iowa; John Fratz, Ohio; Mrs. Speicher, Salisbury, Pa.; Mrs. Chris Margroff, Taneytown, Md.; Mrs. Frank Margroff, Cove; Mrs. John Haenftling, Adam Richter, William Zinkan, John Kahl, Mr. and Mrs. George Georg, Accident.

Pvt. George Miller, Fort Knox, Ky., spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller, and other relatives.

Merrill Myers and Dale and Emerson Alexander spent the week-end in Akron.

N. M. Humberson, of Bakersville, visited at the Humberson home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Margroff had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Howard Glotfelty, McHenry; Arthur O'Brien and family, Swanton.

The Rev. C. F. Dauphin and Frank Georg attended the Eastern District convention of the Missouri synod at Towanda, N. Y., last week.

Pvt. Carroll Goehringer and Miss Mary Mae Miller were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Margroff.

Mrs. C. F. Dauphin and son Carl have returned from a trip to Canada and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Yost were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Speicher in Morgantown on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Yost, Meyersdale, and Mrs. H. E. Yost and children, Cumberland, were Monday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Yost.

Mrs. Neil Bigelow returned to her home in Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, following a visit of a week or more with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Zinkan.

Mrs. Edward Zinkan and son, Karl, and Miss Wilma McClune, of McKeesport, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ford Fike, of Markleysburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Georg, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Georg, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Georg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Georg and family, Bruce Hetrick, and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Zinkan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Zinkan, on Sunday.

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by Republican Committee on 1942 Campaign

Presented by GALEN L. TAIT

RESOLVED, by Maryland Republicans and Committeemen assembled under call of the Republican State Chairman at Baltimore, Md., this 20th day of June, 1942:

(1) That Maryland Republicanism supports absolutely the national war effort against our enemies through all that lies ahead until final victory and world peace.

(2) That we endorse with genuine approval and earnest belief the declaration of national war and peacetime policies adopted by the recent meeting of the Republican National Committee.

(3) That we declare our belief in the two-party system of government and the continuous and orderly functioning, in war as in peace, of the machinery for nomination and election of public officials and representatives in state and nation.

(4) That we assert our adherence in war time to the freedom of the press, the right of free speech and assembly, and all other privileges guaranteed by the bill of rights, not inconsistent with the vigorous prosecution of the war.

(5) That we disapprove any effort to establish undiscussed social experiments under the guise of urgent war needs.

(6) That in the prosecution of the war restraints be placed upon such a growth of bureaucracy as at the best would be inconsistent with democratic practices and at the worst, might covertly establish a totalitarian and regimented control of our free national citizens.

(7) That inflation be effectively restrained and extravagance be attacked and economy enforced, in all matters not immediately necessary to the vigorous prosecution of the all-out war efforts of our nation and its gallant allies.

(8) That while we uphold the rights of honest criticism of all public officials, including the judiciary, we deprecate unwarranted attacks upon the established constitutional institutions that are the supporting pillars in the edifice of democratic government; and which, if undermined, would aid the destruction of democracy and the building up of totalitarianism in our free land.

(9) That as citizens of the free state of Maryland we stand by the time honored principles of the preservation of all political and economic rights of the state, not incompatible with a national power strong enough to cope with foreign enemies in war and domestic foes in peace. We also reassert the constitutional recognition in Maryland of rotation in office; and of the civil and economic rights of all men and women, regardless of creed, race, sex or station.

(10) We request as a patriotic right the inclusion of Republicans on all war boards or agencies of Maryland.

(11) Respecting other state issues we favor: the abolition as proposed by Republican officials in 1933 of the state tax on land; in view of the Governor's declared ten million dollar surplus, the reduction of the state income tax by special legislative enactment, and the utmost state economy by the minimum number of state employes. We reserve comment on other state issues pending the meeting of our State Convention of September 18th.

(12) We declare our solemn belief that the God of Hosts, who guided Washington and Lincoln in former days of national peril, is with us yet. To Him we submit our righteous cause.

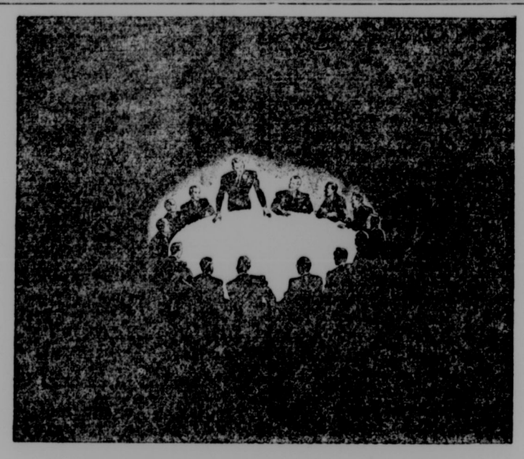
COME RAIN OR SHINE!



JUST BEFORE THE DAWN

The captive peoples of Europe are seething with the grim determination to overthrow their Axis captors when the opportune time comes. Many think it will come this year. Our nation and its allies are making every effort to hasten the day when millions of miserable people will again see the light of freedom and will quit their dungeons of despair.

We've Got a Job Here at Home

Our job is to give them and our own fighting forces everything they need to assure final victory. Sure, we're being asked to give up some of our every-day conveniences. Uncle Sam needs our refrigerators, our sweepers, and other electrical appliances, to "turn the plowshares into swords." To keep up to our war production schedule this year we must turn out

1 plane every 8½ minutes
1 tank every 12 minutes
1 anti-aircraft gun every 30 minutes

Can we do it, working together? Who'll say we can't?

Ways to Keep Babies Well In Hot Weather

State Health Director Calls Attention to Causes of Diarrhea

Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department calls attention to this advice from the Bureau of Child Hygiene on keeping the baby well in the summer:

"During the hot summer months by far the most outstanding peril to the health of infants less than 2 years of age is diarrhea. A wise mother, therefore, is one who takes the trouble to learn a bit about the causes and dangers of this disease and takes steps to prevent its occurrence.

"The four chief causes which lead to diarrhea should be remembered by the mother.

1. Poor state of nutrition, due to irregular and improper feeding; or to lack of vitamins, especially cod liver oil and orange or tomato juice.

2. The summer heat which lowers digestive capacity.

3. Lack of cleanliness such as unboiled milk, dirty or soiled hands and feeding utensils, and flies.

4. A "cold", sore throat or some other infection.

"Early danger signs are listlessness, refusal of food and possibly vomiting. Then the stools begin to be watery and more frequent.

"What to do? Try to keep your baby in excellent health by taking him to a child health conference, a baby clinic, or your private doctor. Feed him according to the doctor's orders and do not neglect to give him his orange juice and cod liver oil daily. Feed the baby at regular times. Boil his milk for 5 minutes, or you can use canned evaporated milk with an equal amount of boiled water. Wash his bottles and nipples with soap and water and boil them before using.

"Screen your house from flies. Wash your hands before handling the baby. Keep him away from sick people.

When the weather is warm and the baby shows any tendency toward a digestive upset reduce the amount of his food and give him plenty of boiled water. Do not make the mistake made by many mothers of trying to force the baby to eat more food because he is losing weight and having diarrhea. When diarrhea starts, it is urgent that all food be stopped for from 12 to 24 hours and small sips of boiled water may be given frequently. When the stools are more normal start the milk again in small amounts and be sure it is boiled.

"Consult your doctor early—as soon as diarrhea starts. The baby can be cured more easily if he is treated early."

These Colors Will Not Run!

ON TO VICTORY

With Old Glory

BLUE FOR LOYALTY; WHITE FOR LIBERTY;
RED FOR COURAGE.

Joined together in our banner, these our colors proclaim our faith undying. Keep it flying! Fight with words to defend the spirit of it. Fight to the finish, that our children too may live with it. Forty-eight states: one hundred and thirty million people—to hold high our flag, untouched by twisted, slimy fascist lying. Our flag! Keep it flying! Old Glory it is: new Glory it will bring. The stars and stripes forever—in their name let freedom ring! Let the madmen's roars express wild frustration. They can't shut out the piercing cries of nations whose only plea is—"Set us free!" They can't blackout the hope that shines in the eyes of men who fight for liberty. Keep old Glory flying alongside the banners of our valiant allies who fight with us to free the world, and all men from the lunacy of power lusting maniacs.

ANTI-SEMITISM BOOMERANGS—

One thing the Nazis seem to be teaching the rest of us: that we dislike one another less than we imagined. Reports from the Netherlands are illustrative.

The Nazis in the Netherlands, for instance, have been decreeing unpleasantness for Jews. Dutch Quislings have been helping in an attempt to spread anti-Semitism among the Dutch people. What is the result? Let the "Dutch Goebbels," Max Blokzijl, tell it: "All kinds of people now act like Jews and show their sympathy with them." This is part of a complaint attributed to this Nazi follower by Editor Stoppelman of the "Netherlands News Digest," who gets frequent reports from Holland.

Other significant developments include a new custom reported from Amsterdam, where it evidently has become a fashion for stout-hearted Dutchmen to raise their hats to Jews forced by the Nazis to wear Star of David emblems. In other towns the people have shown their sympathy with persecuted Jews by helping them to carry their luggage to the station when complying with evacuation orders, and by many acts of kindness.

The reaction of the Dutch people to Nazi anti-Semitism has amounted to much more than an expression of derision for the occupying forces. It has actually helped to protect Jews against sterner measures which have been inflicted on them elsewhere, according to Dutch reports. And it is said to have wiped out the last faint traces of any pre-war Dutch anti-Semitism.

This is understandable to peoples of the United Nations. Governments suspicious of one another are now cooperating on a basis which would have been thought impossible a short time ago. Countries which were once acutely conscious of differences of interest, race and culture are now finding common virtues as they battle the evil of Naziism. Not only in Holland but elsewhere, the Jew and the Gentile are finding fellowship in opposing brutal racial fictions, as in France, where Gentile youths are wearing yellow handkerchiefs to match the yellow Stars of David worn by Jews.

All these people would probably agree that you don't know how little you dislike your liberty-loving neighbor, or how much you like him, until Nazis move into the neighborhood. In any event, the instinct of free men to protect the weak is a measure of their strength to win, not only this war, but a better world.

Cooperative Members To Share in Dividends

Farmer-members of Southern States Cooperative in Garrett county will share in the more than a million dollars which the board of directors of the organization has set aside for distribution this summer to its members in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, and North Carolina for the fiscal year ended June 30, W. G. Wysor, Richmond, Va., general manager of the cooperative, announced.

Of this amount, $919,000 represents the $2.40 a ton on mixed fertilizers and 3.8 per cent patronage refund on all other farm supplies. The balance of $102,000 is the 6 per cent dividend on outstanding capital stock. The cooperative's volume for the year ending June 30 is in exces of $28,000,000. Additions to reserve funds for afterwar decline in inventory values, for working capital, and for self insurance, total $338,000.

Besides the dividends declared by Southern States Cooperative, a dividend of 6 per cent has been declared by the board of directors of Southern States Oakland Service on its capital stock, according to B. B. Snyder, manager of the service which has a membership of 533. Volume for the year just ended was approximately $77,000.

The board of directors for the Oakland Service is composed of James F. Hamilton, Roy O. Winters, Truman C. Bittinger, Owen U. Martin, and William F. DeBerry, president, Oakland; J. W. Steyer, Deer Park; Earl K. Harvey, Swanton.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—The nation was warned the Axis still held the edge in arms production. Thousands of Canadians arrived in Britain, aided by U. S. warships. Canadian airmen were fighting Jap invaders in Aleutians. Subs sank two patrol boats in Atlantic. Nazis seized a key Russian railway city, below Kharkov. The attack against Sevastopol had slackened. Axis columns began drive on Egypt. Nazis razed second town in Czecho-Slovakia for killing of Heydrich. A Jap warship and three transports were sunk by volunteers in China and Chinese troops pushed foes back 12 miles.

SATURDAY — Moscow claimed Nazis were halted on two fronts while Berlin claimed a key town in Ukraine was taken. King and Queen of England watch U. S. forces in maneuvers in Ireland. British reported on big raid on Bremen with over 1,000 airplanes as very destructive, although losing 52 planes. Soviet bombers struck at a large German fleet in a Finnish port near Leningrad. Rommel's force drove to within 30 miles of Matruh in Egypt. A Jap sub attacked a vessel off Canadian west coast but it reached port.

SUNDAY—Japs again reduced the gap between two tongues of their offensive in China and took the last important Chekiang air base. Defenders of Sevastopol smashed repeated German attacks and said there were no changes on other sectors. Germans resorted to mass air attacks over Russian front. British subs were keeping convoys of Axis away from Bengasi. British were bolstering for fight at Matruh. A big force of marines landed in Pacific area. Turks were appearing upset by Rommel's gains in Libya. A call was made for more small boats along Atlantic coast to join anti-sub patrol. The Roosevelt-Churchill parley produced plans for a new front to relieve pressure on Russia.

MONDAY—The battle for Egypt raged violently but inconclusively 165 miles from Alexandria. Reds sprang a counter-offensive in Ukraine and drove Germans before them. Sevastopol siege lines were stabilized with only desultory shelling by Germans. RAF returned to smoking Bremen and rained destruction on Germany's second port and sub nest. Chinese airmen sank two Jap warships and inflicted enormous casualties on astonished troops of Mikado. Eight German saboteurs were seized by FBI after landing on Long Island and Florida coast. Anxiety of Allied nations centered on Egypt. Spanish papers said U. S. troops were fighting beside British. Reports came out of Germany on enormous damage in Bremen.

TUESDAY—British were fighting desperately in Egypt after the stronghold at Matruh had been evacuated. New air reinforcements arrived there from United States and were helping to bomb Axis columns. Northern France was raided by R. A. F. U. S. Army bombers made a ruinous raid on the Jap held Wake Island and all planes returned safely to Hawaii. Reds claimed to have smashed every wave of German attack against Kursk in new drive, but admitted Nazis had made some gains around Sevastopol. A large American tugboat was sunk by underwater blast in sight of east coast. The American troops in Australia were keeping healthy in spite of winter weather. There were indications that a military court might try the eight men accused of landing from German subs on East coast to sabotage the American war effort. Churchill was facing a rising storm of criticism as to the war effort.

WEDNESDAY — Axis desert columns passed the British coastal base of El Daba and were within 100 miles of Alexandria but there were indications that fresh Allied troops and reinforced bomb power of U. S. army planes already had told on Rommel's striking force. Axis had also run into heavy battle with New Zealand troops. Reds acknowledged some gains at Sevastopol but on Kursk sector the German offensive seemed to be smothered with loss of 200 Nazi tanks claimed. RAF hit Bremen for fourth time in five nights claiming it was now like Cologne, Emden, Duebeck and Rostock. Jap columns picked up momentum again in China and there were indications that 50,000 troops on Formosa were going to move against coast of Fukien. Allied troops made a commando raid on Jap base on New Guinea Island above Australia.

THURSDAY — Germans reported the fall of Sevastopol but Russians, although admitting Nazi gains, wouldn't confirm that fort had been taken. A Nazi drive near Moscow was reported repulsed. British armored forces were battling to stem the Nazi advance on Alexandria, in Egypt. U. S. reported a giant naval base completed in northern Ireland. U. S. also reported taking aid to Malta in Mediterranean by plane carrier. U. S. in June delivered 66 steel cargo vessels. Commander of the Lexington predicted Japanese in near future would face an offensive that would rock them back on their heels. Allies bombed Jap bases on New Guinea and New Britain. Japs in China had narrowed the gap in the drive for the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway to about 25 miles. The French fleet demobilized near Alexandria was of concern to British, lest it fall into German hands.

On Guard

With Our Men In the Service

Private First Class Eugene W. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ray, Kitzmiller, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Ground.

Enroute from a Michigan air base to a point in Georgia, Lieut. Jack Weber stopped here on Tuesday and remained over the night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weber.

July 24 Is Last Day to File For Primary Election

Certificates of candidacy for the primary election on September 8 must be filed with the Board of Election Supervisors on or before July 24, according to an opinion issued from the office of the Attorney General of the State.

Assistant Attorney General Robert E. Clapp, Jr., said that counting back from September 8 it will be seen that it is only by filing certificates of candidacy on or before July 24 that a statutory period of forty-five "clear days" may be complied with.

He was replying to an inquiry from the Baltimore Board of Election Supervisors, which applies equally to the counties. He also said that it is only by withdrawal on or before August 8 that the statutory period of 30 days for withdrawing certificates of candidacy may be complied with.

Thus far there is no way whereby men who are being drafted could register before they leave, so they would be entitled to receive ballots.

There is no such thing as absentee registration. The regular registration days prior to the primary will be set and persons who have not registered to vote in State and county elections will have to appear at that time in person to register, so far as could be learned. The emergency voting law makes no mention of registrations.

The Maryland State Bar association approved a plan to revise the judiciary system, which would replace the eight-judge court of appeals with one of five judges. The plan must be approved by the Legislature and ratified by voters in the form of constitutional amendment.

Mt. Lake Aviator Is Honored for Bravery In Pacific Fighting

Men of Patwing 10—that valiant flying group that started in the Philippines with 42 planes, wrote a saga of valor across the Pacific and disbanded in Australia with two planes left, won decorations and promotions for their feat, the Navy has announced.

Wilmot E. Bowen, of Mountain Lake Park, is one of those in the group who has been promoted for his activities.

He was in the group of Patwing 10—Patrol Wing 10—which smacked down Jap planes, sank warships and carried on reconnaisance work across the Southern Pacific. Sometimes men did their work with planes shot full of holes from machine gun bullets. One bomber with hundreds of bullet holes was liberally "patched" to carry on. Holes in its huil were plugged, wires were used to tie together the broken parts.

Of the Wing's personnel only a handful were lost in action despite the loss of most of its planes.

The exploits of these men, the Navy says, have "already become a legend in scores of tropical islands which heard the last defiant bursts of its machine guns."

Wilmot Eiler Bowen, 28, naval aviation pilot, of Mountain Lake Park, was promoted from aviation machinist's mate first class, to chief aviation machinist's mate. His wife, Mrs. Kaye Grace Bowen, lives in San Diego, California. His citation reads:

"Since the beginning of hostilities, the above named man performed the duties of his rating in an extremely courageous manner in the face of heavy bombing attacks x x x"

Bowen is a son of Mrs. Lou Purnell, of the Park, and was a former member of the Oakland Boy Scout troop.

Mr. Falkenstein and son returned to their home Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. F. D. Bittle, who will visit with relatives in Frederick county a few days. Miss Falkenstein is remaining here with relatives for a two weeks' visit.

Remarried At Mountain Lake Park On Monday

Mrs. Rebecca Crane, daughter of Mrs. John L. Ruhl, of Clarksburg, W. Va., and Mountain Lake Park, and Jacob L. Crane, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., and Washington, D. C., were remarried at Mountain Lake Park at noon on Monday, June 29. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. E. T. Mowbray, of Baltimore, summer resident of the Park for many years, the ceremony taking place at the Mountain Lake Park home of Mrs. Ruhl.

Mrs. Crane is a graduate of Goucher College, Baltimore, and has been engaged in teaching in a private school of Henry Ford's, in Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. Crane is assistant to the administrator of the National Housing Agency in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Crane and their 13-year-old daughter, Mary Lois, will reside at 3811 Jenifer street, N. W., in Washington.

Among those from a distance present at the ceremony were Mrs. R. F. Raymond, of Newton Center, Mass.; Miss Isabelle Walker, Hartford, Conn.; Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Haines and Mrs. Davis Hood, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Peters, Alexandria, Va.; Miss Mary Ruhl, Washington, D. C.; Jacob Crane, Jr., of Harvard University, and Miss Nell Davis, Jamestown, N. Y. Following a luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Crane left by motor for a trip through the east.

MARRIED

WAGNER—SAVAGE — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Savage, Friendsville, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Berdena Theresa, to Mr. Oliver Conrad Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, of Confluence, Pa. The ceremony was performed in Baltimore on June 27, by Rev. Reisz, a Lutheran minister. The bride is a graduate of Friendsville High school of the class of 1940 and is employed in the Martin airplane plant in Baltimore. The groom is a mechanic in Dundalk, Md. The couple will reside in Baltimore.

GORTNER-M'ANINCH—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Grace W. McAninch, of Seminole, Pa., to Mr. Alva G. Gortner, of Oakland. The ceremony was performed in the Methodist parsonage in Frederick, on Friday, June 19.

The couple will reside in the Gortner home on Second street.

CAPPADONA-KINKEAD — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Kinkead, of Kitzmiller, to Sgt. S. R. Cappadona, of the United States Marine Corps. The ceremony took place at the Methodist church in San Diego, Calif., on June 7, at 6 p. m., by Rev. E. Nichols, pastor.

Witnesses were Miss Jane Porter, of San Diego, and Bert Thorton, U. S. Navy.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of baby's breath and pink rosebuds. The maid of honor wore navy blue with pink, with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the couple was given a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Porter, formerly of Cumberland, who now reside in San Diego. The couple will reside in San Diego.

Contract Awarded For Completion of Savage River Dam

With the awarding of a contract of $672,000 for completing the embankment at Savage River Dam, it was indicted in Cumberland that the entire project might be completed before cold weather.

The contract for the embankment was awarded to S. J. Groves and Son, Ridgefield, N. J.

The embankment is now about half way across the narrow valley through which the river flows to the Potomac. The spillway and roads around and to the dam are to be completed by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

The dam is regarded as a vital link in the flood control and industrial program of Cumberland and nearby places along the Potomac. The dam, which is in Garrett county, will hold back the water from snow and rains, and can be let out gradually in the summer to provide a more even flow of water during the dry months of the year.

Tri-County 4-H Camp To Open on July 19th

The annual 4-H boys' tri-county encampment will be held at Camp Algawa, at the Bittinger recreational area, from July 19 to July 25, Harry W. Beggs, assistant county agent of Allegany county, has announced.

The program will include first aid, health contests, handicraft, nature study and wild-life conservation, rifle marksmanship, swimming, recreation and other educational features.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kahl, of Baltimore, spent the past three days with the latter's mother, Mrs. Lula Stark.

Savage; two sisters, Mrs. I. H. Biggs, Hermosa Beach, Calif.; Miss Maude Houck, Mt. Savage; two brothers, W. O. Houck, Meyersdale, Pa., and George C. Houck, Grantsville.

Welfare Assistance Checks to Be Delayed

Welfare officials throughout the State were informed that issuance of July assistance checks to about 33,000 persons in Maryland, would be delayed until the appropriation bill had been passed by Congress.

J. Milton Patterson, State Public Welfare Director, notified executive secretaries of county welfare boards that Federal funds for the assistance program, approved by the Social Security Board, would not be available until the bill had been passed and signed.

"Since present indications are that this bill will not be passed in time to make the funds available by July 1, there will be a delay in your receiving your advance for the month of July," he told them.

The Federal government advances one-half of the assistance payments for old age benefits, public aid to the needy blind and aid to dependent children in Maryland.

As a result of the announcement from the State, it was announced here yesterday by Bernard I. Gonder, chairman of the County Welfare Board, and Mrs. Dorothy Ogburn, executive secretary, that no checks would be issued from the county office this month until funds had been provided by Congress and the issuance of checks authorized by the State Welfare Board.

Lions Club Leaders Installed Monday

The Oakland-Mountain Lake Park Lions club had its installation of new officers on Monday night with J. B. Townshend, district deputy governor, of Hagerstown, presiding. He was assisted by J. K. Snyder, president of the Cumberland club.

Other guests were Edward Bender, Sam Kaplon, Joseph Trenton and Ray Beck, all of Cumberland; and Ross Decker, Oakland. Edward Shaffer was inducted into membership.

Officers installed were S. Townshend Naylor, president; Neil C. Fraley, Paul M. Friend and Irvin R. Rudy, vice-presidents; John M. Jarboe, secretary-treasurer; Ervil Ream, tail twister; H. L. Bittner, lion tamer; Rev. Minor Sprague, D. P. Smouse and C. V. Harvey, directors.

Several members of the club were guests of Mr. Poruso and members of the Charleroi Lions club at the Deep Creek Lake home of the former on Saturday evening.

Garrett Youth Held After Auto Wrecks

Harry Gustie Weicht, 19, of Swanton, was arrested and placed in the city jail at Keyser, West Va., on June 27 pending the outcome of injuries suffered by Sydney Vogel, 13, of Essex, when the car, alleged to be stolen by Weicht in Baltimore, near the Glenn L. Martin airplane plant, of which he was an employe, wrecked on Route 50, nine miles east of Keyser, on Saturday afternoon.

Vogel, who was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, suffering from a punctured lung, concussion of the brain and a fractured left wrist, was described by physicians as "serious."

State police who investigated the accident, said Weicht took the machine Saturday morning from the parking lot near the plant and drove toward Keyser, picking up Vogel and two other youths enroute. The car, police said, belonged to Arthur W. Eck, of Middle River, also an emplye at the Martin plant. The other two boys were not injured but are being held by the police.

Vogel told officials he was hitchhiking to Washington and fell asleep in the car. When he awoke, he told the police, the car was about fifty miles from Baltimore, headed west at a terrific speed. He said the automobile careened from the highway and after plunging down a small embankment, crashed as they neared Keyser.

Police stated that Weicht left the scene of the accident and was arrested about 7:40 o'clock seven miles away while hitchhiking a ride.

Cash income last year for U. S. Farmers was put at 11 billion, 830 million.

Latest Regulations Of Draft Explained

Draft Board officials in the state have explained the latest regulations concerning induction of registrants.

Registrants are divided into four categories on the basis of family relationships and dependency.

In category No. 1 are registrants otherwise qualified for military service who have no bona fide financial dependents. Category No. 2 includes registrants who have financial dependents other than wives or children. This includes men who have fathers, mothers, sisters or brothers as dependents.

In category No. 3 are men who have wives with whom they are maintaining a bona fide family relationship in their homes and who were married prior to December 8, 1941, and at a time when induction was not imminent.

In class No. 4 are registrants who have wives and children or children alone, with whom they maintain a bona fide family relationship in their homes.

In quota calls of the future men in category No. 1 will be called first and after each succeeding category is depleted of men the next category will be called. Married men with children will be the last group called and national headquarters has reported they will not be subject to service before late in 1943 at least.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

Two Hundred Billion

Washington, June 27.

As, without pausing for thought, we slide — on Wednesday—into another fiscal year, the unconcern of some of our public officials as well as the people generally about the vital business of Federal finance is not easy to explain except on the theory that on this subject we have become nationally numb. This could not be better attested than by the almost complete lack of public interest shown in the President's recent request for an additional oppropriation of $42,000,000,000. Neither newspaper nor radio commentators treated it as big news. It created no sensation.

* * *

Yet, in the history of the world no such appropriation has ever been asked by an executive or appropriated by a legislative body. This single appropriation is far greater than the whole cost of the last war. That so stupendous a sum could be asked and given almost as a routine matter is an astounding thing. With the last request, it is now clear that the American war effort will be made on a scale of more than two hundred billion dollars. That is where we are now. That is roughly equal to al lthe wealth in America—factories, farms and industrial equipment. That is a debt which imposes an open-end mortgage upon the American people—a mortgage without a maturity date — a mortgage the payment of which will weigh upon generations unborn and the ultimate discharge of which no man can forsee. How this debt, which exceeds all records, is to be serviced and borne is, perhaps, as vital a problem as has confronted the nation.

* * *

There are pessimists who say it cannot be done. Viewing the present lopsided state of the Federal finances and foreseeing a terrific post-war strain on the Treasury, these think the sheer size of a two-hundred-billion-dollar debt means national bankruptcy. But, that is not true. Such counsels tend to weaken the national spirit and should be disregarded. Vast as it is, the country can and will swing this debt. Nevertheless, it would be foolish not to face the realities.

* * *

First, it ought to be understood that in order to stand up under so tremendous a load, the American people for many years to come will have to submit to really terrific taxation. There is no prospect that the burden will be lightened in the post-war period. On the contrary, soon or late, it will have to be increased and distributed until no wage-earning man or woman is exempt — until every loophole is closed and there is no such thing as a tax-empt security. At present there are millions of the smaller income class who pay no taxes and there are literally billions of county, State and city bonds which escape taxation. In our situation both these things are intolerable. If they are not corrected by this Congress they must be by the next.

* * *

Second, it is clear there has never been a time when as much responsibility rested upon the financial officers of the Government. There is no question that Secretary Morgenthau comprehends the gravity of the facts and knows what ought to be done. At this session, it is true, his taxation program was not adequate to start with and what we will get in the new bill will be even less so. But, with the President opposing the ineviatble sales tax and Congress refusing to plug the tax-free loopholes, Mr. Morgenthau is not to be wholly blamed. Perhaps, after the election, he will renew battle along these lines and also will give stronger support to the economy forces to whose program he is largely committed. He must know that these things have got to be done. He must know, too, that the longer they are postponed the greater the peril. In the meantime, it would help a lot if within the Administration various notions which tend to weaken the confidence of those to whom the Government must look to buy its securities, should be abandoned.

* * *

One of the most pernicious of these is that the size of the Federal debt is unimportant because "we owe it to each other." This is equivalent to saying that we are going to use the debt as an instrument for the redistribution of wealth. If this were true, who, knowingly, would invest in repudiation? Another is the silly idea that when we are spending billions a few more millions make no real difference. Another is the effort to discount the worth of money and credit and to disparage those who deal with them. This has been one of the favorite activities of a certain Administration group. It is time it was stopped.

* * *

One reason we can carry so huge a debt as now looms is because the people who will supply the bulk of the money have confidence in the Government contract under which it is borrowed. Another reason is because, after the war, we will have the productive capacity to create wealth to meet the interest on the debt and ultimately to pay it. The key is faith in the solidity of the Government.

FRIENDSVILLE

Church Notes

The Methodist Circuit Brotherhood held its quarterly dinner meeting in the Selbysport school, Monday night. Arthur DeWitt served as toastmaster, and Frank E. Parrack, Kingwood, W. Va., was the principal speaker. The Sang Run quartette provided special music for the occasion. Mrs. Josephine Fisher, Mrs. Ivan Humberson, Mrs. Laurence Selby and Mrs. Wayne Frazee, members of the Woman's Christian Service Society supervised and served the dinner. About 50 members and guests were present.

Announcement has been made by the Rev. R. L. Greynolds that tentative plans are being made to have a daily minute prayer service beginning July 1. Individuals will remain, wherever they are, each evening at 7 o'clock, for a moment of prayer, when the Methodist church bell signals. Many other communities throughout the nation are making similar plans to be carried out during the duration of the war.

Graduated from School

Aldworth Richard Brown, youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Brown, was one of 15 graduates of the 1942 class of Bliss Electrical School, selected by Westinghouse for positions in their testing laboratories. The undersigned announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett county, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have been a tax payer for many years.

If successful in the primaries and later elected as a member of the board my aim will be to represent the people of the entire county.

Soliciting the support of the Republican voters of all sections, I beg to remain,

Very sincerely,
JAMES A. SAVAGE.
Sang Run, District No. 6.

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I most respectfully announce my candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County and crave the votes and influence of my friends at the primary election to be held September 8, 1942.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS E. BISHOFF.
Oakland, District No. 7, June 23*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I was born in Friendsville and am now a resident of Mountain Lake Park, in District No. 16. I have always been a Republican and have been a taxpayer for many years.

My father, Thomas Cuppett, served as Judge of the Orphans Court for a number of years and I desire an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity. I solicit the support of the Republican voters from all sections of the county.

Very sincerely yours,
E. CALVIN CUPPETT.
Mt. Lake Park, Dist. 16, June 29*

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

I hereby announce my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County.

It is with gratitude to the voters of this County that I express my appreciation in having been privileged for some years past to serve the public interests of our County in this same capacity and assure you of my continued effort to discharge faithfully the duties of the office if I am reelected.

Earnestly soliciting your support at the Republican primary election to be held September 8, 1942, I am,

Very truly yours,
VERNIE R. SMOUSE.
Election District No. 14*

GOD THE CREATOR

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-5, 24-31; 2:1.
GOLDEN TEXT—In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.—Genesis 1:1.

What is to become of this world? That is the question on the mind and lips of everyone as they see all mankind engaged in a struggle which bids fair to wipe out everything called civilization.

In such a time it is good to remind ourselves that man did not make this world, nor is it the product of natural forces. God made it.

God, who is eternal, infinite, knowing all from the beginning, is not moved by the impulses of the moment nor staggered by the catastrophes of a day. He made the world. He made man. He had a plan for them, and still has a plan which in due season He will work out for His own glory.

I. God Made the Heavens and Earth (vv. 1-5, 24-25).

The plain biblical account of creation—"In the beginning God"—stands as a dignified, satisfactory, intelligent explanation of the origin of things, and in bold contrast to the confusing and almost unbelievable theories of men.

The best of scientists admit that they know nothing of the origin of things, and some even confess that they never will know. The answer to the query with which every human philosophy opens is the affirmation with which the divine account in Genesis opens—"In the beginning God."

Space forbids full discussion of the account of creation, but a study of it will reveal its beautiful order, symmetry, and completeness. Science, when it gets beyond theories to facts, finds them confirmed by Scripture. Please do not reverse that and speak of science confirming Scripture. If my watch does not agree with the time of the stars, it is the watch that must be reset.

II. God Made Man in His Own Image (vv. 26-30).

Although man, under the control of Satan, does not give much ground for the observation, it is nevertheless true that he was made in the likeness and image of God. Because that is true, we never give up hope for him. That image, no matter how deeply defaced by sin, still may be touched by redeeming grace and restored to fellowship with God.

The likeness and image of God in man undoubtedly refers to a moral and spiritual likeness. Man is a living soul with intelligence, feeling, and will power. He is a moral being, knowing the difference between right and wrong. He is a self-conscious, personal being.

To man God gave dominion over the earth and all its potential powers. Sometimes one has been hopeful that man was making good progress in the development of the earth's resources for his own good and the glory of God. But one is almost tempted to conclude now that he has used this great God-given opportunity only for destruction and death. Only a revival of real Christianity can bring him back to his senses. Let us pray and work for it.

Observe that the family was established as the center of man's life on earth, as God gave him a "help meet unto him." Woman was taken "not out of man's head that she should rule over him; nor out of his feet to be trampled upon; but out of his side to be equal with him, under his arm to be protected by him, and near his heart to be loved by him" (Matthew Henry).

The decay of family life and the substitution of social or civic units as the basis of life have led to disastrous results. Not only do we need a revival of religion, we also need a revival of the home life of the nation.

III. God's Creation Was Complete and Good (1:31; 2:1).

When men do recognize the hand of God in creation they all too often seem to feel that what He made was very limited and defective. It would almost seem that God ought to be grateful that man has been so clever about perfecting His work, developing it and making it useful. As a matter of fact, God who had all knowledge and whose standards are higher than man's standards could possibly be, looked over His creation and "behold, it was very good" (v. 31). It was a "finished" job (2:1).

Man has destroyed much of its beauty. Sin came in and marred the whole creation. What man's inventive cleverness has developed of the possibilities of this world is only a minute fraction of what is yet available. Instead of boasting, man might well be ashamed of the pathetic slowness with which he has "thought God's thoughts after Him."

Instead of fighting and destroying, he ought to give his energies to building, developing, and above all, to loving God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself (Matt. 22: 37-40). This is God's first and great commandment to you and to me.

Molasses Pudding With Molasses Sauce

One cup flour, 1 egg, ½ cup buttermilk, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ cup molasses.

Mix and sift the flour, salt and soda. Beat the egg well and add the melted butter and molasses. Add the dry ingredients, stirring just enough to mix well. Add the buttermilk and pour into a buttered cake pan (about 8 inches square). Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or until done. Serve warm with molasses sauce. Six servings.

Make Molasses Sauce as follows:

One tablespoon cornstarch, ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ⅛ t. salt, ½ cup molasses, few grains of mace, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix the cornstarch, salt and mace in a saucepan and stir in the water. Add the molasses and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from the heat and add the butter and lemon juice.

Cherry Blanc Mange

Three-quarters cup light corn syrup, 2½ cups milk, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ t. salt, 1 egg.

Mix the corn syrup, cornstarch and salt in a double boiler and add the milk gradually. Cook, stirring constantly for about 5 minutes or until thickened. Cover and cook for 10 minutes longer. Add a little of this mixture to the slightly beaten egg, mix well and return to the double boiler. Cook for one minute longer, stirring constantly. Add the vanilla and pour into individual serving molds or one large mold. Cool. Unmold and serve with cherry sauce. Six servings. Make sauce as follows:

2½ cups cooked sweetened sour cherries, ¼ cup light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, few grains of salt.

Drain the cherries and add enough water to the juice to make one cup. Mix the corn syrup, cornstarch and salt and stir in the cherry juice and water. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add the cherries and allow to cool.

Coffee Custard.

Six tablespoons maple syrup, ⅛ t. salt, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, ½ cup coffee.

Mix the maple syrup, flour and salt in a double boiler. Add the milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly for 3 to 5 minutes or until thickened. Cover and cook for 10 minutes longer. Add a little of this mixture to the slightly beaten eggs and coffee, mix well and return to the double boiler. Cook for a minute longer, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat. Cool. Serve with whipped cream if desired.

Fruit Brown Bread

¾ cup flour, 1½ c. whole wheat flour, 1 t. soda, 1 tablespoon butter, ½ cup molasses, 1 t. salt, ¾ c. ground dried prunes or raisins, 1½ cups buttermilk.

Mix and sift the flour, soda and salt and stir in the whole wheat flour and prunes or raisins. Add the melted butter to the molasses and add buttermilk. Pour into the dry ingredients and mix quickly just enough to moisten. Pour into a buttered loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven for one hour or until done. Serve hot or cold.

Spice Cake

1-3 cup butter, 1 2-3 c. cake flour, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ¾ t. cloves, 1¼ c. light corn syrup, 2½ t. baking powder, ¼ teaspoon allspice, 1-3 c. milk, 2 eggs, ½ t. salt, ¾ t. nutmeg, 1 t. vanilla.

Cream the butter and stir in the corn syrup gradually. Add the well beaten eggs. Mix and sift the flour, baking powder, salt and spices and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Add the vanilla and pour into a buttered cake pan. Frost with cocoa frosting made as follows:

½ cup light corn syrup, 3 tablespoons cocoa, few grains of salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg white.

Warm the corn syrup in a double boiler until it will pour in a fine stream. Combine the salt and egg white and add the corn syrup slowly while beating constantly. Beat until stiff enough to spread. Fold in the sifted cocoa and add the vanilla.

"Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness"

AGAIN the immortal phrases of the Declaration of Independence are ringing throughout the land, as fresh in meaning as the day they were penned, 166 years ago. Today they ring not alone for America but for the whole world. The bowed head in Malaya, cringing before a cruel brown master; the slave people of France, of Norway, of Greece—all may take heart! For the blue-print of world freedom which was written on the North Atlantic by the leaders of two great free peoples is in working process now.

And so, with a slave-weary world suddenly grown conscious of their eventual deliverance from bondage, this 4th of July is a dedication to the future rather than a salute to the past. It marks the re-birth of the Spirit of '76—it is a call to all free men to accept the stern responsibilities and dangers which lie in the path of victory.

The explosion of the firecracker is lost in the roar of the 8-inch gun and the demolition bomb. We lay aside for the present the noise-makers of other and happier Fourths and settle down grimly to the task of building the fabric upon which shall rest a world that is free.

MT. LAKE PARK

That there will be no tennis tournament at Mountain Lake Park this year is the announcement recently made which comes as a disappointment to many. At the same time one cannot help but agree with those in charge in former years that it would have been out of the question to attempt to carry on this year.

Members of the Women's Bible class will present their variety program on the night of July 14. It's the night before the scheduled blackout, so arrange to go and stay awake as long as you can, because the following night is going to be tough on those nightowls who can not do a blackout. The program will be printed in this column next Thursday.

This year's camp meeting seems to be better than ever before. Perhaps there is a psychological aspect. For instance, there is the new tabernacle, and what a lovely job it is. Nothing run down about it. All new and up to date and comfortable. There are many attending who have made the pilgrimage for years past—one or two who were present at the first camp meeting fifty-eight years ago.

Sent from a United Nations air base by wireless a special article by Byron Darnton, occupying more than two columns in the New York Times concerning Jack O'Donnell and his activities as a pilot makes interesting reading. The article appeared in the edition of June 3 of The Times.

Study Bases of Peace

Nearly four hundred delegates representing the twenty-nine denominations cooperating with the Federal Council of the Churchs of Christ in America met in Delaware, Ohio, last Spring in the "National Study Conference of the Churches on a Just and Durable Peace."

Sunday night, July 12, the Bethel Methodist Church, Mt Lake Park, will begin a study group on the findings of this Conference. Topics to be discussed will include the relation of the Church to a just and durable peace, and the political, economic, and social bases of that peace. In a Christian democracy such as we profess these are things which every patriotic citizen should be considering. The public is invited to attend these services.

JULY 4TH

AMERICA and the Four Freedoms

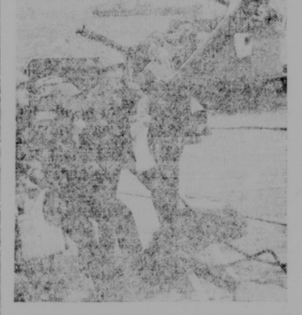
Today—166 years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence—America is warring against tyrants who would rule the world's free people by force and oppression. American soldiers are fighting to bring the four freedoms to peace-loving nations in all parts of the globe. They are fighting for freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want and freedom from fear.

Somewhere in the Icelandic outpost of freedom, two soldiers of the AEF are donning their arctic uniforms, getting ready for guard duty.

The scene changes to a land thousands of miles to the south. Here, in Puerto Rico, a coast artillery rifleman takes his position in one of the old Spanish sentry posts.



Eternal vigilance is the price of victory—and a part of every American soldier's training. Even as a great convoy headed into an Australian port, these American doughboys stayed next to their anti-aircraft guns until the voyage ended.

This U. S. trooper, a seasoned jungle fighter, stands at his post in the dense foliage of a Dutch Guiana jungle. With millions of other Americans, he is more than willing to help spread the four freedoms to the four corners of the globe.

The Flower Of Liberty

By Oliver Wendell Holmes

When those fleeting flaming glories
Were displayed across the sky
In remembrance of the stories
Of brave men in days gone by,
Then we thought of deeds of daring
And of clear and steadfast minds
That had set the country faring
Safe through the tempestuous winds.

Then we pondered on the toiling
And the watches of the night;
Of the suffering and despoiling
Braved in reverence of the right.
And each memory we cherish
Shall not fade away and die,
Shall not be allowed to perish
Like a rocket in the sky.

The Mountain State Forest Festival at Elkins has been abandoned for the duration of the war.

Second Tabernacle Meeting at Park Begins on July 7th

Mountain Lake Park's Second Tabernacle meeting begins July 7th, and continues through August 3rd, inclusive. Noted speakers and singers from many states are expected to take part. Evangelists C. L. Wireman, Atlanta, Ga.; Rev. F. E. Terry, Lancaster, Ohio; Rev. E. E. Shelhammer, of California. Singers and musicians include Misses Marion Cale, Uniontown, Pa., and Rebecca Bibbee, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va. Fielding T. Howard, Wilmore, Ky., and the Sebre Brothers of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Platform service begins at 7:30 p. m. The Evangelistic service follows at 8:00 p. m.

Real Estate Given Free

All who attend this unusual Camp Meeting have an opportunity to benefit spiritually and materially as well. A building lot ranging in value from fifty dollars to two hundred dollars will be given to someone who is present at the meeting each evening. This is no lottery, but a free gift.

Entertainment including meals and rooms will be provided for all out-of-town guests at $4.75 per week per person at the Hotel England.

Everybody is welcome. No admission charge.

Portions of Mt. Lake Park Property Sold

Several portions of the property at Mt. Lake Park, formerly owned by the Mt. Lake Park Association but lately owned by the "Defenders of the Faith," have been purchased by A. D. Naylor of Oakland, and H. M. Weeks, of Mt. Lake Park, it was learned this week. The properties were purchased at private sale.

Mr. Naylor has acquired possession of the well known Crystal spring area, the house and three acres of ground near the breast of the Mt. Lake dam, the postoffice building and six or seven acres between the postoffice and the Bowling Alley, which includes the several tennis courts.

Mr. Weeks has purchased about 100 acres of bottom land between the Baltimore and Ohio station and the lake.

It was reported that the Defenders of the Faith would conduct a lot sale at the Park sometime in the near future, but no date for such an affair has been set.

Ex-Navy Men Sought For Re-enlistment

The Navy Recruiting Service has announced it was contacting all Ex-Navy men who had been honorably discharged and recommended for re-enlistment during the past ten years, and as an inducement to re-enlist, assures them that they would be enlisted in a rating at least one grade higher than that in which they left the service.

With the new pay scale in effect beginning June 1st, a third class petty officer will get $78.00 per month, a second class petty officer $96.00 per month, a first class petty officer $114.00 per month; an apprentice seaman now gets $50.00 per month, and after four months, automatically, $54.00 per month. Additional Federal funds will be added to a man's allotment of his pay for the support of his dependents through the approval of the Dependents Allowance Bill this week by the President.

County Receives $1,999 From State Income Tax

A check for $1,999 was mailed by the State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, to Garrett county as its share of the seventy-five percent of the 1941 Maryland income tax already collected.

The tax money sent to Garrett county and incorporated towns within the county represents twenty-five per cent of the individual returns paid by residents within their boundaries. The check will be divided between the county and the towns.

The CCC was voted out of existence by the Senate. They adopted a conference report which eliminated an appropriation for the CCC which the Senate had inserted in the measure by a 33 to 32 vote.

Single copies of The Republican may be obtained at the Hamill Book and Stationery Store, corner Third and Alder streets, where the current issue of the paper is placed on sale every Thursday afternoon. Price, 5 cents per copy.

Dawson Obtains 229 Additional Tires For Use of Trucks

Rationing Chairman Tells State Board Real Emergency Exists Here

After pointing out that a real emergency existed in this county in regard to the tire situation, Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the local rationing board was able to announce that the State Rationing Board had authorized 229 additional truck tires to be made available to workers in Garrett county, to take care of the May and June applications.

The tires will go to those who haul mine material to the coal mines in Fayette county, Pa.

Therefore 105 persons were able to obtain certificates yesterday for tires, tubes and retreads. With one exception all were for trucks. Jacob V. Jones was allowed four retreads for a passenger car. Those who obtained rubber for trucks included the following:

Firemen Called Saturday Afternoon To Extinguish Slight Blaze

The Oakland firemen were called on last Friday afternoon to extinguish a slight blaze in the basement of the Oakland Hardware and Furniture Company's store, caused by an explosion from a gasoline motor.

The damage was slight. The explosion occurred while Charles Bowman and Richard Trickett were working in the basement. Neither of the men were injured.

Governor Announces Regulations for the State-wide Blackout

All But Four Plants Throughout State Will Observe the Rules

Regulations for Maryland's "dusk to dawn" blackout of July 15-16 were announced by Governor O'Conor. Four Maryland plants, the Martin, Bethlehem Steel, the Bethlehem-Fairchild Shipbuilding of Baltimore, and the Cumberland Celanese plant would be the only factories in the state which would not have to black out completely during the full half-hour the unannounced air-raid alarm is in effect. These four plants will black-out for ten minutes only.

Twenty-three counties and Baltimore City will be included in the test, but it was announced yesterday that Anne Arundel county would blackout for only two and a half hours. O'Conor said the decision of that county was not a matter for him "to interfere in," and the state director, Col. Henry S. Barrett, said he had no power to enforce his order but termed the action a "violation of the requests of the governor and the defense authorities."

Other regulations for the blackout include:

With exception of the half-hour period, street and highway traffic will move with depressed headlights.

Canning factories if engaged for government canning will not have to stop the entire night but will be asked to stop during the half-hour alarm period. Rail transportation will not stop.

All homes, theaters, hotels, public buildings, hospitals will blackout completely in conformity with blackout rules and regulations but utilities will not be required to stop rendering service.

BITTINGER

Since rubber they need,
Go hunt it with speed,
And don't miss the tiniest scrap,
For maybe your ounce
Will make Hitler bounce,
And put the last squeeze on the Jap.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckle announce the birth of a son at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wiley, Uniontown, visited friends in this community last Saturday evening.

Rev. A. C. Curran, pastor of the local Lutheran church, is in charge of a Daily Vacation Bible school, which opened in the community last Monday morning. The school will continue for a period of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. August Biddinger, of Akron, O., visited relatives and friends here early this week.

Mrs. E. S. Brenneman and Mrs. Oscar Hetrick were shopping in Oakland one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Buckle motored to Everett, Pa., on business on Monday of this week.

Summer Camps Opened Near Hutton Yesterday Morning

The summer camps near Hutton, Camp Minnetoska for girls, and Camp Whitethorn for boys, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hansen, of Baltimore, opened yesterday with a full enrollment.

The camps will remain open during the months of July and August.

There was talk that the government may have to impose priorities on telephone calls, particularly long distance ones.

ROLL OF HONOR
War Heroes Decorated

One of the greatest heroes of the present war is Lieut. Edward H. O'Hare, who received the nation's highest military award, the Congressional Medal of Honor, when singlehanded he shot down five Japanese bombers and damaged another in one aerial encounter off the Gilbert islands. O'Hare was decorated at the White House while a guest of President Roosevelt. He is a graduate of Annapolis.

Lieut. John D. Bulkeley, torpedo-boat hero responsible for the destruction of at least seven Japanese ships, has been commended by ranking naval officials for "executing his mission successfully." Bulkeley was in charge of a motor torpedo boat that entered Binanga bay, Philippine islands, and torpedoed an enemy vessel of 5,000 tons. His mosquito boat was under the fire of machine guns and shore batteries.

Donald F. Mason, navy ensign, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Silver Star for sinking two submarines in the Atlantic area. His first sinking came when he dropped depth bombs on a submerged submarine. He reported the sinking with his famous message: "Sighted sub, sank same." Several weeks later he sighted another sub on the surface and destroyed it with depth charges. He has been in the navy since 1935.

Capt. H. T. Wheless was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery in the western Pacific. The army Flying Fortress under command of Wheless, became separated from its combat force and fought a running battle with 18 Jap pursuit planes for 75 miles, shooting down 11 of them, outdistancing the remainder, and landing safely although the plane was almost out of control. Two of the plane's engines were gone.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES THAT

The nation's traffic death toll dropped 25 percent in May.

James Clark, Ellicott City attorney, was elected as president of the Maryland State Bar association.

A chemist testified before a House subcommittee in Washington that he could produce all the rubber the nation needs in a year if given $100,000,000, men and priorities.

The 1942 spring pig crop totals about 62 million head, 25 percent more than in 1941, according to Agricultural Department.

An eighty-year-old woman of Shawnee, Okla., has a son, nine grandsons, two great grandsons and four grandsons-in-law in the war, and several yet to go.

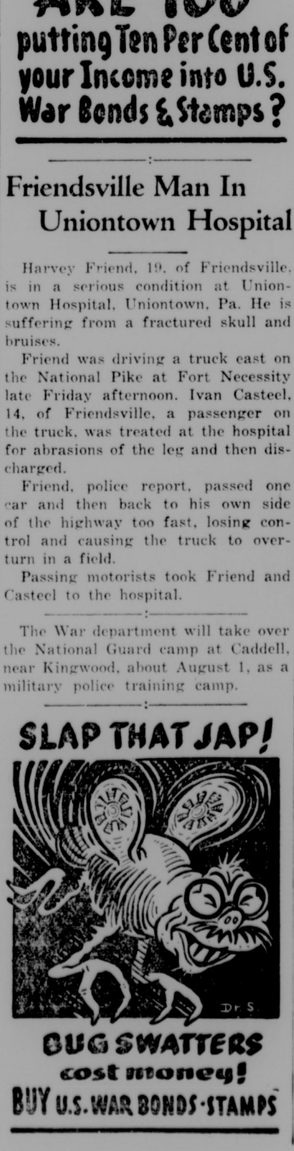
Three million pounds of rubber was found in a Massachusetts town, on the site of an abandoned rubber company, enough to meet the quota for the entire state.

About 43 million men are now on selective service rolls or in uniforms.

Maryland received a call for 244 additional doctors in the war service.

Berlin warned Brazil to end Anti-Nazi moves or take consequences.

A million dollar blaze destroyed almost a block in Nassau, Bahama Islands. The Duke of Windsor joined firefighters.



Friendsville Man In Uniontown Hospital

Harvey Friend, 19, of Friendsville, is in a serious condition at Uniontown Hospital, Uniontown, Pa. He is suffering from a fractured skull and bruises.

Friend was driving a truck east on the National Pike at Fort Necessity late Friday afternoon. Ivan Casteel, 14, of Friendsville, a passenger on the truck, was treated at the hospital for abrasions of the leg and then discharged.

Friend, police report, passed one car and then back to his own side of the highway too fast, losing control and causing the truck to overturn in a field.

Passing motorists took Friend and Casteel to the hospital.

The War department will take over the National Guard camp at Caddell, near Kingwood, about August 1, as a military police training camp.

A supplemental defense bill in Congress carries only 75 million for the office of Price Administration, little more than a third of what Leon Henderson requested.

A new type bomb resistant window pane has been developed.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, JULY 9, 1942. NUMBER 20.

Tough for Them, Too . . . .

Above my desk hangs a picture of covered wagons crossing the great plains. Oxen are pulling the wagons. Men are walking beside the wagons, their guns in readiness.

As my eyes rested on the picture the thought flashed into my mind . . . it was tough for them, too! It was tough for the pioneers who blazed new trails through the wilderness. It was tough for Washington and his men in the snow and cold of Valley Forge. It was tough for those who built railroads through mountain and forest to make our Nation one. It was tough for the soldiers of the north and south who shed their blood to unite us. It was tough for the Pilgrim Fathers who came to a strange land to find freedom to worship God.

The inspiring thing is that things have never been too tough for us! America is an epic story of triumph over trials and tribulations. Now, we of this generation are being tested. The time has come when we must square our shoulders, hold up our heads, and face our problems unafraid. We will gain strength and courage by looking back at the great processional of American heroes who took tough going in their stride. We have the same stuff in us that they had in them. They won out. So will we. There is an old American saying that the tougher they come, the harder they fall!

KEMPTON HIGH STUDENTS TO ATTEND THOMAS HIGH

Will Be Transported to West Virginia School Under Agreement Just Announced By Rathbun

That the high school pupils of Kempton would in the future be transported to Thomas High school, in West Virginia, was announced yesterday by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent.

The Tucker county board of education which met in the county superintendent's office in Parsons on Monday evening, agreed to accept the forty to forty-five pupils from the two-teacher high school in Kempton, at the Thomas high school.

The approximate cost will be $80 per pupil per year, the fee to be paid by the Garrett county school board.

The change is subject to the approval of the State superintendent of schools of West Virginia and the Garrett coounty school board. Mr. Rathbun said the negotiations for the transfer have been going on between the two bodies and the county superintendents of schools for several weeks.

Mr. Rathbun said the change would give improved educational facilities to the students of Kempton High school, and would also mean a material saving to the taxpayers of Garrett county. He estimated it would cost $1,200 to $1,500 less in operating expenses annually.

Mr. Rathbun also stated the change had the approval of the people of Kempton, and that the movement had been approved by Arthur B. Stewart, of Baltimore, president of the Davis Coal and Coke company, who had cooperated in making the necessary arrangements. The Coal company has mines both at Kempton and Thomas.

The elementary school will continue to be operated at Kempton. The change reduces the number of high schools in this county to five.

With Our Men In the Service

Pvt. Harry Sanders, of the United States Army Music School, Washington, visited at his home in Crellin a few days last week.

Governor O'Conor Is Seeking Second Term

Declares Intention of Filing Certificate to Succeed Himself

Governor O'Conor announced last night he would seek the Democratic nomination for reelection in the September primary election. He said he would file a certificate of candidacy with the Secretary of State within a few days.

HERBERT R. O'CONOR

Although the Governor made no mention of a complete ticket in the event a primary should develop for the principal state offices, it was understood the incumbent Attorney General, William C. Walsh, and Comptroller, J. Millard Tawes, would be his running mates.

O'Conor was elected to his first term as governor in 1938. Previously O'Conor won the Democratic nomination in a spirited four-way contest involving himself, Mayor Howard W. Jackson, Baltimore; Lansdale G. Sasscer, Upper Marlboro, and W. S. Gordy, Jr., Salisbury.

Many Fire Companies In Saturday Parade

Kelly-Mansfield Drum & Bugle Corps Leads Procession

Thirteen fire companies, two bands and one drum and bugle corps participated in the mammoth Independence Day parade which climaxed the seventh annual celebration of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department here last Saturday.

In spite of the shortage of rubber, a large number of people were in Oakland on that day to witness the parade and attend the World of Fun Shows.

Leading the parade was the Kelly-Mansfield drum and bugle corps from the Tri-Towns, followed by the Piedmont fire company, the Bloomington Ladies' Auxiliary, the Bloomington fire company, Grafton fire company, Loch Lynn-Mt. Lake band, the Potomac fire company, of Westernport, the Barton and Grantsville fire departments, the Oakland band, and the Mt. Savage, Tunnelton, Midland, Terra Alta, Kingwood, Sabraton and Oakland fire companies.

The parade followed the usual route, disbanding at the carnival grounds. A number of the firemen participated in drills along the way.

Will Clear $1,000

Edward A. Shaffer, president of the Oakland Fire company, stated yesterday the organization would clear $1,000 as a result of the week's celebration. The company received a percentage of all money paid by customers at the carnival.

He said there were 4,500 admissions on the Fourth of July, and about 500 on each of the other days.

Mr. Shaffer also announced a gift of $25.00 to the department from the Mt. Lake Park Camp Meeting association in appreciation of the efforts of the firemen in saving the auditorium from total destruction last year.

KITZMILLER AND PRITTS COAL COMPANY BACK USO

Contribute Liberally in Campaign of United Service Organization

Kitzmiller citizens and those working for the Pritts Brothers Coal Company in that section are contributing liberally toward the United Service organization campaign for funds in this county.

The coal company employes have contributed $47.00 while Kitzmiller citizens and organizations have contributed $66.50, for a total of $113.50 for that area.

The mine employes in addition pay $1.25 monthly to the Red Cross, and 18 of the men are paying $6 each month toward the purchase of war bonds. The local union No. 2204 gave $5, the Coal company $5.75, American Legion $5, Garry Ridder $2, Charles Smith 75 cents, Ormond Hollabaugh 50 cents, and remainder $1 each, including W. F. Paugh, M. E. USO Funds Coming In Rather Slowly

Funds for the United Service Organization campaign are coming in slowly from the county, with only Kitzmiller and Oakland having any figures to report.

To date $256.75 has been turned in, $117.50 of this from Kitzmiller, and $139.25 from Oakland. Kitzmiller's amount is itemized in another article. Of the amount from Oakland, the Half Price Stores turned in $57.50, and was the first donation received.

The quota for Garrett County is $2,650 for both the USO and the Navy Relief.

Park Bible Class To Present Show

Variety Program to Be Given Tuesday Evening, July 14, In Tabernacle

The Women's Bible class of the Bethel Methodist church at Mt. Lake Park, are presenting a benefit variety program on the night of Tuesday, July 14, at 8 o'clock in the new Tabernacle at the Park.

One of the features will be the first public showing of moving pictures in color of the burning of the old Tabernacle which were taken by Mrs. Raymond McCutcheon, which shows firemen and volunteer workers in action.

Prof. Mutchler and his daughter, of Miami, Fla., will give accordion solos. Other features will include the "Gay Nineties" quartet with Herbert Leighton in charge; the Mt. Lake Park junior choir, Rev. Garrett Evans as soloist, young Raymond McCutcheon at the piano and his younger sister, Sherry, doing a feature. Jared W. Young will be master of ceremonies and will deliver Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Other attractions are also listed.

Admission will be 15 and 25 cents and women of the Bible class have expressed the hope the public will patronize the event.

Addresses Lions Club

Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the Rationing Board of the county, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening.

Mr. Dawson explained some of the regulations on the sugar and tire rationing program and he pointed out that everyone had a war to win and if sugar and tire restrictions were necessary to win the war, then it would have to be "an all out effort on the part of everybody."

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner is confined to his home this week because of illness.

Special Service to Mark Dedication of Crellin Church Unit

Five Sunday School rooms, recently constructed as an addition to the Crellin church at a cost of around $1,600, will be officially dedicated at a special service there on Sunday evening, July 12, at 7:30 o'clock.

The addition was made possible by various donations of people in Crellin and vicinity, and is free of debt.

Rev. James Hutchinson, of Ravenswood, W. Va., formerly of Crellin, will preach the sermon on "A challenge to the Church," and will dedicate the rooms for the use of the children and the children of the future.

GIRLS' 4-H CAMP WILL OPEN SUNDAY, JULY 12

Will Be Preceded by Week-end Camp for Homemakers at Bittinger Recreational Area

The annual 4-H camp for girls at the Pleasant Valley Recreational area near Bittinger, will begin Sunday afternoon, July 12, it was announced by Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent, who will be director.

Preceding the 4-H camp will be a Homemakers week-end camp, from Saturday afternoon, July 11, to Sunday afternoon, July 12. Miss Long said a program had been planned for Saturday evening at 8 o'clock with Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of the Maryland Extension service; Miss Dorothy Emerson, State girls' club agent; and Walter W. Dawson, as speakers. Mr. Dawson, chairman of the war ration board of the county, will speak to the homemakers on sugar rationing.

All homemakers are invited, whether or not they are remaining for the entire camp period.

Around twenty girls of the county have already arranged to attend the 4-H camp and Miss Long said she expected several more before the week-end.

There will be a program throughout the week of study and recreation. Among the instructors will be Miss Emerson, Miss Helen Miller and Mrs. Joseph F. Fahey of the county health department; Miss Esther Lou Davis, for sports; Miss Mary Robb, Cumberland, for music; Miss Stella Corliss, for swimming; and Miss Esther Knowles, home management specialist, University of Maryland, for instruction in foods.

Friday, July 17, will be a visitation day when an Achievement program will be presented. All friends and relatives of those in camp will be welcome on that day, Miss Long said.

The Allegany county 4-H club camp is being held this week at the recreational area, and following the county 4-H camp the tri-county 4-H camp for boys, under the direction of Harry W. Beggs, of Cumberland, will be held.

The Garrett county Youth Club will have a week-end camp on July 25 and 26, with John H. Carter, county agent, directing, and this organization has also scheduled another week-end camp the first part of October.

Allegany-Garrett Firemen Have Convention At Barton

The Allegany-Garrett County Firemen's Association elected William H. Smythe, of Bloomington, president of the group yesterday evening at the thirtieth annual convention held at Barton.

Attending were representatives of nineteen companies of the two counties. W. W. Dawson and E. A. Shaffer were official representatives of the Oakland organization at the business meeting.

Members of the company and the Oakland band participated in the parade held last nigtt. The Grantsville department won a prize of $15, and the Bloomington auxiliary unit a prize of $10.

John Pritchard, Grantsville; W. W. Dawson, Oakland, and Charles Pattison, Bloomiington, were named among those on the executive committee.

Extension Secretary Named

Miss Jean Rush, of Friendsville, has been appointed secretary to John H. Carter, county agent, and Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent, of the Extension service, it was announced this week.

The appointment became effective July 1. She assumes the position formerly held by Miss Hasaleah Yutzy, who resigned to accept a position with the Board of Education.

Miss Rush is a graduate of the Fairmont Business college, Fairmont, W. Va.

INTEREST IN PRIMARY IS APPARENTLY AT LOW EBB

All State And County Offices Are To Be Filled By Ballot This Year

Interest in the September primary election in Garrett county apparently is at a low ebb with only eleven candidates of both parties announcing themselves for office, and only five of the number having actually filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

This is a county as well as a State election year when offices, from the Governor down to the county surveyor, are to be filled in addition to a judgeship in the Fourth Circuit, a Congressman for the Sixth Congressional District and members of the central committees of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

The only candidates who have actually filed with the Clerk of the board are Ellsworth R. Roulette, of Hagerstown, for Associate Judge; Jonas W. Sines, for County Commissioner; Albert G. Ross, for Clerk of the Circuit Court; James A. Cover, for Sheriff, all of whom are Republicans, and Dr. C. Oscar Hall, for State Senator, the lone Democrat.

Others who have announced their candidacy through the public prints and who have not as yet filed certificates of candidacy, are Theodore Sines and James W. Mitchell, for Sheriff, Sines being a Republican, and Mitchell, Democrat; James A. Savage, for County Commissioner; Thomas E. Bishoff and E. C. Cuppett, for Judges of the Orphans' Court, and Mrs. Vernie R. Smouse, for Register of Wills.

Jonas W. Sines, Republican, is the only additional candidate announcing himself in The Republican today.

All candidates must file their certificates with the Election Supervisors on or before July 24 in order to qualify and have their names appear on the official ballots to be voted on September 8th.

Nominations must be made for State Senator, House of Delegates (3); County Commissioners (3); County Treasurer, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Sheriff, Judges of the Orphans' Court (3); Register of Wills and for County Surveyor. Also to be named are four members of the State Central Committees.

Rotary Officers Installed Friday

Officers in the Oakland Rotary club, elected several weeks ago, were installed at the regular dinner meeting last Friday evening, with the retiring president, O. T. Graser, turning over the gavel to Harold E. Ream, of Crellin, who is to head the organization for the ensuing year.

Other officers installed were Mason Glotfelty, vice-president; O. T. Graser, treasurer, and Cecil Smith, secretary.

The Board of Directors met last night to arrange for the appointment of committees and to make plans for the year. Members of the board include the first three named officers, and W. L. Gibson, Dr. W. W. Grant, Russell Pancake, Lester Yutzy, and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner.

Catholics to Observe Forty Hours' Devotion

The annual Forty Hours' Devotion will be celebrated in St. Peter's Church Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, July 12, 13 and 14. The services will begin on Sunday with the solemn high Mass at 10 o'clock of which the Rev. John C. Broderick will be the celebrant. The Rev. Charles Corcoran, C. S. C., Superior of the Summer House of Studies of the Holy Cross College will preach the sermons which will be delivered on Sunday morning at the solemn Mass, Sunday and Monday nights at 7:30.

Fifty-five students of Holy Cross College will conduct the singing and ceremonies of the Mass on Sunday. The Devotions will close on Tuesday night at 7:30 with the solemn procession of the Blessed Sacrament and the chanting of the litanies.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

A Mother Deer Killed By Train; Offspring Caught By Boy

Last Tuesday a mother deer was run down and killed by a train at a point just west of Swanton.

On Wednesday a fawn, presumably the offspring of the doe was seen wandering about the village by Jimmie Lohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lohr, who maneuvered the animal toward his home and captured it. The fawn is now at the Lohr home and is being fed by the lad who caught it.

Jack O'Donnell Chosen in Jaycee Project This Week

The name of Jack O'Donnell was drawn yesterday by the Jaycees in continuing its "service man project." O'Donnell's name will be posted in three drug stores and at Hamill's, where persons are asked to write him and leave some small and inexpensive gift sometime during the week.

The Jaycees urged that persons write a line or two to these soldiers regardless of whether they were known to them personally or not.

O'Donnell, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell, is a pilot in Australia and just recently distinguished himself for bravery in action by bringing a bomber back to base with one engine missing.

Bill Spiker, chosen for the past week, has a lot of letters and packages, which will be sent to him this week, also in Australia.

Jonas Sines Becomes Candidate for Office

Announces for Republican Nomination for County Commissioner

Jonas W. Sines, of district No. 14, Swallow Falls, announces himself this week as a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner.

Mr. Sines, a son of the late Taylor Sines, has been a resident of the county his entire lifetime and has been a heavy taxpayer for many years. He was engaged in farming until about fourteen years ago when he suffered a broken back as the result of an accident in a coal mine on his property. Since that time he has been unable to perform manual labor but has continued to oversee the management of his farm.

He has been active in ministerial work in the Church of the Brethren for twenty-three years.

He states in his announcement that if nominated and elected he will perform the duties of his office honestly and without fear or favor.

City to Cooperate in Scrap Metal Salvage

Mayor and Council to Sponsor Event Locally—Nation-wide Campaign Starts July 13

Oakland will cooperate in a nation-wide program to salvage scrap metal and other types of discarded material needed in the war effort which will be launched July 13 by the War Production Board.

An advertising program has been underwritten by the steel industry with a contribution of $1,500,000 in the effort to collect not only scrap iron and steel but all sorts of non-ferrous metal scrap, old rubber, and other material.

The program locally is being sponsored by the Mayor and Town Council, with Lawrence M. Fraley, mayor, chairman of the Salvage committee. The council will arrange for a place to store the scrap.

Materials needed include scrap iron and steel, other metals of all kinds, old rubber, rags, manila rope, burlap bags, waste cooking fats. The school children turned in ten tons of scrap iron in a campaign conducted by implement dealers here recently and over 90,000 pounds of scrap rubber was collected here in the collection campaign which ends tomorrow, but officials felt that much more material could be found and turned in as an aid to the war effort.

The American Legion has decided to sell the iron cannon which that organization had erected on the Court House lawn following the first World War.

Garrett County Receives Check From State Forestry Department

The County Commissioners have received a check from the Maryland Forestry Department representing fifteen per cent of the proceeds from timber sales and cabin rentals in the past six months, it has been announced by H. C. Buckingham, district forester.

In the distribution of the funds in the hands of the Department Garrett county received $689.27, while Allegany county's share was $110.03. Garrett county's share was for both timber sales and cabin rentals. The cabins are located in the State forests at new Germany and Herrington Manor, the latter near Swallow Falls.

BLACKOUT TEST NEXT WEDNESDAY IS STATE-WIDE

Garrett Countians Asked to Cooperate in Dusk to Dawn Event To Test State's Efficiency

Upon the request and authority of the First Fighter command, U. S. Army, the entire State of Maryland is observing a practice blackout during the night of July 15-16, from dusk to dawn, 9:00 P. M., on July 15, to 5:00 A. M., on July 16.

This will be Garrett county's second blackout test and the third for Oakland. Several weeks ago there was a three-hour test which was considered most successful, and the cooperation of the people is again being asked in the State-wide event.

Air-Raid Test

During that night there will also be an air-raid warning test at an hour to be designated, at which time street lights and everything will be blacked out.

It was emphasized that the sounding of the "all clear" will indicate that the air-raid is over, but it does not mean that the blackout is over, as this will last until dawn.

Primary objectives are:

Mobilization and employment of all units of the Citizens' Defense Corps.

Testing the ability of the communities to conduct themselves normally during a blackout practiice.

To test the ability of communities to observe visible lighting and to maintain normal activities during the blackout conditions.

Test the ability of citizens generally to cooperate promptly during an unnounced air-raid test under blackout conditions.

To test the adequacy of the warning system.

Street lights and traffic lights will not be turned off and vehicles will be allowed to move with the down beam, except during the air-raid test of one-half hour. During that time no vehicle will be allowed to operate except those officially designated.

Residences, homes, stores, theatres, apartments, hotels, all street and road signs, public buildings, etc., will blackout in conformity with the blackout rules.

Citizens are requested to comply promptly and cheerfully with any instructions received, and to keep off the streets during the air-raid test. During the partial blackout they may move about as normal.

Fire sirens and church bells will be used in the various communities, as in the previous blackout.

In Oakland the siren is used as one continual blast, instead of the usual change in pitch. Each Saturday at 11 o'clock a test blast is made, lasting for two minutes, and then after a lapse of three minutes, the all-clear signal is given. The same system will be used in regular blackouts. Because of the test each Saturday the town will discontinue for the time being the regular test on Monday at noon.

Knights of Pythias To Install Officers

Clifford Phillips Will Be New Chancellor Commander of Order

Knights of Pythias officers will be installed at the regular meeting of that organization on Friday evening, with Julius C. Renninger as installing officer.

Gortner, master of exchequer; Robert Sheckells, master at arms; Reaford Purbaugh, inside guard; and Lewis R. Jones, outside guard. The officers were elected on June 5.

Refreshments will be served following the business meeting. It was announced that two attendance prizes, amounting to $15.00 each, would be given away.

County Reaches 88.7 Percent of Bond Quota

Garrett county reached 88.7 percent of its war bond quota for June, it has been announced by the treasury department.

The June quota was $22,300, and the total sales for the county was $19,775. The two banks and the Oakland postoffice reported a total of $17,731, with the remainder of the county contributing $2,044.

The July quota is $52,500.

OPA Price Bulletins Are Distributed Here

Mrs. Paul Naylor and Volunteers Give Regulations to Retailers

Mrs. Paul Naylor, who has been named chairman of this county under the women's division of the Civilian Defense organization, and two volunteers, Mrs. F. E. Rathbun and Mrs. Virgil B. Kelly, yesterday distributed OPA bulletins numbers one and two, on the general maximum price regulation. Every retailer in Oakland received a copy of both bulletins.

The primary purpose of this campaign is to assist the retailer in posting ceiling prices by approved methods. The participation of these Oakland ladies is a part of a vast program being conducted among 450,000 retailers in five eastern states.

Four Oakland stores have been established as sample stores—Gonder's Pharmacy, Miller's Market, J. W. Jackson company, and Rudy's department store. Other retailers may visit these stores and see examples of posting ceiling prices which are in accordance with OPA regulations. Yoder and Yoder store in Grantsville has also been established as a sample store.

Copies of the bulletins are being distributed in Friendsville by Quincy Murphy, and in Grantsville by Joseph F. Fahey.

Mrs. Naylor stated that this was not a check-up on compliance with the regulation but an assistance program to give the retailer official information in printed form to aid him in understanding his obligations under the General Maximum Price Regulation. Stores in other areas will receive their bulletins by mail.

Government Is Far Behind Its People

To the Editor of The Republican.

In these dark days when the Government should be keeping up with the people, we find it dallying along and far behind, giving its time and attention to keeping itself in office, failing to realize that its country is in danger of dissolution.

We see those who should be shuddering with anxiety acting like the boy who refused to allow the other boy to slide down his cellar door because he would not play just as he wanted him to, so he set out to purge him. Just imagine, if you can, a grown person who should be in his right mind, trying to undermine our right of free speech and free action because one does not agree with him and fall in line with his childish prattle, thus belittling one of our most valuable and sacred privileges—that of speaking one's mind on matters that are vital to the continuation of government.

We shall not win this war until the Government gets into it and makes it a matter of first concern. The spirit of General Grant is apropos here, so let us fight it out on this line if it takes all summer, a year or two years, but let us get into the battle for God and Country.

If it be our task, and that of our boys, to give our lives for our precious freedom, let us realize that we nor they can give them to a finer and better cause. Our lives are given to us that we may live a life and thru them help make a better world than the one into which we were born. Let us so live and act in our day as that others seeing our good work and receiving our good services and sacrifices may enter upon their responsibilities with determination to make a still better world than we gave them.

It is time that Government realizes that sacrifice and service and unselfishness and ambition should be dedicated, not to self and its glorification, but to the doing of those things that will advance the good that we enjoy as the results of the sacrificial work of our fathers who gave to us such a good land for our inheritance.

Let us try to prove worthy of them both in government and in character.

REV. A. B. LEAMER, D.D.
Oakland, July 7, 1942.

Two Extra Pounds of Sugar to Be Released

Additional Supply Will Be for Six-Weeks' Period Beginning July 10th

Two extra pounds of sugar will be released to each individual for the six weeks' period beginning July 10, with additional quantities also available for industrial and institutional users, according to Leon Henderson, price administrator, in an announcement on July 3.

Henderson said the extra sugar ration was made possible by receipt of somewhat heavier shipments from offshore producing areas than were anticipated when the present allotments were fixed.

He warned however, that it was impossible to give any assurance that the basic ration allotment of eight ounces a week per individual would continue, with the reason being the lack of any certainty that the shipping situation would remain as favorable as it has been during the last two or three months.

On Stamp Number 7

The two extra pounds of sugar will be released to consumers on their ration stamp number seven beginning July 10. This coupon may be turned in for the extra allowance any time between that date and August 22. The consumer will be entitled to buy two additional pounds on that particular coupon at any time in the specified period without affecting any other stamps in the book.

Stamp number 5 may be used by the consumer between June 28 and July 25 for the purchase of two pounds of sugar and stamp number 6 may be similarly used between July 26 and August 22 for the purchase of two pounds of sugar, according to the war rationing board.

Institutional users, such as restaurants, etc., will be permitted to obtain 75 percent of the normal needs instead of 50 percent.

The decision on the extra allotment after consultation with shipping officials and after the Division of Industry Operations of the War Production Board had determined that the quantity of sugar available for civilian consumers between July 1 and December 31, would be 3,435,000 short tons.

ACCIDENT

Golden Anniversary Services

Eleven of the twelve members of the confiramation class of 1892 of Zion Lutheran church of Accident were present on last Sunday to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the class of which all the members are still living and connected with the church.

These eleven members participated in a preliminary service held on the site of the old church building, and were addressed by the Rev. Dauphin, pastor of the church. From the scene of the preliminary service they proceeded to the present church, accompanied by the Rev. Wolter, of Arlington, Nebraska, the pastor who confirmed them fifty years ago, who delivered an inspiring sermon. The service reached a climax of solemnity when members of the class arose and publicly reaffirmed their confirmation vows An added touch was given to the service when the Rev. Wolter, who began his active ministry here at Accident fifty-two years ago announced his retirement from the office of the ministry after August of this year.

Members of the class are Rev. Hartman, Chicago; John A. Georg, Iowa; John Fratz, Ohio; Mrs. Speicher, Salisbury, Pa.; Mrs. Chris Margroff, Taneytown, Md.; Mrs. Frank Margroff, Cove; Mrs. John Haenftling, Adam Richter, William Zinkan, John Kahl, Mr. and Mrs. George Georg, of Accident.

Following the service at the church the class members went to the home of Mr. Adam Richter where dinner was served. Fifty years ago the class had dinner at the home of Mr. Richter's mother.

In addition to the religious feature of the occasion, a happy and most enjoyable reunion resulted.

KEEP ELECTRIC APPLIANCES REPAIRED

Every electric appliance you own has many more hours of duty in it than you realize. The manufacturer made it that way, even before there was any thought of priorities. Now, thanks to the rigid tests and experiments in his factory, you have toasters and irons, washers and ranges, refrigerators and ironers, cleaners and lamps that need a little closer watching, a little bit more care, to carry you and them through the war.

You Can Do These Things For Victory

Shut off the current as soon as you are through using an appliance. Don't use frayed or worn cords. Remember to oil the motor, following manufacturer's directions. And if you need to have repairs made, call a serviceman or, better still, take the appliance to the shop. Service charges are not high and are usually worth many times over what you pay.

● S-T-R-E-T-C-H out your sugar budget! These crispy, golden cream puffs need no sugar, but satisfy your sweet tooth completely. The smooth, glossy filling is made with sweetened condensed milk. Peanuts add extra goodness and nutritive value to this luscious filling.

Do you know it's easy as anything to make cream puffs? Do it the Spry way—no fussing or fooling—mixing is so easy and quick, when you use creamy, all-vegetable Spry. Try these recipes soon.

Cream Puffs

½ cup Spry
1 cup boiling water
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, unbeaten

Bring Spry and water to boiling point in saucepan. Sift flour and salt together. Add to water all at once and beat vigorously until mixture is thick and smooth and comes away easily from sides of pan. Remove from fire.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition until mixture is smooth and blended. Drop mixture from tablespoon about 2 inches apart on Sprycoated baking sheet. (The mixture should hold its shape and not spread.)

Bake in very hot oven (450°F.) 10 minutes, then reduce heat slightly to 400°F. and bake 25 minutes longer. Cool. Slit each puff. Fill with Nut Cream Filling. Dust with confectioners' sugar. Makes 15 puffs.

Nut Cream Filling

5 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
1½ cups water
1½ teaspoons vanilla
½ cup peanuts, chopped

Mix flour and salt in top of double boiler. Combine egg yolks, condensed milk, water. Add to flour gradually, stirring until smooth.

Place over hot water and cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly (about 10 minutes). Cool, stirring occasionally, to prevent a skin forming on top. Add vanilla and peanuts. (Peanuts may be omitted, if desired.) Makes enough filling for 18 cream puffs.

MARRIED

ADAMS-FRAZEE—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Jennie Frazee, formerly of Friendsville, to James Adams, of Ravenna, Ohio.

The ceremony was performed in Cumberland on Friday, July 3. The couple spent a brief honeymoon in Pittsburgh, Pa. Both are employed at the arsenal plant at Ravenna.

ROSE-SAVAGE—Miss Floretta Alberta Savage, daughter of Walter W. Savage, Friendsville, and the late Catharine Meyers Savage, became the bride of William John Rose, of Braddock, son of Russell B. Rose, of Friendsville, on Saturday, June 27. The ceremony was solemnized at 9 o'clock a. m., in the Methodist church, with the Rev. R. L. Greynolds, pastor, officiating. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride was attired in a navy blue street length dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of Sweetheart roses, gardenias and baby's breath. Her only piece of jewelry was a pin of her grandmother's, a heart-shaped gold pin with a ruby center. Following a honeymoon through Ohio, the bride will return for a brief stay at her home here. The groom is employed in Braddock, Pa.

O'BRIEN-SHANK — Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Shank, of Long, Md., announce the marriage of their daughter, Bette Eloise, to Daniel Glen O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. O'Brien, Swanton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Fraker on Saturday evening, July 4.

The bride, who is a graduate of Fort Hill high school, Cumberland, class of 1941, wore a brown and white ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds and gardenias.

Miss Myrtle O'Brien, sister of the bridegroom, and Carl Everly, Oakland high school instructor, were the attendants. Miss O'Brien wore a blue ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds and gardenias. Others present were Miss Mildred Schmidt, Swanton, and Mrs. C. W. Fraker.

Following a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will reside at the home of the bridegroom, near Swanton.

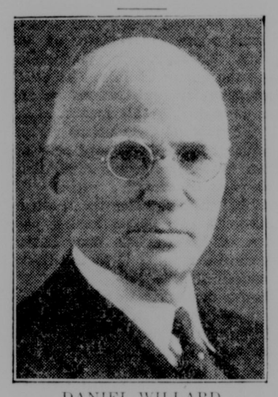
BARKMAN-TEETS—The marriage of Miss Ruth Teets to Conrad C. Barkman, has been announced, the ceremony being performed on June 19, at Mount Vista, Md. Rev. Howard M. Amos, Methodist minister, used the single ring ceremony. Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pearce, of Baltimore.

For their honeymoon they went to Delmar, Del., and Ocean City, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Teets, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Barkman is a graduate of Terra Alta high school. Mr. Barkman is formerly of Underwood.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barkman have been employed in Baltimore for some time, the former at the Glenn L. Martin airplane plant, and the latter with Lever Brothers company. They will reside in Baltimore.

Maryland has enough boats of varying lengths on the Bay to evacuate 26,000 Eastern Shore residents at one time from Matapeake to Annapolis, in an emergency, Governor O'Conor reported.

Dies In Baltimore



DANIEL WILLARD

Daniel Willard, chairman of the board of directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, died in Baltimore, Monday, July 6, after a brief illness, at the age of 81. Before his election as chairman on July 1, 1941, he had been president of the company for more than 31 years, longest tenure of any president in B. & O.'s 115 years history.

Mr. Willard is survived by his wife, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Daniel Willard, Jr., and four grandchiidren. Both of Mr. Willard's children preceded him in death. Harold, the older, died during the influenza epidemic of the first World War. Daniel, Jr., who was assistant general counsel of the B. & O., and who was awarded the Croix de Guerre for bravery while serving as 1st Lieut., F. A., United States Army, in France, died May 17, 1940.

Two sons and a daughter preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted from the Methodist church in Friendsville on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Snyder, of McClellandtown, Pa., officiating. Interment was in the Blooming Rose cemetery.

RESOLUTIONS GOVERNING THE DEEP CREEK BAPTIST CEMETERY

Inasmuch as the trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church have now been chosen as the custodians, forever, for the Deep Creek Baptist Cemetery, formerly known as the Thayerville Cemetery, as delivered to said trustees, by deed from one Jonas Glotfelty, made on the 8th day of May, 1940, certain rules and regulations will be necessary for its proper maintenance and management; therefore:

Be it Resolved, That from the adoption of these revised resolutions by the Deep Creek Baptist Church and its trustees, the following rules and regulations are in force, the original resolutions having been adopted by the Deep Creek Baptist Church, in regular business session, May 31, 1940:

1. The management, care and upkeep of the Deep Creek Baptist Cemetery will be arranged by the trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church. All action shall be by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church.

3. Those who have already buried in the cemetery or have obtained lots, but do not have writings showing their ownership of the ground, will be given consideration as to their claim, provided said claims are made by July 30, 1942.

4. All surplus ground will be properly staked, all stakes to be kept level with the ground, and offered for sale at ten cents per square foot to those desiring to bury in the cemetery.

Tabernacle Meetings Under Way at Mt. Lake

Will Be Continued Until August 3 With Real Estate Being Given Away to Those Attending

Mountain Lake Park's second tabernacle meeting was off to a good start Tuesday with increasing interest last night, according to some in attendance.

Dr. C. L. Wireman, of Ashburn, Ga., was the speaker and will deliver the message at each evening service for the remainder of the week. Mrs. Lula C. Shaffer, railroad evangelist, once associated with the late Jennie Smith, one of the first promoters of the Park, will have charge of the children and young people's meetings conducted at 1:30 each afternoon.

A platform meeting will precede the regular evangelistic service from 7:30 to 8. Music and singing are furnished by the Cale Evangelistic party, Uniontown, Pa.; Rebecca Bibbee, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va.; Fielding T. Howard, Wilmore, Ky., and the Sebre Brothers, Terra Alta.

An all-day meeting Sunday will be a feature with services beginning at 10:30 and 2 o'clock, with a free chicken dinner at Hotel England for out-of-town guests at 12. The meetings will continue until August 3.

The organization, Defenders of the Faith, expect to give free, over fifteen hundred dollars of real estate during these meetings. Someone who attends church each evening in the next twenty-five days will be given a lot free. Last night a lot was awarded to Miss Neil Lee, which was located next to her own home.

Lots and acreage which are not given away will continue to be sold at auction and by other contracts until all holdings of the association are dispersed, except the Hotel, which will be kept for the use of the institution, it has been announced. Quite a few lots were sold that way last Saturday, and the one-time famous Bashford amphitheatre was sold at that time to a Mr. Shahan, from Elkins, W. Va., it was stated.

MT. LAKE PARK

Our head is dizzy with sales. It would seem that on Saturday afternoon there really was a sale, but the purchasers were so many and so varied and the lots and plots so puzzling that we gave up trying to figure things out. As usual in Mt. Lake the past few years it was all very, very vague. Suffice to say there was much sold to whom and for what price we cannot say.

What is wrong with the Civic pride of Mountain Lake? This question arises because of the fact that there was an election scheduled and there were no candidates. Figure it out for yourselves.

Don't forget that variety show on Tuesday night, July 14, at the new Tabernacle. It's really going to be good. And it's sponsored by the Woman's Bible class of the Bethel church. Eight o'clock. Jared W. Young will be master of ceremonies and that should tell you it will be good.

An important announcement is that which comes to us from the Lake Lynn Lodge of Rebekah's, Special Deputy Catherine Ayers, of Colfax Lodge, No. 8, Baltimore, will be present on Friday night, July 10, for the installation of officers of the lodge.

The main tennis court of the Civic club is in first class shape, thanks to Scouts Larry Brook, Willard Hayden, Wier Pollard and a newcomer, second class scout Bobby Riddle, of Charleston. The boys have worked hard. Their next attempt will be on the second court. After talking to them we were told that they wanted to fix up a third court, but all three really need sand and plenty of other things, all of which they had no money for. It would seem a good idea since there is no tournament this season, to give the Mt. Lake Scouts a small sum of money and allow them to work the courts. Conduct them as before and collect the fees. Fee to go to the Scout organization. Think it over.

Personals

Guests in the Davis cottage here are Miss Elizabeth Davis, of Cicero, Ill.; Miss Emma White, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Miss Nell Davis, Jamestown, N. Y.; Miss Grace Hetzel, of Wheeling, and Miss Frances Bailey, of Jamestown, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgeworth Bowen and son, of Morgantown, visited relatives here over the week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Foster and children, of Crafton, Pa., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, on the Fourth.

The Mountain Lake Civic Club will hold a special meeting on Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Bowling Alley club rooms. It is urged that all members be present.

Single copies of The Republican may be obtained at the Hamill Book and Stationery Store, corner Third and Alder streets, where the current issue of the paper is placed on sale every Thursday afternoon. Price, 5 cents per copy.

City Council Holds Its Regular Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and City Council was held Monday night with several matters discussed briefly and disposed of.

Plans for improving Green street between Sixth and Seventh street were presented by C. M. Sincell, and arrangements made to meet with property owners on Friday evening, July 10, at 7 o'clock.

H. L. Jones and J. M. Jarboe were named as auditors to go over the accounts of the collector and treasurer for the past fiscal year.

The Council gave permission to the American Legion to erect a look-out spotter station on the lot on Third street, adjacent to the Coca-Cola Bottling plant.

Council also approved the sale of the cannon on the Court House lawn, which the Legionnaires plan to sell and buy War Bonds with the proceeds. Council also agreed to cooperate with the government on the plan to gather in all junk and scrap metals within the next few weeks.

A permit was granted to M. H. Hoffman to erect a garage on his property on Oak street.

June receipts totaled $5,054.50, which included water collections of $354.79, taxes of $1,365.18, sale of iron amounting to $55.81, receipts from state on 1941 income tax $653.04; Western Maryland Power company, $1,500, and the Garrett National Bank loan of $1,000 which was reported last month. Collections from March to June, inclusive have amounted to $12,642.79, with expenditures of $12,312.07.

Among the June expenditures were the payment of an electric bond of $1,000 and coupons of $625.00; $153.33 as interest on bank loans, $115.56 for repairs on Helbig property, $78.05 for work on golf course and $45.41 for work on club house. The receipts from the movie tax for June amounted to $41.30.

Daily Vacation Bible School

The commencement of the school at Deep Creek was very successful. The children gave a good program, followed by a flannel-board story, "The Two Ways," given by Mrs. E. O. Wonderly. The commencement was followed by a Fourth of July picnic, and a good time was had by the children and parents present. The school enrolled 49 pupils.

The school at Mt. Lake Park is getting underway with 60 enrolled, and new boys and girls coming in every day. All boys and girls between the ages of four and sixteen, inclusive, are invited and urged to come to the school, but are reminded that next week is the last.

Increase Allowed on Sugar for Canning

As announced last week, the quota of sugar allowed for canning for the season of 1942, has been increased from 9 pounds to 12½ pounds per person, according to James A. Towler, of the War Rationing Board. Those who desire this extra allotment may apply at the local Rationing Board in Oakland and receive the amount due them.

It will not be necessary to apply for this extra allotment in person, Mr. Towler said. A letter or postal card, stating that this additional allotment is desired, will be given attention and certificates will be mailed for the balance due for the 1942 canning season. This applies to those who have registered and received a portion of their allotment. Those who have never applied for canning sugar may call at the local office and register on any Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday, during the month of July. The office is not open for registrations on any other days during this month.

Points of Regulations

The local Rationing Board calls attention to the following regulations which must be complied with:

Within ten days after the death of a consumer, the person having possession of his or her War Ration Book shall surrender it to the Board for cancellation.

When a consumer to whom a War Ration Book has been issued becomes confined to an institution, he shall surrender his War Ration Book to the head of the institution.

If a consumer is inducted into the armed services of the United States, or leaves the United States for a period of more than thirty days, he shall surrender his War Ration Book to the Board.

It is very important that these regulations be complied with immediately.

Green Palm Restaurant Under New Management

Miss Carrie Fulk, who has operated the Green Palm Restaurant, corner of Third and Oak streets, for the past several years, has sold her interests to Mrs. Victoria Ingram, of Elkins, W. Va., who took charge on Tuesday.

Need a New Car? then-better get it!

Think things THROUGH on buying a new car! If you are Eligible under Newly Liberalized Rules it's Smart to BUY NOW! And here's why!

The Government wants us all to save gasoline.

The Government wants us to save rubber.

The Government also wants to make most efficient use of transportation facilities now available—including cars now built and ready for sale.

You do not help the country by continuing to "get along" on a car no longer fully efficient, safe or dependably able to serve you in any necessary use.

If you can qualify under latest rationing rules, you are recognized as an essential driver.

As such, you are not only entitled to your share of available gasoline and rubber, but are in reality expected to make the best use of them.

Your Buick dealer can show you that you can more efficiently do this in a brand-new, gas-thrifty, solidly dependable new 1942 Buick than in an older car which may have seen better days.

So before jumping at conclusions, get the whole story on new-car buying. Drop in on your Buick dealer for full details. He is at your service—any time.

Are you included in this list?

ARE YOU directly or indirectly engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war?

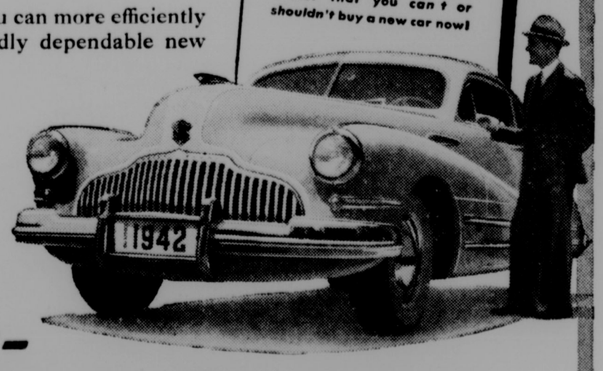
ARE YOU a physician, surgeon, nurse, veterinarian, clergyman or farmer?

DO YOU use your car in public service, such as fire or police, public health, highway maintenance work or the like?

ARE YOU owner of a taxicab or other vital means of public transportation?

ARE YOU a newspaper wholesaler, or a salesman in essential fields connected with war work?

THESE ARE the broad groups who are eligible under present rationing rules to buy new automobiles. There are other details of eligibility, of course, but if you are included in the above, it will pay you to see your Buick dealer now and get full information. Get the facts before you assume either that you can't or shouldn't buy a new car now!



If you're eligible to buy—

Better Buy Buick!

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, JULY 16, 1942. NUMBER 21.

Work Is the Miracle . . . .

St. Peter and St. Thomas Aquinas, so goes a story, were having a golf game one heavenly day. St. Peter's first drive was right up to the cup for a hole in one. St. Thomas, brandishing his celestial club, stepped up to the tee and drove a hole in one, too. "All right," said St. Peter, rubbing his hands together, "now let's cut out the miracles and get down to work."

We in America had half expected that we would begin to achieve miraculous victories immediately on entering the war. We believed that Uncle Sam had a magic wand that he would wave, and lo! our enemies would yell for mercy.

We are recognizing at last that we must cut out waiting for miracles and get down to work. Work, after all, is the true miracle. It is the miracle that has made America a great nation, and it is the miracle that will save America. The miracle of work in defense industries will turn out a bomber an hour. The miracle of work will turn out ships months ahead of schedule. The miracle of work will win the production battle. The miracle of work at home will unearth the kinds of scrap needed. The miracle of work on the farm will produce the food we need to feed our own nation and the people of the allied nations. The miracle of work will make us prepared for any emergency.

We can all join in working miracles, through the miracle of work.

OWENS RESIGNS AS SHERIFF OF GARRETT COUNTY

Has Accepted Position As Guard At House of Correction; Names Deputy Before Leaving

J. William Owens, sheriff of Garrett county for the past three and one-half years, has resigned that position, and is now employed as a guard at the House of Correction, at Jessups. Owens said he sent in his resignation to Governor Herbert O'Conor on Sunday, and that it takes effect immediately.

For the past several weeks Owens has been acting as guard at the House of Correction, usually returning to Garrett county over the week-ends. His new position is under State Civil service. He and his family will reside at Jessup.

Owens was elected sheriff of the county in 1938 and prior to that time served as deputy sheriff under Clarence Spear. The office of sheriff has been held by Democrats for the past three terms and is the only elective office in the county held by that party.

Owens said that one of the reasons prompting his change was the fact that he was "losing money in his job." The sheriff is allowed 40 cents per day for feeding prisoners, and he asserted the job couldn't be done properly for that amount.

Owens returned to Jessup on Monday morning and prior to leaving he appointed Mark H. Moon as deputy sheriff, to be in charge of affairs at that office during his absence and until a successor would be appointed.

The office was without any enforcement officer several days last week, with J. W. Mitchell, deputy sheriff, also absent from duty.

The Democratic State Central Committee said they would make a recommendation as soon as officially notified by Governor O'Conor of the vacancy. Grover C. Stemple, committee chairman, said there were several applicants including Walter H. Haenftling, former sheriff; Deputy Mitchell and Mr. Moon.

Bruner Friend Is Found Dead in Woods

Bruner Friend, 52, who lived near the mines of the Stanley Coal Company, in West Virginia, was found dead in the nearby woods on Monday by his nephew Claude Lewis.

Neighbors said that Friend had left his home Saturday evening with a gun, apparently for the purpose of hunting.

When found, he had been shot in the leg, a pumpkin ball having gone through it, causing him to bleed to death. The death was not investigated by Garrett county authorities.

Surviving are his wife, who was Edith Sines, of the Swallow Falls section, and several children.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at Swallow Falls.

Mt. Lake City Council Purchases City Hall

At the regular council meeting of the Mt. Lake Park City council held last Tuesday evening, the Mayor and council purchased the City Hall and a strip of land in that area. The property fronts on G street for 100 feet and on Spruce street for 80 feet. This land was formerly owned by the Defenders of the Faith.

Harvey Criss presented six police sticks to the Mayor and Council for the use of their air raid wardens.

Charles Harvey, Harvey Criss and Mason Callis were authorized to audit the books of the corporation.

Rev. Loyal Riley Leaves Pulpit to Be Navy Chaplain

Rev. Loyal T. Riley, pastor of the Lutheran church at Evansville, Ind., has entered the U. S. Navy as chaplain with a commission of a lieutenant in the naval reserve and has gone to Norfolk, Va., to enter the chaplains' school. His family is remaining in Evansville.

He will be assigned after attending school 40 to 60 days. He is a native of Oakland and received his training at Gettysburg, Pa., where he was graduated from the Theological seminary in 1929. He was ordained in his home church, St. Mark's Lutheran, in Oakland, on May 23, 1929.

Rev. Riley has served as president of the southern conference of the Indiana synod and as president of the synod board of ministerial education. He is a Rotarian at Evansville.

3 DATES ANNOUNCED FOR REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

One Will be Prior To Primary; Two Following Primary and Prior to General Election

Registration of new voters in Garrett county for the primary and general election will be held September 1, September 22 and October 6, it was announced by Leo Helbig, clerk to the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

The first registration day is one week in advance of the primary contest, scheduled Tuesday, September 8, while the other two registration days will be prior to the general election Tuesday, November 3.

New voters are required to register at polling places in the district in which they reside. Registrars at twenty-five places throughout the county will conduct the registration from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on the three days designated.

Ballots will be prepared for those in the armed services who desire to vote at either the primary or general election, but soldiers must forward applications for ballots to the board of supervisors and while filled out they must be returned to the Secretary of State, at Annapolis.

FSA Committeemen In County Are Selected

Appointment of Farm Security committeemen for Garrett county for the coming year was announced by John D. Leatherman, supervisor, Oakland, and Kenneth R. Wagaman, supervisor, Grantsville.

County Committeemen are enlisted by the government to give aid and advice to the small farmers coming under the FSA program. The committee cooperates with local groups, including the county land-use committee, AAA committees and civic organizations in attacking community problems as they affect small farmers.

The Garrett county committee members are: Paul Friend, Oakland, a member of the Welfare Board, board of directors of the National Farm Loan association, county commissioner and member of the grange and farm bureau.

Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, McHenry, farmer, president of the executive committee of homemakers clubs of the county, member of farm bureau.

A. Otis Riley, Oakland, farmer, president board of directors of county national farm loan association, member of grange and farm bureau.

Roy C. Turney, Accident, farmer, secretary-treasurer of county Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company, member of farm bureau.

William Winterberg, Grantsville, farmer, president of county farm bureau, member of county welfare board, member land use planning committee, president board of directors of First State Bank, Grantsville.

Increase In Sugar Ration Is Possible

A possible increase in the sugar ration was hinted this week by the Office of Price Administration in reporting that the United States was now obtaining about 30,000 tons more sugar a month than was being consumed.

The office cautioned that continued Government control over the distribution was necessary to assure each person his fair share and guard against serious shortages in 1943.

Estimated 1942 sugar production and imports was placed at 6,054,284 tons compared with normal peacetime consumption of about 6,800,000. Under the present program the country now is using about 475,000 tons of sugar a month, with the bulk of the supply coming in ships from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Here to Look Over Possibilities As Summer Resort Area

W. Bruce Macnamee, director of the U. S. travel bureau, of the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., is in Garrett county for a two weeks' stay.

He is here to look over the possibilities of Garrett county as a resort area to be recommended to tourists. Baltimore and Ohio railroad officials recommended this area to him and he will be taken on a sightseeing trip over the county today by Mayor L. M. Fraley, of Oakland.

He will speak at a meeting of the Oakland Lions club on Monday, and possibly other organizations before his return to Washington.

BERNARD I. GONDER IS CANDIDATE FOR SENATE

Seeks Democratic Nomination For State Senator in Primary Election on September 8

Bernard I. Gonder, of Oakland, district No. 7, announces his candidacy this week for the Democratic nomination for State Senator, subject to the primary election on September 8.

Mr. Gonder is the second one to announce for this office on the Democratic ticket, Dr. C. Oscar Hall, Mt. Lake Park, having announced three or four weeks ago. Thus far there are no candidates for the Republican nomination.

Mr. Gonder states in his announcement that he is not a member of any clique or faction and if nominated and elected will give everyone honest and efficient service.

He has been manager of the Maryland Theatre, Oakland, for the past fifteen years, and is also manager of the Western Union office in Oakland. He is serving his third year as a member of the Maryland Commission of State Forests and Parks, having been appointed in 1940. He is also chairman of the Garrett county welfare board, having been appointed to that body two years ago.

Mr. Gonder was the Democratic candidate for the State Senate four years ago and received 2,878 votes, only 170 less than the Republican aspirant.

Harry C. Turney to Be Awarded Purple Heart Decoration

Harry C. Turney, Mt. Lake Park, was one of four veterans of the first World War to be mentioned by Andrew N. Segal, commander of Baltimore Chapter No. 122, Military Order of the Purple Heart, to receive the award. Orders for the awards were issued by the Secretary of War.

Turney was wounded July 16, 1918, while serving as bugler with Company A, Sixth Engineers, of the Third Division.

The decorations will be presented at a ceremony to be held Monday, July 20, at 8 p. m., during a meeting of the Baltimore chapter in the board room in Baltimore city hall. Commander Segal will make the presentations on behalf of the Secretary of War.

Turney is at present employed as a guard on the Pennsylvania Electric Company's holdings at Sines.

Turney was overseas from December 4, 1917 to March 27, 1919. He saw action in the Somme offensive, the Chauteau Thierry, Champagne-Marne, St. Mihiel sectors and was wounded and in the hospital for two months. He received an honorable discharge on May 13, 1919.

Wesleyan College President Guest of Rev. and Mrs. Sprague

The new president of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Dr. J. W. Broyles, will be a visitor in Oakland tonight. He will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Minor Sprague. The purpose of his coming is to make contacts for the college, and to become better acquainted with the constituency served by the school.

Dr. Broyles was, until recently, president of Snead Junior College, in Boaz, Ala. He was educated at Chattanooga, Boston and Harvard universities, and at Oxford. He succeeds, as president of Wesleyan, Dr. Roy McCuskey, who is well known in this vicinity, and who resigned in order to resume a pastorate.

In order to make it possible for interested people to meet Dr. Broyles, Rev. and Mrs. Sprague will keep open house tonight, with friends of the church and college cordially invited to "drop in." Accompanying Dr. Broyles will also be the alumni secretary of the school, Mr. Floyd Shaver, who has appeared before the local high school body several times. Mr. Shaver is always interested to discuss Wesleyan with high school graduates who are considering entering a college, and such will also be welcome at the Methodist parsonage tonight.

William C. Smith Chosen in Jaycee Project This Week

The name of William Crane Smith was drawn yesterday by the Jaycees in continuing its "service man project." Smith's name will be posted in the three drug stores and at Hamill's where persons are asked to write him and leave some small and inexpensive gift sometime during the week.

The Jaycees continue to urge that persons write a line or two to these soldiers regardless of whether or not they are known to them personally.

Smith is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Russell Smith, proprietors of Chimney Corner. He is in the infantry, stationed at Camp Gordon, La., and is now on war maneuvers in North Carolina.

Jaycees in charge of the project said this morning that Jack O'Donnell, whose name was chosen last week, had quite a few notes and gifts, which would be sent to him in Australia. Others selected have been William K. Glotfelty, at Camp Dix, N. J., and William Spiker, in Australia.

Service Men Appreciate Jaycee Project

That the men in the service appreciate the work of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in carrying on their project of having many of the citizens write letters and give gifts to the one selected each week, was evidenced by a letter this morning from Wiliam K. Glotfelty, Fort Dix, N. J., whose name was drawn by U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings in the inauguration of the event.

Glotfelty writes:

Received the many gifts and letters this week. I certainly do appreciate all of them. It surely does make me feel good to know that the people back home haven't forgotten about me. It was an honor to have my name drawn at the inauguration of the Service Man Project. Hoping you keep up the good work. Sincerely,

William K. Glotfelty.

Volunteers Sought To Help in Making Surgical Dressings

Local Red Cross Asked to Make 36,000 of Them by December 31

Volunteers are now being sought among the women of this vicinity to assist the Red Cross chapter in making the 36,000 surgical dressings that the National Headquarters are asking for from the Oakland organization.

Mrs. Willard Elliott, who was appointed surgical dressing chairman, and who has returned from Annapolis after taking a three-day course for special training in this capacity, has announced that she will be at the D. P. Smouse store on Alder street from two to five o'clock on Friday afternoon, and at the Princess Shoppe on Alder street from one to 10 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, when all volunteers are urged to come in and sign up.

Volunteer work on the dressings will be done from 2 to 5 in the afternoons, Monday through Friday, and possibly during four evenings each week, and Mrs. Elliott said those who volunteered should come to sign up prepared to tell how much time they can spare and on what days.

It will require over 400 hours of work each week from August to December 31.

Navy Recruits To Receive Leave Upon Training Completion

Lieut. Paul R. Warmlee, officer in charge of Navy recruiting for the State of Maryland, announced that effectively immediately, all recruits enlisting in the Navy will be given nine days leave at the completion of their training.

The leave is to consist of five days actual leave and four days travel time. The purpose of this new order is to give each man an opportunity to visit their families and friends before being transferred to other duties.

Lieutenant Warmlee stated also that many men who were hesitant about joining the Naval Service due to dependency, will now see their way clear to join their fellow Americans in doing the job that is So-All-Important—winning the War with the Navy.

The Act of June 23, 1942, provides monthly family allowances for dependents of enlisted men in pay grades from apprentice seamen to petty officer third class ratings.

BLACKOUT LAST NIGHT TERMED ALMOST PERFECT

More Efficiency Noted by Defense Workers—Incidents During Test Show Good Organization

Garrett county contributed its share of success in the state-wide blackout last night, with practically 100 percent cooperation from all sections.

There was evidence of more organization efficiency this time, as civilian defense members are becoming accustomed to their jobs and places and according to L. M. Fraley, defense coordinator for this section of the county, there was much less confusion in getting the firemen, auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police, and other defense workers to their places along the highways and around the public buildings.

Apparently the blackout was almost 100 percent complete throughout the entire county, with the telephone company giving excellent service in getting calls through to six other communities after the signals were received at the control center in the sheriff's office. It was the third test for Oakland and the second for the entire county.

The yellow signal was received there at 9:27, and in three minutes and thirty seconds those in charge at Friendsville, Crellin, Kitzmiller, Deer Park, Sines and Mt. Lake Park had been notified. The blue signal was received at 9:31-30, and the red signal for the blackout came at 9:43-10. The Oakland siren began to blow ten seconds later and in two minutes and fifteen seconds all places had been notified and either whistles or bells signified the beginning of the total blackout test. All telephone communications were handled by W. Russell Pancake, civil defense communications department, and local manager of the telephone company.

Incidents in Oakland during the blackout included a supposed "bombing" at the corner of Oak and Eighth street, which necessitated the calling out of state road crews to repair damage, and both ambulances were called to get supposed "victims" to the first aid station in the Episcopal parish house. At Friendsville the Yough bridge was also "blown up," and a similar occurrence at the bridge over the Casselman river at Grantsville. Grantsville received all its signals from Frostburg.

The all-clear signal came at 10:10-40 but the blackout continued for the remainder of the night, with defense workers remaining on duty for several hours, and a few the entire night, to prevent any robberies or destruction of property. The air raid signals were also received by the State police car by radio, from the control center at Pikesville, and came in ahead of those by phone. The all-clear signal was received by radio three minutes before the telephone message came through. Corporal Thomas Currie and Trooper George M. Browning were on duty at Oakland throughout the test.

Throughout State

More than 100,000 civilian defense workers helped to make the blackout a state-wide success. The signals were given by Governor O'Conor from the control center.

Reports of all "incidents" throughout the state were made to the control center.

The success of the test was so marked that state officials said it might serve as a model for the entire nation.

USO Drive for Funds To Close Next Friday

The campaign for funds for the United Service organization and Navy Relief, in Garrett county, will be concluded next Friday, July 24, it was announced this morning by Charles L. Briner, Jr., county chairman.

Mr. Briner said that four young ladies were making a house to house canvass of Oakland this week, in an effort to increase the amount contributed. The funds have been coming in slowly, with only about $270 received thus far. Kitzmiller and Oakland are the only towns reporting, however, and various community chairmen are at work in other sections of the county.

Solicitors this week in Oakland are Nancy Dawson, Ann Lawrence, Donna Littman and Virginia Lawton. Mr. Briner asked that these ladies be given consideration and cooperation, and that the citizens give generously to the campaign.

Danger of Rabies From Stray Dogs

Considerable Increase Noted In Dog Population of Maryland Recently

The increase in the number of families that have moved into Maryland recently,bringing all their possessions with them has brought about a considerable increase in the dog population — particularly of stray dogs. The increase in stray dogs—which are always a source of danger, and particularly of rabies—is responsible for the following warning from Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department.

"Reports received from Dr. Mark Welsh, the State Veterinarian, at College Park, show," Dr. Riley said, "that four dogs that proved to be rabid were killed in the state, recently. Follow-up investigations indicate that the disease has spread to widely separated areas by dogs running loose. Quarantine has been established against all dogs in the sections in which rabid dogs have been found.

"The County Health Officers throughout Maryland have been requested to notify Dr. Welsh of any marked increase in dogs in their respective communities. In the event that any rabid animals are discovered, Dr. Welsh will cooperate with the local authorities in establishing the necessary quarantine.

"In his report on the present situation," Dr. Welsh said: "It is difficult, if not impossible to know the movements of rabid dogs and when one is found in a given location the quarantine area should be sufficiently large to cover the section in which he may have moved."

"Every year a great many persons living in or near Baltimore City—more than a hundred according to the records of the Department—who have been bitten or otherwise injured by rabid animals or animals believed to be rabid, apply to the Pasteur Division of the Department and are given the treatment that will prevent hydrophobia—to give the terrible disease its more familiar name—from developing. Many others throughout the State, in similar danger, are treated by their own doctors or at the County Health Departments.

"There are ten times as many more—considerably over a thousand persons each year—who have to be given one or more emergency treatments after they have been injured by animals that are dangerously vicious but that prove on investigation not to be mad. Such treatments are started as a precautionary measure because you can not take any chances with a disease that is so agonizing and so fatal, when it develops, as rabies.

"Two out of every three who have to have the treatment to prevent rabies, charge their injuries to stray or ownerless dogs."

British are now using 4,000-lb. bombs in raids on Germany.

Band Realizes $202.89

The Accident band realized gross receipts of $456.81 from their fourth of July picnic held in that town. Of this amount $202.89 was net profit and is to be used by the band for new music and for instructor fees, according to Benj. E. Callis, treasurer.

Members of the band, he said, are appreciative of the support of the people.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

TO ALL PRIVILEGE PERMIT HOLDERS AT DEEP CREEK LAKE

We wish to notify the public that in order to comply with the rulings of the Federal Power Commission and the War Department with respect to the protection of vital units of property, we have found it necessary to place certain restrictions upon the use of boats and other crafts in the waters of Deep Creek Lake.

Effective with this Notice, it shall no longer be permissable for any boat or other craft in the waters of Deep Creek Lake to come within 1000 feet of either the breast of the Dam or the intake tunnel. To aid in determining the restrictd area, markers have been placed on the shore and in the water and these markers will be kept in place for the duration of the war.

Any travel in the area restricted will be a violation of the rulings made by the Federal Power Commission and the War Department and will be subject to investigation by the proper authorities.

The cooperation of the public in this matter is earnestly requested.

P. H. HARRIS, President.

RESOLUTIONS GOVERNING THE DEEP CREEK BAPTIST CEMETERY

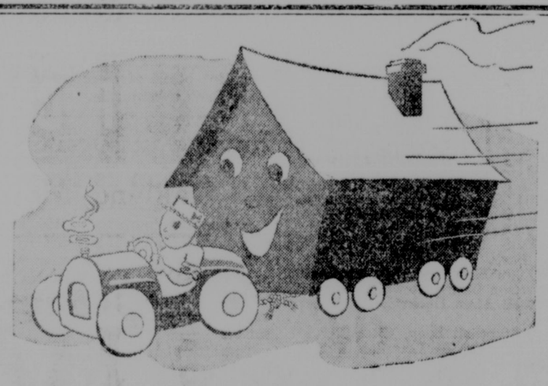
Inasmuch as the trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church have now been chosen as the custodians, forever, for the Deep Creek Baptist Cemetery, formerly known as the Thayerville Cemetery, as delivered to said trustees, by deed from one Jonas Glotfelty, made on the 8th day of May, 1940, certain rules and regulations will be necessary for its proper maintenance and management; therefore:

Be it Resolved, That from the adoption of these revised resolutions by the Deep Creek Baptist Church and its trustees, the following rules and regulations are in force, the original resolutions having been adopted by the Deep Creek Baptist Church, in regular business session, May 31, 1940:

1. The management, care and upkeep of the Deep Creek Baptist Cemetery will be arranged by the trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church. All action shall be by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church.

3. Those who have already buried in the cemetery or have obtained lots, but do not have writings showing their ownership of the ground, will be given consideration as to their claim, provided said claims are made by July 30, 1942.

4. All surplus ground will be properly staked, all stakes to be kept level with the ground, and offered for sale at ten cents per square foot to those desiring to bury in the cemetery.



How About Those Tires, Mister?

Not many people are going to find it possible to roam the country in their cars this summer. The war has changed all that. Within a short time the whole transportation picture may have to be altered because of the rubber shortage. But you can count on Americans to take it in stride. We've noticed that the public which used to fight over new refrigerators, washers, ironers, and other electric appliances now has turned its attention to making these household helpers last for the duration . . . and there's practically no complaining. Do your part and the war will end victoriously for all of us!

With the money you can't spend on new tires and new appliances, buy bonds and stamps! Uncle Sam's armed forces need everything they can get to smash the enemy and dollars and dimes will do it!

FEDERAL SALES TAX—THE ANSWER

To all who operate family budgets, the need for a Federal Sales Tax should be perfectly clear.

War costs money. Tremendous sums—beyond those we ever dreamed of—must be raised to pay for the war machine that will eventually smash the Axis.

We all have a definite stake in the preservation of the American way and in the institutions we have built around us. These must be and will be preserved at all costs. Every American knows it and every American is ready and willing to do his or her utmost to help carry the load.

Where is the money to come from? This question has worried the Treasury and Congress for months. Every present tax source has been milked dry. Further strains on the heavy tax payers can represent only a drop in the bucket while adding enormously to their burdens and threatening their stability in the post-war adjustment. But there is an answer.

The sole remaining large-scale tax source is in the hands of the people, in the pocketbooks of the millions who are doing war work, Government work or the countless other jobs that are necessary to keep a nation of 130,000,000 people fed, clothed and housed and—at war.

A Federal Sales Tax, spread over a wide area and over millions of people, will do three things:

1. It will absorb sufficient excess purchasing power to put a formidable obstacle in the way of inflation.

2. It will tap the only remaining large taxable source.

3. It will draw only on those who have money to spend.

In spite of the complications involved in setting up machinery for the collection of a Federal Sales Tax, it represents the only method which has been discovered for accomplishing these ends.

NEW GERMANY

Mrs. Parker Warnick and children are spending this week with Mrs. Dorcas Warnick, at Elbow.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Durst have returned to Baltimore after having spent their vacation with relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Broadwater, who live in Ohio visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broadwater, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Durst.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Broadwater and children, of near Baltimore spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broadwater.

Mrs. S. L. Otto, Mrs. Lewis Kamp, Mrs. Forrest Beachy, Mrs. Loraine Otto and daughter, Helen Joanne, attended the funeral of Lyman Frazee at the Cove, on Monday afternoon.

The Women's Guild of the Reformed Church met on Sunday after Sunday School. The topic "The American People—Their Loyalties" was in charge of Mrs. S. L. Otto. A reading on the topic was given by Mrs. Morris Beachy. Miss Grace Otto read a poem entitled "The Better Way." Misses Darleen and Doris Warnick sang a duet. The next meeting will be held on August 9th, with Mrs. Ellsworth Beachy as leader.

Talks Feature Week-end Meeting of Homemakers

Three talks featured the week-end meeting of Garrett county Homemakers at the recreational area near Bittinger.

A talk to mothers about 4-H girls was given by Miss Dorothy Emerson, State Girls club agent, who stressed the importance of beginning early in life with child training; why girls need and must learn nutrition; and the difference between the pledge of German girls to the direction of Hitler, contrasted to the pledge of allegiance of American girls to their flag.

Reason for sugar and other rationing was discussed by Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the county war rationing board; and "Woman's Place in Conditions of the Present Time," was discussed by Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of extension University of Maryland.

This week the girls' 4-H camp is being conducted by Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Germans struck at a ned area on the Russian front, driving to Rossosh, 235 miles from Stalingrad. Serb guerrillas were reported invading portions of Italy and keeping Axis groups busy in that area. Allied air and ground forces were giving Rommel no rest in Egypt. British seized a key island off Madagascar from Vichy without resistance in attempt to halt ship sinkings by Jap subs in that area. Moscow claimed damage to Nazi battleship Tirpitz would require months to overcome. British used two-ton bombs on a German naval station. In the Orient U. S. bombers raided Hankow, Jap inland base and RAF was in action over Burma. Chinese claimed 30,000 Japs had been ambushed and many killed, but Chinese admitted losing last stretch of Chekiang-Kiangsir railroad.

SATURDAY—Russian line on Don River was bending backwards under German pressure and there were indications of a German push toward Moscow. Reds continued their counter-attacks against the Nazi flank. Red bombers hit hard at Norwegian and Finnish airports and reported 57 Nazi planes destroyed or damaged. In Egypt there was a slight withdrawal toward the sea by German forces, and U. S. Army bombers struck over Mediterranean against Axis supply lines. German planes raided Malta but lost 24 planes in attempt. RAF announced Japs in Burma were streaming toward India by rail, barge and jungle, despite monsoon weather. Chinese recaptured town and pushed invaders back.

SUNDAY—British drove 12 transport planes into sea that were rushing troops to aid Rommel in Egypt. British took 1500 Axis prisoners and drove Rommel back five miles along the coast. Aerial activity hit a new peak of intensity. The presence of American troops in New Guinea was made known. Russians said a fierce battle was in progress near Voronezh, on Moscow-Rostov railroad. Germans advanced on a 200-mile front on Don River area. New attacks were launched by Yugoslavs with 250,000 reported in two major fights. Axis subs continued to exact toll of shipping off coast of Atlantic and in the Caribbean. Allies bombed a big Jap base in China, while Chinese ground troops were driving Japs back.

MONDAY—British drove the Axis ten more miles west in Egypt and captured 2000 tired prisoners. Australians were attacking with bayonets. Rommel was using more bombers and fighters in attempt to block British advance. Many British planes raided the German U-boat base at Danzig and also at Flensburg, both on the Baltic sea, and attacked bases in France. Reds lost two more towns in a new retreat and invaders were battering at gates of Voronezh. The peril to the Caucasus was increased. An offensive against Japan was urged to stave off a Jap attack against Australia. Japs were menacing a Chinese port. An amphibian tractor is now being accepted by the Navy. It was tested on Lake Erie. German authorities in Paris announced they would execute all male relatives of any wanted man who fails to surrender within ten days.

TUESDAY—British fleet and naval air forces pounded Matruh, Rommel's most advanced supply base, blasting ammunition and supply ships in the harbor, causing him to use Tobruk, 200 miles west, for his supplies. British were holding a high ridge west of El Alamein against Nazi counter-attacks. Germans ripped through the Red army at Voronezh and two other Nazi columns bored deep into the Don basin. There was also a Nazi thrust 20 miles above Moscow. RAF pounded railway facilities of Boulogne on French coast. Chinese troops landed on Futuo island and drove away Jap forces which had occupied it, relieving the threat to Foochow. The other port on the east seaboard was endangered by a Jap land drive. France was tense on eve of its Bastille Day, but Nazis decreed stiff reprisals for sabotage. German troops in Greece were being rushed to Egypt to reinforce Rommel.

WEDNESDAY — German columns bore deeper into the Caucasus area on a 600-mile front. Nazis claimed to be 160 miles from Stalingrad and within 6 miles of Rostov. Reds said Nazis want to defeat us before Allies can land on continent. RAF raided the Ruhr section. Axis counter-attacks in Egypt were repulsed. Nazis executed 700 Yugoslavs for assassination of a Nazi police chief. Vichy refused to sanction the removal of its fleet at Alexandria to the western hemisphere. Nazis were making considerable preparations in Netherlands, Belgium and northern France to meet Allied invasion. Japs reached Wenchow on coast but on two other fronts Chinese had enemy on the run. U. S. Navy revealed small losses in the Midway sea battle that crippled Jap fleet. The Japs lost 4 aircraft carriers, 2 heavy cruisers, 3 destroyers, 275 planes 4,800 men, with damage to 3 battleships, 3 cruisers, a light cruiser, several destroyers and transports.

THURSDAY—Reds were holding and even lashing back against Germans at important points on Caucasus approaches but stressed superior German numbers and asked for a second front. There was more talk of second front in Britain. British flyers struck at invasion coast heavily. In Egypt Rommel was making a third effort to recapture a coastal ridge but without success. German troop movements were noted from Greek ports.

National Treasure Hunt for Salvage

Draft Boards Get Orders to Protect All Family Groups

Will Postpone Induction of Men With Dependents to the Last

Draft boards are being directed by selective service headquarters to postpone induction of men with dependents until all other sources of manpower for the armed forces have been exhausted.

A statement from Lewis B. Hershey, director establishes the order in which seven classifications are to be utilized for draft calls.

The order in which local boards were instructed to consider registrants for induction was: 1. single men with no dependents; 2. single men with dependents but not contributing to the war effort; 3. single men with dependents and who contribute to the war effort; 4. marierd men not engaged in the war effort, but living with their wives; 5. married men, engaged in the war effort and living with their wives; 6. married men, not engaged in the war effort, living with wife and children, or children only; 7. married men, engaged in war effort, and living with wife and children or children only.

In all cases the dependency must date from before December 8, 1941.

Also effective August 1, selective service registrants who are not physically qualified for general military service (1-A) will in a number of cases be acceptable for limited military service. This includes those who are under weight but otherwise mentally and physically fit, those who have fair eyesight, those who have fair hearing, those who had insufficient teeth to qualify for 1-A, those who have lost some of their fingers, or toes, and moderate deformities which do not and have not interfered with an individual following a useful vocation in civil life.

SOME SUGARLESS RECIPES

Courtesy of the Sealtest Laboratory Kitchen, New York

Muffins.

Two cups flour, 4 T. butter, 3 t. baking powder, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, ½ t. salt, 2 T. light corn syrup.

Mix and sift the flour, baking powder and salt. Add the melted butter to the slightly beaten egg and add the corn syrup and milk. Pour into the dry ingredients and mix quickly just enough to moisten. Fill buttered muffin pans about 2-3 full and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or until done.

1. Add ½ cup of seedless raisins to the dry ingredients.

2. Add ½ cup of chopped cooked bacon to the dry ingredients.

3. Add 2-3 cup of grated American cheese to the dry ingredients.

Sour Cream Salad Dressing

One T. butter, 1 egg kolk, 1 T. flour, ¼ to ½ teaspoon salt, 3 T. lemon juice, 1 c. thick sour cream, 3 T. light corn syrup.

Melt the butter in a double boiler, add the flour and mix well. Add ½ cup of the sour cream and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Beat the egg yolk slightly and stir in the salt, corn syrup and lemon juice. Add to the hot mixture and cook, stirring constantly for one minute longer. Cool and fold in the remaining ½ cup of sour cream. This recipe makes about 1 1-8 cups of salad dressing. Serve with fruit salads.

Milk Drinks.

Marshmallow Chocolate Drink—2 squares of chocolate, 12 marshmallows, 6 cups milk, ⅛ t. salt.

Combine the chocolate, marshmallows cut in small pieces and salt, in a double boiler and cook, stirring constantly until melted. Add the milk gradually and heat thoroughly. Beat with a rotary beater. Chill. If desired, serve with whipped cream.

Honey Eggnog.

Few grains salt, 2¼ c. milk, 1½ t. honey, ¾ t. vanilla, 3 eggs, nutmeg.

Add salt and honey to the eggs and beat well. Stir in the milk and vanilla. If desired, top with spoonfuls of whipped cream. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Serve very cold. For a more fluffy eggnog, separate the egg whites from the yolks. Beat the egg yolks well and stir in the salt and honey. Add the milk and vanilla and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. If desired, top with spoonfuls of whipped cream or alternate spoonfuls of whipped cream and vanilla ice cream. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Eight servings. Rum or sherry flavoring may be added.

Coca.

Six T. cocoa, 1-8 t. salt, ½ to ¾ cup light corn syrup, 1 cup hot water, 4 cups milk.

Combine the coca, corn syrup, salt and water in the top of a double boiler placed directly over the heat. Cook, stirring constantly until the mixture comes to a boil. Reduce the heat and cook for about 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Place over hot water and stir in the milk. Heat thoroughly. Serve hot or cold. If desired, top with whipped cream when serving.

Lemon Buttermilk

One-half cup lemon juice, ½ to ¾ cup light corn syrup, 5½ cups buttermilk.

Combine the lemon juice and corn seyrup, add to the buttermilk and mix well. This will make six servings.

Molasses Milk.

One-half cup molasses, 6 cups of milk.

Add the molasses to the milk and mix well. Pour into glasses and if desired, top with whipped cream. Six servings.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

RESPONSIBILITY

Washington, July 4.

It is hard to exaggerate the importance of the forthcoming decision of the War Labor Board on the $1 a day demand of the CIO steel workers union. Someone recently said that a favorable verdict would be as great a blow to the Allied cause as have been the British reverses in Libya. There is at least some ground for such a statement. Certainly, the decision will show whether our national leadership means what it says or whether, afraid to cast off its political ties, it exhibits itself as weak, ineffectual, insincere.

Let's be honest about this crisis—because it is a crisis. There is no sense concentrating upon the War Labor Board. Behind the War Labor Board is the White House. The War Labor Board is the President's creature and the chief advocate of the increase is a man whose position largely depends upon the President's friendship and support—Mr. Philip Murray, of the CIO. Also the head of the War Labor Board—Mr. Davis—would no more take the responsibility of so momentous a decision without consulting the President than Attorney General Biddle would have rendered his Harry Bridges decision without consulting him. It is absurd to think that in such a case as this the board will not ascertain the President's views.

* * *

Now then, what are the President's views? He is publicly against granting the demand and so is his Price Administrator, Mr. Henderson. So, too, is every unbiased and informed man in or out of the Administration. On April 28, Mr. Roosevelt publicly told the American workers that "You will have to forego higher wages for your particular job for the duration of the war," And, on May 2, he declared that the Government would do everything it could "to prevent unwarranted pay increases by private plants, even when the employer was willing to grant them." Both he and Mr. Henderson have said that "our standard of liviing must come down." Both know, as does everyone else, that if this increase is granted, the standard will go not down but up. Both know that it will then be impossible to check other increases.

* * *

Yet, in face of these things the Labor Board panel has recommended the increase, and Mr. Murray, with his customary breast-beating protestations of patriotism, is predicting the full board will sustain the panel recommendation. And that would settle the whole anti-inflation effort. Probably the most offensive thing about the recommendation is the point that, because of the 94 per cent excess-profits tax, the companies would have to pay only 6 per cent of the raise and, therefore, it would impose no hardship on them. What is not said is that this merely passes ninety-four per cent of the raise onto the heavily burdened taxpayer, who somehow will have to make up to the Government its loss in revenues from the companies. It is a shocking thing that, with the nation fighting for its life, these professional labor leaders should be allowed to weaken our war effort and enhance our internal dangers in pursuit of their own selfish purpose to acquire money and power.

The consequences of their success in this case would be pretty bad. It is almost incredible that the President, with power to prevent, will permit. Certainly, if he has not enough influence with Mr. Murray he has influence enough with his own board to avert a decision so devastating to a program he has proclaimed as vital. There should be no glossing over the responsibility. In the recent fight to prevent the confirmation of Frank Hague's choice for Federal judge, the Senate attack was upon Mr. Hague as an unsavory and evil politician and upon Mr. Meany as his tool. Practically nothing was said about Mr. Roosevelt, who appointed Mr. Meany to please Mr. Hague. In brief, the basic fact was ignored. And it is ignoring the basic fact now to condemn the War Labor Board and pass over the man who created and controls it. Of course, this is war, but war ought not to be used as a screen for this kind of protection. Responsibility should be placed where it belongs.

STUMPS

Stumps to me are not things gone,
But lovely things again reborn;
A cottage small, a ship at sea
Are both reminders of a tree.

Stumps are not ghosts of the past,
But symbols of a tree which last—
A cradle where my baby lay,
The altar where I kneel to pray.

A stump that gave its heart that I
Might have a bed on which to lie,
To me is never drab nor bare
When night and day its soul I share

In aged stumps, past grandeur clings
Whose forms were felled for lovely things—
Not scars for passers-by to see,
But souls of a once-lovely tree.

LAW OFFICES OF JONES & JONES,

Chester H. Bobet and Nina Bobet, his wife, vs. Mary K. Myrick, and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne, and George W. Branne, her husband. No. 3655 Equity.

In the Circuit Court for Garrett County.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Chester H. Bobet, Mary K. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds arising therefrom.

The bill states:

That the said Chester H. Bobet is seized and possessed of an undivided one-half interest in and to a dwelling-house property situated in Deer Park, Garrett County, Maryland; said property having been conveyed to him and one Henry F. Bobet, as tenants in common, share and share alike, by William B. Miller and wife, by deed dated February 3, 1919, and recorded in Liber No. 76, folio 44, one of the Land Records of said Garrett County, the original of said deed, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'A'", having been filed with the bill, and prayed to be considered a part thereof; that the undivided one-half interest of the said Henry F. Bobet in the aforesaid property was subsequently conveyed by him to Mary K. Myrick and Eva Ellen Branne, as tenants in common, by deed dated November 4, 1938, and recorded in Liber No. 118, folio 187, Land Records of said Garrett County; a certified copy of said last-named deed having been filed with the bill, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'B'", and prayed to be taken and considered a part thereof; that said property is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and that it would be to the advantage of all of said parties to have said property sold under a decree of Court, and the proceeds divided amongst the parties in interest, according to their respective rights; that none of the parties to said suit are residents of the State of Maryland, but that Chester H. and Nina Bobet reside in Marion County, in the State of West Virginia, and that Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne reside in Franklin County, in the State of Ohio.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of the said real estate, and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom, and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of July, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs, by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 14th day of August, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne, her husband, of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 29th day of August, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

SEETHING COUNTRIES OF EUROPE DEPICTED BY OWI

A Million Copies Of The Publication Is Expected to Be Dropped Over Europe

A second front in Europe, wherever opened, will be effectively supported by the people in occupied countries, said Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, in releasing on Saturday a pamphlet entitled "The Unconquered People." This is the first official pamphlet to be issued by the new information office.

One million of the pamphlets are expected to be dropped over Europe.

"The Unconquered People" tells the story of mounting anti-Nazi resistance and cites numerous specific cases of sabotage, industrial slowdowns, underground activities, guerilla warfare and stubborn refusal to submit to the Nazi tyranny.

Says U. S. Should Know The Facts

"The American people should know the facts of the heroic resistance to Hitler by their silent allies in occupied lands," Mr. Davis said. "Harassing the Nazis day and night at the risk of death, the people of occupied Europe have dedicated themselves to shaking off the Nazi yoke.

"They want the Ameican people to know that when the time comes to create a second front it will be effectively supported as a front of liberation.

"A second front will be a two-way operation. We need Europe's help. Europe needs ours to gain freedom. Evidence in 'The Unconquered People' demonstrates that they rest their lives and hopes upon a United Nations victory."

Tells Of Recent Surge

The pamphlet recalls that local Frenchmen recently mistook Commandos raiding the coast of France for a full-scale invasion army.

"Swiftly turning upon the Nazis," says the pamphlet, "they seized German arms and produced hidden weapons. This is the shape of things to come."

Copies of "The Unconquered People" may be obtained from the Office of War Information, in Washington. The pamphlet was illustrated as a patriotic contribution by Edmund Duffy, Pulitzer prize-winning cartoonist of the Baltimore Sun.

"The Unconquered People" traces the gradual rise of resistance after the first stunned moments of defeat, when "the main problem was to keep alive, eat and find a place to sleep."

First Orders Given

"Hitler's armies were ordered at first," says the pamphlet, " to seem good-natured and mannerly." The Nazis believed, or pretended to believe, that people whose homes had just been bombed and whose cities had just been destroyed would take the invaders to their hearts.

"But by its very nature the 'new order' could not for long hide its true purpose: wholesale plunder of the occupied countries, scrapping of every vestige of personal freedom, complete 'Nazification,' is was added.

"Resistance at first took simple forms, such as refusel to obey the commands of the German authorities, turning of backs when Nazi columns swung down the street, and coughing loudly in movie theatres when Nazi officials appeared on the screen. Gradually the resistance mounted, becoming a ground-swell of revolt.

Examples Cited

As examples, the pamphlet cites:

Resignation of Norwegian bishops, teachers and nurses.

Planting of Dutch tulip fields to resemble huge Dutch flags, visible to RAF flyers.

Kidnapping of German soldiers by Breton fishermen.

Overt anti-Nazi demonstrations and parades.

Publishing of hundreds of secret newspapers.

Wrecking of troop trains, puncturing of oil wagons, incorrect sorting of ammunition.

Slowdown in factories making arms for the Nazi war machine.

Open warfare by the Yugoslav General Mikhailovitch, and other guerilla groups.

Telling the story of Hitler's seizure of hostages in reprisal for those who resist the "new order," the pamphlet says:

"One cannot hope to list accurately the thousands upon thousands of people—fathers, mothers, children, corner grocers, doctors, lawyers, postmen—who have been slain by the Nazis.

"Examples of the Gestapo's reign of terror include the leveling to the ground of the Norwegian village of Televaag, and the murder of 2,300 Yugoslav hostages in reprisal for the shooting of twenty-six German soldiers.

"Not until the ultimate victory of the United Nations has been achieved," says the pamphlet, "can the full story of this heroic resistance be told."

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

The Baltimore Sun, in an editorial on Tuesday, was asking for the election of men of ability to the General Assembly. They claim the quality of men and work in the legislative departments has declined in a degree that may almost be called disastrous.

This is in line with a letter to this office recently urging that good, sound business men should come out as candidates for office, not only for the National and State tickets, but the county ticket.

Good men, who know our needs, who would make laws for us, men who would be a credit to the district from which they are sent, are the ones who should be in the legislature, this man declares.

"Entirely too many of just the opposite stripe have gained seats in the Assembly of Maryland, mostly through failure of the citizens to take an interest at the opportune time, which is now, in seeing that duly qualified men come out for the offices, and then seeing that they are elected."

"After the candidates have all made announcement, then it's too late to change the picture. We merely take what has been thrust upon us, good or bad."

* * *

It would be good, wouldn't it, if all men holding public office were interested in the people as much as they were interested in themselves and in feathering their own nests?

It would be good, wouldn't it, if all those elected to the various offices didn't try to get as much out of the "pork barrel" as they could, feeling that if they didn't get it, somebody else would?

It would be finer, still, if there wasn't any pork barrel, and if those elected were too big to even want one.

If our form of government ever fails, it will be because of our representatives in that government failing to uphold the basic principles of honest, sound transactions—And failure of the people to take an interest in elections which put our representatives where they are.

It's a problem to find real statesmen when the pay for elective office is so meagre that those elected must find some other means other than salary to pay expenses.

What We'd Like to See

What we'd like to see around here:

We have a few of them, but we'd like to see more honest people in politics.

We'd like to see a playground for children.

We'd like to see local organizations decide not to bring any more carnivals into this town, but in its place substitute some clean and respectable entertainment for these annual celebrations. They'd double their attendance.

We'd like to see a few less weeds in the garden, and if that can't be done, we'd like to see the potato bugs and bean beetles find weeds that they would like better than my plants. Why is it no bugs ever destroy weeds?

One of our victory garden farmers around here says there is one sure way to tell a weed from a plant. Just pull it up and if it grows again, it's a weed.

The government is asking for thousands of typewriters. We earnestly pray that if they get them they won't use them in manufacturing any more propaganda and useless publicity material that they send each day to newspaper offices.

* * *

All I can say this week about town happenings, is that the more I live the more I am convinced that people are mighty peculiar individuals—Everyone is peculiar but "me and thee" and sometimes "thee" gets that way.

Extra Two Pounds Now Available

"Send us more Japs!"

"Sighted sub—sank same!"

Men who talk like this cannot be licked.

This is the one big difference between our soldiers and sailors and those of our foes.

It is purely American.

Such spirit is not built on the battlefield. It is built before the battle . . . at the country crossroads . . . in the factory yards . . . on the playgrounds of America.

It is the most precious thing we have.

We must guard it carefully.

The USO is custodian of this spirit when the men are on leave, off duty, away from camp. Hundreds of USO Recreation Centers are maintained to make the men feel "at home" in strange cities and towns, in America and far-off war zones.

Isn't it little enough to give them a place to rest, to play games, to smoke, eat, talk, or to write the folks back home?

The USO means a great deal to the men in the way of recreation and small comforts.

But it costs money . . . it needs your dollars to keep it going . . . all you can spare. Let's open up our hearts to these boys of ours!

Send your check or contribution to your local USO Committee or to USO National Headquarters, Empire State Bldg., New York, N. Y.

Alpine Club Plans To Visit Mt. Davis

The Pennsylvania Alpine club is arranging to visit Mount Davis, a peak of historic Negro mountain near Grantsville, and just out from Salisbury, Pa., which is the highest point in Pennsylvania.

The date for the hike, and other arrangements are in the hands of a committee.

The date for the hike, and other arrangements are in the hands of a committee.

Like White Mountain of New Hampshire, the Mount Davis section of Negro Mountain, according to Dol. W. Shoemaker, Pennsylvania's state archivist, has a deadline of October 1, after which it is considered unsafe to be on the mountain because of the probability of wild early blizzards.

On Negro Mountain, it is said, that when an unseasonable blizzard is due, a great vapor spirals high above the peak. "Hercules fire" it is called in Somerset county folk lore, after Col. Thomas Cresap's giant but kindly old Negro slave for whom the mountain is named, ambushed and slain by Indians and buried on the peak in 1754, warning wayfarers and would-be hikers of their peril.

MT. LAKE PARK

We have always been told that true courage is cool and calm. In that case then there are two young lads in Mt. Lake Park possessing true courage. We refer to that happening of last Thursday afternoon at the Lake here when three youngsters were almost drowned. But for the coolness and bravery of Weir Pollard III and the skillful first aid given by Robert Riddle following the rescue—this might have been a different write-up—one to rate black headlines and to tell bad news. However, here's the story:

On Thursday afternoon a group of children with an adult went to the lake for swimming. All could swim. Several of the children were in a flat bottom boat. The boat had a leak and it suddenly upset. At this point the water was quite deep. The children struggled to make the shore, all but three making it. Sandra Welling of Cumberland; Sherry McCutcheon, of Washington, D. C., and Dolores Evans of Mt. Lake could not make it. About that time Weir Pollard and Robert Riddle came along the road. Pollard immediately saw that something was wrong. Without a word he jumped in and as Sandra Welling was going down for the third time he brought her to shore. In the meantime Mrs. Pauline Bolen who was with the children went in and tried to get the other two. Finding that she could do nothing she called for help and D. R. Fleming, whose home is near the lake responded. Mr. and Mrs. Moon, who have the lake cottage also gave assistance. It remained for Robert Riddle to administer respiration. Had this not been done at once Sandra Welling would have been past saving. Mr. Fleming took all of the children to their homes and it was not necessary to call the Fire Department for the inhalator after young Riddle gave the aid. In talking with Mr. Fleming afterwards he stated that it was important that parents should see that their children did not go to the lake for swimming unless some responsible person was with them. There are no guards and the lake is not the property of the town.

This coming generation has a lot of what it takes. Weir Pollard is 16 years of age, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pollard of Hagerstown, and a grandson of Mrs. W. N. Skyles. Robert or "Bobby" Riddle is a newcomer from Charleston, W. Va., a 2nd class scout, son of a Government engineer. The two boys each gave the credit to the other. "Bobby" isn't much of a swimmer—but Weir did that—and then remarked, "I didn't do anything, Bobby did it all when he brought her to." It's good to know that here in America we have the sort of young people we are writing about. The Boy Scouts mean a great deal if we could only realize it. It teaches them to keep their heads, which is something we oldsters might learn.

VISIONS

There are some that might call me a dreamer,
Or whatever else they will;
But I call it only visions
When my heart its fancies spill.

If I see a soul of beauty
In a stump that's old and gray,
Then let me be a dreamer always,
For I can see further than they.

A gnarled old oak that's battered
From weathering wind and storm,
With giant arms bruised and broken,
Is majestic and lovely in form.

There are some that might see a mountain
As a barrier to climb and plod,
But I see a-top it's summit
Beauty that's closer to God.

Boulders and great rocks towering
Or the smallest stone obscure,
Each in their way is a sermon
That one can always conjure.

The thorn and the prickly bramble
And the lowliest seed and tare
Each have a soul of beauty
If you seek to find it there.

Then let me vision the beauty
In the things that to some seem bare,
And I'll see the Great Creator
In the forms of His handiwork there.

Washington Snapshots

By JAMES PRESTON

As major struggles rage on eight world battle-fronts, Washington tightens the reins on production to provide maximum quantity of planes and tanks for a long death-struggle with Totalitarianism. Manufacturers unable to convert to war work will go out of business or conform to a rigid wartime pattern to provide the bare necessities of civilian life.

OPA, talking standardization of all manufactured goods, would outlaw new models. Uniform products would lead to uniform prices, tend to curb inflation, maintain price ceilings—save materials.

Already approximately 1,800,000 articles are under price regulation and OPA looks for more effective price enforcement through a reduction of this number.

* * *

During World War I about 15 per cent of U. S. industry was engaged in war production—at its peak. The end of 1942 is expected to see 70 per cent concentrating on war materials. To keep this huge industrial machine operating at capacity the 10 million workers now employed by war plants will be more than doubled.

Regulations soon to be issued by Chairman McNutt of the Manpower Commission will determine which of these workers are essential to war work and subject to draft deferment. While not complete, the list includes:

Diemakers, jobsetters, machinists, toolmakers, ship fitters, ship carpenters, ship electricians, aircraft sheet metal workers, surface grinder operators, tool grinder operators, boring mill operators, engine lathe operators, turret lathe operators and irreplaceable farmers.

Essential industries so far specified include:

Aircraft, shipbuilding, ordnance and accessories, ammunition, fire-arms, explosives, power boilers, scientific instruments, wood distillation, naval stores, iron, steel, porous foundry products, poultry and dairy farming, sugar beet production and food processing.

Stabilization of wages, one of the seven points of President Roosevelt's anti-inflation program, has been pushed to the front by the Little Steel case. While the War Labor Board is in continuous session on this matter its decision, looked for daily, is not expected to settle the controversy.

Key administration officials are working on a permanent plan to define dollar and cent wage standards to be followed by WLB. This would fix a level of wages above which increases would not be permitted.

While the wage scale has not been announced it is known to be high. Few in Washington believe it will go lower than $36.65 a week, the average factory wage for April, 1941.

In addition to difference of opinion on the wage level, Capitol Hill and the executive branch also lock horns on the House slashing of OPA's Henderson's appropriation from 161 million dollars to 75 million dollars, the House Ways and Means Committee's flat refusal to vote a tax bill of $8,650,000,000, and the refusal of both Congressional bodies to fall in line with the administration's plan for price fixing and marketing of farm products.

There are some members at Capitol Hill who believe wage stabilization is the cause of the whole controversy and these have the opinion that labor union leaders will never agree voluntarily on this issue as it would weaken their control over union members.

AMERICA NEEDS US!

To The Editor of The Republican:

Listen Folks! America needs each and everyone of us today, the old and young alike. But first before we comply let's stop and meditate a few minutes and think deeply just what is facing our country as well as every being.

This is not a war just for our soldier boys to fight alone, but it belongs to all America, and it's up to each of us to help our boys defend it. Our precious American boys are dying today, others being crippled, wounded, and drenched in blood all for the hope that we shall continue to have and preserve our beautiful country and freedom. Our soldier boys have been called and chosen right when life and living is the sweetest and dearest to them. These boys are plucked from amid their homes and loved ones right in the bloom of their happy days. Yet, do they object or demur as to their going to defend our country? No sir! They go determined and fearless. For they rightly know it takes only pure red blooded American boys to conquer the nations and down the demons over there. Our boys have sacrificed their lives for us and for victory. Now wake up America! And for all times stay awake and realize our land is at war.

Let's comprehend the seriousness and the meaning of war. And forget pleasure and pride. Stay away from beer gardens, dance halls and these pleasure mad places of evil. Turn to God and reverence Him if we want victory. If we have money give it for defense, buy bonds, etc., and we will keep freedom. By doing these things we can at home help win this conflict. Pleasure is grand and we American people have had an abundance of it and can continue to do so later on, but we're up against a serious problem now. And it's going to take everybody, even our children, to help conquer the beastly foes. We can, and we will win the battle, if only we forget the pleasure mad world of gayety and lust. So remember folks, let's get down to real business. Put our shoulders to the wheel and push. Save our money and strength and everything it takes to help preserve our freedom, our home we love and democracy.

We now live in the garden spot of the world. Here we have liberty and free speech, we know no dictatorship superiority nor royalism. If we all want this freedom it's up to you, me, and every individual to equalize ourselves as well as salvage everything, then keep a willing heart, a still tongue, but our ears wide open and be always ready to lend a helping hand.

And I'm very sure if it's God's will our boys—yours and mine—will soon be marching home to us with the Stars and Stripes forever waving high over America and the battle of victory won.

A. K. Jones, Pastor.

The pastor will be in charge of the service at Gnegy next Sunday morning at 9:45, and at Red House at 11:00 o'clock.

"God is Victorious" is the theme of the sermon. Many nations have suffered defeat after defeat in the world-wide revolutionary struggle. We all should be willing to face the fact that more terrifying defeats are almost sure to follow, because international leaders are depending on military skill and equipment for victory. It is high time for Christian believers to consider more prayerfully that our God and Father is "King over all the earth."

Daily Vacation Bible school begins next Monday. All teachers and pupils are expected to be ready for the processional at 9:30. Transportation has been arranged for all. Announcement concerning points where children can be reached conveniently will be made next Sunday. All expenses are paid by the Parish.

OAKLAND'S LARGEST FOOD MARKET

This year . . . put up plenty of reserve foods!
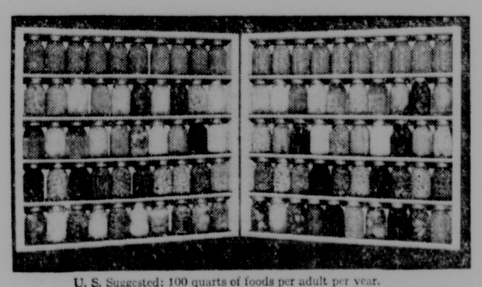
with the help of your gas range



U. S. Suggested: 100 quarts of foods per adult per year.

United States Department of Agriculture food experts say the right diet for the typical American family should comprise the equivalent of 100 quarts of fruits, vegetables and meats.

Suggested yearly food requirements per adult are:
20 quarts of tomatoes and tomato juice
25 quarts of fruit and fruit juice
20 quarts of green vegetables
15 quarts of other vegetables
10 quarts of meat
10 quarts of relishes, soup stock, etc.

Check these against the foods you serve your own family and see whether you are giving them the wide selection of good foods they require for healthful living.

For, to win this war, Americans must be strong. And to be truly strong, Americans must know and eat the right foods. This means that every American housewife's No. 1 job today is to feed her family well.

You can do it if you check the nutrition values of the foods you serve—and especially if you take steps while foods are plentiful—to home-can as many as possible against fall, winter and spring demands.

Grow all you can. Buy all that is seasonable . . . and make sure that your family gets a fully balanced diet. Call your Gas Company's Home Service Department for guidance in your home-canning problems. They'll be glad to help you.

Limber Pine . . . . .

According to a naturalist, who was visiting in Bryce Canyon, Utah, those gallant lone pines, which we so frequently see pictured at the tops of mountains, are known as Limber Pines. It is because of their resiliency and flexibility that these trees withstand the winds and storms while other trees are being destroyed.

To prove his point the naturalist took a branch of a Limber Pine and tied it into a knot. The branch was so flexible that this was easy to do. When the knot was untied the branch straightened out to its original position.

Apparently it is not through strength alone that trees survive. It is not in never bending but in never failing to spring erect again, after the gale has passed, that victory is achieved.

Resiliency also is an important factor in triumphant living! The winds of life will bend us but if we have resiliency-of-the-spirit they cannot break us! To courageously straighten again, after our heads have been bowed by defeat, disappointment and suffering, is the supreme test of character. Such people will be found on the mountain-tops of life.

GARRETT COUNTY INCLUDED IN GAS "BUFFER" ZONE

Gasoline Supply Being Cut Twenty-five Percent—Will Be Enough for Own Needs

Included in the newly created "buffer zone" of 162 counties in the Eastern section of the United States where gasoline supplies will be cut twenty-five per cent beginning Wednesday morning at 12:01 o'clock will be Garrett county, the only county in Maryland not included in the "gasoline rationing area."

The new buffer zone was created by the War Production Board to prevent motorists from crossing the boundary line of the rationed area to get unlimited motor fuel, board officials said.

The newly created "buffer zone" includes all the eighty-six counties of West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Western New York, and seventy-six additional counties in Eastern Tennessee and Alabama and Western Florida as well as Garrett county.

The service "curfew" which forbids stations from remaining open more than twelve hours a day and seventy-two hours a week was extended to the "buffer zone" and under the new ruling motor fuel will not be delivered to vehicles outside of the prescribed hours, even for "preferential users."

The WPB in issuing the twenty-five percent curtailment order stated that the "buffer zone" dealers will have enough gas to meet most of their own needs but not enough to supply border tourists.

Collection of Scrap Rubber Now 165 Tons

That the collection of scrap rubber in Garrett county had reached the total of appreimately 165 tons in the campaign recently concluded, was announced this wek by Ray Teets, county chairman.

This means 330,000 pounds, or an average of more than 15 pounds of rubber for every person in the county.

It was estimated last week that 125 tons would be the total but a close check on the filling station this week disclosed about 50 additional tons.

Practically all garages and filling stations cooperated in the drive.

St. Mary's county had the highest per capita collection of rubber during the drive, according to the state chairman, and Garrett county was second. Garrett's record will be boosted somewhat as total figures released by the county chairman are greater than those available at present at state headquarters.

St. Mary's turned in 254,000 pounds for an average of 17.4 pounds per person. Garrett county was credited with 270,000 pounds or 12.28 per person.

Fifty-Eight Men To Be Called By Draft in August

The local draft board announced this week that there would be a call for 58 men in August from this county, 48 of them from the 1-A classification and 10 from the 1-B group.

Seventy-five young men are scheduled to leave here tomorrow morning for the Baltimore induction station, the largest number yet called at any one time. The names of those to go were published last week.

Taken to Hospital

Louis Burgess, of Shallmar, was removed to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, Saturday night, having received a fractured skull and a broken jaw-bone in a car wreck between Mt. Lake and Deer Park. The car was driven by his father, Charles Burgess, who received a broken nose.

Army Officials Will Tour County

Public Meetings Scheduled July 30 and 31 in Court House, Oakland

Army officers of the First Fighter command, ground observer section of Philadelphia, will conduct a reconnaissance tour of sub-district No. 7, which includes this county, it was announced by Harry C. Turney, commander of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, and a sub-district director of No. 7.

Mr. Turney said the U. S. army realized its lack of proper instruction and information concerning the need and effect of the Civilian Volunteer in the war effort. The purpose of this tour is to visit and inspect various points in the county and also to hold public meetings during which they will show pictures and give instructional talks on air raids.

Meetings will be held in the Court House, Oakland, on Thursday and Friday nights, July 30 and 31, at 8 o'clock. Similar meetings are scheduled at Cumberland for July 27 and 28 and in Allegany county there will be a tour of the eight aircraft warning service posts.

Judge Sloan Files For Re-Election As Chief Judge

Jurist Will Be Eligible for Retirement in April, 1944

D. Lindley Sloan, chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, yesterday filed his candidacy for re-election, subject to the Republican primary September 8. The circuit is composed of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties.

Judge Sloan was endorsed for re-election by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee at a meeting there Sunday night. To date he is unopposed for the office.

If re-elected Judge Sloan will be eligible to serve only until April, 1944, when he will reach the retirement age of seventy years. Under Maryland law, retirement of jurists at this age is mandatory and the resultant vacancy will be filled by gubernatorial appointment until the next election.

Judge Sloan's fifteen year elective term expired in 1941 but he was reappointed for another year by Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor, who in announcing the appointment paid high tribute to the jurist and commented that his being a Republican had no bearing on the issue.

As Chief Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, Judge Sloan is a member of the Maryland Court of Appeals and in reappointing him the governor said "we need on our highest court men of demonstrated capacity, unquestioned integrity and wide experience."

Testimony Taken In Case of Dewey Welch Versus Commissioners

Testimony in the case of Dewey Welch versus the County Commissioners was heard yesterday afternoon in the Court House before Dr. Thomas W. Koon, a member of the State Industrial Accident Commission.

The claim for compensation was made because Welch lost the sight of his left eye as the result of an accident while he was employed at a stone crusher by the County Commissioners last January.

The only question involved was the extent of disability. The County Commissioners carry insurance with the Accident Commission. J. E. Harvey represented the Accident Commission, Horace Whitworth, Jr., the County Commissioners, and Neil C. Fraley represented Welch.

Testimony was all recorded and decision will be made later by the Accident Commission.

HAENFTLING TO SUCCEED OWENS AS SHERIFF

Appointment Made Last Friday By Governor O'Conor And Is Sworn In Yesterday

Walter H. Haenftling, of Accident, was appointed Garrett county sheriff last Friday by Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, to fill the unexpired term of J. William Owens who resigned on July 12.

Governor O'Conor announced Haenftling was appointed to serve until the November general election. Haenftling served as sheriff for a term of four years, having been elected at the general election in November, 1930.

His commission has been received at the office of A. G. Ross, clerk of the Circuit Court, and Mr. Haenftling qualified yesterday by filing the necessary bond, and was sworn in by Mr. Ross. He assumed his duties immediately. The business affairs of the office the past few days have been conducted by Mark H. Moon, who was appointed deputy sheriff by Owens on July 13. J. W. Mitchell, regular deputy sheriff, left Tuesday night for Baltimore, where he has secured a position as guard at one of the defense plants.

Owens resigned to become a guard through State civil service, at the House of Correction, at Jessup.

Thinks County Has Great Possibilities For Recreation Area

Director U. S. Travel Bureau Visits Many Places This Week; To Speak Before Rotary Friday

That the "surface hasn't yet been scratched" in regard to the possibilities of Garrett county as a recreational area, is the opinion of W. Bruce Macnamee, director of the U. S. travel bureau, of the department of Interior, Washington, D. C., who is in Garrett county for a two-weeks' stay.

Mr. Macnamee declared to a number of people here and before the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening that he was completely "sold" on possibilities for development of this area not only as a summer resort, but as a mecca for hunters in the fall months, and as a recreation area for winter sports.

The "fly in the ointment" at present seems to be the lack of accommodations. Most of the cabins and cottages around Deep Creek Lake have been filled, with prospective vacationers being turned away, and reservations in many instances continue until in September. There are from 300 to 400 cottages around the lake but no hotels and no prospects of any building until after the war.

Mr. Macnamee during the week has visited many spots. Tuesday he was at Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor with Mayor Lawrence M. Fraley, and with a major in the Marine corps, located at Quantico, Va., who is spending a short vacation in the cabin next door to Macnamee's at Stone Tavern.

He told Fraley he would plan a conference with the new head of the Maryland State Forestry department upon his return to Washington.

Mr. Macnamee, who is a former White House correspondent for the International News Service, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening.

Found Dead in Mine

Hayes Dignan, of Gorman, this county, was found dead on Monday morning in the Sprigg mine, near Mt. Storm, W. Va., where he had been working. He was aged 55 years.

His body was found at the place where he had been digging, where apparently he had suffered a heart attack.

Secures Position On New York Magazine

Robert B. Broadwater, who has been in New York City for the past several weeks, has secured a position on the staff of the weekly magazine, "New Yorker."

Broadwater was graduated from Harvard university in June with highest academic honors. He is a son of Mrs. N. I. Broadwater and the late Doctor Broadwater, Alder street, Oakland.

Appeals to Oakland People to Support USO Drive for Funds

Chairman Believes Other Parts Of County Will Reach Quotas

A last minute appeal for Oakland people to support the United Service Organization campaign for funds, was voiced this morning by Charles L. Briner, Jr., county chairman.

The campaign is due to close on Friday, and Mr. Briner said that reports from several of the towns of the county indicated that they would go over the top on their quotas, but that contributions from Oakland were not numerous.

The county's quota is $2,660, divided as follows: Oakland $850, Friendsville $175, Mt. Lake Park $100, Bloomington $50, Deer Park $50, Swanton $25, Kitzmiller $300, Grantsville $300, Kempton $350, Crellin $100, Accident $100, Vindex $150, Shallmar $200.

Mr. Briner said that several ladies were making a house to house canvass this week and asked that people cooperate with them. Contributions may also be made to Cecil Smith, treasurer, at the First National Bank.

Funds actually received by Mr. Smith total $387.00; $186.75 from Oakland, $113.50 from Kitzmiller, and $86.75 from Grantsville.

Police Discover "Spy Suspect" Is Only Vacationer

Stranger Questioned At Deep Creek Lake Revealed As A Research Chemist

A veteran chemist for a Philadelphia drug company was cleared of being a "suspected spy" over the past week-end and still retains his place as just a plain "vacationer."

Several days previous both the Maryland and West Virginia State police received reports that a man who spoke with a pronounced accent, took various photographs and carried a book written in German, was traveling in the Deep Creek area and at Mount Storm, West Va., and nearby West Virginia points.

State police finally located the man on Saturday at a Deep Creek Lake inn. The man was Abraham I. Koppleman, 59 years old, wore glasses and had a mustache, and seemed to be impressive in his appearance, according to George M. Browning, Maryland State trooper.

Browning said the man was seemingly surprised at being accosted by law enforcement officers but took the whole affair "very nicely."

Being brought to Oakland the man informed the officers that he was a research chemist for the Abbott Drug Company of Philadelphia, and that he was vacationing in the mountains. His story checked with information received from Philadelphia.

Besides being a chemist, Mr. Koppleman exhibited credentials which proved his identity not only as a respected professional man but in addition he formerly was editor of a magazine dealing with chemical research.

Corporal Thomas Currie, who aided in the investigation, said Mr. Koppleman was a native of Odessa, Russsia. Troopers Davis, Karickoff and Kelley, of the West Virginia State police, also assisted in the investigation.

Former Pastor Here Accepts New Charge

Rev. David M. Funk, for fourteen years pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church in Newport, Ky., has resigned to become pastor of Grace Lutheran church in Muscatine, Iowa, effective August 1.

During his pastorate in Newport, Rev. Funk built up the church membership with a program of evangelism until today it is considered one of the strongest Lutheran churches in the Greater Cincinnati area.

Rev. Funk, his wife and two children, will move to that city in the near future. Rev. Funk was a former pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland. Mrs. Funk is the daughter of Mrs. John O. Thayer, of Oakland.

Lions Club Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club this week W. Bruce Macnamee, director of the U. S. travel bureau, Washington, was the principal speaker. Other guests were L. M. Fraley and W. R. Offutt.

The club voted to obtain a white cane for Frank Butler, that being one of the club's chief interests, looking after the blind.

LAD DROWNS IN DAM AT NEW GERMANY TUESDAY

Eugene Irasek, Seven Years Old, Of Bethesda, Falls Into Water; Efforts to Revive Him Fail

Camping with his family in the New Germany recreation area since Sunday, Eugene Harold Irasek, Jr., seven years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Irasek, of Bethesda, drowned on Tuesday morning at 10:55 o'clock when he fell into the New Germany dam while walking with his mother and two sisters.

The body was recovered from the water by William Martin, 16, son of M. E. Martin, director of the recreation area. Trooper G. S. Dunlap, of the Maryland State Police, vacationing at New Germany, began to apply artificial respiration as soon as the child was brought from the water and also had word sent to the State Police barracks in LaVale. Trooper J. S. White arrived an hour later with the resuscitator from Cumberland which they used until the oxygen ran out an hour and a half later.

Dunlap and White then continued to apply artificial respiration for four more hours. Mrs. John McCormick, Baltimore, a nurse, assisted the police. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner pronounced the boy dead and said no inquest would be necessary.

The Irasek family had been camping at New Germany since Sunday. Police said Mrs. Irasek told them that she and Eugene and two young daughters left the cabin a short time before and were walking along the bank of the dam. She said the child and his young sister were playing along the bank as they walked and she had not noticed that they had fallen back some distance until her daughter informed her that Eugene had fallen into the water.

Martin, who was working a short distance away with his son, was notified and the Martin boy began diving immediately for the child. The body was not in the water for more than five minutes, it was said.

Thirty-Five Persons Get Tire Certificates

Certificates for 29 truck and 1 passenger tires, 28 truck and 2 passenger tubes, 38 truck retreads and 8 obsolete tires were obtained this week from the ration board by thirty-five persons.

Those getting truck rubber were Pauline A. Frazee, Monroe D. Yoder, Joseph Craver, Nelson Brenneman, Bruce Harvey, Lee Ludwig, Paul Matthews, Richard Coddington, Charles O. Wolf, Albert Camp, Morgan Fike, Emroy D. Bolden, Thomas Wilson, Sr., Stanley Coal Company, Morris E. Beachy, William A. Johnson, Savage and Sanders, Helen Friend Barr, Joseph DeWitt, Penn Electric Company, Ezra Hobart Bishoff, George W. Beckman, Charles Pattison, Frederick B. Glotfelty, Earl T. Glotfelty, Earl H. Ault, Paul Glotfelty, Noah Frazee, Piercy V. Durst.

Fred Richter and Jason Wilburn received rubber for passenger cars, and Amos Martin, Murrell C. McKenzie, Clarence Fulk and Fred Richter the obsolete tires.

REGISTRATION FOR SUGAR TO CONTINUE NEXT WEEK

The War Price and Rationing Board will continue registrations for canning sugar on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 27, 28 and 29. No further applications will be received, except by mail, until further notice, it was stated this morning by James A. Towler, of the ration office in Oakland.

Those persons who have received a part of their allotment for the season may, as before announced, write to the ration office for the balance due them, stating the amount previously received, and a certificate will be mailed to them for the balance of their allotments.

A letter or postal card will be sufficient.

War ration stamp No. 5 will be good for sugar until closing time on Saturday, July 25. Stamp No. 6 will be good for two pounds from July 26 through August 22. Stamp No. 7 is good for an extra two pounds until August 22.

To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Alexander, of Accident, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, July 25, at their home.

There will be "open house" from two until eight o'clock and all friends and relatives are being invited.

Response of Red Cross Volunteers Is Not Sufficient

Because there was not enough response to the appeal last week for volunteer Red Cross workers to help in making the large number of surgical dressings, Mrs. Willard S. Elliott, chairman of this particular work, has asked that anyone desiring to help in this project call her at 114-J.

Working hours will be from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m., and those offering their services are asked to state on what days or evenings they can work.

It is necessary that the local chapter make 36,000 surgical dressings for the National Red Cross headquarters, and this will require over 400 hours of work each week from August to December 31, it was stated.

Advises on Filing Date, Vacancies And Withdrawals

Boards of Supervisors of Elections have been notified by the attorney general that certificates of candidacy for all offices must be filed no later than tomorrow, Friday, July 24, and that August 8 was the last date on which candidates may withdraw.

They also received instruction that State Central Committees of their respective parties have until August 22 to fill vacancies.

The information was released to the boards because it was stated that many inquiries had been received seeking answers to those questions.

The Attorney General declared he was anxious that "no prospective candidate be deprived of an opportunity to file through lack of knowledge regarding the change effected by the Absentee Voting Law."

Absentee Voting

All Maryland soldiers, sailors, marines and army nurses desiring to vote in the primary election must apply in writing for a ballot to the board of supervisors of elections in their own county any time between July 24 and September 1, and such application must contain the full name and place of residence from which applicant is registered, the address to which the ballot is to be mailed to him or her, and the position or rank held by applicant in military or naval service.

Qualified voter will be mailed a ballot, together with two envelopes and a card of instructions. The return envelope is addressed to the secretary of state, has printed on it a certificate to be signed by the voter, together with a witness's certificate. The latter certificate must be signed by a commissioned officer.

The secretary of state opens all the return envelopes received by him not more than seven days after the election day, withdraws therefrom the ballot envelopes and transmits such ballot envelopes unopened, unchanged and unmarked in any way, in packages sealed by him, to the respective boards of supervisors of elections, from whom the return envelopes shall appear to have been sent, and on the tenth day after election day, the various boards of supervisors count and canvass such ballots.

Leo W. Rice Chosen in Jaycee Project This Week

The name of Leo W. "Pat" Rice was drawn yesterday by the Jaycees in continuing its "service man project." Rice's name will be posted in the three drug stores and at Hamill's where persons are asked to write him and leave some small and inexpensive gift sometime during the week.

The Jaycees say that the project is meeting with a lot of response from the citizens, and urge continuance of their interest.

Rice is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rice, Oakland. He is in the signal corps and is stationed at Camp Quiade, San Jose, Cal. He has just been promoted to the rank of corporal.

"Pat" was graduated from Oakland High school and Frostburg State Teachers college where he was known for his activities in sports, especially in basketball. He taught for a short while in the schools of the county.

Jaycees said that William C. Smith, whose name was drawn last week, had received quite a few notes and gifts which would be mailed to him at Camp Gordon, La.

CANDIDATES IN RUSH TO FILE AS DEADLINE NEARS

Total of Twenty-Five Have Now Filed With Election Board Clerk; Deadline Is Tomorrow

A scramble among political candidates was evidenced this week as the deadline for filing rapidly approached. Only the balance of today and all day tomorrow remain when aspirants may file for office with the clerk of the Election Board, A. Leo Helbig.

Five candidates are making public their announcement in The Republican in today's issue, while a number of others have actually filed with the clerk but have not made public announcement through these columns. A total of twenty-five have their candidacy on record with Mr. Helbig.

John W. Herman, of district No. 5, near Accident, announced his candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Herman was elected County Commissioner in 1934 along with Virgil T. Steyer and G. Blaine Giessman, and conducted the affairs of the office with satisfaction during his four-year term. He pledges in his announcement that if nominated and elected he will execute his duties with fairness to all and with economy in all departments.

Frank Callis, a judge of the Orphans' Court for the past seven years announced this week that he was a candidate for re-election, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

Mr. Callis is a farmer of the Flatwoods section of the county, district No. 5, and states that he feels better qualified with his experience than he did when he appeared before the voters in previous elections.

Since his election and re-election he has been a faithful member of the Orphans' court and has discharged his duties with credit, according to those who are familiar with his activities.

Two persons have announced for sheriff, Mark H. Moon, of district No. 16, and Floyd C. Stahl, of district 14. Mr. Moon has been a lifelong resident of this county and in recent years was engaged in the trucking business until accepting the position as constable last February. During the past few days he has been acting as deputy sheriff during the absence of J. W. Owens. Mr. Moon has always been a staunch Republican. He was a candidate for the same office eight years ago, and was fifth among a field of twelve candidates for the Republican nomination.

Mr. Stahl has been in business in Oakland for the past thirty-five years and has never before sought public office, although he has served as an election official for a number of years.

J. Edward Helbig, Deer Park, makes public his announcement as a candidate for county treasurer, subject to the Republican primary election. Mr. Helbig is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Helbig, Oakland, and has been in the grocery business in Deer Park for the past several years, where also he has been engaged in farming. He has served as treasurer for the town of Deer Park.

Candidates Filing

Those on record with A. Leo Helbig, clerk of the Election Board include the following, all Republican unless otherwise stated:

State Senate—Dr. C. Oscar Hall, Democrat; Bernard I. Gonder, Democrat.

Clerk of Court—A. G. Ross.

Chief Judge—D. Lindley Sloan.

Associate Judge—Joseph D. Mish, Democrat; Leo H. Miller, Ellsworth Roulette.

Sheriff—Theodore Sines, James A. Cover, George E. Coddington, Mark H. Moon, James W. Mitchell, Democrat, withdrew his advertisement this week.

County Commissioners—James A. Savage, Jonas W. Sines, John W. Herman.

House of Delegates—Jasper C. Myers, Otho S. Fike, Nelson Brenneman.

Treasurer—J. Edward Helbig.

State's Attorney—Neil C. Fraley.

Judge Orphans' Court—T. E. Bishoff, E. Calvin Cuppett, Frank Callis.

Register of Wills — Vernie R. Smouse.

Democratic State Central Committee—Grover C. Stemple.

Delegate to Democratic Convention—William Miller.

A number of others are expected to file before tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Glenn Hoffman, College Park, arrived in Oakland yesterday evening to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. Edith Schlossnagel.

NOAH: GOD'S COVENANT WITH MANKIND

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 9:1-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—I will remember my covenant.—Genesis 9:15.

God does not forget. He keeps His promises now just as He did in the days of Noah. Since our lesson of last Sunday, a long period of time had elapsed. Generation after generation had come and gone, and all the while man grew more and more wicked. Finally, God saw that He must put an end to the corruption of the human race, saving just one righteous family, that of Noah, with which to begin anew.

He warned Noah of the judgment of the flood, and he in turn doubtless warned others, but finally the day came when God shut him in the ark and poured forth the waters of judgment upon the then inhabited earth. But the same God who shut Noah in (Gen. 7:1), in due time called him out (Gen. 8:15, 16).

Noah had obeyed God, and He now rewarded him. The man who had borne the ridicule was now honored by Him. The experience of Noah brings before us—

God's Three Gifts to a Believing Man:

I. Power (vv. 1-4).

Man is the "lord of creation," not because he has brought about its subjection, but because God gave him that power. It was first given to Adam (Gen. 1:26), and it is renewed here, with the additional promise of the animal as food. This was not to be, however, after the manner of wild beasts (v. 4).

No man ever lost anything by obeying the commands of God, even though appearances may seem to so indicate. The ridicule of those who called Noah foolish for obeying God, had now been silenced by the judgment of the flood, and he stood forth vindicated, empowered by God, with authority over the whole earth.

Faith is still the victory. Men who put their hopes in the kings and empires of this earth have seen them "rise and wane," and even unbelievers are beginning to talk about the necessity of a spiritual anchorage for the souls of men. It is found only in Christ, but in Him is found both peace and power for victorious living.

But we see a second gift of God—

II. Protection (vv. 5-7).

Human life is not as cheap as men would have us think. Their estimate based on greed and lust for power makes man but a unit in a machine designed to build up political power. The blood of those who are not profitable to such an enterprise, is shed in utter callousness.

Those who do such things, need to read the words of God, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man" (v. 6). What a tremendous bill some men will have to pay when they stand before the seat of judgment of our God. Even the animals who kill men are to be slain (v. 5). How much greater shall be the condemnation of the man who violates God's command.

But we see a third gift of God, designed to remove a deep fear from his heart, namely God's—

III. Promise (vv. 8-16).

God made a covenant with Noah and with his descendants and every living creature (vv. 9, 10). This is the third of God's eight covenants with man, beginning with the one to Adam in the Garden of Eden (Gen. 1:28), and closing with the new covenant (Heb. 8:8).

This was a promise of God's grace that there should be no more judgment by flood, and as a sign He chose the rainbow, which, appearing in the very time when rain should fall, would reassure men that a new flood was not coming upon them. What a beautiful symbol!

"I will remember," said God, and He has not forgotten. Though thousands of years have passed, there has never since been such a cataclysm of judgment. How unspeakably precious it is to recall that God has not forgotten a single one of us; that He remembers every promise He has ever made; that He keeps every covenant. And on the contrary, how disturbing it must be to the unbeliever to realize that God has not forgotten his sin and unbelief, nor the judgment which is sure to come.

The story of Noah should stimulate our faith, causing us to trust God, to obey His every command, and to look to Him for His power in our lives, His protection over us, His promise of grace to all who believe.

Faithful in Small Things

Duty, be it in a small matter or a great, is duty still, the command of Heaven, the eldest voice of God; and it is only they who are faithful in a few things who will be faithful over many things. Only they who do their duty in everyday matters will fulfill them on great occasions. —Charles Kingsley.

PEACHES—A VICTORY FOOD SPECIAL

Peaches are being featured as a Victory Food Special by retailers in all parts of the country in a merchandizing drive scheduled for the period of July 16 to August 5, when total supplies on consumer markets will be at their peak.

Store advertising and special displays during the sale period will focus consumer attention on the abundance of peaches available this season. In featuring them as a Victory Food Special, the nation's food merchants are cooperating with the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in its program for conserving food and broadening market outlets for producers of crops in seasonally heavy supply.

Quantities of peaches on consumer markets during the period July 16 to August 5 will be large during the first week of the period, increasing in volume in the last two weeks. Heaviest shipments will come from Georgia slightly after the middle of July. Carolina and Arkansas peaches will come into markets in greatest volume during the latter part of July and early August. California peaches will be plentiful in markets during July and August. Later shipping areas in northern parts of the country will be the principal sources of peaches in August and September.

For the country as a whole, this year's production of peaches, exclusive of California clingstones which are used mostly for commercial canning, is about 50,000,000 bushels, a fourth greater than average, although somewhat smaller than last year's bumper crop. Production in the ten southern early peach growing states is estimated at about 21,900,000 bushels, which is about 51 per cent above average. For other parts of the country, the peach crop is estimated at over 27,900,000 bushels, or 11 per cent above average.

Standing on its merits as a dessert fruit, the peach has been popular longer than men can remember. Before history books began, man was eating peaches fresh out of hand.

With many a bite of peach goodness in store this summer, homemakers may want to check up on some of the vital statistics of the peach.

If you want dietetic justification for eating melt-in-the-mouth peaches, here it is from the Bureau of Home Economics.

Peaches are good sources of vitamin A, especially the yellow peaches. Many of the yellow-fleshed varieties rate excellent in this respect. Peaches also contain vitamin C, vitamin B1 and a little vitamin G or riboflavin.

Remember when you go shopping that the peach is the gay deceiver of the fruit world. So never pass snap judgment on peaches when you look them over to buy, advise the expert fruit graders. A peach with a rosy blush may be a thing of beauty, but it's not necessarily a ripe peach unless the back-ground color has also changed from its original green to whitish or yellowish.

Good peaches should be fairly firm. This is evident from the appearance of the fruit, or from examining one or two of the lot. It's not good shopping etiquette to pinch every peach. Each pinch means another bruise.

It's hard to beat peaches raw—either with or without cream. That's the way to eat them to get full benefit of their vitamin content.

Make peach pie, after the fashion of apple pie. Make it covered or uncovered, or with crisscross strips of pastry for the top crust.

In salads, combine peaches with other fresh fruits, nuts, or cottage cheese. Cut peaches in uniform crescent shapes and combine with other fruits in fruit cups.

Canned peaches are always a popular favorite. To prepare peaches for canning, immerse them in boiling water for about one-half minute or until the skins will slip easily, plunge at once into cold water for a few seconds, remove the skins, cut the fruit into halves and discard the pits.

Peaches may be packed raw, but a better pack is obtained if they are precooked for a few minutes. Precooking brings out juice which is usually sufficient to cover the fruit. The juice is extracted more readily from sliced peaches than from halves. If peaches are juicy, heat slowly to boiling point adding sugar to sweeten to taste and to help draw out juice. Be careful not to cook peaches until they are soft.

If peaches are of less juicy varieties, a sirup may be prepared and the peaches then may be precooked like juicy fruit, but in the sirup. To make a thin sugar sirup, boil together 5 cups of sugar and one gallon of water for about five minutes. Remove any scum on top.

Pack precooked peaches quickly and have glass containers hot before packing. Sliced fruit takes up less jar space. If the fruit is cut in halves, place them pit side down in overlapping layers. Cover the peaches with boiling hot juice or sirup in which they were precooked. If necessary, add a little boiling hot water, since fruit must be covered by liquid.

Adjust caps to partly seal the jars and process precooked peaches in boiling water (212 degrees F) for 15 minutes. Complete the seal at once when jars are removed from the water bath.

If peaches are packed raw, cover with hot sirup and partly seal the jars. Process in boiling water for 25 minutes if the peaches are soft, or 35 if firm. Complete the seal at once.

Sugar rationing need not interfere with canning peaches. The small amount of sugar ordinarily used is not needed to keep canned fruit from spoiling, but the sugar does help to hold a fruits flavor and color. Fruits for diabetic diets are commonly canned without sugar. If there is abundant fruit that might go to waste for want of sugar on hand, some may be canned without sugar and sweetened to taste when opened, using sugar from the family's current supply. When sugar is omitted, can juicy fruits in their own juices. The less juicy fruits canned without sugar require the addition of water. Use as little water as possible to preserve the natural fruit flavor.

RESOLUTIONS GOVERNING THE DEEP CREEK BAPTIST CEMETERY

Inasmuch as the trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church have now been chosen as the custodians, forever, for the Deep Creek Baptist Cemetery, formerly known as the Thayerville Cemetery, as delivered to said trustees, by deed from one Jonas Glotfelty, made on the 8th day of May, 1940, certain rules and regulations will be necessary for its proper maintenance and management; therefore:

Be it Resolved, That from the adoption of these revised resolutions by the Deep Creek Baptist Church and its trustees, the following rules and regulations are in force, the original resolutions having been adopted by the Deep Creek Baptist Church, in regular business session, May 31, 1940:

1. The management, care and upkeep of the Deep Creek Baptist Cemetery will be arranged by the trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church. All action shall be by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees of the Deep Creek Baptist Church.

3. Those who have already buried in the cemetery or have obtained lots, but do not have writings showing their ownership of the ground, will be given consideration as to their claim, provided said claims are made by July 30, 1942.

4. All surplus ground will be properly staked, all stakes to be kept level with the ground, and offered for sale at ten cents per square foot to those desiring to bury in the cemetery.

More Handouts

Paul Mallon, daily newspaper columnist, disclosed the other day the New Deal government's plan to sprinkle money throughout the nation just the day before election day.

That is stooping to politics in one of its low forms and comes from the same group that asked for a united nation, free from politics, so the winning of the war would be the first job at hand.

It was that same political organization that two years ago had it arranged so that conservation checks to millions of farmers were handed out just prior to election, in an attempt to influence the votes of a free people.

On November 2 Mr. Mallon says around 325 million dollars of heldup allowances will be shoveled out of the clouds in payments to wives, children and fathers and mothers, who are dependents of men in the armed services. No payments are to be made until then.

Mallon says the War department declared it never heard of the election on November 3, but that bookkeeping and investigation will delay the preparation of checks until precisely that moment from June 1. Lump sum payments of five months' arrears just before voters go to the polls to elect a new Congress!

The dependents are assumed to be needy, else payments would not be made. So how they will live from June to Election time is not known, and apparently those in authority don't care as much about that as timing the release of the money when it might affect a person's vote.

If the people realize the danger of such an attempt, it ought to have an opposite effect from what those in power want.

It's difficult to remain unified under such circumstances and yet we are at war and that war must be won, even if we have to do it in spite of low forms of politics of those in high offices.

We can look back to the faith of forefathers and find the strength necessary to carry this war to a successful conclusion. Remember, we're fighting for free democracies all over the world. We can't free the world and enslave ourselves. We'll be doing the latter unless we get more honesty in our government officials, from the highest office on down.

* * *

Justified confidence in our elected officials would boost our morale a lot.

People are leary of many things that are done in the name of patriotism. During the rubber drive, a farmer came to The Republican and asked where he might take some scrap. "I got a truck load of old rubber but I don't want to turn it over to anyone who will speculate with it."

That's the sentiment of millions of people. They want to help in the war effort, but they don't want to get gypped. They'd appreciate some confidence.

The Perfect Refusal

Getty Browning, former Garrett countian, now of Raleigh, N. C., has sent us a copy of the perfect rejection slip which many budding manuscript writers wouldn't mind getting from editors of magazines, who refuse their copy.

The "perfect refusal" is said to be the product of a Chinese editor.

"We have read thy manuscript," says the rejection, "with infinite delight. By the sacred ashes of our ancestors, we swear that never have we revelled in so enthralling a masterpiece. If we printed it we should henceforth be obliged to take it as a model, as a standard of quality and achievement, and henceforth never print anything inferior to it.

"As it would be impossible to find its equal in 10,000 years and we have to go to press with our poor uninspired paper once a day, we are compelled though shaken with sorrow and blinded with tears at the necessity, to return thy divine manuscript and for doing so we ask a thousand humble pardons."

Maybe The Republican could use such a slip to send to those who send us poems, in memoriams and articles of other description that the editors find cannot be used.

Such a rejection would be bound to let one down easy.

Heavy damage to Brazil's coffee crop was reported from a cold wave there, bringing the lowest temperatures in twenty-five winters to the southern states of that country.

M. M. Neely, West Virginia governor, has filed for the U. S. Senate, a post he quit in 1941 to take over the State government, and will oppose ex-governor H. M. Kump.

NON-SUPPORT

Washington, July 18.

There is a vast outcry about the wickedeness of Congress in not giving Mr. Leon Henderson the money he says he needs to do the very vital job of preventing an inflationary upsurge in the cost of living. Members of Congress are being pounded by the press all over the country. And, perhaps, they deserve it.

* * *

Nevertheless, the truth is that if Mr. Henderson were given the full two hundred million for which he asked, under existing conditions, he still could not do the job. What he needs more than money is Presidential support. Without that he is helpless and he knows it. He has courage enough to pillory Congress for its failure to cooperate in the anti-inflation-fight, but, apparently, he lacks the courage to indict Mr. Roosevelt for his failure, which is easy to understand. That would mean his resignation and Mr. Henderson does not want to resign.

* * *

Because we are at war and Mr. Roosevelt is our Commander in Chief there is a natural reluctance openly to criticize him. For one thing, if only as a matter of self-interest, every clear-headed man wants to uphold his conduct of the war and is anxious that his healh and strength be preserved. For another, now as in the past, the chief result of criticism seems to be to stimulate the silly "They Have Roosevelt" chorus with which the radical press and the New Deal jobholders habitually meet every dissenting view no matter how well justified.

* * *

But the meance to the country of this situation is so great that there is no excuse for not speaking plainly. A leading newspaper put it politely the other day when it declared that "The Administration is not giving courageous support to its own program." That is true so far as it goes but it is an inadequate and not candid presentation. It is confusing and evasive to say "administration" when you mean Mr. Roosevelt, who is the administration and personally responsible. Also, it is inadequate to say that he is not giving courageous support to his own program when he is not giving any support.

* * *

It was belatedly agreed by the President four months ago that among the things essential to any real control of prices were a ceiling over wages and a taxation program that will diminish the amount of money the people have to spend. These two were outstanding in his seven-point anti-inflation program. Yet, he has done nothing to implement either. It is now asserted that he intends to act "shortly," that in a few days he will send a message to Congress urging legislation to "stabilize wages." So far, wages have been stabilized by merely raising them and the action of Mr. Roosevelt's War Labor Board in granting a forty-cent-a-day increase to the steel workers directly conflicts with his public announcement that further wage increases must not be permitted. It is not surprising that the message is awaited with a skepticism justified by the lack of any previous White House effort to arrest the steady raises which have been bursting Mr. Henderson's price ceilings, right and left. As to taxation, the Treasury proposals, approved by the President, are concededly futile and feeble. By avoiding sales and withholding taxes and by making no fight for its own recommendations, such as wiping out the tax-exempt securities, it has left the inflationary gap wide open.

* * *

Failure of the President thus to measure up to his own words is no excuse for Congress to flinch from its clear obligations but it makes it less easy to blame it for so doing. When Congress realizes that an election conscious President is unwilling to take a firm stand against his scheming labor leader friends or to abandon New Deal demagoguery in his taxation policy, it is encouraged to resent the somewhat overbearing attitude of the garrulius Mr. Henderson. In view of the many incompetents with whom his machine is manned, it is not hard to understand Congressional reaction to the contention that Mr. Henderson has gotten a better grade of employes than if he had permitted members of Congress to make patronage recommendations. Nor with his record is it surprising that Congress should lack complete confidence in the soundness of Mr. Henderson's judgment or the nobility of his character.

* * *

But whether Mr. Henderson's course in the patronage business has been good or bad and whether Congress is being petty and political in its treatment of his requests are secondary consideration. The fact remains that if he had a completely competent machine; if he were a man of the soundest judgment and the most perfect tact, and if he were given every dollar for which he asks, without an adequate taxation program and real wage control, he still would be unable to keep the cost of living down. There is no room to deny that the reason these two essentials have not been achieved is because the President has not exerted himself to achieve them—though long ago he declared them indispensable.

Cooperative Patrons Plan Annual Sessions

Gatherings Scheduled for Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville

Patrons of Southern States Cooperative in the Accident, Friendsville, and Grantsville areas will hold their annual meetings this month.

The Accident get-together will take place in the local high school auditorium Friday evening, July 24, at 8 o'clock.

Ross Speicher of Accident will preside and present a program of business and entertainment, including special music by John Shoemaker and his Accident Concert band and group singing.

Successors will be named to Walter Harmon and Oscar G. Harmon, who are retiring from the Advisory board. Other members of the board are Lloyd E. Miller, Foster E. Yost, Howard B. Schlossnagle, and Clarence F. Kolb, Accident.

Friendsville High school will be the scene of the Friendsville meeting Monday evening, July 27, at 8 o'clock. J. Arthur DeWitt will preside. Special music by the Accident Concert band, group singing, and a report on the local cooperative program by C. O. Ross will be some of the features of this annual affair.

An election will fill the vacancies on the local advisory board caused by the retirement of Hobert Bishoff and W. J. Frantz of Friendsville. The other members of the board are Glenn D. Frazee, Staunton R. Friend, and Roy W. Umbel, Selbysport, and Orval G. Rush of Friendsville.

J. A. Beachy of Grantsville will preside at the meeting to be held at Grantsville High school Wednesday evening, July 29, at 8 o'clock. The program will include reports by E. S. Duckworth and W. Harold Miller of Grantsville on the local cooperative program.

Four advisory board members will be elected to succeed E. F. McClintock, Somerfield, and J. A. Beachy, Elmer Schrock, and Norman Patton, Grantsville, who are retiring. Other board members in this section are Harry O. Miller, A. G. Reichenbecker, Ernest Bowser, Allen Baker, Paul Kinsinger, Eli Yoder, Harry Yommer, and Raymond Leochel, Grantsville.

At each of these meetings District Manager L. O. Brumback will review the annual report of Southern States and show the technicolor movie, "Grass Root Democracy at Work." There will also be refreshments, favors, and contests in which prizes will be awarded to winners.

Ladies of the Accident and Grantsville communities will compete for prizes in the Cake Baking contest, entries to be left with the Cake Receiving committees, headed by Mrs. Walter Harmon at Accident and by Mrs. W. Harold Miller in Grantsville, during the hour preceding the meetings. Prizes will be awarded during the evening.

Sixteen Park Residents Complete First Aid Course

Sixteen citizens of Mt. Lake Park successfully completed their Red Cross First Aid course which was given several weeks ago by Dr. R. R. Williams.

They include Mary Jane Gnegy, Robert C. Gnegy, Mrs. C. C. Gnegy, Mrs. Edward Kahl, Mrs. Mabel C. Brock, Joseph Kahl, Timothy Moon, Rev. H. O. Teagarden, Mrs. Harry White, Katherine Johnson, Thelma Steyer, Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan, Mrs. J. Timothy Moon, John Stevenson, Mrs. H. O. Teagarden, and Mrs. Clyde Shipley.

Certificates showing the successful completion of the course are being given out to those named and they are at present in the possession of Dr. C. Oscar Hall, mayor of the Park. Dr. Hall has requested these persons to call and get their cards.

Please Don't Call Washington unless you must!

WITH the war effort of 27 United Nations centered upon it, Washington is probably the busiest city in the world. It is fast outgrowing its physical limits—and its telephone facilities.

Since Pearl Harbor, long distance telephone calls in and out of Washington have increased from 68,000 a day to more than 101,000, or 50 per cent. Some of these calls, of vital importance, get caught in the rush.

Now, it is no longer possible to expand telephone facilities as in the past because critical materials are needed for the fighting fronts.

So we must ask you to cut down on every call you can to Washington and other busy cities across the country—so that the Army, Navy and the Government can have the right-of-way to get America's biggest job done.

If you must make a long distance call, won't you place it in the off-peak hours—

12 Noon to 2 P. M.

10 P. M. to 9 A. M.

ARE WE QUISLING?—

Are we quisling? It is the verb that is meant, not the noun.

We are quisling when we try to get around rationing, when we seek favors for ourselves, when we grumble and complain at the hardships of war. We are quisling when we neglect dimout precautions, when we boast of being able to get more than our share of restricted essentials when we waste rubber and gas on pleasure driving, when we hoard foodstuffs, when we offer more than the legal price for rationed goods, when we waste essentials.

The traitor, whose name will go down in history as synonymous with the thief-in-the-night or the stab-in-the-back, betrayed his countrymen to the invader. When we quisle we are betraying our armed forces all over the globe. We are sacrificing them for a moment's comfort, or for a smart aleck satisfaction in putting something over on someone.

Fortunately there are few among us who go in for intentional quisling. But, as a nation, we have put too much reliance on our material resources without a full realization of the necessity for using those resources for one end and one end only.

What if we do go without? It is our privilege as free men to sacrifice for the things in which we believe. If by so doing we succeed in defending our homes and our democratic way of life, we will again have those material comforts which we are giving up temporarily. If we do not win this war, then nothing we are now losing would be of any value to us. We will be slaves under the heel of a brutal tyrant.

Rationing is not an arbitrary mandate imposed on a few. It means share and share alike. Its success will depend not upon law enforcement officers but upon the individual response of individual Americans.

We are not quisling—and we will not! By our actions will we show that once again we can take it. Once again American public opinion is marshalled ready for sacrifice. As Leon Henderson said: "Government can do its best in a crisis of this kind, and still find that it is behind the procession of genuine public opinion. That is the genius of America. And that's what's going to lick the Axis!"

Some months ago this line was found in a mid-western paper:

"Where would the country be today if Daniel Boone, Lewis and Clarke, Simon Kenton and others like them had stayed home because they had no rubber tires?"

Are we quisling?

We are not!

LET'S GET BACK TO SCHOOL

An editorial in a recent issue of The Christian Science Monitor suggests that we all get back to school, in the text of the article following:

"And don't leave out Arizona and New Mexico," warns Miss Prim.

"No'm—Arizona and New Mexico."

"You see, Johnny, we can't go on being a great peaceful nation if we forget all about our new members."

That little scene might have occurred in any American schoolroom just after 1912. Miss Prim knew what she was talking about. She didn't mean that memorizing the names of States was all there was to peaceful living. But she sensed that those whose task it is to apply the techniques of peace over so vast an area as the United States would be aided or hindered by the knowledge which the people had of one another, and by the emotional attachments or animosities with which the people were embued. She knew that to work with children toward a feeling of unity was to help insure the future peace of hundreds of millions of grown-ups.

At one time or another in their lives, most Americans knew the names of all the forty-eight States. Those who cannot now run them off from memory still automatically recognize any State mentioned. They know it is one of that great family under the Stars and Stripes. They feel it to be their country.

Americans who learned these names back in 1912 might well become children again if they wish to extend the blessing of peace and freedom to other lands and so insure their own. For not many of them can name the members of the new community which is growing up around them today. There are 26 members of this family, which is called the United Nations. While there are differences of culture, language and political organization among them, they share fundamental concepts which set them apart from much of the rest of the world and stamp them a moral unit.

How many Americans, or people in other countries, can name the United Nations? How many who cannot do so are wondering what they might contribute to the making of lasting peace? Technical problems of organizing peace among the nations may be too complex for the ordinary person to understand in the time at his disposal. But the ability to recognize a friend is part of the equipment for peacemaking.

When we of all nations recognize our interdependence as Americans learned to recognize the interdependence of the States, the making of a durable peace will be a simpler task for the experts.

AN ENEMY WITHIN—

While America fights visible enemies on the seven seas, it must gird itself for a determined struggle with an invisible foe on the domestic front. That foe is inflation. Its insidious advance, starting innocently enough in minor price increases, has become apparent in public complaints over ever higher prices.

The threat becomes more imminent as war compels the amount of civilian goods to shrink and the supply of money to expand. The problem has been graphically presented by Harry Scherman in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post under the title "Invisible Greenbacks."

His thesis is that unless the American people, in addition to paying heavy taxes, buy War Bonds to their utmost ability and so furnish the Treasury with funds for war, the Government will have to create new money to pay the war bills. This it would do by selling its securities to the Nation's commercial banks, who in turn pay for them by giving the Treasury credit in the form of a bank deposit on their books. The checks drawn on these deposits represent, as Mr. Scherman puts it, "invisible greenbacks," used to pay for airplanes, guns and ships. A flood of this new money can lead to "unimaginable disaster," because it seeks outlet in the purchase of a diminishing amount of consumable goods. The arithmetic is incontrovertible: Much more money divided by far less goods equals sky-soaring prices.

Not since their establishment as a Nation have the American people experienced inflation of a nature to imperil their economy. They have altered their course whenever innate good judgment showed the presence of danger. Today both patriotism and common sense urge every true American to do his own siphoning of surplus spending power into the general reservoir of the nation's credit. The purchase of War Bonds to the limit of capacity is the prime means of barring the way to this peril.

Espionage, Sabotage And Possible Sneak Air Raids Are Three Of The Most Important Things People Of This Section Are To Guard Against, According To One Who Has Attended a FBI School Of Instruction.

To the Editor of The Republican.

Those of us who recently attended the FBI school of instruction received a lot of interesting and very beneficial instructive information.

For the benefit of the public I would like to mention briefly a few things which were not confidential.

Espionage, sabotage and possible sneak air raids are three of the most important things for us in this section to guard against.

Espionage is learning and forwarding to the enemy any information that may be useful to them in their war against us. The best way to combat it is to keep your eyes and ears open and your mouth shut in the presence of strangers or questionable people.

Sabotage is damaging or destroying important and valuable property, such as bridges, power houses, factories and railroads. Everyone watching for and reporting the acts of loiterers and suspicious people will help keep sabotage under control.

Law enforcement officers are the most needed public officials. Help and cooperate with them at all times.

The various civilian defense organizations were formed for the protection of the lives and property of you and your families.

The least that you and I, as good American citizens can do, is to cooperate with and help them at every opportunity.

The purpose of blackouts is to deprive enemy airmen of all reference which might aid them in making an air attack on military positions or bases, bridges, factories, transportation facilities, stores and the civilian population.

Remember, just a light or two during an air raid may be enough to give the enemy airmen the reference he needs to find his target or blow up your town.

Friendsville, July 3, 1942.

Captain Charles E. Hoye, Although Urged by Friends, Declines to Become a Senatorial Candidate, Giving His Reasons Therefor.

To the Editor of The Republican:—

A few friends have suggested that I become a candidate for State Senator.

During three previous wars I have served in the armed forces of the United States. I am now sixty-five years of age and not eligible for combat service.

I would like to serve my county and State in the Senate, but I have concluded that I can probably be of more service by sticking to my history books, my woodyard and garden, than by entering an arduous and doubtful political campaign. Were there clear-cut issues at stake I would be willing to enter the contest: I enjoy a fight for principles.

We are all out to win this war.

But, while we send our young men across the water to save democracy in foreign lands, let us be on guard that we do not lose its spirit at home.

Finally, this thought from a recent editorial in the Baltimore Sun, referring to members of the next General Assembly:

"The members elected this year will serve four years. During those years the war will end and all the great tasks of political, social and economic restoration will be upon us."

Very sincerely yours,
CHARLES E. HOYE.

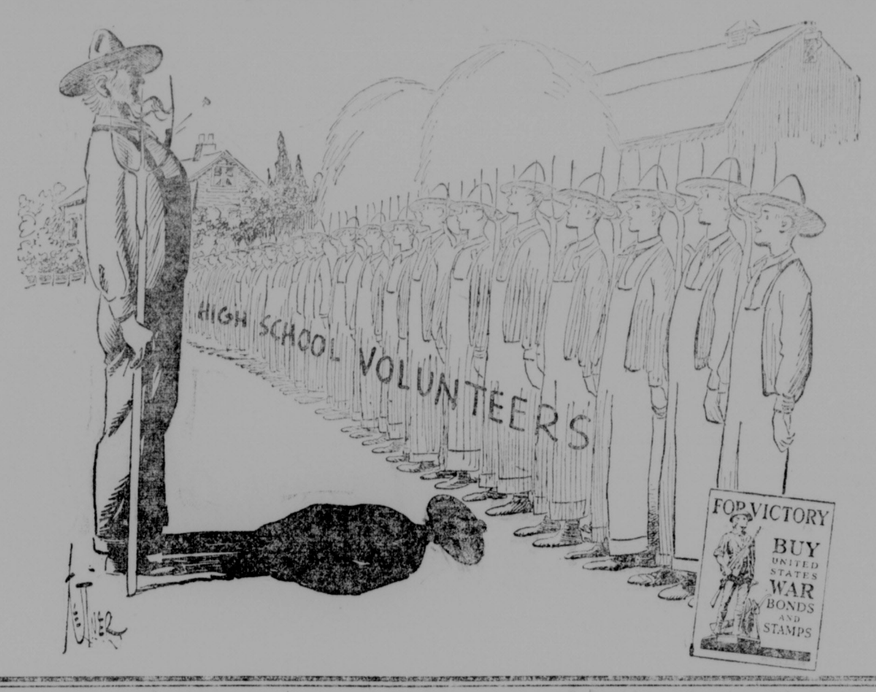
At Your Service, Uncle



DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY — A major battle of armored forces was in progress in Egypt, with possible decisive results. Cargo-carrying subs were supplying U-boats preying on American shipping. Reds claimed to have wrested initiative from Germans in some sectors of the Voronezh battlefront. Reds placed German losses at a million. Navy revealed U-boats sank three more ships. British bombers were over northwest Germany. Anti-Axis people in Argentina demonstrated noisily for democracy at the funeral of their president.

SATURDAY — Germans claimed capture of Voroshilovgrad, center of coal-coke basin, while Nazi columns plunged deeper toward lower Don and Stalingrad. Reds denied German claim they had cut Stalingrad railway but declared retreating Red armies were leaving fields choked with bodies of German dead. At Voronezh the Reds were holding. A full-scale battle in Egypt had produced no gains for Rommel. British forces pushed slightly westward. RAF turned to sharp short twilight raids on Baltic U-boat nests. In Pacific sector U. S. bombers raided Hankow. A review of situation in Aleutians showed no material change except that army flyers recently bombed Jap shore installations on Kiska island. Arrival of war supplies for China over newly-opened 2,800 mile road from Russia was announced in Chungking.

SUNDAY—U. S. bombers joined Russia against advance of million Germans, but were flown by Russians. Germans moved through waist-high fields of ripening grain. Reds struck against Nazis around Voronezh. There was grave peril to Rostov. British naval planes attacked the Axis base at Matruh and fired Rommel's oil supplies. American airmen pounded the Axis supply ports in north Arican battle. Civilian and army training flying was banned along east coast area. Serb Guerillas were threatening the Nazi oil supply line along Danube. There were disturbances in Nazi-occupied countries.

MONDAY—Chinese made a smashing comeback against Jap drives, recapturing seaports of Wenchow and Juian and retaking portion of Kiangsi railway. Japs suffered heavy losses. Reds charged French merchant ships were taking reinforcements and supplies to Rommel in Egypt. British bombers pounded Nazi targets in France. They disclosed encountering new type of anti-aircraft fire. British advanced in three battle areas along Egyptian front. Russian troops evacuated Voroshilovgrad but Reds were gaining ground at Voronezh and were slowing up another Nazi drive in the south. Three destroyers were launched at Kearney, N. J.

TUESDAY — Russian southern armies rallied along a Rostov-Stalingrad line after a ten-day retreat. Russians were back across the Don at one point near Voronezh and were attempting to trap big German forces. In Africa British had improved their position on desert ridges 80 miles west of Alexandria, had captured 4,000 prisoners. Rommel's Mediterranean supply ports were again hit. Tobruk by U. S. army bombers and Matruh by guns of British warships. RAF planes raided German U-boat works at Vegesack and swept over northern France. Nazi-held continent was being hit on both sides by Americans and Russians. In China American flyers caught 60 Jap planes on a Canton airfield and also bombed an enemy base in Kiangsi. RAF planes harried Japs over western Burma.

WEDNESDAY — Creation of a limited diversion on European continent was being discussed by high British and American military, naval and air leaders. American subs sank three more Jap destroyers in Aleutian area. British planes and warships struck again at the Axis desert concentrations in Egypt destroying fifty planes on two airfields and pounding the port of Matruh to sap Rommel's supply lines. Nazis advanced on Rostov and Stalingrad but Russians declared German left flank at Voronezh was under savage attack. Official reports showed 4,801 Americans killed since war started, with 36,124 missing. U. S. bombers were challenging Jap air power in China and sank two Jap vessels in port on Yangtze river. President Roosevelt named Admiral Leahy as his personal aide in prosecuting war.

THURSDAY — Navy announced bodies of 29 German U-boat crewmen were buried in Virginia with full military honors. Jap troops landed on north coast of Papua at Gona Mission where no Allied troops were stationed, according to report from MacArthur's headquarters in Australia. British were holding control of air over Egypt and a land attack was in progress. British were clamoring for a second front as hard-pressed Russians fell back to outer defenses of Rostov. A million Germans were storming the approaches to the caucasus and rich Volga section. The navy reported a mysterious new weapon upon which it will spend 30 million.

State Nutritionist Gives Suggestions For Picnic Lunches

Something Substantial And Filling Needed When Planning The Food

Here are some suggestions for picnic lunches from the nutritionist of the Maryland State Department of Health:

Fresh air and exercise can always be depended upon to increase the appetite, so be sure to include something substantial and filling when you are planning a picnic lunch.

"Something hot is always enjoyed and with a little planning can easily be prepared either at home or on one of the open air grills that are becoming more and more popular.

"For the hot food brought from home, try a steaming hot vegetable home made soup, or stew, well-seasoned and filled with fresh vegetables from your own garden. You can carry soup or stew in a thermos jug and you can be sure it will be enjoyed.

"Start with ground beef cakes, which can be shaped at home and cooked quickly over the grill, for your out-door cooked food. You can buy a portable grill at a very reasonable price or you can make your own. You can build one very easily for home use in your own back yard, from directions that you will be able to get in the nearest library.

"If you like to cook your food on sticks try a piece of American cheese wrapped around with a strip or two of bacon and toast over the fire. Let the bacon fat drip on to a toasted whole wheat roll during the cooking process. Take along some sound, ripe tomatoes and slice them on your toasted cheese sandwiches.

"Potato salad carries easily, but for a change try an appetizing combination vegetable salad. Any of your favorite combiniations of cucumbers, onions, green peppers, cabbage, carrots or whatever else is growing in your garden can be assembled at home and carried in a glass jar. The dressing can be placed in another jar and added just before serving.

"Vegetable sticks made from carrots, cucumbers and celery can be kept crisp and fresh by wrapping them in waxed paper. They will supply some extra vitamins and minerals. Hard-boiled eggs, left in the shell, are easy to carry and have a very special place as fillers.

"Be sure your drinking water comes from a tested spring or well. Thermos jugs are very useful for carrying milk or mixed fruit juices, or lemonade that is sweetened, of course, with syrup or honey.

"You will find some interesting suggestions as to appetizing fillers for sandwiches and other ideas for picnic lunches in a folder entitled 'The School Lunches' that is published by the Maryland State Health Department and that you can get by writing to your County Health Department."

U. S. is planning to build 1,000 four-motored bombers each month for RAF.

U. S. departments and agencies added 95,904 to the pay roll in May. The total for Civil Service commission is 2,066,873, highest in history.

AURORA-EGLON

Announcement has been made of the marriage, on June 24, of Miss Beulah Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans, of Horse Shoe Run, and Jimmie Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Myers, of Aurora.

On Friday, July 3, Miss Pauline Elsey, teacher of Lantz Ridge, became the bride of Robert Templeton, former instructor in Aurora high school. The couple resides at Rowlesburg, where Mr. Templeton will teach the coming term.

Mrs. A. W. Fike, of Eglon, spent the week-end with her daughter, Esther, who is a graduate nurse in Baltimore.

Mrs. John Harsh and daughter Ila, of Eglon, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dixon and little daughter, of Somerset, Pa., made a brief trip last week to Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Harsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Biser, who had been visiting for some time with their four sons and families, of near Dayton, returned to Eglon on Friday with them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Conn, of Mountain Top, went to Elkins Sunday, where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Evans, after which they went to Flemington and spent the night with Mr. Conn's mother, Mrs. Anna Hauser.

Because Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fike, of State Line Service station, became grandparents, they could not resist going to Bridgeton, N. J., Friday, to visit the little granddaughter and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Martin. Mrs. Martin is the Fike's only child, and this is the first grandchild. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Queen, of near Buckhannon, spent Friday night with her sister, Mrs. Ada Wotring, of near Aurora.

Gilmour Fike is ill at his home, near Eglon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fike and little son Bobbie, of Harrisburg, Pa., spent a few days the first of this week, visiting relatives and friends in this community. Mr. Fike is a son of the late Nathan K. Fike, and was formerly of Eglon. Mrs. Ray Beeghly, of Sunnyside is a sister.

A picnic dinner and celebration was held Sunday, July 19, at the homestead of the late Mr. and Mrs. David S. Wilt, at Amboy. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilt and family, who now own the property and reside there; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McElroy, of Fairmont; Claud Pullium, of Keyser; Malcolm Wilt, of Clarksburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wilt and family, of near Eglon; Mrs. Florence Calhoun, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Calhoun and family, all of Amboy.

Misses Dorothy Lee and Helen Wilt accompanied Mr. and Mrs. McElroy to Fairmont for a short visit.

Word was received here that George Arnold, of Horse Shoe Run, and Germania, who has been stationed with the U. S. naval force at New Orleans, La., has been transferred to New York.

Mrs. Erma Auvil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harsh, of Stemple Ridge, left Sunday evening, July 12, for San Angelo, Texas, where her husband, John E. Auvil is stationed with the U. S. army. Mrs. Auvil hopes to secure employment there and remain indefinitely.

Mrs. Gertrude Snyder, Mrs. Sylvia Parrack and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Harsh and little son, all of Eglon, went to Terra Alta, Sunday, where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Paul Fike and two little boys, who had been visiting relatives in this community, were accompanied to their home at Uniontown, Pa., Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowman, of near Brookside.

Sergt. Clarence Sell, who has been stationed at Fort Knox, has a ten-day leave of absence, and came Wednesday, to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sell, Horse Shoe Run.

Mrs. Harry Evans, of near Eglon, went to an Elkins hospital Monday, where she remains a medical patient.

Mrs. Thurman Selders returned Sunday, to her home near Brookside from the Philippi hospital, where she had been a surgical patient. Her sister, Hilda, of Mt. Lake Park, spent the first of the week in the Selders' home.

Mrs. Cora Harsh, of Eglon, went to Terra Alta Sunday, where she visited an aunt, Mrs. Lettie Bucklew, who is critically ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blamble, of Germania, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Feather, of near Eglon. Mrs. Blamble is a sister to Mr. Feather.

Mrs. Pauline Glaze and little daughter, of Oakland, made a short visit last week at the home of Mrs. Glaze's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wotring, Aurora.

President Roosevelt said it might become necessary to requisition all the automobile tires in the country if wartime conditions grow more acute.

In curtailing consumption of water in Norfolk, Va., its citizens are asked to take fewer baths.

Frederick county's health officer declared there were too many pigpens in the city limits and that he intended to do something about it.

Lowell Thomas received $95,645 in 1941 for his nightly 15-minute news broadcasts.

MARRIED

UPOLE-HEMMINGS—Mrs. C. C. King, of Handley, W. Va., announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Virginia Louise Hemmings, to Rev. Paul L. Upole, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Crellin.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Johnson, a retired Methodist minister, at the Methodist church in Crellin, on June 10, 1942.

The bride wore a dress of navy chiffon and navy hat with white accessories and had a corsage of pink rosebuds. Summer flowers decorated the altar of the church before which the couple stood for the ceremony.

The bride was a student at God's Bible school in Cincinnati and the groom was graduated from that school on May 28 with his A. B. degree. The latter is a graduate of Oakland High school, class of 1935, and is a licensed minister of the Methodist church, his connections having been in relation to the West Virginia annual conference. He was licensed in 1937.

Attending the ceremony were Mrs. C. C. King, mother, Miss Janetta King, sister, and Mrs. J. T. Davis, grandmother of the bride, all of Handley, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Upole, parents, and Mrs. J. A. Kolbfleisch, sister of the groom, all of Oakland; the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Darius P. Upole, his two nieces, Misses Joan and Louise Upole, and his nephew, Billie Upole, all of Bloomington; and Mrs. Samuel Bowman, of Crellin.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Westwood, Cincinnati, Ohio, and will reside at Oakland.

Final Rites Held For Crellin Man Killed In Accident

Funeral services for Bruner Friend, 52, who died July 1 from a gunshot wound while hunting in West Virginia, near Crellin, were conducted on July 15 from the Pine Grove Church of the Brethren by Jonas Sines. Interment was in the Bray cemetery.

Friend, who had been missing from his home in Crellin since Saturday at noon when he left to go hunting, was not found until Monday afternoon by a nephew, Claude Lewis, who was picking berries. West Virginia authorities who investigated, said death resulted from a wound in the calf of the left leg just below the knee, and placed the time of death at about 4:30 that afternoon.

R. Doyne Halbritter, assistant prosecuting attorney of Preston county, said Friend apparently shot himself in the leg while walking and was unable to get first aid in time to save his life. He said Friend was carrying a peculiar type of twelve-gauge shotgun with a very short barrel, which could have been discharged by the man while he was walking.

Mr. Friend, a coal miner in Turner-Douglas mine, is survived by his widow, five sons and three daughters. They are Garland, Clarence, Delbert, Stanley and Donald Edward, all of near Oakland; Mrs. Dorothy Matthews, Hazelton, W. Va.; and Ruby and Alice Friend, at home.

Mr. Friend was a veteran of the first world war, and a member of the George D. Jackson post No. 5, American Legion, Preston county. He was inducted from Sines, this county on April 25, 1918, and served as a private in the engineers, at Camp Forrest, Ga. He received his honorable discharge December 18, 1918.

DIED

Mrs. Etta V. Engle, 81, widow of the late Ralph Engle, died Tuesday morning, July 21, about 12:30 o'clock, at her home near Grantsville following a critical illness of two weeks caused by a heart attack.

Mrs. Engle was a native of Grantsville and spent most of her life in that community. She was the daughter of the late George L. and Safora Rench Layman.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. W. F. Fisher and Mrs. H. G. Osborne, Sidney, N. Y.; Mrs. William Nielson, Mrs. S. R. Willets, Bloomfield, N. J.; Mrs. H. A. MacMannus, Cumberland; Mrs. M. S. Brookhart, Oakland; Mrs. C. W. Wadsworth, Terra Alta, W. Va.; Miss Ida Engle, Oakland; Miss Beulah Engle, at home; Mrs. R. A. Goetz, Cumberland, and John R. Engle, Fairmont, W. Va., and eleven grandchildren. Also surviving are one sister, Mrs. C. G. Stocker, Roundup, Montana; and three brothers, Norval and George Layman, Newell, Iowa; and Harry C. Layman, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Engle was a lifelong member of the Methodist church, she and the late Mrs. Ellen Younkin having organized the Ladies' Aid, serving as its president for a number of years, and later being elected honorary president. She was also active in the Homemakers club until recent years.

Funeral services were conducted this morning in the Grantsville Methodist church with Rev. V. R. Gillum, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Grantsville cemetery.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of Christian Herald, is entering the army as a chaplain. He holds a major's commission in the reserve and served as chaplain in France during World War I.

INDIAN WARFARE

There were no white settlers in what is now Garrett County at the time of the French and Indian War (1754-1763), when Col. Washington marched his colonial army over Nemacolin's Path to Ft. Necessity, followed by Gen. Braddock's expedition in 1755 over the same general route. After Braddock's tragic defeat from Ft. Duquesne, French and Indians roamed our area at will until Gen. Forbes captured Ft. Duquesne in 1758. France claimed the country as far east as the top of the Great Back Bone Mountain.

Ft. Morris was built at the outbreak of the Shawnee War of 1774, by the Sandy Creek settlers, who also organized a company of "Spies and Rangers" to protect the settlements. Due to these measures of preparedness our people were not molested during the Revolutionary War, when parties of 100 to fifty warriors crossed the Ohio and attacked the settlements as far east as the Maryland line, keeping the settlers of what is now Preston county in almost constant alarm.

ATTACKS ON WHEELING

In 1774 Ft. Henry, at Wheeling, was built by order of the commanding officer at Ft. Pitt, to defend the settlements east of the Ohio.

On September 1, 1777, three hundred eighty-nine British and Indians attacked Ft. Henry, which was defended by only thirty-three men assisted by their women and children the settlers repulsed the enemy, who recrossed the river, after burning the houses, destroying the crops and killing the cattle.

Col. Ebenezer Zane was in command at Ft. Henry, when, on September 11, 1782, John Lynn reported Capt. Pratt with forty British soldiers and two hundred sixty Indians marching rapidly to take it by surprise. Hastily calling in the settlers, the defenders killed about forty of the attacking Indians without the loss of a man. On September 13th the enemy withdrew across the Ohio. This is often referred to as "the last battle of the Revolution."

Small parties of Indians made several attacks upon the settlements east of the Ohio in 1778. Daniel Lewis was killed while splitting rails near Cheat River. The same raiding party killed John Green and his family, except Mary, whom they wounded and kept prisoner several years. Mary Green later married Joseph Friend of Friendsville.

In April, 1778, Indians came to the home of William Morgan at Dunkard Bottom on Cheat, killed a young man named Brain, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Dillon and two children, and took another Mrs. Morgan and child prisoners.

JOHN MINEAR was the leader of a settlement in the Horse Shoe Bend of Cheat in 1774. A fort was built at what is now St. George, W. Va. In March, 1780, a large Indian war party lurked about the fort but feared to attack. Finally Jonathan Minear and others went down the river to their farms. Minear was killed and his brother-in-law, Washburn, was captured. The next morning a party pursued the Indians and rescued Washburn.

SNOWY CREEK MASSACRE

James Brain and his family spent the winter of 1777-78 at the Friend Fort. In the spring the Brain and Powell families began a settlement near where the Glades Path crossed Snowy Creek, later the Joseph DeBerry farm at Corinth, W. Va.

Withers in his book, "Border Warfare", says:

On the eleventh of the same month (April, 1778) five Indians came to a horse on the south side of Snowy Creek, in the upper end of same ten or twelve acre bottom, from the mouth of Big Run, for the purpose of amusing themselves by shooting at it, supposing it the Indian from making their meditated attack. The men seen by them at work, at a considerable distance from the house, they were soon surrounded by the Indians. Two of them were killed and scalped. Brain, who was one of the number, attempted to escape by flight. A number of the Indians in pursuit of him overtook him at the house, and the Indians, in attempting to take him prisoner, killed him. Powell, who was one of the party engaged in the morning's work, being excused from going to the field, was sent to their day's work, being employed in making sugar. He and the sister of Mrs. Powell went

Judge Mish Seeking To Succeed Himself

Will Ask Voters for Opportunity To Serve Full Term in Fourth Judicial Circuit

Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, has formally announced he will be a candidate to succeed himself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland, which embraces Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties.

He will be unopposed in the September primary. From the time of his appointment eighteen months ago when he was the unanimous choice of the Democratic lawyers of Washington county, it was generally supposed Judge Mish would be a candidate for election to a full term. He succeeded Judge Frank G. Wagaman on the latter's retirement.

Judge Mish was born in Hagerstown January 25, 1899, son of the late Frank W. Mish and Eleanor D. Mish. He has been a life-long resident of Washington county and is married and the father of two children. He is a graduate of Princeton university and the Law School of the University of Maryland.

In the last World War he enlisted as a private in the infantry and served for the duration. He was admitted to the Washington County Bar in 1926. He was elected to the Maryland House of Delegates in 1930 and served as chairman of the Washington County Delegation in the sessions of 1931. In 1938 he was elected State Senator and served until retiring to accept appointment to the bench on January 1, 1941. He is a former president of the Washington County Bar association and a member of the Maryland and American Bar associations.

Associates of Judge Mish have recognized him as being a keen student of the law and one who loves his profession and is constantly striving to improve himself in that chosen profession. His formal announcement appears on another page of this newspaper.

Hagerstown Attorney Out for Congress In Oakland on Tuesday

Henry C. Triesler Announced His Candidacy in April at Hagerstown

Henry C. Triesler, Hagerstown, investment banker, who announced himself a candidate for Congress from the sixth Maryland district, was in Oakland on Tuesday with his wife and two daughters.

His announcement was made April 9, on his fiftieth birthday anniversary, in Hagerstown.

Mr. Triesler who is chairman of the Western Maryland Salvage for Victory committee and president of the Young Men's Republican league of Washington county, declared he would conduct an aggressive campaign.

"I believe it is the paramount duty of every American citizen to do his full part in bringing about a decisive and complete military victory," he said. "In attaining this result party politics as such have no place, and to this end the Republican party has pledged its whole-hearted support to the President in a vigorous and efficient prosecution of the war. Congress should take proper measures also to reduce to a minimum expenditures for non-war purposes and to eliminate all non-essential government activities to insure a just and fair distribution of the burdens of war, to make certain that no one profits unduly, to impose rigid restraints on inflation and to assure preservation of the Constitutional guarantees vouchsafed in the Bill of Rights."

Mr. Triesler has spent 26 years in investment banking. He is a graduate of Western Maryland college. Besides the members of his family who were with him Tuesday, there is also a son, now a second lieutenant in the armed forces, stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mrs. Byron Will File For Congress

Rep. Katharine E. Byron has stated that she is filing for re-nomination as Sixth Maryland district representative in Congress, subject to the Democratic primary.

Mrs. Byron announced several weeks ago that she would be a candidate but had not yet filed and there were reports the latter part of last week that she would not file.

E. Brooke Lee, of Montgomery county, has announced he will oppose Mrs. Byron.

Annual Reunion Planned

The 21st annual reunion of the Bowser and Coiflesh families will be held at Spoerlein's Grove, Accident, on Sunday, July 26.

Friends and relavties are invited to attend. An amateur contest is scheduled during the day.

GLENN BEALL ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR CONGRESS

Native of Frostburg Seeks G. O. P. Nomination for Representative from Sixth District

J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg and Cumberland business man, on Tuesday formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sixth District United States representative. He is a former state senator and a former member and chairman of the State Roads Commission.

"There can be no quibbling," Beall stated, "that winning the war against the aggressor dictators, without stint, without regard for partisanship and without waste of time and means on social experiments must have the first thought and effort of every American.

"But other important things demand the serious attention of our national legislators.

"They must work for the preservation of the rights, privileges and obligations given by our constitution to the three co-ordinated branches of government and oppose pusillanimous surrender of any to another.

"They should work for the preservation of the system of free enterprise as a fundamental of the American way of life in opposition to collectivist theories and schemes."

Engaged as a realtor and insurance man in both Cumberland and Frostburg, maintaining offices in both cities, Beall is a native of Frostburg, representing the seventh generation of a well-known Maryland family. He is a descendant of Jonathan Hager, who founded Hagerstown.

After attending Gettysburg college, Beall entered upon a business career, which he has pursued for twenty-three years, during which time he has been active in various county and civic affairs.

When World War I broke out, Beall entered the military service, being assigned to the ordnance department and when hostilities ceased he was honorably discharged with the rank of sergeant.

From 1923 to 1930, Beall served as a member of the Allegany County Road Board, being its chairman the last three years of that tenure. From 1930 to 1934 he represented Allegany County as state senator in the General Assembly, and in 1938-1939 he was a member and then chairman of the State Roads Commission, in which he made an excellent record. During that period, he says, "more roads were constructed in Maryland than at any other comparable time in its history."

Beall has been a student of taxation and has also centered his attention upon road construction and administrative problems.

Frank Hansen, director of the camp, said he would invite the members of the Rotary and Lions clubs, and that any other interested persons would be welcome.

Sisters-in-Law Sit On Opposite Sides Magistrate's Court

Mrs. Nanniene T. Offutt Charges Mrs. D. E. Offutt With Larceny of Articles From Monte Vista

Sisters-in-law of a prominent Oakland family sat on opposite sides of Magistrate H. A. Loraditch's office on last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Nanniene T. Offutt, widow of Elwood Offutt, who operates the Monte Vista tea room south of town during the summer months had a warrant issued for Mrs. D. Edward Offutt, charging her with the larceny of articles from Monte Vista within the past two years.

The warrant was issued after J. W. Mitchell and Mark H. Moon, deputies sheriff, upon the serving of a search warrant at the home of Mrs. D. Edward Offutt on Tuesday recovered some of the alleged items reported missing from her home by Mrs. Nanniene T. Offutt.

Charges Are Denied

Mrs. Edward Offutt made the statement that the items found in her home belonged to her and flatly denied her guilt.

Walter W. Dawson, attorney for the defendant, prayed a jury trial, carrying the case to the September Term of the Circuit Court without a preliminary hearing before the Magistrate.

Bond for Mrs. Offutt's appearance was furnished by her husband.

Upon application of Mrs. Nanniene Offutt and another sister-in-law, Mrs. Bess Offutt Polk, Mrs. Edward Offutt was placed under peace bonds, the bonds in these cases were also furnished by Mr. Offutt.

Leo H. Miller Is A Candidate For Associate Judge

Hagerstown Attorney Files for G. O. P. Nomination in Fourth Circuit

Leo H. Miller, Hagerstown, member of the Washington county bar, yesterday filed his certificate here as a candidate for the nomination for associate judge of the Fourth judicial circuit, subject to the action of the Republican primary.

Miller said he had decided to file after long consideration and that, if nominated and elected, he would serve fairly and impartially in carrying out the duties of the important office.

A past president of the chamber of commerce and Kiwanis club in Hagerstown, Miller was born in Sharpsburg in 1893. He was graduated from West Virginia university in 1917. He served in the first World War and then attended the University of Maryland Law school, receiving his degree in 1920.

Miller has been active in religious, economic and social life of his community. He is a member of the board of trustees of the Methodist church, American Legion, Masonic lodge and other organizations. He is the second Republican to announce. Former State's Attorney Ellsworth R. Roulette, Hagerstown, filed several weeks ago. Judge Joseph D. Mish, Democrat, announced Saturday.

GOV. O'CONOR'S PLEA FOR STATESMEN IS APPROVED

Democratic Leaders Agree Good Legislative Candidate Needed; G. O. P. Scents Plot

Governor Herbert R. O'Conor's plea that all factions of his party unite behind a program designed to persuade outstanding men to run for the Legislature, yesterday was reported gaining momentum like a snowball going down hill.

Just a few days ago it started off as an O'Conor solo, with William Curran furnishing the accompaniment. Over night it became a duet as Mayor Howard W. Jackson's dulcet voice picked up the refrain.

And yesterday the duet became a close harmony quartet as United States Senators Millard E. Tydings and George L. Radcliffe joined the group.

Republicans Take Notice

The sound of so much harmony smote the ears of Galen L. Tait, Republican leader, in the bitter hour when the Grand Old Party was hunting desperately for a candidate and an issue with which to derail the O'Conor second term express.

In the agreement of the four acknowledged leaders of Maryland's Democracy to lift the Legislature somewhere near to the realm of statesmanship, Mr. Tait found a target and scented a plot. He rushed into action, assuring:

"On the surface, the purpose of Governor O'Conor to improve the Legislature appears commendable—but the appeal, in truth, is an adroit but very transparent election device to give Governor O'Conor an easy passage into a second term."

Asks G. O. P. Be Considered

He demanded that, if the Governor is sincere, Republicans as well as Democrats be considered in the quest for "the best men."

Property Willed to State by C. M. Howard Appraised at $9,300

Garrett county property willed to the State of Maryland by Charles McHenry Howard, prominent Baltimore attorney, for use as a game reserve and agricultural experiment station, was appraised at $9,300 in an inventory filed in the Orphans' court in Baltimore.

The area includes 1,786 acres of land in the seventh and fourteenth election districts of this county, known as Mt. Nebo, near Oakland, and approximately one-fourth of an acre of land in the seventh election district on the shore of Deep Creek Lake. Both properties are improved by frame buildings, the inventory disclosed.

About two weeks ago Mr. Howard's personal estate and other real estate holdings were appraised at $925,574,-39. The lawyer also left bequests to the Peabody Institute, Johns Hopkins University, Emmanuel Church and the Maryland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Mr. Howard died May 19.

War Research

In war the advantage is on the side with the best weapons. The work of scientists in America's research laboratories, developing new materials and new equipment, means a lot to our fighting men.

1. It takes years to build up and equip a large, organized, and able staff for research. Fortunately, industry did this long ago.

2. Long before Pearl Harbor, laboratories like General Electric's were serving their country—solving technical problems of war.

3. History repeats! In the last war "wireless" was developed for military needs—to become, with peace, a giant broadcasting industry.

4. So it will be this time. Research will help to win the war, and its many wartime discoveries will help to build a better future.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

"Fiddling As Rome Burns"

While "Rome burns" on many far-flung battle-fronts and little encouraging war news filters in through the censors, masters of political strategy "fiddle" with fugitive "wage stabilization" and "price ceilings."

On the home front furor rages over the inflation spectre which hangs over the cost of the war, our standard of living, and the ultimate value of the billions we are pouring into war bonds. "Inflation must be curbed at all costs," say these captains of expediency; "everything possible must be done to remove its causes or control its growth." But what actually has been done to control inflation? What specific steps have been taken to prevent it?

Mr. Henderson's diluted OPA has been given a dull weapon indeed with which to clamp down price lids and police them. Wages, a major factor in price determination, are still on the loose under will-o'-the-wisp "stabilization."

Mr. Davis' pro-labor WLB wage decisions, always up, and under the new cost-of-living formula so continuing on a broad and expansive scale, now open up the whole inflation phantasmagoria to the "me-too" wage-grab contingent.

Thus we have two emergency war agencies, the OPA and the WLB, set up to control prices and speed war production, respectively, toothless and indigent in the performance of their prescribed tasks. They have, thus far, not only failed of their purposes but actually obstructed the performance thereof. And why? Because neither has the power or the weight that such vital issues require in an emergency such as we face.

The obvious and crying need is for a definite national labor policy, one upon which both labor and management can hang their hats, one upon which wages and therefore costs can be based. For until wages are known costs cannot be determined. Until costs are determined prices cannot be properly set. Until prices are properly set they cannot be controlled. And until prices are controlled inflation cannot be prevented.

The American people want to win this war and the peace which will follow it. They are ready to do everything within reason and to make all the necessary sacrifices to win it. Small wonder then that they are becoming restive under the faltering, indecisive policies exhibited on wage freezing so necessary in preventing inflation. Small wonder that they are fed up with political "fiddling" on the home front while "Rome burns" on the land, in the air and on the sea.—From "National Association of Manufacturers."

To Search for Indian Evidence Here Before Dam Floods Territory

Academy of Science Is Interested in Area Around Selbysport

That a final effort would be made to uncover more Garrett County Indian history in the vicinity of Selbysport, before that country is covered with water as result of the flood-control program on the tributaries of the Ohio river, was learned this week from Eugene Closser, Baltimore, who is representing the Maryland Academy of Science.

Mr. Closser came here last Saturday after Charles E. Hoye, of Sang Run, president of the Garrett County Historical society, had sent a plea to the Academy to take some action now before the opportunity was lost forever.

Mr. Closser said Monday that there appeared to be more than sufficient evidence of established Indian villages at one time in that area, especially around Buffalo Creek where it empties into the Youghiogheny river. It has always been believed, according to Mr. Closser, that although this area was known to the Indians as an ideal hunting ground, that there were no permanent settlements or villages here.

He said he would recommend to the Maryland Academy of Science that a small group be sent to this county to excavate for positive evidence which he feels is there.

Mr. Closser said the Academy was interested primarily in discovering tools and implements that would show beyond a doubt that this was real Indian country instead of just a place where they spent much time hunting. Mr. Hoye accompanied Mr. Closser on his inspection trip last Sunday.

Salvaging of Scrap Metals, Etc., Will Get Under Way Soon

Nation-wide Campaign Will Bring in Steel, Iron, Other Metals, Etc.

Garrett county will inaugurate a scrap campaign next week, as part of a nation-wide campaign to collect seventeen million tons of scrap steel and iron to aid in the war effort.

The nation has been divided into thirteen regions for its new national program and the collection is to be made within six months.

Maryland, in region No. 3, has been alloted a quota of 173,000 tons to be collected before December 31.

The Mayor and Town Council at their last meeting decided to sponsor the scrap campaign in this area and will provide a place to store the material that is collected. Besides scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber, rags, manila rope and burlap bags will be collected.

An advertising program has been underwritten by the steel industry with a contribution of a million and a half in an effort to collect these needed materials.

The school children recently turned in ten tons of scrap iron in a campaign and Garrett county was second in the scrap rubber drive which recently ended, having turned in 165 tons, but it was emphasized that there was still much material that could be gathered.

E. RAY JONES IS SEEKING SENATORIAL NOMINATION

Former Secretary of State Files Certificate of Candidacy Just Before Deadline Last Friday

Ernest Ray Jones, local attorney, and former Secretary of State under Governor Harry W. Nice, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the State Senate and filed the necessary papers last Friday night with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Elections shortly before the deadline at midnight.

Mr. Jones' formal announcement of candidacy will be found on another page of The Republican today. He has been a lifelong resident of Garrett county, having been born at Deer Park in 1886. He was graduated from the University of Maryland Law School in 1913 and that year began the practice of law in Oakland.

He served as State's Attorney in 1915 and was supervisor of assessments for this county for several years. He was a member of the Republican State Central Committee also for several years and from 1930 to 1934 served as its chairman. He was appointed Secretary of State in 1936 and served until January, 1939, under the administration of Governor Harry W. Nice.

He is a member of the Methodist church in Oakland and superintendent of the Sunday school. He is also a director of the First National Bank of Oakland and of the First State Bank at Grantsville. He belongs to the Masonic Lodge, the Knights of Pythis, Odd Fellows and Woodmen of the World, and is a member of the Oakland Rotary club and a past president of that organization.

FINDING OF CAPSIZED BOAT ON LAKE CAUSES ALARM

The finding of a capsized row boat on Deep Creek Lake yesterday evening about seven o'clock is causing some alarm on the McHenry inlet area according to meagre information received at The Republican office this morning.

The boat was rented yesterday from C. M. Railey at Stone Tavern by a visitor named Hayes, from Pittsburgh, who is vacationing with Mrs. Hayes at Point View camp, north of the main bridge, along Route 219.

The closest phone in that section is at Stone Tavern and it was reported from there this morning that Mr. Hayes was missing from his camp.

Whether or not an organized search had begun was not learned, but it is presumed that such would be the case if the man did not make his appearance during the day.

Program Arranged For Meetings With Army Officials

Programs for the meetings to be held here Thursday and Friday in connection with the tour of army officials in this county, have been announced.

Following the invocation and business session there will be a short talk by one of the visiting army officers, a moving picture and another brief instructional talk by another officer. A question and answer period will follow. Joseph M. Gonder, member of the American Legion, will preside.

The army officers are conducting a reconnaissance tour of sub-district No. 7 which includes this county, and one of the purposes is to give instruction to the civilian volunteers in the war effort.

Dawson Talks on Rationing At Jaycee Meeting

Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the war ration board in the county, was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Mt. Lake Hotel on Tuesday evening.

Dawson reviewed the rationing situation and also pointed out the complacency of the people of the United States generally regarding the war.

The Jaycees decided to conduct a membership drive and divided the members into two groups, headed by Paul M. Turney and Emeric Dusic.

Lawn Fete Planned

The annual lawn fete for the benefit of the New Germany Reformed church will be held Saturday evening, August 1, on the lawn of the church. Cake, candy, ice cream, sandwiches and other refreshments will be sold.

Seeks Treasurership

PAUL M. FRIEND

Paul M. Friend, member of the Board of County Commissioners for the past four years, has announced his candidacy for the nomination for County Treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Friend, in his announcement, declares he feels qualified for the office, having been in close contact with it during his term as Commissioner.

He has been actively interested in the grange and all other organizations pertaining to the betterment of agricultural conditions. He was graduated from Oakland High in 1923 and since that time has been engaged in farming in the Pleasant Valley section. He received a large vote at the election in 1938, the first time he had ever sought public office.

BLAINE GIESSMAN SEEKS COMMISSIONERSHIP AGAIN

G. Blaine Giessman, member of the Board of County Commissioners for the past eight years, has announced he is a candidate for renomination for the same office, subject to the Republican primary.

Mr. Giessman, in his announcement on another page of this paper, says he feels that his experience over the past two terms qualifies him to continue in that office and asks the support of all Republican voters.

He is a resident of Oakland, district No. 14, and resides on Wilson street.

Two More Candidates Out for Nomination

Nelson Brenneman Seeks Re-Election to House—George E. Coddington Out for Sheriff

George E. Coddington, of District No. 16, has announced his candidacy for sheriff, and Nelson Brenneman, McHenry, district 6, has announced this week for re-nomination for member of the House of Delegates.

Mr. Coddington is a son of Asa Coddington and was born and reared in district No. 8. He was one of several to seek the nomination four years ago and received a substantial vote. At present he is employed by the County Roads department.

Mr. Brenneman entered politics for the first time four years ago and was elected to the House of Delegates and is now seeking to return to the General Assembly. He was born in this county and has spent most of his life as a farmer and taxpayer.

Two Chosen This Week In Junior Chamber Project

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting on Tuesday night, decided to select two service men each week in continuing the "service man project."

For the past several weeks the Jaycees have been selecting each week a member of the armed forces from Oakland or vicinity and placing his name in the three drug stores and at Hamill's, where persons were asked to write him and if so inclined to leave some small and inexpensive gift sometime during the week.

Each week quite a number of letters have been written and enough small gifts purchased to fill a carton. These have been mailed thus far to William K. Glotfelty, William Spiker, Jack O'Donnell, and last week the name of William C. Smith was selected.

This week the Jaycees selected the names of Lawrence Lee Wensel and Dr. A. E. Mance. Wensel is a private first class in the quartermaster company, army air corps, at Dale Mabry Field Tallahassee, Fla.

Dr. Mance is a captain in the medical corps, stationed at Fort Meade, near Baltimore.

LAWRENCE M. FRALEY IS A SENATORIAL ASPIRANT

Files For Republican Nomination Shortly Before Deadline Last Friday Evening

Lawrence M. Fraley, mayor of Oakland for the past dozen years or more, has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for the State Senate, having filed the necessary papers with election officials just before the deadline last Friday evening.

Fraley's announcement appears upon another page of this paper today and in much detail.

Fraley has served as postmaster of Oakland, as mayor of Oakland for seven terms, and is now civilian defense director for the southern section of the county. He is one of the organizers and active members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire department.

He is a lifelong resident of this county, and has been an active party worker for a number of years, serving as chairman of the Republican committee, and having been a delegate from Maryland at the last Republican convention.

He declares in his announcement he favors strict economy consistent with good government and is opposed to bonding this county for anything without a referendum.

Three Year Old Child Struck by Automobile

Billy Sanders, 3, Sustains Broken Leg and Other Injuries

Billy Sanders, 3 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sanders, was seriously injured Sunday evening about 7 o'clock when struck by an automobile driven by Elwood Lee, of Swanton, on Liberty street.

Lee was headed west on Liberty street and struck the child at a point near the Piedmont Grocery company, where the latter attempted to cross the street after playing in a sandpile.

The lad sustained a broken right leg above the knee, and received a deep gash in his forehead, several dislocated ribs and multiple cuts and bruises. He was carried into Guy Thayer's house where medical attention was given by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, after which he was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Clarksburg, W. Va., where he is now under the care of Dr. Haines.

Mr. Sanders returned yesterday from Clarksburg and said that his son, who will not be four until in August, was resting comfortably. Mrs. Sanders is remaining in Clarksburg for several days.

The accident was investigated by Officer John J. Sweeney, Sheriff Walter H. Haenftling, and Corporal Thomas Currie, and a hearing will be held within a few days to determine whether or not Lee will be held.

List of Persons in Fifth Registration Are Published Today

The names of persons in the fifth registration for service in the army, which took place on June 30, are being published in this issue of The Republican and will be found on page seven.

The list was arranged by the draft board in the order in which those persons would become eligible for induction in the forces by reason of their age.

H. L. Jones, draft board clerk, said that the first hundred appearing on the list are already eligible for induction because they are now past the age of twenty years. They will not be called for duty, however, until the eligible list in the third registration is exhausted.

USO CONTRIBUTIONS NOW TOTAL $922.33

Contributions totaling $922.33 have been received in the United Service Organization campaign for funds, it was reported this morning by Cecil Smith, treasurer.

At the same time Charles L. Briner, Jr., president, said the drive would continue in the Oakland area for a week in order to give the people an opportunity to more nearly fill their quota.

Money thus far was received from the following places: Oakland $218.75, quota $850; Friendsville $177.65, quota $175; Mt. Lake Park $133, quota $100; Crellin $114, quota $100; Kitzmiller $113.50, quota $300; Grantsville $86.75, quota $300; Deer Park $69.05, quota $50; Swanton $9.63, quota $25.

Seeks Renomination For Commissioner

CHESTON H. BROWNING

Cheston H. Browning, of Oakland, district 7, has announced his candidacy for renomination as a County Commissioner, subject to the Republican primary.

Mr. Browning has served the county in that capacity for the past four years and declares in his announcement that he will continue to give his best services if renominated and later elected.

Mr. Browning says he stands for home rule, better county government, a plan that will work to the improvement of all secondary roads and bridges by the use of the 1½-cent gasoline tax.

Mr. Browning resides on Alder street, Oakland.

County Border Towns To Assist In West Virginia Blackout

Oakland Will Not Be Affected; Planes to Fly Over Entire Area

Garrett county will cooperate with West Virginia in its blackout test on Thursday night—but only in the border towns, it was announced this morning by Lawrence M. Fraley, civilian defense coordinator for the southern section of the county.

"This means," Mr. Fraley said, "that we are asking Kitzmiller, Kempton, Crellin, Hutton, Gorman and Bloomington to cooperate with the West Virginia authorities." Oakland will not be affected, as it was observed during the Maryland blackout that no lights from Terra Alta or other West Virginia towns were visible. Neither will any part of the northern section of the county be affected.

West Virginia towns along the Potomac have cooperated with Maryland in their blackout tests and Maryland towns are being asked to do likewise.

There will be a complete blackout sometime between 10 and 11 o'clock, for from 15 to 30 minutes, during which time planes from West Virginia cities, Clarksburg, Fairmont, Morgantown and Parkersburg, would observe the results. Ohio and Pennsylvania border counties will also participate.

Fraley said the exact time of the blackout would be obtained from the State civilian defense offices who have already been notified by the West Virginia authorities. Alert warnings will be sent out by West Virginia defense offices only to West Virginia areas, so the exact time of the blackout will be known in Maryland areas before it occurs.

HAENFTLING ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR SHERIFF

Walter H. Haenftling has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of the county. Mr. Haenftling, of district 5, Accident, served as sheriff for four years having been elected in 1930, and recently he was appointed by Governor O'Conor to fill the unexpired term of J. W. Owens, who resigned.

Mr. Haenftling is a farmer and merchant, a veteran of the first world war and declares in his announcement he is interested in the welfare of the county.

Being the only Democrat to file he will have no opposition in the primary election.

August Tire Quota

The August, tire, tube and retread quota for Garrett county was announced by the local ration board this morning as follows:

Passenger car tires 10; retreads 35; tubes 26; grade two tires 4.

Trucks, tires 116; retreads 146; tubes 125.

34 SEEK PUBLIC OFFICE IN THIS YEAR'S PRIMARY

Twelve Others Seek Membership On State Central Committees; One Files to Attend Convention

Thirty-four candidates for public office in Garrett county, and thirteen others seeking membership on the State Central Committees of the Republican and Democratic parties and desiring to attend their party conventions, filed their intentions with A. Leo Helbig, clerk of the Board of Election Supervisors before midnight Friday, July 24, the deadline for filing. This does not include Congressional or State candidates.

Republicans have thirty-five local candidates in the field, while the Democrats have 12.

Until the day before the deadline only 25 candidates had filed, but a last-minute rush was in evidence which will produce a contest for the nomination for State Senator in the Republican ranks, both E. Ray Jones, former secretary of State under Governor Nice, and L. M. Fraley, Oakland, both filing for that office. A contest in the Democratic ranks was made necessary when Bernard I. Gonder, Sr., Oakland, filed for the Senate. Dr. C. Oscar Hall, Mt. Lake Park, had previously filed.

In only six of the twelve county offices will there be a contest among Republican aspirants, while only contest in the Democratic primary will be that for Senatorial candidate. In the other six offices there is no opposition, and in one of those, that of county surveyor, no person filed, and the vacancy therefore will be filled by a candidate named by the Republican county committee. The Democratic committee has the privilege to name candidates to fill vacancies on their ticket, but usually only a few are named. Both committees have until August 22 to fill vacancies.

Candidates have until August 8 to withdraw from the primary. In all instances where there is no opposition in the party, the names of those filing will not appear on the primary ballot. There is no opposition in the offices of Register of Wills, Judge of the Orphans' Court (3), Clerk of the Circuit Court, Chief Judge of Fourth Judicial Circuit, and State's Attorney. There will be no election for clerk to the County Commissioners, as formerly. A recent law makes that position appointive.

The total number of candidates is forty less than filed in the 1938 primary, and for a time it looked as if there would not be enough candidates for even the principal offices.

"Wild Ride" on Steam Roller Experienced By W. E. "Bill" Rice

William E. "Bill" Rice had what he would call a "wild ride" on Tuesday morning, even though he wasn't going over twenty-five miles an hour—but the ride was on a runaway steam roller, and an antiquated model at that.

The gears of the steam roller became disengaged in some way with no way of using brakes and the machine traveled westward on Oak street from the B. and O. bridge almost to the Carnation plant at the west edge of town before coming to a stop.

Difficult to guide and handle at a slow rate of speed, it becomes almost unmanageable at a speed of twenty or twenty-five miles an hour, and "Bill" had his hands more than full trying to keep it in the roadway, which he did. Fortunately no automobiles approached town from the west during his wild ride.

GROCERS AND PUBLIC ADVISED ON SUGAR STAMPS SIX AND SEVEN

Grocers and the public have been warned by Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the War Price and Rationing Board, that there should be no variation in the number of pounds of sugar issued on ration stamp No. 7.

There were reports the amounts were being varied, from one to four pounds. Stamps 6 and 7 have a purchasing weight value of only two pounds each and are valid through August 22.

ABRAM: A PIONEER IN FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 12:1-9; Hebrews 11:8-16.

GOLDEN TEXT—Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.—Genesis 15:1.

Without faith it is impossible to please God (Heb. 11:6). The opposite is also true, namely, that faith always pleases God. As we read the Bible and consider Christian experience, it is evident that God is constantly longing to show Himself strong in behalf of them who believe Him (II Chron. 16:9).

Abraham was not the first man to walk by faith. Before him came such men as Abel, with his acceptable sacrifice; Enoch, with his walk pleasing to God; Noah, who believed and obeyed; and others.

But Abraham was nonetheless a pioneer of faith. He had many other noble characteristics, and was a man of such distinction that his memory is venerated by Jews and Mohammedans as well as Christians. Yet his real claim to an outstanding place in history is that by faith he responded to God's sovereign act in choosing him to begin a new nation, to be His chosen people.

We note two important points about faith:

I. Faith Makes Demands.

In the very nature of things, faith calls for action consistent with belief. "Faith without works is dead" (James 2:20), that is, not a real faith at all. In Abraham's life (and in our life) faith calls for

1. Separation (Gen. 12:1).

"Get thee out" was God's command to Abraham. To accomplish His divine purpose God had to take him out of the heathendom of his fathers, and start anew. It is His command to His followers today, "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord" (II Cor. 6:17).

Who will doubt that this is the crying need of the church today, for instead of the church being in the world seeking to win it to Christ, worldliness has come into the church and devitalized its message.

2. Obedience (Gen. 12:4-6; Heb. 11:8, 9).

"Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken" (v. 4). He didn't know where he was going, but he did know who had called him, and he went. Faith knows God, and obeys Him without hesitation and without reservation.

Obedience is a virtue that needs to be revived, in the home, in school, in society, and especially in our relation to God, for there surely should be no disobedient children in the family of God. He merits and expects obedience.

3. Trust (Gen. 12:7-9; Heb. 11:10).

An assured reliance on the Word of God is a part of faith. God made a promise to Abraham. He accepted it, and worshiped. Here was no questioning, no bargaining, but simple trust in God's word. In fact, there was anticipation of even greater things to come (Heb. 11:10).

We need men of vision and that means we need men who by faith can see the unseen, who can see "a city which hath foundations" even in the midst of destruction and disorder. "In God We Trust" must be more than a motto on our coins if America is to survive.

II. Faith Brings Results.

The world wants to know if a thing works before accepting and approving it. Well, faith really does work! It brings

1. Blessing (Gen. 12:2, 3).

God is always on the giving hand. "I will bless," was His word to Abraham, not only for Abraham himself and for the great nation of which he was to be the father, but to "all the families of the earth" (v. 3). How gloriously that promise was fulfilled in the coming of Christ our Redeemer, who also was a "son of Abraham" (Matt. 1:1).

2. Protection (Gen. 12:3).

"I will curse him that curseth thee." That promise to Abraham is still binding and valid. God is not through with Israel. The nations and persons who have vented their hatred upon the children of Abraham need to take notice.

We need to be reminded that God's protecting care is just as sure over us who bear His name. We too are "safe in Jehovah's keeping," even in what is perhaps the darkest hour in the history of the world. Faith in God brings to us the protection of His almighty hand.

3. Fulfillment of Promise (Heb. 11:11, 12).

The entire promise to Abraham hinged on the birth of a son, something which was, humanly speaking, beyond all possibility. But because Sara, joining Abraham in believing God, "judged him faithful who had promised," it came to pass.

"With God all things are possible" (Matt. 19:26). He delights in doing the impossible in response to the faith of His children. Apart from that fact we might be fearful, yes despondent, but "with God" we say again, "All things are possible."

Store managers in various places were reporting that Hammocks were being bought profusely and were becoming scarce, as vacationers planned to spend time at home.

GRANTSVILLE

Church Picnic

Services of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church were conducted Sunday at the New Germany CCC camp pavillion, with approximately sixty persons attending.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Taxes And The Senate

Washington, July 25

The first conception of the tax bill which, the House having passed, the Senate is now considering, was that it had two great purposes. One was to raise revenue sufficient to swing the vast war expenditures without going beyond all reasonable and necessary borrowing limits. The other was to drain off a larger proportion of the surplus income produced by war spendingg (and which is in the hands of the lowest income group) so that the risks of runaway inflation might be minimized.

* * *

Everybody agrees that the bill falls far short of both goals. As it stands today, it is a botched and bungled job, the unsoundness and inadequacy of which are clear to every thoughtful man. Whether the Senate will be able to make it over into a decent instrument is uncertain. It can be done, but it may as well be admitted that the prospects are not good. The real reason for the refusal of the House to face up to the realities and for the failure of the Administration to supply strong leadership in this vital business of war taxation is because an election looms ahead. That is a discreditable fact, but it is incontrovertible.

* * *

It is politics which has paralyzed the patriotism of both the executive and the legislative branches of the Government. It is politics which prevents them from functioning as clear-headed statesment in a world crisis and turns them into scared little demagogues, willing to imperil the national interests rather than incur a possible political risk. On both sides the exhibition has been a disgraceful one and the bill upon which the Senate committee is now concentrating has no sincere defenders. It is not satisfactory to anyone.

* * *

The real hope for a better bill is based on the fact that, while the whole membership of the House must be elected in November, only one-third of the ninety-six Senators are concerned with this election. The other two-thirds come up either in 1944 or 1946. This should mean that politics as applied to taxes, will weigh less heavily in the Senate than in the House. However, the Senators who are in position to—and who want to—vote their convictions and act on this bill without regard to political considerations will have no greater support from the Administration than it gave the House, which is practically none. And without genuine and resolute Administration support it is exceedingly difficult for either Senate or House to rise above politics and resist pressure on anything. It is possible, of course, but there are not many instances where it has been done.

* * *

Under our system, the only way in which matters such as this can be dealt with as they should be is for the Administration, first, to cast aside its political fears and then exert its influence upon Congress to do the same. It is regrettable that we have not got an Administration capable of that sort of thing. It is, perhaps, our greatest need in this critical period. What we have is an Administration which is setting a very bad example not only by engaging actively in the present political campaign but in planning actively for future campaigns. The President's personal direction of the fight for the New York Gubernatorial nomination is certainly no inspiration to members of Congress to forget politics while the war lasts—quite the contrary.

* * *

Nor can it be said that the tax suggestions that have come from the President recently have been helpful. The one concrete proposal which he has made and to which he still clings is that a ceiling of $25,000 over individual incomes should be adopted, although the Treasury, itself, estimates that this would affect only 11,000 persons and bring in less than $185,000,000 additional revenue. Even if that were done the gap of $30,000,000,000 between spendable incomes and the things for which those incomes can be spent would still exist. Individual income and corporation income rates in the medium and higher brackets have now been raised to the extreme limit of safety—some think beyond. Certainly, any further increases would bring the law of diminishing returns into operation and all present calculations would be knocked out.

* * *

Yet, both the Administration and the House preferred to take this risk and accept a grotesquely inadequate bill rather than accept the sales tax, which is the one logical alternative. The White House, the Treasury and the House of Representatives all recognize the inevitability of the sales tax. Yet in none of these is there the courage to take a stand for it before the election, although no one denies that the cost to the country of a year's delay will be very great. It remains to be seen whether the Senate will join this craven aggregation or will act in an enlightened and creditable way to buttress our financial foundations against the terrific strain of an unprecedented war.

Even the Frosting is Sugarless!

IN quest of a cake that doesn't use sugar? Then look at this lovely layer developed in the Rumford Kitchens. No sugar is needed for the cake or frosting, and since sugar tends to mask ingredient flavors Rumford, being an all-phosphate baking powder, leaves no after taste in sugarless recipes. Here's how to bake the cake and its variations, and the frosting that tops them all:

Sugarless Cake

3 cups sifted cake flour
4 teaspoons Rumford Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1½ cups corn syrup
3 egg yolks
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 cup milk
3 egg whites

Sift together flour, Rumford Baking Powder and salt. Cream shortening, add 1 cup of the corn syrup gradually, and cream until fluffy. Add egg yolks, one at a time, and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, stirring well after each addition. Add grated orange rind. Beat egg whites until stiff, add remaining ½ cup corn syrup gradually, beating until mixture stands in stiff peaks. Fold into batter until well-blended. Bake in 2 greased 9-inch layer cake pans in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and frost as desired. Yield: 2 layers.

VARIATIONS

Yellow Cake: Use 6 egg yolks and no whites. Beat with a rotary egg beater until thick and lemon colored; add the corn syrup gradually, beating constantly.

White Cake: Use 5 egg whites and no egg yolks. Beat the egg whites until stiff, then gradually beat in the ½ cup corn syrup.

Chocolate Chip Cake: Add ⅔ cup semi-sweet chocolate, broken into small pieces, to the cake batter just before folding in the beaten egg whites.

Sugarless Frosting

1¼ cups corn syrup
3 egg whites
1 teaspoon Rumford Baking Powder
2 teaspoons flavoring (vanilla or other flavoring)

Boil corn syrup in a saucepan over direct heat until it spins a thread when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites foamy; add Rumford Baking Powder and beat until stiff. Add corn syrup slowly, beating vigorously while adding. Add flavoring and continue beating until frosting is stiff and stands in peaks. Yield: Frosting for 2 9-inch layers; 1 medium loaf cake; or 16 large cup cakes.

Report Is Made On Diseases in State

About Four-Fifths As Much Sickness This Year From "Catching Diseases"

There was about four-fifths as much sickness from the "catching diseases" in the State during the first six months of 1942 as during the corresponding period of 1941 according to figures announced by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department.

Approximately 34,000 cases of sickness from such diseases were reported to the State Bureau of Communicable Diseases, from January to the end of June, this year, as compared to 41,420 to the end of June in 1941. Of this year's total, approximately 13,000 cases were reported from the counties; and nearly 21,000 from Baltimore City. Of the total for the first six months of 1941, 16,000 cases were reported from the counties and over 25,000 from Baltimore City.

There were over 4,000 fewer cases of the children's diseases reported than in 1941—20,490 cases during the first six months of 1942 in comparison with 24,528 during the corresponding period of 1941. Despite the marked decrease in the total in this group, significant increases occurred in several diseases. Diphtheria, for example, increased from 90 cases in 1941 to 113 during the first six months of 1942. There were 10,854 cases of measles, 1,668 of scarlet fever, 3,514 of chickenpox, and 2,867 of mumps reported to the end of June during the current year, in comparison with 6,235 of measles, 1,239 of scarlet fever, 3,219 of chickenpox and 1,765 of mumps last year. On the other hand, German measles dropped from 9,748 cases in 1941 to 235 this year; and whooping cough from 2,232 cases in 1941 to 1,149 to the end of June this year.

The respiratory diseases dropped from a total of nearly 7,800 cases reported during the first six months of 1941 to approximately 4,300 during the corresponding period in 1942. There were 2,666 cases of the pneumonias, 1,387 of tuberculosis, and 236 of influenza reported to June 30, of the current year in comparison with 3,138 of the pneumonias, 1,644 of tuberculosis, and 3,010 of influenza to the end of June in 1941.

Approximately 8,500 cases of the venereal diseases, 5,824 of syphillis and 2,644 of gonorrheal infections were included in the 1942 totals in comparison with nearly 8,300 during the first six months of 1941, including 5,993 cases of syphilis and 2,273 of gonorrheal infections.

Important increases included the following: Meningitis, from 84 cases during the first half of 1941, to 180 cases to June 30, this year; undulant fever, from 12 cases last year to 24, this year.

Three groups of diseases were responsible for 98 per cent of the sickness from the reportable diseases in the State during the first six months of the current year. The children's diseases were charged with 60 per cent; the venereal diseases with 25 per cent and the respiratory diseases with 13 per cent of the total. The rest was scattered among the forty or more diseases which physicians or others who have knowledge of their occurrence are asked to report promptly to the nearest health officer or to the State Health Department in order that measures to prevent their spread may be gotten under way without delay.

ACCIDENT

Golden Wedding Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Alexander of the Flatwoods community, near Accident, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday of last week, at their home on Route 219. They held open house from 2 p. m. until about 10 o'clock, during which time they received the congratulations of about 150 guests. Refreshments were served to the guests by the family and entertainment was furnished in the afternoon by the Cuppett male quartet from Mt. Lake Park, and in the evening by the Accident Concert band. The home was appropriately decorated with gold colored streamers and wedding bells and with yellow bouquets of gladiolas, calendulas and chrysanthemums. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the honored couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were both born and reared in the Flatwoods community and have spent their entire lives there. They have six sons, Walter, of Cumberland; William, of Oakland, Calif.; and Earl, Lloyd, Robert and Fred, who live at Accident, and two daughters, Mrs. Paul Welsh, of Gortner, and Mrs. William Stemmer, of Baltimore. There are sixteen grandchildren. All of the children were home for the celebration except William and Mrs. Stemmer. The Alexanders have been active members of the Church of the Brethren throughout the years. A special service was conducted on Sunday morning by the pastor in their honor.

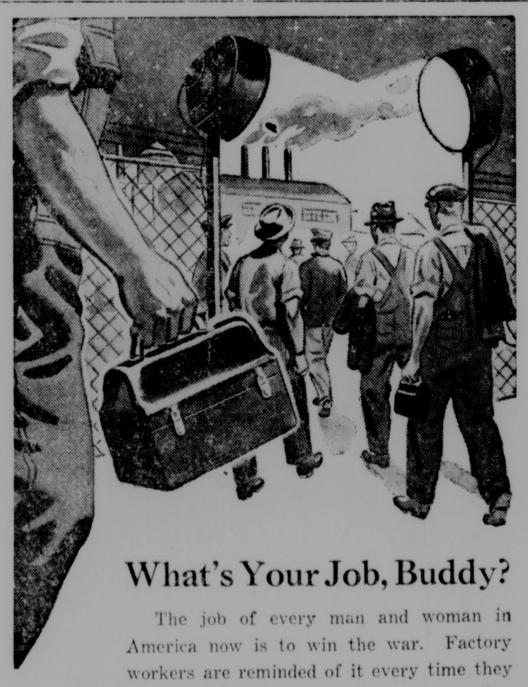
A heavy rain in Cumberland flooded subways, cellars and streets, July 23.



What's Your Job, Buddy?

The job of every man and woman in America now is to win the war. Factory workers are reminded of it every time they go through the gates. Farmers are meeting the demand for more and better crops, livestock, and other food needs. Civilian workers who are buying bonds and stamps and manning civilian defense posts know it, too. Housewives have heeded the call in numerous ways. Even children are aware of the change in their lives.

THE FIGHT IS ON!—

The world today has an opportunity seldom equalled in its history. There never was a time when prejudice, discrimination and hatred was more widespread. BUT—there never was a time when this hydra-headed monster was more clearly recognized for exactly what it is—a destructive force that feeds upon the weak, not as an animal, for self-preservation, but for the sheer lust of killing.

Forced into the open by the war drums, it can be fought in the open and crushed into nothingness, if we face the dragon and fight it down instead of hedging on the issues.

Up to now we have all too often compromised with evil. We have taken sides and condoned those cruelties which did not affect our own particular interest. We need now to condemn cruelty as such—whoever perpetuates it, or wherever it is in existence—whether it be in the concentration camps of Hitler, or on the chain gangs of Georgia, whether it be in the purges of Russia, or in the rape of Nanking, or in the massacre of Lidice.

We must, however, be consistent. Too many people seek—not fair play for all—but rule for themselves. We have seen that situation in India. With the enemy at their gates, Indian politicians sought advantages for their particular group, not equality for all.

Look back a few years at the Axis record. First the Japanese complained that there was discrimination against them in Manchuria, so they seized it—and discriminated against everyone else. Then the Italians claimed they were being oppressed in Ethiopia, so they started a fight—to enslave the Ethiopians. Finally Hitler claimed the Versailles treaty was unfair to Germany, so he started wars and imposed terms that made the Versailles treaty look like a Sunday School treat.

We must make it so plain that no one can possibly not understand that whoever condones murder, massacre, cruelty, discrimination, slander, hatred toward any group, whether it be of race, nationality, color or religion, whoever seeks preferment for his own group at the expense of others, or without regard for the rights of others, is playing the totalitarian game of divide and conquer.

As Jonathan Daniels of the Office of Civilian Defense stated recently: "Intolerance is treason today."

Now the fight is out in the open—clearly labeled. Now is the time to wipe it out forever!

POLITICS—1942 AND 1944

Politics is never adjourned. Those of us who expect it to be in emergencies just don't know enough about either the good or the bad varieties of politics. It may surprise us to find members of Congress keeping one eye on primaries and elections in wartime. But Americans don't want to give up elections, and if John Q. Congressman is convinced that he is the best representative his district can find it may be his patriotic duty to make that clear to the voters. To continue to serve he must manage to be re-elected.

Politics is a profession. Politicians, both good and bad, practice it as such. They know it as a method of getting things done. Some of us may wonder why the Bennett-Mead and Dewey-Willkie controversies over who shall be the next Governor of New York should get so much attention from the politicians—and from press, public, and a war-burdened President. But somebody must be elected next November. And it may be important who it is. Certainly who chooses the men the people of New York vote for can be important. It can go far to determine who will be chosen President in 1944.

New York will very likely furnish one of the candidates for President two years hence. And in each party the group which nominates a Governor this year will run the state machine which will control the delegation to that party's national convention. In the Republican Party the friends of Wendell Willkie regard Thomas E. Dewey as an isolationist and realize that should he become Governor his friends would be in a strong position to claim the presidential nomination or to block a Willkie nomination.

In the Democratic party the picture is complicated by the rift developed in 1940 between James A. Farley and President Roosevelt. Mr. Farley, who is chairman of the Democratic State Committee, has been getting delegates lined up to nominate John J. Bennett, New York's Attorney General, for Governor. Mr. Roosevelt's friends, regarding Mr. Farley as an anti-New Dealer and not wishing him to control the State machine and the delegates to the 1944 national convention, have induced Senator James M. Mead to oppose Mr. Bennett.

We may not relish some of the methods employed in these controversies. We may say that everybody ought to sink personal or party interests and get on with the war. But so far democracies have not found a way by which citizens can just get together and spontaneously agree on the "best" man. Parties are required, and somebody has to do the work of running party machinery. Moreover in his case the opposing groups in each party have sincere differences over policies—as well as over patronage.

Actually American government would be better if citizens gave more rather than less attention to preelection contests within the parties—to the "politics" which governs the parties which in turn are instruments for governing the Nation.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Red armies fought with tank and aircraft power to hold defenses of Rostov and prevent capture of Stalingrad and their lines appeared to be stiffening. Germans were trying to drive a wedge south of the Don River and cut the railway connecting Rostov to the Volga and Stalingrad. British and U. S. made new statements to see war to victorious finish. British called up 18 and 48-year olds. Largest Atlantic convoy had reached British Isle from U. S. British gained in Egypt on two fronts and totaled up 2000 Axis planes destroyed since Egypt battle began. U. S. planes took heavy tool of invading Japs on island of New Guinea. An international court of justice and a police agency adequate to preserve peace, by force, if necessary, among all nations, were advocated by Cordell Hull to keep peace after allied victory.

SATURDAY—Russian rear guards were charged with exacting the highest possible price for Germany's second occupation of Rostov, while main Red armies entrenched behind the Don to fight the supreme battle for Russia's oil. Capture of Rostov was already claimed by Nazis. Airmen poured bombs on Nazi bases in Egypt and there were indications that Rommel prepared to withdraw to westward. Finland hinted she might quit if post-war independence was guaranteed from U. S. There were two-way attacks on western air front. British dropped big bombs on Duisburg and other points while 40 German planes raided Britain. U. S. bombing force was waiting impatiently in England for opportunity to strike Germany. Japs on New Guinea area were pounded stiffly by MacArthur's flyers. The Premier of Ontario predicted Japan's next move would be attack on Dutch Harbor in Aleutians.

SUNDAY—U. S. subs in western Pacific sank five Jap ships including a modern destroyer. American army bombers blasted Axis ports and shipping at Tobruk and Bengasi in Libya and Crete's Suda Bay. Reds said the Rostov drive was slowed but admitted Nazis had forced Don river where they employed vast tank forces and swarms of planes. American bombers were in thick of battle there. The U-boat toll in Atlantic reached 398. Demands for a second front were being voiced more and more in Britain. Mexico began a compulsory military training program to boost size of army to 250,000 by end of 1942.

MONDAY—Reds admitted situation around Rostov was alarming, with Nazi tanks and planes crashing into Red defenses along lower Don. North of Rostov two of ten offensives crossed the river there. Hundreds of RAF bombers dropped "block-destroying" charges on Duisburg and followed that up with sweeps over northern France. Reds raided East Russia by plane. British shot down nine of German's super planes to blast theory the new Focke-Wulf planes were superior to any fighting plane of British. There was a lull on African front. Chinese claimed new minor victories along eastern seaboard. Battle to dislodge Japs in new positions on New Guinea continued. Japs made two raids, one on Darwin in Australia.

TUESDAY — Masses of Germans beat against bracing Russian resistance along Don river. Hitler claimed capture of Bataisk, 20 miles south of Rostov. Soviets said they had stemmed the Nazis at two river crossings. Russians also stuck to story of still fighting around Rostov. Germans were 700 miles from Baku oil pool but less from lesser petroleum fields of Maikop. British in Egypt began attacking Rommel's forces while British and U. S. planes pounded supply bases. British sent 600 bombers over Hamburg, Germany's second city, and lost 29 but said the attack was one of most successful of whole war. There were new rumbles of revolt in occupied countries with Germans reported to have wiped out Norwegian town in reprisal for shooting of two police. Rumanians were placed in concentration camps. Japs pressed 25 miles inland on New Guinea but met allied patrols. Jap plane raiders in China were turned back from Chungking by U. S. planes.

WEDNESDAY — Tremendous battles roared along 300 miles of middle and lower Don in Russia with Nazis stalled fifty miles from Stalingrad, but pushing Russians back into Caucasus. Germans forced two more bridgeheads but slaughter was appalling. Nazi objective was town 114 miles below Rostov. British attack on Rommel in Egypt was stalled and Nazis forced Allies back slightly. Germans seemed to be digging in. Japs pushed another 25 miles closer to Port Moresby from their new base at Buna on New Guinea. Chinese widened their hold on important railway to fifty miles and British bombed four Jap bases in Burma. British the RAF chief warned German people flyers attacked points in Germany and the Allied planes would "scourge the Third Reich from end to end."

THURSDAY—Germany was reinforcing her coastal west wall with troops and Berlin told people for first time an American-British invasion is expected. Nazis pushed further southward toward Caucasus below the Don, but Reds reported stiffening resistance and growing air power. Near Voronezh to the north Red air force claimed destruction of 192 German planes in eight days. RAF sent 600 bombers over Hamburg again, losing 32 planes but declaring the attack successful. There was a lull in Africa but allied bombers struck at Suda Bay, Crete, again. Chinese reported further comeback in Kiangsi.

Box Supper And Social At Log Church Near Altamont

Under the leadership of the Rev. H. Kearney Jones and the Rev. Gordon Fischer, of St. Matthew's Parish, the people of the Wilson-Altamont Log church are planning to continue the building of a Parish-Community House on the grounds adjacent to the church.

To help raise funds for the building the women of the congregation and community are sponsoring a box supper and social at the church on Thursday, August 6, beginning at five o'clock.

Decorated boxes will be packed with a supper for two persons and these boxes will be sold at auction. Sandwiches, coffee and soft drinks will also be on sale. Later there will be cake walks with winning couples each receiveing a home-made cake.

Anyone bringing a stone for use in the foundation of the proposed building will be given a log church souvenir pin for their contribution.

Counties Help To Set June Safety Record

The twenty-three counties of the State have been credited by the Maryland Traffic Safety commission with having given Maryland its safest June in three years.

Despite an 83.3 per cent increase in automobile fatalities in Baltimore City over June, 1941, the State as a whole showed a 47.1 per cent reduction. Accompanying the fatalities there were 1411 accidents with 705 persons injured.

Baltimore City had 11 fatalities. Fourteen counties experienced a fatality free month, and two counties, Dorchester and Kent, experienced a perfect non-accident month—no collisions, no deaths, no injuries. Garrett county reported six accideits, no persons killed, but seven injured.

The drop in the severity rate was proof that the large majority of drivers have reduced their speeds to 40 miles per hour and under.

GORTNER

Miss Alta Schrock, of Springs, Pa., arrived here on Monday to teach in the Bible school which will close on Friday evening with appropriate exercises.

There will be church services here Sunday morning and Sunday evening, to which all are most cordially invited.

Miss Lois McRobie, of Kitzmiller, is here for a visit of two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Howard Johnson, Jr.

FOR SHERIFF
Walter H. Haenftling

I hereby announce my candidacy for Sheriff of Garrett County, Maryland, subject to the election to be held on November 3, 1942.

The voters of this county elected me to this important office in 1930 and I served one full term of four years. Recently I was appointed by Governor O'Conor to fill the unexpired term of J. W. Owens, who resigned.

In presenting myself to the voters of our county I stand on my past record as sheriff. During the time I served you I endeavored to conduct the affairs of the office in a fair, impartial and economical manner and if again elected I pledge the same service.

I have spent my entire life in District No. 5 as a farmer and merchant; am a veteran of World War No. 1; am vitally interested in the welfare of our county and in seeking the important office of sheriff, I ask your earnest consideration.

Respectfully yours,
WALTER H. HAENFTLING.
Accident, Maryland.

LAWRENCE FRALEY
Republican Candidate for Nomination for
STATE SENATOR

To the Voters and Citizens of Garrett County:

For some time past many of the citizens and voters of Garrett County have expressed to me their wish that I become a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator for Garrett County. I have filed my certificate of candidacy for this office, feeling that my past experience fully qualifies me to successfully fill this important office.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County and have always been a loyal Republican and active party worker. I have served as Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and on numerous occasions been a delegate to Republican State Conventions and was a delegate from Maryland at the last Republican National Convention at Philadelphia.

For the past thirty years I have been active in business in Garrett County, have served as Postmaster at Oakland, served as President of the City Council of Oakland and have been elected Mayor of Oakland seven times, and am at the present time its Mayor. I am also serving as Director of Civilian Defense for the Southern Section of Garrett County. In both my official and civilian activities, I have always done everything in my power to bring to our County business enterprises, and have always been active in advertising and interesting others in our many resources. I was one of the organizers of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and have been an active member since its organization and have served as its President.

By reason of my long and varied experience, I feel that I am qualified to serve the people of this County as their Senator at Annapolis, and if nominated and elected, I will do my utmost to serve all of the people of the County with courtesy, and it will be my purpose to advise with and consult the people of the county on legislative matters.

In the present National emergency it is the duty of everyone to do his part towards the successful prosecution of the war and at a time when we are all called upon to make sacrifices and additional taxes are imposed upon us, I favor the strictest economy in normal governmental expenses, consistent with good government.

I am opposed to any legislative enactment providing for the bonding of the County for any purpose without a referendum, giving the people of the County the opportunity to express their opinion.

I will work for, and strive to interest others in the many natural resources of our County.

I believe that there can be improvement in the preservation and propagation of the fish and wild life in our County, and I promise the sportsmen of the County that if I am nominated and elected I will cooperate and work with them towards this end.

I have always believed in fair treatment of the laboring man and if nominated and elected I shall continue to support that policy.

Our County has some of the finest agricultural sections to be found anywhere and it shall be my purpose to support any legislation that is beneficial to the farmer and that will help the farmers of Garrett County.

We have here an unsurpassed recreational area and I have done my utmost to advertise and promote this great natural resource and if I am elected to serve you at Annapolis I am confident that I will be able to do much more than I have done in the past, through contact with State and Government officials.

I believe if proper effort is made, more coal and agricultural products from this County can be used by our State institutions and I shall work to accomplish that result.

When peace comes, the people of our State and County will face many serious problems, and if I am your representative at that time I shall lend my aid and support to those who have served their country in its armed forces and help them in every possible way in their return to civilian life.

Because of the short period of time now remaining before the primary, it will not be possible for me to see personally each voter, but I solicit the support of my friends throughout the County.

LAWRENCE M. FRALEY.

McKeldin or West to Oppose O'Conor for Governor of State

Both File for GOP Nomination Before Deadline Last Friday

Theodore R. McKeldin and W. Pinkney West, Jr., both of Baltimore, announced they would be candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. They filed just a few hours before the deadline last Friday, with the secretary of state, Thomas Elmo Jones, at Annapolis.

McKeldin, who said he was accepting a "party call to duty," was the outstanding choice of the Republican canvass committee. He said a still higher obligation was "to aid in preserving for Maryland the two-party system of government.

West is salesmanager of the Keystone Automobile club of Maryland. He said that for years he had been a "staunch although not a machine Republican," and thought the time had arrived "for a young man without machine attachments and in no way obligated to the party machine to assert the right of every member of the party—to seek public office."

McKeldin in his prepared statement said:

"Personal ambition alone would not and party duty might not impel me to make the fight against an intrenched and arrogant political power, but the conviction that regardless of results, I will have served honestly in the cause of good government, is a compelling reason for my decision.

Confident of Victory

"One should not underrate the resources of the insatiate political bureaucracy and attempted one-party totalitarianism which seeks to perpetuate its Maryland rule; but I am confident that host of voters, without regard to party ties, will arise to fight by my side.

"I accept the call to contend for Republican institutions of good government and the principles of true democracy."

Candidates may enter the state political race now only by petition, and such candidates must obtain 10,000 signatures for certification.

O'Conor Is Opposed

In the Democratic field with Governor O'Conor are Thomas E. Cook, Frederick Chemical Company president; Vincent Long, Stephen B. Peddicord and John Kennedy, all of Baltimore.

Both Peddicord and Kennedy announced against O'Conor in 1938 but neither one received a vote. Kennedy withdrew before the election while Peddicord, a "write-in" candidate, didn't poll a vote, apparently forgetting even to cast one for himself.

Cook has announced he seeks the governorship to "save Maryland from the politicians." Long campaigned for the United States senate in 1941 as Vincent L. Gierttoski before his name was legally changed. He is a newcomer to the gubernatorial contest.

In Western Maryland

In Western Maryland's sixth district, there is E. Brooke Lee, Montgomery county Democratic leader, matched against incumbent Mrs. Katherine E. Byron, who won a special election last year succeeding her late husband 'Representative William D. Byron, killed in a Georgia airplane accident in February, 1941.

The Republican primary contestants are J. Glenn Beall, former State Roads Commissioner chairman, of Frostburg, and Henry C. Triesler, of Hagerstown.

Accident Cooperative Has Annual Meeting

Charles Harman and Chris M. Glass, Accident, were elected to the local Southern States Advisory board when farmer-members and friends of the cooperative in the Accident section held their annual meeting July 24, with an attendance of 350 people.

They succeed Walter Harman and Oscar G. Harman, who are retiring. Other board members are Lloyd E. Miller, Foster E. Yost, Howard B. Schlossnagle, and Clarence F. Kolb, all of Accident, with Mr. Miller chairman.

Reminding his hearers that the present war situation calls for clear thinking, sound action, initiative, resourcefulness, and grinding hard work, District Manager L. O. Brumback presented the company's annual report.

"Pay off indebtedness," Mr. Brumback urged his hearers. "Build up reserves against after-war depression; produce as much as possible without buying more land or making undue investments in either equipment or livestock; in view of rising labor costs and shortages, do as many jobs as possible on or near the farm."

Mr. Brumback also showed a moving picture, "Grass Root Democracy at Work."

Walter H. Fratz outlined the progress of the local cooperative. Ross Speicher presided, Charles Wilt led group singing, and the Accident band furnished special entertainment.

Prizes in the Cake Baking contest went to Mrs. Elmer Kolb, Mrs. B. O. Aiken, Mrs. Mary George, Mrs. Claude Fike, and Mrs. Morgan Fike, Accident, and Mrs. Edna Bowser, Selbysport. Winners of the prizes in the Bag Opening contest were Mr. and Mrs. Emory George, Accident; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowser, Selbysport; and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Fike, Accident.

Committee chairmen were Mrs. Charles Wilt, Mrs. Elmer Kolb, Mr. Fratz, Harold Georg, Miss Long, Miss Lena Miller and Charles Wilt.

A similar meeting was held at Friendsville on Monday night, with C. O. Ross making the report on local operations.

Grafton Woman Fatally Injured In Collision On Route 50

A collision between a motorcycle and a coal truck on Route 50, near the junction of the Elk Garden-Kitzmiller road at the top of the mountain, on Monday resulted in the death of Mrs. Joseph James Miller, of Grafton, W. Va., and the serious injury of her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were enroute to Washington where Mr. Miller is employed, when their motorcycle while rounding a sharp curve on the highway, collided with the coal truck driven by Karl K. Hite, of Woodstock, Va. Mrs. Miller died enroute to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

To Review Activities Of Local Cooperative

A review of the activities of Southern States Cooperative during the year ended June 30 will be presented by District Manager J. C. Mallory when the farmer-members and friends of Oakland service unit hold their annual meeting in Oakland High school Wednesday evening, August 5, at 8:15 o'clock.

Some of the features of the program to be introduced by William F. DeBerry, president of the local board of directors, will be the movie, "Grass Root Democracy at Work," a report on the cooperative program in the Oakland section by B. Beeson Snyder, local manager; also group singing, refreshments, favors and contests in which winners will receive prizes.

Member of the board of directors of the Oakland service unit are Mr. DeBerry, Jonas Sines, Truman C. Bittinger, Roy O. Winters and James F. Hamilton, Oakland; J. W. Steyer, Deer Park, and Earl K. Harvey, of Swanton. Successors to Mr. DeBerry and Mr. Bittinger, retiring members, will be elected.

FOR

STATE SENATOR

E. RAY JONES

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from Garrett County. My application for a place on the primary ballot has already been filed as required by law.

In recent weeks many of you have urged me to become a candidate for this position, and have kindly expressed the view that because of my training, experience and the knowledge of legislative and other governmental affairs which I acquired while serving as Secretary of State of Maryland, I could be of some real service to our State and county during the difficult years which lie just ahead. It is in response to this and in this spirit that I have become a candidate.

During the next four years, many difficult and perplexing war and after-the-war problems will be faced. In the solving of these it will be the duty of us all to participate. Many will require legislative action and it will be the duty of the Senator and Members of the House from this county to help in the framing and passage of the necessary legislation. If nominated and elected, it will be my pleasure, as well as duty, to assume my share of this responsibility and to assist to the best of my ability in the working out of these problems. At the same time I will give due and constant consideration to the needs and interests of our county and endeavor to obtain proper recognition for it.

I shall appreciate your support and influence.

E. RAY JONES

Most Persons Comply With Car Use Tax Law

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue advises that reports received indicate that most persons subject to the Auto Use Tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1942, have complied with the law and have purchased the required Federal stamp.

Those who have not yet purchased the required $5.00 Auto Use Tax stamp may purchase them from the local postoffices until July 31, 1942.

From August 1, 1942, on they can only be purchased at the offices of the Collector of Internal Revenue located in the District of Maryland at the following places:

Customs House, Gay and Lombard streets, Baltimore.

Room 1002, Internal Revenue Building, 12th street and Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Room 303, Postoffice Building, Cumberland.

Collectors of Internal Revenue are authorized to accept cash, postoffice money orders and certified checks in payment of Use Tax stamps.

Any person operating a motor vehicle on the highway without the Use Tax stamp affixed thereto is subject to a penalty of $25 and/or thirty days in prison for failure to purchase stamp and to have stamp affixed to vehicle.

The Commissioner further states that it is the intention of the Internal Revenue service to vigorously pursue to a conclusion any violation.

Broilers and Fryers—A Victory Food Special

Broilers and fryers, supplying ideal poultry dishes for summertime meals, are being featured throughout the nation as a "Victory Food Special."

They have been designated as such because young chickens are abundant now, due to expanded poultry production to fill wartime egg needs. The surplus cockerels created by this increase in poultry population are excellent for broiling or frying.

If you plan to take advantage of this "Victory Food Special" here are some tips from home economists U. S. Department of Agriculture, to help you prepare that broiler or fryer for a good chicken dinner:

Ten Steps To Good Broiled Chicken

Buy plump, young chickens weighing about 2½ pounds, dressed weight—that is plucked but not drawn with head and feet attached.

Split down both the back and the breastbone, and use each half for a serving.

Wash the chicken with water and wipe as dry as you can. Never soak it.

Coat with melted fat, sprinkle with salt and pepper. If you like, sprinkle flour over the fat.

Put the chicken in the broiler, skin side away from the heat at first.

Keep the heat moderate.

Turn the chicken several times as it browns, and baste often.

Cook evenly, clear to the bone.

If you prefer, cook it partly done in a broiler and finish slowly in the oven.

Serve hot, with pan drippings or melted fat poured over the broiled chicken.

Twelve Steps to Good Fried Chicken

Allow for each person at least ¾ pound chicken, dressed weight.

Disjoint the chicken and cut into pieces for serving.

Wash them with water and pat as dry as possible. Never soak.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour, or dip in slightly beaten egg, diluted with a tablespoon of water or milk, and roll in fine, dry bread crumbs, corn meal or flour.

Use a thick frying pan to spread the heat evenly.

Put in enough fat so when melted it is about a half inch or more deep. Fat should be hot but not smoking when you put in the chicken.

Fry thickest pieces of chicken first. They take longer to cook.

Do not crowd chicken in the pan. Leave enough room so the fat can come up around each piece.

Cook at moderate heat; turn each piece when it is brown. Moderate heat helps to hold in the juice and keeps the protein tender.

When done, take pieces from the pan and drain them on absorbent paper.

To keep chicken hot until time to serve, put in a heated pan or a crock.

If you have a lot of chicken to fry at one time, you may want to cook it partly done in a frying pan, then finish in a moderate oven.

To Make Cream Gravy

Mix two tablespoons flour with two tablespoons drippings and the brown pieces in the frying pan.

Add gradually 1½ cups cold milk. Stir constantly.

Cook slowly until gravy is smooth and thickened.

Season as you like it.

And don't throw away any chicken fat. If there's more than you want for gravy, strain out the brown particles and store in a dark, cold place to help season other food. Don't let a drop of fat go to waste. Salvage it for your country's war needs if you can't use it yourself in food.

Political Announcements

Announcements of candidates for nomination at the primary election to be held in Garrett county on September 8th, 1942, will be published in this column until immediately prior to the above date. Rates for inserting these announcements are as follows:

State Senator, $25; Members of the House of Delegates, $15; Clerk of the Circuit Court, $25; State's Attorney, $25; Sheriff, $20; County Treasurer, $20; County Commissioner, $15; County Surveyor, $5; Judges of the Orphans' Court, $5; Register of Wills, $10; Members of the Republican State Central Committee, $5.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Having presided over the Circuit Court for Washington county for more than one year and a half, I have served through five regular jury terms and two non-jury terms of that Court, in addition to sitting, upon occasions, with Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Huster in the Circuit Courts for Allegany and Garrett counties, and I believe that the experience which I have gained qualifies me to continue my services on the Bench.

Since assuming my judicial duties I have been ever mindful of the high standard of service set by my predecessor in office, the late Judge Frank G. Wagaman, and I have endeavored to faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability administer the duties of the high office which I am privileged to hold.

I have been told that my services have been satisfactory to the members of the Bars of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, and I hope also to the citizens generally of those counties which comprise the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Our American form of Government intends that the Judiciary shall be a department separate and apart from the Legislative and Executive branches, and as such shall be engaged in the impartial and equal administration of justice to all citizens. I have believed in those ideals and have always conscientiously tried to follow them.

If you feel that I am qualified by reason of experience, training, temperament and ability to continue to occupy the position I now hold, your support and influence will be greatly appreciated. JOS. D. MISH.
Hagerstown, Md., July 20, 1942.

FOR STATE SENATOR

At the urgent request of many friends in various parts of the county, I have filed for the office of State Senator and hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, subject to the Democratic primary. I have been a citizen of the county for the past seven years, own my home in Mtn. Lake Park and for the past two years have served as Mayor of that corporation, having been elected by a large majority of its citizens. In making this announcement, I fully appreciate the duties involved and I assure the citizens of the county that if nominated and elected I shall perform them honestly, without fear or favor and to the best interest of all. I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of Democratic voters throughout the county.
DR. C. OSCAR HALL.

JAMES A. COVER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942, and most respectfully solicit the support of Republicans at the polls in all parts of the county.

If nominated and later elected to this office I shall execute the duties incumbent upon me to the best of my ability and in accordance with the law and directions of the Court.
JAMES A. COVER.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

Ladies and Gentlemen.

The undersigned, native of Garrett County, announces his candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election to be held on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in business for a number of years and at present am a County Constable and serving as Deputy Sheriff. With the experience thus gained, I feel that I am qualified to fill the duties of the office I seek and shall execute the same without fear or favor, should I be nominated and later elected to this most important position.

I most respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends in all parts of the county.
Very respectfully
MARK H. MOON.
District No. 16*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Sheriff for Garrett County, subject, however, to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared on a farm in this county and for the past thirty-five years have been engaged in business in Oakland.

As a citizen and taxpayer I have never sought nor held any public office. I now come before the people as a candidate.

Should I be nominated and later elected to this important office I shall endeavor to execute its duties to the best of my ability and without partiality.

Most respectfully yours,
FLOYD C. STAHL.
Oakland, District No. 14.*

FOR SHERIFF

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for Sheriff of Garrett county at the coming Republican primary election, on September 8.

I have been a life-long Republican and was born and reared in District No. 8, of this county.

I believe that I am qualified to fill this important office and I respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends and all Republican voters in all sections of the county.
GEORGE E. CODDINGTON.
District No. 16, July 29.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in the mercantile business at Deer Park for twelve years and as a farmer and live stock dealer near Deer Park for the past five years. For a year I was acting postmaster and was town treasurer for six years. Before going to Deer Park I was employed in the Offutt store in Oakland for eight years.

With my experience in these several lines of business, I feel that I am well prepared to execute the duties of the office which I seek to the satisfaction of the general public.

Soliciting the support of all Republicans in every part of the county, I am, Very respectfully,
J. EDWARD HELBIG.
Deer Park, District No. 10*

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for Treasurer of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election.

Having served as County Commissioner for almost four years, and being in close contact with the office of Treasurer, I feel qualified to serve the public in this capacity.

I am also grateful to the voters for their confidence placed in me and their cooperation in the past.

I most earnestly solicit your continued cooperation and support in the coming primary election.

Very truly yours,
PAUL M. FRIEND.
District No. 7, July 29.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

The undersigned announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett county, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have been a tax payer for many years.

If successful in the primaries and later elected as a member of the board my aim will be to represent the people of the entire county.

Soliciting the support of the Republican voters of all sections, I beg to remain, Very sincerely,
JAMES A. SAVAGE.
Sang Run, District No. 6.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

At the urgent request of many voters in various sections of the County, I have filed for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County and hereby announce my candidacy for nomination, subject to the result of the Republican Primary election.

I have lived my entire life in Garrett County and have always had the best interest and welfare of the county at heart. If I receive the nomination and am elected, I assure the citizens of the County that I shall perform the duties of the office honestly and without fear or favor and to the best interest of all.

I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of all voters throughout the county.
JONAS W. SINES.
Swallow Falls, July 8, 1942*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

Ladies and Gentlemen:

As a member of the Republican party, and having had an experience of four years in the office of County Commissioner, I again seek the nomination and election as a member of the Board.

With my former experience, I feel that I am fully qualified to again fill the office I seek and solicit the support of all members of the party in all parts of the county.

If nominated and later elected, I shall endeavor to execute its duties in fairness to all and economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
Dist. 5* JOHN W. HERMAN.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am hereby announcing my candidacy for re-nomination and re-election as a County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the primary election.

I have served the county the past four years as Commissioner, and if re-nominated and re-elected I will continue to give my best services to the taxpayers.

I stand for home rule, better county government, a plan that will work to the improvement of all secondary roads and bridges by the use of the 1½ cent gasoline tax.

Sincerely yours,
CHESTON H. BROWNING.
District No. 7, July 29.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland.

I feel that my past experience of two terms as a member of the Board of Commissioners fully qualifies me to capably fulfill the duties of the Commissioners' office.

I respectfully solicit the support of my friends and all party members.
Sincerely,
G. BLAINE GIESSMAN.
District No. 14, July 29.

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I most respectfully announce my candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County and crave the votes and influence of my friends at the primary election to be held September 8, 1942.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS E. BISHOFF.
Oakland, District No. 7, June 23*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

After being asked by a number of friends to again place my name on the ballot for Judge of the Orphans' Court, I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. After serving the public in this office for the past seven years I know I am better qualified now than I was when first elected.

I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thanking you for past favors, I remain, yours to serve,
Dist. 5* FRANK CALLIS.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I was born in Friendsville and am now a resident of Mountain Lake Park, in District No. 16. I have always been a Republican and have been a taxpayer for many years.

My father, Thomas Cuppett, served as Judge of the Orphans Court for a number of years and I desire an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity. I solicit the support of the Republican voters from all sections of the county. Very sincerely yours,
E. CALVIN CUPPETT.
Mt. Lake Park, Dist. 16, June 29*

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

I hereby announce my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County.

It is with gratitude to the voters of this County that I express my appreciation in having been privileged for some years past to serve the public interests of our County in this same capacity and assure you of my continued effort to discharge faithfully the duties of the office if I am reelected.

Earnestly soliciting your support at the Republican primary election to be held September 8, 1942, I am,
Very truly yours,
VERNIE R. SMOUSE.

EXECUTOR'S SALE

—OF—

Household Furniture & Valuable Real Estate

In Deer Park, Maryland

By virtue of the powers vested in me as Executor of the last will and testament of John T. Smith, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, and an order of the Orphans' Court for said County, I hereby give notice that on at the hour of three o'clock P. M., in front of the late residence of said John T. Smith, on Main street, in the town of Deer Park, Maryland, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction the following personal property:

One Sideboard, 6 Beds and Spring, 1 lot of Chairs, 1 lot of Dishes, 1 Heating Stove, 1 Hot Plate, 1 lot of Carpets and Rugs and other Household Furniture.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash on day of sale.

Following this sale I will also offer at public auction and receive bids for the real estate heretofore owned by John T. Smith and Lucy E. Smith, his wife, and being the same which was conveyed to them by deed from Wilbur C. Jones dated August 14, 1924, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 88, folio 268, one of the Land Records of Garrett County.

This property is generally known at the W. C. Jones store and residence property, and is improved by a two-story frame store building, ten-room dwelling, stable and other outbuildings.

Acceptance of any offer received for this property will be subject to approval by the heirs of said John T. and Lucy Smith.

Partial payment plan may be arranged.

LAW OFFICES OF
JONES & JONES,

Chester H. Bobet and Nina Bobet, his wife, vs. Mary K. Myrick, and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne, and George W. Branne, her husband.
No. 3655 Equity.
In the Circuit Court for Garrett County.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Chester H. Bobet, Mary K. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds arising therefrom.

The bill states:

That the said Chester H. Bobet is seized and possessed of an undivided one-half interest in and to a dwelling-house property situated in Deer Park, Garrett County, Maryland; said property having been conveyed to him and one Henry F. Bobet, as tenants in common, share and share alike, by William B. Miller and wife, by deed dated February 3, 1919, and recorded in Liber No. 76, folio 44, one of the Land Records of said Garrett County, the original of said deed, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'A'", having been filed with the bill, and prayed to be considered a part thereof; that the undivided one-half interest of the said Henry F. Bobet in the aforesaid property was subsequently conveyed by him to Mary K. Myrick and Eva Ellen Branne, as tenants in common, by deed dated November 4, 1938, and recorded in Liber No. 118, folio 187, Land Records of said Garrett County; a certified copy of said last-named deed having been filed with the bill, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'B'", and prayed to be taken and considered a part thereof; that said property is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and that it would be to the advantage of all of said parties to have said property sold under a decree of Court, and the proceeds divided amongst the parties in interest, according to their respective rights; that none of the parties to said suit are residents of the State of Maryland, but that Chester H. and Nina Bobet reside in Marion County, in the State of West Virginia, and that Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne reside in Franklin County, in the State of Ohio.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of the said real estate, and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom, and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of July, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs, by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 14th day of August, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne, her husband, of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 29th day of August, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

For State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from Garrett County, subject to the primary to be held on September 8th.

I am connected with no clique or faction and if I am nominated and elected, I shall accord to all, without regard to party faction or clique, a respectful and unprejudiced hearing at all times and shall honestly endeavor to serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability.

I pledge to use the major portion of my time at the State Capitol, to secure some real worthwhile legislation, beneficial to our County, which is not now and has not been receiving consideration in a legislative way in proportion to benefits had by other counties in our State.

I have been actively engaged in business in Garrett County over a period of twenty years, during which time I have been in close touch with the affairs of the county and feel that I am fully acquainted with its needs and can creditably represent its people in this most important office.

I solicit your favorable consideration and assure you it will be deeply appreciated.

Our fathers gave us liberty,
Twas their fighting faith that gave it.
And if we hope to still be free,
Our fighting faith must save it.

The War isn't fought in Fox Holes alone

IT'S fought in the mind. It's fought with a will to win. It's fought with a belief in a cause worth dying for.

That will, that belief, is known as morale.

Our enemies have had years of indoctrination. They have been conditioned to believe themselves part of a "new order" . . . to which the contribution of their lives is small but all-important. They believe themselves cogs in a vast machine.

Our soldiers do not fight that way—because they do not live that way. Theirs is the belief in the sanctity of the individual.

To maintain their morale in the American way, the USO has devoted all its time and energy since practically the beginning of conscription.

It has done this by staffing and maintaining club houses near all training camps and in outlying possessions of the United States.

Today its work is far greater than ever, its need for funds to carry on more than doubled.

The USO needs your help now more than it has ever needed it before.

High government and military officials — including General MacArthur — have praised the work done by the USO and recognized its importance in the war effort.

But it needs recognition from you—recognition in the way of dollars and cents. For the six national agencies which comprise the USO are publicly supported.

Now above all times, to make your dollars count, give to the USO!

• • •

Send your contribution to your local USO Committee or to National Headquarters, USO, Empire State Building, New York, N. Y.

Give to the USO

Projenitors of The Garrett County Wilson Family

THOMAS WILSON I emigrated from Northern Ireland about 1736 and settled in what is now Carroll Co., Md.

THOMAS WILSON II (b. 1740) settled near Rawlings, Allegany Co., Md. He also owned Military Lot No. 300, patented to Frederick Bray, in 1793, site of the town of Kitzmiller, Garrett Co., Md. This lot he deeded in 1813 to his son—

THOMAS WILSON III (1777-1864), who resided there about 1798. Thomas III married Susan Bowman of near Mt. Storm, Va. In 1802 the Wilsons built a grist mill, now known as the Kitzmiller Mill. Brays and Wilsons were the first settlers in the Kitzmiller neighborhood.

THOMAS WILSON, son of Thomas and Elizabeth Hayes, his wife, was born April 25, 1777.

SUSAN WILSON, daughter of Martin Bowman and wife of Thomas Wilson, was born November 10, 1780.

Disregarding forecasts of a Presidential veto the House passed and sent to White House a measure to require government to revise its synthetic rubber-production program and use a larger quantity of farm products as base raw material. The House vote was 104 to 18.

A meat shortage in the east was considered serious.

Single copies of The Republican may be obtained at the Hamill Book and Stationery Store, corner Third and Alder streets, where the current issue of the paper is placed on sale every Thursday afternoon. Price, 5 cents per copy.

MT. LAKE PARK

On February 18, 1838, Rev. J. Sumner Stone, M.D., D.D., passed away. Several years before that the Sunday News-Register of Wheeling, ran a series of articles by him. Dr. Stone had had an interesting and inspiring career. He was educated for the practice of medicine and continued in this field for some time. Later he felt the call for missionary work, and in the years following this work led him to the distant parts of the earth, India, China, South American and many other places.

We have a copy of his essays and letters and quite often pick it up to read—tho' we have read it many times. However, at our last reading we were somewhat surprised to see just what a prophet he was. We quote from a passage which was written long before the present European and American combat—"Even today there are business men who motor to Pittsburgh, fly to New York, attend to business and fly back to Pittsburgh and be home the same evening. Miracles are possible in this age of winged speed. Will wings make our children more efficient better men? In the machine age the era of inventive creations such as our fathers never dreamed making for a higher type of civilization a more contented people. Surely this is an age on ages telling.

"But to be living is far from sublime. If we judge by conditions in Europe. To many even the future of America is full of portents."

Somehow we wonder just how Dr. Stone, if he were living today, would feel about America and about his beloved countries where he worked so long and so earnestly and where he learned to love the people, even as they must have loved him.

There are no doubt many such as he. Perhaps it is best that they do not have to be here and see all that is happening to their country and to other countries. Perhaps they do see it. Who knows. But to us Dr. Stone was a prophet. A great many of the old timers here will remember him. Just prior to his death in 1938 he spent some time here with his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Talson, deceased some few years ago.

This came to mind several days ago by seeing and talking with friends of Dr. Stone.

Church Notes

Bethel Methodist—The WSCS will meet on Thursday afternoon, August 6th, at 2:30, with Mrs. Garrett Evans, in the parsonage.

Dr. E. T. Mowbray, of Baltimore, will occupy the pulpit this Sunday. Rev. Evans will preach in his home town of Moundsville, but will return in time for the regular Sunday night forum. The subject will be "The Church and a just and durable peace." These meetings held each Sunday night at 7:30 are creating much interest.

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, AUGUST 6, 1942. NUMBER 24.

Tojo's Desire to Destroy . .

In scanning the face of Japan's Premier, Hideki Tojo, which covered almost half of the front page of the Baltimore Newspost on Tuesday and seeing the words which he has recently uttered, that "Japan is determined to destroy the United States and Great Britain," every American should be alert to the seriousness of the struggle in which we are now engaged.

Every American, from the President on down, upon seeing these words, should be filled with a burning desire to bring this war to a successful conclusion in the briefest possible space of time, and to do the job so thoroughly that never again will any person or any nation question the right of a people to live under the banner of liberty and freedom.

This statement of Tojo is not made simply because of his desire to win this war. Behind it is the desire to annihilate. That means killing us all, our wives, our children, our relatives, our friends and neighbors. That means obliterating all evidence of democracy's ideals for which we fight. Hitler is doing the same thing in his attempt to wipe out, by execution of hundreds of thousands of conquered people, the standards and traditions of the latter nations, forcing the German will and the false idea of German superiority upon all who remain.

Tojo apparently believes he will do what he boasts. It should make every man, woman and child in America and all Allied nations redouble their efforts in war matters; it should make our leaders forget political trickery and underhand schemes. They should give no cause for disunity or lack of confidence in our government.

Our fighting forces will answer Tojo's boast and make him eat his words. All working together, we can hasten the day!

TEACHER LIST IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS GIVEN

County Superintendent Releases Names of 97—High School Instructors' List Not Ready

The list of teachers for the elementary schools of the county were released this morning by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, but the names of those who will teach in the High schools will not be released for several days.

The changes throughout the county are not numerous, Mr. Rathbun said, but there has been difficulty in getting the list to remain at a standstill, due to army induction of male teachers, and unrest and indecision among a number of the women instructors. The list includes ninety-seven appointments with several others yet to be made.

Announcement that Merle D. Frantz would be principal of the Oakland Elementary school was made several weeks ago. He takes the place of Clyde Dahlgren, who is expecting to enter the service. Bruce Jenkins, who taught in the Oakland Elementary for several years, will be principal of the Loch Lynn school. His place is being taken by Miss Catherine Lawry, a graduate of Fairmont State Teachers college, who taught a short time this spring in Kitzmiller. Mrs. Merne Kloss, who taught a special class there is going to Prince George's county.

Jaycees Select Names Of Hamill and Means In Service Man Project

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in continuing their "service man" project, selected the names of Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., and Lawrence Means this week.

Their names will be placed in the three drug stores and at Hamill's, where persons are again asked to write and deposit small gifts if they care to.

Last week was the first time the Jaycees had selected two names, and the response was again encouraging. Letters and packages were received for Dr. A. E. Mance and Lawrence Wensel.

The two selected this week are both in foreign countries, Hamill being "somewhere in England," and Means is located in Panama.

A letter received from Hamill this week indicates that he can't tell many of the things he would like to but he writes "It has all been quite an experience. The British people have met my highest expectation. The biggest headache I've had so far is getting on to the currency. * * * As I understand it we are allowed packages from home subject to postal regulations as to size and weight. Things I'll need most are cigarettes, soap, razor blades, some canned food if possible."

Additional $100 Is Contributed to USO

Almost an additional $100 was contributed to the United Service Organization campaign for funds this week, the actual amount received by W. Cecil Smith, treasurer, being $99.25.

This brings the total to $1,021.58 thus far. The money this week was received from Kitzmiller, Oakland and Grantsville, and brings their totals to: Oakland, $250.75; Grantsville, $112; Kitzmiller, $155.50. Quotas for these three towns are $850, $300 and $300, respectively.

EARLY SQUIRREL SEASON ONE OF SIX NEW RULINGS

To Open in This County September 15, State Game and Inland Fish Commission Decides

Adoption of an earlier squirrel season for Allegany, Washington and Garrett counties, the establishment of a state-wide license of $1 a day for tourist anglers, the prohibition of nets, seines or traps of any description in waters designated as trout waters and stricter regulations relative to the possession of illegal deer was announced at the annual meeting of the State Game and Inland Fish Commission in Baltimore, last Thursday.

The commission, of which Fulcher P. Smith, of Cumberland, is a member, passed six regulations which will become law immediately, submitted three recommendations to the Maryland Legislative Council for action at the next session of the state legislature and adopted four new policies.

Effective Immediately

The regulations adopted by the commission and become effective immediately include:

1. Use of nets, seines or traps of any description cannot be used in waters designated as trout waters.

2. Making unlawful the possession of illegal deer, part or parts thereof, either dead or alive.

(a) Making it unlawful to remove the head or any part of the deer before being checked by a game warden.

(b) Making possession of each illegal deer, part or parts thereof, each a separate offense.

3. Making it illegal to use more than two hooks either on one or two lines. Anglers have the choice of one hook on each line or two hooks on one line. This does not apply to artificial lure or plugs.

4. Adoption of an earlier squirrel season for Allegany, Washington and Garrett counties from September 15 to 30, inclusive. Present bag limits and other regulations will remain the same. Allowance of squirrels to be also taken during the small game season in the three counties, November 1 to 30.

5. Establishment of a state-wide tourist license for anglers at $1 a day.

6. Setting of the creel limit at ten a day for shad, rock and salmon taken from the Susquehanna river. No limit was specified in the past.

Recommended to Council

The three recommendations approved by the commission to be submitted to the legislative council are:

1. That power given game wardens to search cars be extended to include all kinds of vehicles. The present law designates automobiles only.

2. That fishing fines imposed under Sections 80 to 83, inclusive, be reduced from the present maximum of $100 and minimum of $25 to $50 and $10, respectively. The commission agreed that the penalties under the present law are too heavy.

3. Urged the adoption of a regulation to allow only one dip net at a time for an individual.

Model Dog Law Sought

Among the new policies adopted by the commission were:

1. To furnish elementary schools of the state a series of four pamphlets as an educational feature on wild life and conservation.

2. Distribution of all game and fish through deputy game wardens, thereby abolishing shipments to groups and individuals.

3. Expending more effort on the trapping and transfer of rabbits in the urban areas of the state.

4. Approval of help to Allegany and Garrett counties in drawing up a model dog law with enforcement of the law to be carried on by game wardens. Under present conditions when a dog is caught pursuing game it's up to the warden to find the owner. Few persons will admit to ownership and nothing can be done about it. If the owner admits he can be fined $5.

Auditors for Mt. Lake Park Council Make Report

Auditors for making the routine annual inspection of the books and tax records of the clerk and collector, D. R. Fleming, for the town of Mountain Lake Park, have made their report to the Mayor and Town Council. The audit covers the period from February 11, 1941, to August 4, 1942, inclusive.

Charles V. Harvey and Harvey E. Criss were the auditors and they report the collector's books "in good order, tax records accurately kept and all tax monies and other funds properly accounted for." The report also included a compliment to Mr. Fleming for the excellent manner in which the town's records were kept by him.

Making Study of Lakes in County

E. W. Surber, of Leetown, Va., director of the United States Fish and Wild Life Service, was making a detailed survey of the Herrington and New Germany lakes in the county last week, his purpose being to find out just what kind of fish to propagate in those waters.

He found that there was a fine stocking of feeder fish, enough to take care of game fish, and proposed the propagation of large mouth bass. A detailed report of his survey is to be prepared.

Boys Reprimanded For Shooting Birds At Herrington Manor

Five boys from a camp in the vicinity of the Herrington Manor State Forest were apprehended last Friday afternoon and pleaded guilty in Magistrate H. A. Loraditch's office to shooting songbirds, at a hearing there that evening.

The charge was brought by H. C. Buckingham, district forester, and J. F. Kaylor, the state forester, who happened to be there that day on business.

Mr. Kaylor said the boys were first warned against the promiscuous use of firearms and that any shooting on the reservation was prohibited. Later a number of shots were fired on the opposite side of Herrington lake, according to the forestry officials, which made it dangerous for vacationers or visitors in that area. The boys were reprimanded by the magistrate and released.

Body of Vacationer Recovered from Lake

Edward J. Hays, Pittsburgh, Went Fishing Last Wednesday And His Boat Capsized

A summer vacation on Deep Creek Lake ended tragically for Edward J. Hays, 40-year-old railway conductor of Pittsburgh, when he drowned last Wednesday following the capsizing of his boat while he was engaged in fishing in the McHenry inlet of the lake.

Missing since the afternoon of Wednesday at three o'clock when he left a cottage at Point View camp that he and Mrs. Hays had occupied since Monday preceding the tragedy, vacationers along the shore of the lake noticed the boat upturned at seven o'clock that evening, floating near the shore at Railey's Stone Tavern.

A group of men began to search sections of the lake in the vicinity that night. The search was resumed Thursday morning and continued until six o'clock Thursday evening when a group using grappling hooks located the body about fifteen feet from the shore directly across the McHenry inlet from Stone Tavern. Mrs. Hays told authorities that her husband had left the cotttage alone after telling her he was going fishing.

An investigation was conducted by State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley, Corporal Thomas Currie, Sheriff Walter H. Haenftling and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, medical examiner. Dr. Baumgartner pronounced that death was accidental and said no inquest was necessary.

Members of the searching party which found the body of the drowned man included W. R. Ross, Washington, Pa., who was operating the hook on which the body was caught, and Al Dintens, Louis Lerie, both of Glassport, Pa.; James Hanna, Westernport, and Eugene Stein, Cumberland. Members of the party said the water was approximately fifteen feet deep where the body was brought to the surface.

Hays was employed by the Monongahela Railway Company, Pittsburgh, as a conductor and resided at 344 Mayran Avenue, Oakland, Pittsburgh.

The body was taken to Bolden's Funeral Home in Oakland and from there it was sent to Pittsburgh.

Quota for July War Bonds Not Reached

Probability that Garrett County had reached only about half of its July war bond quota of $32,500, was estimated this morning from the results of sales in Oakland.

A total of $15,062.50 was reported by the First National Bank, the Garrett National Bank and the Oakland postoffice, but other places have not reported.

The August quota has been set at $28,000.

Earl Selders Named Commander of Legion

Election Held Monday Evening; Other Officers Also Elected

Earl Selders was named post commander of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, at a meeting of that organization on Monday evening, August 3.

Others elected were Irvin R. Rudy, 1st vice-commander; J. H. Carter, 2nd vice-commander; Edward P. Kahl, adjutant; F. R. Shaffer, finance officer; H. C. Riggs, chaplain; James A. Cover, sergeant-at-arms; Joseph M. Gonder, historian; James Fazzalari, service officer. Harry Turney is retiring post commander.

Officers will be installed in September.

Erecting Observation Post

Construction of the observation post building for use of the observers of the Aircraft Warning system, will be started this week, it was announced by I. R. Rudy, in charge. Some of the material is already on the grounds on Third street, on the town lot adjacent to the Coca-Cola plant.

The entire proceeds from the American Legion Bingo game on Thursday, August 13, held at the Manhattan hotel, will be used towards the expense of erecting and equipping the building, it was stated.

Labor Day Picnic Committees Named

Committees have been appointed for the management of the twenty-third annual Labor Day picnic, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, which is to be held in the Helbig grove at the north edge of town, on Monday, September 7.

The executive committee includes the three principal officers of the lodge, Clifford Phillips, chancellor commander; Prentice DeBerry, vice-chancellor; and Russell Pancake, prelate.

Other committees include Wade Mason, manager of the grounds; A. G. Gortner, and M. W. Mann, finance; L. R. Jones, secretary; Russell Pancake and Robert Sheckells, ticket collections; Harry Stemple, advertising; Earl Shartzer, lunch stand.

Mrs. Ogburn to Speak Friday

Mrs. Dorothy Ogburn, executive secretary of the Garrett County Welfare Board, will speak at the lodge session on Friday evening, August 7, at 8:30 o'clock, following the business meeting. Members are being urged to attend.

Elderly Man Hurt When Hit by Auto

Stephen Broadwater, 88, Injured While Attending Annual Reunion

Stephen P. Broadwater, 88, of New Germany, was struck by a car Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock while standing in a drive way near Colonial Inn, route 40, where he had attended the annual Broadwater reunion which was attended by several thousand persons.

The car was driven by Helen Armentrout, 25, of Baltimore, according to Trooper G. S. Dunlap and the machine was owned by James William Green, Lonaconing, who was in the car at the time, he said.

Broadwater was taken to the Miners' hospital, Frostburg, where his condition was said not to be "serious". He suffered abrasions of the left ankle and thumb, bruises about the body and was suffering from shock.

The aged man's picture had been taken because he was the oldest Broadwater at the reunion and was standing in the driveway talking to his son Raymond, when the accident occurred.

The woman and man were both held on three different charges, Dunlap stated.

Salvaging of Scrap Metals, Etc., Is Postponed

The Salvage campaign for scrap metal, etc., which was to get under way this week in Garrett county, has been postponed until the middle of September. This drive is being sponsored locally by the Mayor and Town Council.

Advertisements announcing the campaign will appear in The Republican at the time set.

Miss Rhesa M. King and Miss Gertrude Connor, Greensburg, Pa., are in Oakland for a few days. Miss King will be remembered as a public health nurse in the county several years ago and occuies the same position where she is now located.

246 Marriage Permits Issued During Month

July was still a busy month for marriage licenses at the office of A. G. Ross, clerk of the Circuit court, although falling below June in the total number issued.

There were 250 applications and 246 licenses granted during July in comparison to 311 applications and 287 licenses issued in June. The totals for the seven months of 1942 are 1,706 applications, 1,655 licenses.

City Council Wants 24-Hour Service of Crossing Watchman

Request Is Made of Baltimore And Ohio Railroad Following Regular Meeting Monday

The Mayor and Town Council, at their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, decided to request the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for a watchman at the Second street crossing 24 hours a day because of the great increase in the number of trains. At present there is no one on duty from 12 midnight to 6 a. m.

They also will call attention to the unnecessary blowing of whistles as the trains pass through Oakland.

Receipts during July amounted to $2,787.12, including $2,008.15 from water, $732.01 from taxes and $46.96 from other sources. Expenditures were $2,657.08 which included repayment of bank loans amounting to $1,170. The council passed an order giving $50.00 to the Public Library. Movie tax receipts for the month of July totaled $42.25.

Mrs. Nanienne Offutt was given permission to tap the water line on South Third street, to run a two-inch water line to Monte Vista at her own expense. It was estimated this would take 3,500 feet of pipe.

B. Mark Gower was given an increase of $5 per month on his garbage collection contract, raising it to $90 per month. Council agreed to pay William H. Gower 50 cents per hour for all work done. The rate was 42 cents per hour previously.

Council gave permission to the Knights of Pythias lodge to use the Helbig grove for its Labor Day picnic.

Park Women Plan Benefit Drama Aug. 19

The women of Bethel Methodist Church at Mt. Lake Park are busy rehearsing a comedy in three acts, "A Tourist's Romance," to be given the night of August 19th at the new auditorium in the Park, for the benefit of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

More than a score will appear in the cast, with Pauline Meadows Bolen in the leading role of Miss Harriet Hustle, on the porch of whose newly opened "Saints' Rest: Tourists Took In" the action takes place. Veteran trouper J. Timothy Moon plays Horace Hostetter, her former sweetheart, now a widower with seven small daughters. A number of clever character parts include Stella Schooley as a sleepwalker; Belle Nine as a prima donna; and Molly May as a borrowing neighbor.

The Bethel Thespians have enrolled for this performance several talented leaders of the Park's younger social set. Mary Isabelle Love and Barbara Stephenson play aged twin sister grandmothers; Mary Lois Crane is seen as a Baltimore debutante; and Mary Betty Landon, playing opposite Laurie Brock, has the part of Flossie Fussy.

Choice seats are obtainable for 25c.

Annual Revival Begins At Deep Creek Tonight

The annual revival and evangelistic meetings of the Deep Creek Baptist church begins this evening, Thursday, August 6, at 8 o'clock, with Rev. B. Finney Bragg, pastor, preaching on the subject "Sin is Lying in Wait for You."

There will be services each evening at 8 o'clock and regular Sunday services, Monday through Friday, August 10 to 14, Rev. Edgar S. Price, pastor of the Second Baptist church, Cumberland, will speak. Rev. Bragg will offer a study course book, "The Baptist Training Union Manual," the classes starting at 2 p. m. each afternoon beginning Monday.

Sunday, August 16, will be the special annual all-day meeting with Rev. W. B. Orndorff, former pastor, being the special speaker in the afternoon. He will also preach Monday and Tuesday nights, August 17 and 18. The pastor will close out the week's meetings and conclude the revival services on Sunday, August 23.

ABRAHAM'S INTERCESSORY PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 18:23-33.
GOLDEN TEXT—The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.—James 5:16.

Prayer has been the subject of thousands of books of sermons without end; yet how little it is actually practiced. Conferences are held to discuss it, and they attract large audiences, but at prayer meetings we find only a handful.

We are sure that "prayer changes things," and we agree that it is the most powerful force at man's disposal, but we go right ahead trying to change things in our own strength. "O what peace we often forfeit,
O what needless pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer!"

Our lesson from the life of Abraham stresses one important phase of prayer—prayer for others.

I. The Nature of Intercessory Prayer.

1. It Is a Privilege.

We speak of the burden of prayer, but let us also recall that it is a privilege. Abraham had been honored by a visit from the Lord. The covenant had been renewed and a son promised (Gen. 18:1-16). Then the Lord, because of His friendship with Abraham, shared with him (v. 17) His purpose of judgment on wicked Sodom and Gomorrah.

How glorious to be on such intimate terms with God—to know Him and to know His plans and purposes. Would you enjoy having such fellowship? You may through Jesus Christ and through the study of God's holy Word.

2. It Is a Duty.

Privilege brings corresponding responsibility. The two men went toward Sodom, but "Abraham stood yet before the Lord" (v. 22), to pray for the wicked cities.

Those who know God's plans are to share them in prayer. Those who have audience with the King of Kings are those to carry the blessed burden of prayer for others as well as for themselves.

Are we praying for our nation, for its President and leaders; for our city, for our church, our families, our children, our friends? The deeper the need, the greater the wickedness, the more we need to pray. If we as Christians do not pray, who will pray?

3. It Is a Reality.

Some modern religious leaders would take all reality out of prayer by making it a sort of spiritual exercise which operates only on the soul of the one who prays, giving him new strength and a sense of well being. Undoubtedly the very fellowship with God which is inherent in true prayer is spiritually beneficial; but prayer is objective, not merely subjective. It deals with nations and cities, men and women, problems and sin and sorrow. It concerns every need of man—physical, mental and spiritual.

II. The Spirit of Intercessory Prayer.

1. Unselfish.

Abraham had the assured blessing and promise of God. The cities were wicked and unrepentant. If he had taken the attitude of many church folk, he would have said, "It serves them right. Wipe out their wickedness." But Abraham prayed for them in complete unselfishness. Can those who know the spirit of Christ be selfish in prayer?

2. Bold and Courageous.

Note the reverent boldness with which Abraham pleaded the cause of the cities. God is not displeased to have us press our cause in prayer; in fact, the Bible reveals that He frequently answers according to the earnestness with which men pray. He has always honored and used men of holy courage.

3. Persistent.

No one—not even God—likes a "quitter." Remember those who were heard for their importunity? (Luke 11:8; 18:1-8). Many pray like the little boys on Halloween. They ring the bell and run.

Abraham persisted: fifty, forty-five, forty, thirty, twenty, ten—perhaps he should not have stopped even there. God who saw his persistent faith went the rest of the way and saved the only four who could be saved, and even of those, three were infected with the wickedness of the place.

"Let us not be weary in well doing" as we pray, "for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (Gal. 6:9).

III. The Result of Intercessory Prayer.

God had to destroy the cities. There are some kinds of violent infection which must be destroyed by fire for the sake of others. Out of the destruction, however, God did deliver the righteous Lot, which was doubtless Abraham's real desire.

God hears and answers prayers. That is not only the testimony of His Word, but of countless Christian men and women down through the ages even to our day. The one who would deny the efficacy of prayer must face an overwhelming flood of authenticated answers.

With one-third of the ninety-six Senate seats and all of the 435 House seats at stake in the general election, many have gone home to try to get re-elected.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

Garrett county, especially the Oakland section, has been a summer resort from the very beginning. The summer population, if charted on a graph, would show a rise and fall in parallel with the phases of the East's prosperity and depression.

The Glades Hotel was built in the pre-civil war period by Mr. John Dailey. David Belasco and Mrs. Leslie Carter, theatrical celebrities of the last century, were among the many distinguished people who registered at this hotel quite often during the summer season. This Hotel was located in that vacant spot where now the Fourth of July Carnival is held. It burned to the ground in 1876.

It was later rebuilt by Mr. Dailey, who operated it until his death. Mrs. George Crook, a daughter, widow of the late Gen. George A. Crook, took over the property and operated it for several years, after which the late Dr. E. H. Bartlett had it in charge. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company purchased the property a number of years ago, razed the building, and the ground on which it stood remains a part of the Baltimore and Ohio holdings in Oakland.

John W. Garrett, Senior, when President of the B. & O., erected the Deer Park Hotel shortly after the close of the Civil War. A number of pretentious summer cottages were erected soon thereafter. The hotel, together with most of the cottages are still standing, but in most instances empty and fast becoming a prey to time and weather. It is depressing to view this spot which once was known as the most fashionable summer resort in the East.

Presidents Grant, Garfield, Harrison and Cleveland spent much time here; also official representatives of the foreign legations in Washington. These dignitaries, together with the leaders of society, kept Deer Park in a most conspicuous place in the society columns of the press.

The Oakland Hotel was another venture of the B. & O. It was located just above where now the Carnation Milk dispensing plant is located. It was surrounded by a well kept park of virgin trees. There were bridle paths together with a lovely gravel walk that led to Washington Spring, where local and summer residents were wont to come for its crystal waters. It is doubtful if many of the residents could find that spring today. Just a faint path leads to it bearing off to the right of the Oakland-Terra Alta road before it makes its sharp turn from Little Yough. The Oakland Hotel was dismantled in 1910 or 1911. The furnishings were auctioned off. There are many homes in Oakland and vicinity that still use furniture that was purchased at the auction conducted by Claude Brown whom the older residents remember together with his father, the storekeeper and former sheriff. He together with the late Decorsey Bolden conducted a furniture store and undertaking establishment, known as Bolden and Brown. Claude had a brother Carl Brown, who died a short time ago. Carl became a professional pitcher in baseball, and for a time held down the mound for the Richmond, Va., professional league team.

Other hotels were Loch Lynn, which also succumbed to fire, the Chautauqua, and Mt. Lake Hotel. The latter is the only one of the original hotels that is still operating under the original name. It has been in continuous operation during the summer season since its establishment by Mr. Dunnington. It is still operated by his daughter, June Dunnington Grimes. Its setting in a grove of oak together with its old-fashioned atmosphere and hospitality makes it a rendezvous of rest for young and old. It is heartening to learn that this present season is considered its best for many years past.

In the early days the summer population was condensed in a small area taking in Oakland, Mt. Lake and Deer Park. The attractions of Deer Park were largely social in character. Those of Mt. Lake were cultural and religious. For in the 1880's and 90's Mt. Lake Chautauqua and Camp Meeting were organized by the Methodists. The Chautauqua reached its peak around 1910. On special days train excursions together with buggies, wagons, and a good sprinkling of automobiles brought thousands upon thousands who gathered to hear world-famous speakers.

But now that these large summer hotels, with the exception of Mt. Lake Hotel, are no longer here, the summer residents are much more scattered and much less in evidence.

Since the development of Deep Creek Lake hundreds of beautiful cabins and summer cottages now dot its shores. This together with the development of Herrington Manor and New Germany have brought many new families. These scattered out colonies contain a more numerous population than when summer residence was confined to the hotels and the cottages of Mt. Lake and Deer Park. Not only the Mt. Lake Hotel is filled to capacity this season, but for several seasons past practically every conditioned cottage in the Park has been occupied. The old auditorium which burned to the ground last year has been rebuilt along sturdier lines, and is now in the exclusive ownership of the Camp Meeting Association which has held its meetings regularly each summer for 59 years.

Of the original summer residents there are at least two families that should have special mention. One is the Howard family, which has been occupying its summer home at the far east end of Alder street in Oakland since 1870. I doubt if Mr. Ripley could find a parallel example in any summer colony of the country. For 72 years the Howard family has come with the same regularity as a family of wrens. The brother of the three sisters, Charles McHenry Howard, Baltimore's most distinguished lawyer, died this past May.

The other family is that of Dr. and Mrs. Logan Carr. They have missed but one or two summer seasons since the year of their arrival, which was 1882. Dr. Carr was a charter member of the original Mt. Lake Association. He has been actively interested in all the affairs of the Park during these sixty years. As I remember them as a child, so are they in appearance and spirit today—a charming cultured pair who have enjoyed to the full a long late afternoon and sunset. When you see them they give one the impression of a postponed twilight, perhaps it really will never come to them. Many of the old faces of Mt. Lake and Deer Park are now but thrilling memories. The word thrilling is correct, for those old-timers were of a fine and genial race.

Of the other older residents we have such families as the William Hazletts, of Wheeling; Fred Flemings, of Fairmont; the Grimes of Pittsburgh; Elinor Davis, of Jamestown, N. Y.; the Searles, the former Miss Tekla Fundenberg, now Mrs. Edward Mitchell Weeks, of Washington. Her husband is the retired Superintendent of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

The late John McGrath, prominent American artist, who died but ten days ago spent most of last summer at Herrington Manor. One evening he spoke at the Lion's Club and stated that he had travelled all over the world, but never found a spot that contained such a variety of the things most-looked for in nature, climate and landscape, as Garrett county. This testimony has had similar parallels in the past as well as in the present.

The Honorable William McNamee, Director of the Federal Tourist Bureau just returned to Washington last week. He was impressed by two things—the exquisite beauty of our tableland and the almost total ignorance of our seaboard cities of its nearness and accessibility. He is our newest and most valuable convert. If he were to set the wheels in operation we should have such a flood of people from the seaboard that we could in no wise take care of them.

This all should teach us now that we must coordinate in some way all the groups which are depending on the summer traffic. With cooperation commencing now a unified and large-scale plan can be put into operation, perhaps before the end of the war. We must remember that our over-populated cities of Baltimore and Washington, not to mention the Monon Valley and the Pittsburgh area, are in need of some nearby resort.

This new period of summer tourist and vacationist trek will not only effect our end of the county but will include every section particularly our fair community to the north, Grantsville.

In the light of a very brilliant and prosperous past and the infiltration of new families in the present, the local residents who depend on summer business should be extremely cheerful and hopeful. Above all, they need no longer recall the past, but with enthusiasm, vision and cooperation, rebuild for the future.

The writer predicts that within the next twenty-five years Oakland will be the hub of the largest, most extensive, and most complete and up-to-date mountain resort in the East. This prediction is based on a common sense observation, namely, that this mountain resort is the only resort in the very heart of our population. It has been calculated by men who know, that Oakland is within one day's drive of half the population of the United States. When we think of the mountain counties in West Virginia and Pennsylvania adjacent to us—especially in West Virginia, which is still untouched—we should get some appreciable vision of the extent to which this glorious clime will in the years to come bring peace, rest and quiet to many of our tired, city cousins.

George Family Reunion

All relatives and friends of the George family are urged to attend the annual reunion to be held this year on Sunday, August 9, at the New Germany Recreation area.

The population of Point Pleasant, W. Va., has grown from 3,538 to about 10,000, due to war industry there.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Who Are The Inflationists?

Washington, August 1.

Both the President and his Price Administrator recently have voiced grave apprehension over the swift approach of inflation and have expressed the view that some form of wage control is essential if disaster is to be averted. They have stressed the desirability of legislation on the subject. Various White House aides have echoed these sentiments, and the fact that we already have a considerable measure of inflation is conceded.

* * *

It is pretty hard to listen to this sort of thing from these sources now without pointing to the record and asking: If we now have inflation—and we have—who is responsible? Who are the real inflationists? Who, eighteen months ago, insisted there was no necessity for wage-control legislation? Whose influence killed the attempts to put the wage control into the original price-control bill? Who, when B. M. Baruch and others, pointed out the impossibility of keeping the cost of living down without control over wages and farm prices, refused to accept that tested theory and blocked the efforts of Congress to move toward that sound end?

* * *

Who, rejecting the lessons of our own experience in the last war, refused to emulate the example of our nearest neighbor, Canada, who, boldly resisting her labor lobbyists, got results by putting rigid ceilings over both wages and farm products? The answer to all these questions is that it was the President and his Price Administrator who blocked the way. It was Mr. Henderson who early in 1940 insisted that the wage control he now favors should not be included in the price-control bill he then presented to Congress. Supporting that position was Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, White House Economist Isidor Lubin and nearly all Administration spokesmen except Mr. Eccles, who took the other view but soon had to pipe down.

* * *

Even Mr. Donald Nelson was induced to support the Henderson position against wage control. Of course, all these men reflected the attitude of the President, whose link with the professional labor leaders apparently compelled him to feel that, whatever else was done in this war, nothing must be done to restrict wages. As a result, for eighteen months there has been a steady rise in wages, which has resulted in a steady rise in living costs, which in turn made further demands for further wage rises inevitable. Thus the well-known "vicious circle" was created and billions were added to the cost of the war without anyone being better off but with our whole economy imperiled.

* * *

Whether Mr. Henderson realized the situation at the start, and was forced to take his position against wage regulation, or whether he awoke to the facts when the futility of his price ceilings became clear is uncertain. But he did reverse his position before the President came out three months ago with his seven-point anti-inflation program, one point of which was wage control. Prompt action was expected to follow this, but in thirteen months no action has been taken except that more wage rises have been granted and the President's Labor Board announced a wage policy of almost incredible silliness.

* * *

Since then both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Henderson have become even stronger—publicly—for the wage restraint they formerly opposed. It was said that the President would ask Congress to enact wage legislation which would be a complete contradiction of his original attitude.

* * *

The latest suggestion is that Governor Lehman may be named as "supreme Federal arbiter on wages." All that would do would be to continue the present impossible situation in which Mr. Henderson tries to enforce "price ceilings" while some other agency has authority to create additional purchasing power and higher production costs, which make a joke of the Henderson ceilings. If prices are to be held down, obviously, the man charged with that duty must have control of wages.

* * *

It would not be worth while to review this record and indict the Administration leaders as the real inflationists if their change in position meant that at last there would be movement on the sound lines they so belatedly accept. But that is not the prospect. The prospect is that, until after the election, the brave words emanating from the White House will not be followed by decisvie action. On the contrary, those best posted expect further wages and farm-produce increases which will force living costs to a still higher level and bring runaway inflation closer.

MT. LAKE PARK

Just in case you might be interested, the Mt. Lake Park Public Library has for your inspection a very fine set of maps. These maps are authentic and are up-to-date in every way. There is also a dictionary of names of all the war theatres, showing the correct pronunciation, etc. The maps and dictionary are the gift of Miss Nell Davis, who is one of the library sponsors.

Don't forget the library tea to be held on Friday afternoon at the Club House, 3 to 5. Reverend Garrett Evans will review a current book. There will be a silver offering, and please bring any late fiction or non-fiction you might care to donate to the library.

All Harmonious

The political campaign thus far seems to be of the Alphonse and Gaston type, with everyone gushing over with good will for his opponents. How long can this keep up before the usual type of mudslinging begins, or for once would it be possible to keep a primary contest clean and honest?

The two candidates for the Republican Senatorial nomination are almost neighbors, living on Second street, with only one home between them. There's a clear stretch however, through the back yards, where both of them can keep cool.

The two Democrats seeking the Senatorial nomination chat like buddies on the street about every day. When campaign cigars were passed around the opponent of one was the first to receive one.

Two Republican candidates for sheriff were talking yesterday about furnishing lumber for a boat for a trip up "salt river" that they knew four of the five of them were going to take.

It surely would be refreshing if the air would stay clear throughout the campaign.

Best Air Raid Spotters

It is my belief that the best air raid spotters obtainable anywhere, and especially right around here, would be these young boys around town.

They talk of P-40's, medium bombers, pursuit-interceptors and the like in a way that leaves parents of these boys in a stupor with their heads swimming. They could learn plane characteristics of enemy planes quickly and would be of invaluable assistance to the Legion as volunteers for the air raid spotter stations.

* * *

The kids not only talk about these planes but they demonstrate just how they would bomb a Jap ship, drop these "block" bombs on German U-boat bases and chase enemy planes out of the skies.

While father and mother tend to the business of eating at mealtime, the boys are miles away in their mind, using their forks, spoons, salt shaker or even the cream pitcher to go zooming in every direction. And they can mock a dive-bomber to perfection. I must say that the sound gets rather monotonous after fifteen minutes a meal, three meals a day, seven days a week, and so on. When the spoon lands in the gravy, then I lose my temper. It is no aid to digestion but what can a person do about it?

* * *

The bald head of a gentleman calling at the house the other day must have turned three shades of red when little Anne Decker, age three, after looking him over carefully, asked, "Did you get your hair all tored off?"

AVILTON

A tremendous crowd of friends and relatives from all about the county attended the Broadwater family reunion at Colonial Inn on Sunday.

Miss Mildred Fike and Cecil Fike, Washington, spent the week-end with their parents and with the family attended the Fike reunion held at Rock Park, Markleysburg, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Merrill were guests on Sunday of the latter's parents.

William Skidmore and daughters, Mrs. Clara Bell Whitehead and Mrs. Fannie Harvey and sons, Glenn and Francis Harvey, of Frostburg, were here Thursday afternoon at the Fike home.

Mr. and Mrs. Brydon DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fike and daughter Betty Lou, Frank Fike, Piedmont, W. Va., spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Merrill and family.

Gilbert McKenzie and family were guests Sunday evening of Mrs. McKenzie's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm and daughter were in Cumberland on Saturday.

Karl Fike and family, Swissvale, Pa., spent Saturday night and Sunday with their uncle O. S. Fike and family.

Jesse Merrill and Lewis Broadwater made a business trip to Cumberland on Saturday.

James Turner and his sister Miss Cathleen, spent the week-end in Baltimore with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grove and daughter contemplate moving to Finzel in the near future.

Jackson Fike and Miss Evelyn Fearer, of Pittsburgh, spent Sunday evening here with relatives.

Mrs. Fannie Weitzell visited her grandson, Paul Hetz, of Frostburg, who was recently a hospital patient. He is now at home with his mother, Mrs. Laura Hetz.

Rev. Higgs, of Mt. Savage, will preach at Cherry Grove Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. Sunday school will be at ten o'clock. Everyone invited to attend these services.

While Brothers Fight They Build the Weapons

American girls aren't willing to sit at home idly while their brothers, fathers, husbands and sweethearts are fighting. Hundreds of thousands of them have found some way to help. In Akron they are building barrage balloons, pontons, gas masks and life belts. This group of girls built this ponton in the plant of The General Tire & Rubber Company. Getting up at the crack of dawn they work in the factory from six o'clock until two. One afternoon, to satisfy themselves that the pontons met all specifications... that they would support the loads intended for them, they took one out on a nearby lake to test it for air and water leaks. Having found that it met with official approval they paddled it around the lake just for a little recreation. Each one of these girls has some person close to her in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard and each is determined to do her part to provide them with weapons. And each pay day each girl sets aside part of her income for war bonds.

Births Far Exceed Deaths In Maryland

Figures Given for First Six Months of 1942 by State Health Office

Gains—as indicated by births—far exceed losses by deaths in Maryland, during the first six months of 1942, according to provisional figures reported by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department.

In calling attention to the figures, Dr. Riley pointed out that the increase in births over deaths was far greater than for any previous corresponding six months, over a long period of years. There were 6,800 more births than deaths reported during the half year in comparison with an excess of 4,500 births over deaths during the corresponding period of 1941 and 2,963 in 1940.

The recorded totals for the six months' periods for the last five years have been as follows: For 1942, births, 18,041; deaths, 11,237. For 1941, births, 16,123; deaths, 11,594. For 1940, births, 14,837; deaths, 11,874. For 1939, births, 13,857; deaths, 11,134. For 1938, births, 14,173; deaths, 10,631.

The distribution for the first six months of 1942 was: Births, Baltimore City, 8,608; the Counties, 9,433. Deaths, Baltimore City, 5,929; the Counties, 5,308.

Deaths from three significant groups showed favorable decreases during the half year—the degenerative diseases, the respiratory diseases, and the deaths from motor vehicle accidents.

There were 6,888 deaths from the degenerative diseases of the middle and older age groups, in comparison with 7,082 during the first six months of 1941. Heart disease dropped from 3,383 deaths in the 1941 period to 3,340; cancer from 1,344 last year to 1,240 this year; nephritis from 1,161 in 1941 to 1,124 this year; and diabetes from 309 during the first six months of 1941, to 290 deaths from that disease during the first six months of 1942. The only disease in this group to show any increase during the six months period was cerebral hemorrhage, of which 894 deaths were reported this year and 885 last year.

The respiratory diseases dropped from 1,587 deaths during the first six months of 1941 to 1,398 this year. There were 714 deaths from tuberculosis in comparison with 727 last year, 62 of influenza this year and 154 last year and 622 of the pneumonias this year in comparison with 706 during the first six months of 1941.

Deaths from motor vehicle accidents dropped from 265 deaths during the first half of 1941 to 229 during the first six months of 1942.

There were 813 infant deaths or 45 in each thousand live births during the first half of 1942 in comparison with 828 deaths under one year, or 51 in each thousand live births during the first six months of 1941.

BITTINGER

Does destiny really shape our ends?
That's one of life's profoundest riddles;
But there is no question, really friends.
That bread and 'taters shape our middles.

Members of the Busy Workers Sunday school class held their regular annual sunset picnic and supper in the Pleasant Valley Park last Saturday evening and were entertained with music and other interesting features.

Miss Long, county demonstration agent, visited this village last week-end and was a guest at the Lutheran parsonage.

George Coddington, of Mountain Lake Park, one of the Republican aspirants for the nominatiion for sheriff of the county at the September primary, was in Bittinger last Monday morning.

John Herman, of Accident, who is a candidate for the nomination for County Commissioner at the Republican primary, was calling on friends here early this week.

William Winterberg, Granstville, was a pleasant caller in town last Friday afternoon.

Kenneth and Richard Buckle, who are employed in Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday with their home folks here.

PAGING MR. DAVIS—AND HIS BOSS

In June, President Roosevelt decided that Americans could hardly win the war while subjected daily to the Ickes-Henderson crossfire. For nearly six months, citizens had been bombarded with conflicting and confusing statements from the Petroleum Coordinator and the Price Administrator. One day the headline barrage would batter them with "Shortage." The next day an equally official salvo would say "No Shortage." One day it would be "Rationing"; the next "No Rationing." Finally the President called in Elmer Davis and asked him to get all the batteries of Washington publicity lined up somehow on the same side.

It was understood that the Office of War Information was authorized to coordinate official outgivings of all kinds, for Ickes and Henderson guns were only the most active ones along the Potomac. There has been some improvement although the Government has never gotten together with itself on synthetic rubber — chiefly due to the legislative batteries on Capitol Hill where Mr. Davis's writ does not run.

But now there is a fresh eruption right down on Administration Flats; Forts Ickes and Henderson are engaged in pounding at one another again. Where is Mr. Davis?

This new battle of the press conferences reverberates in the headlines clear across America. And it has become hotter. In one edition of a metropolitan newspaper these headlines appeared side-by-side: "Ickes Sees No Need of National Gas Cut" —"OPA Stresses Need of Wider Gas Rationing."

This new crossfire is doubly confusing because Mr. Ickes, the original Jeremiah of rationing, is now on the other side. He not only says nation-wide rationing is not needed in order to improve supplies for the Eastern seaboard, but reports new synthetic rubber sources, presumably implying that "gas" rationing is no longer needed in order to conserve rubber.

The OPA (Mr. Dean of the fuel rationing division shooting for Mr. Henderson) says nation-wide rationing is required to allow tank cars now carrying gasoline to the Midwest to haul fuel oil to the Atlantic States. Surveys show the Northwest is not getting enough oil to fill even its rations.

How does Mr. Ickes reconcile the order that no fuel shall be delivered between August 3 and September 15 with the statement of railroad officials that they could handle more tank cars to the New England States? From this observation post it looks as if a bit of rationing elsewhere would release tank cars to give New England its fuel-oil ration. And from the dugouts of war workers it appears that rubber they may need to get to work is being burned up in unrationed pleasure driving.

Hasn't Mr. Ickes fired without getting sights lined up? Why not ration his boom-boom? The war wouldn't be lost if that battery were even spiked. Where is Mr. Davis? Probably the paging ought to go to the ultimate seat of responsibility, the White House. The silencing of these big guns seems to require a firm, clear order from the Commander in Chief. Let's have it, Mr. President.

APPLETIME IN OAKLAND

Appletime in Oakkland,
Trees bending, low and old,
Humbly offering treasures
In red, and green, and gold;
The mothering hillsides hover,
Mist-silvered, fold on fold,
And the homesteads brood in twilight
Of joys they safely hold.

Old trees, you are but symbols
Of trust in dreams that last:
Red firelight as a shelter
From a wintry blast,
Green pastures rich in promise,
And gold memories of the past.

—Sr. M. Marguerite, RSM.

Jordan Reunion Scheduled

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

THE INCOMPETENTS

Washington, Aug. 4.

Again there is in Washington much talk about how to "shake the country out of its complacency." Administration writers insist that the people must be told that we can lose this war. Intimates of the President declare he is considering making either a statement or a "fireside chat", pointing out the danger and appealing for "whole-hearted sacrifices."

* * *

There ought to be plain speaking about this. The trouble is not with the people. They are neither complacent nor apathetic. The trouble is with the war management, which is neither competent, intelligent nor single-hearted. That is the simple truth and Mr. Roosevelt would serve the nation better if, instead of assuming that the public needs to be stirred out of its lethargy, he would weed out the incompetents whom he has placed in the highest posts and give the country the sort of leadership it ought to have.

* * *

It has not had that kind of leadership and it has not got it now. The clearest and most convincing evidence of this is the almost incredible mess in which the war management is steeped—a mess which, too obvious to be denied, is gradually being sensed by the people. They are not complacent, but they are concerned, and they are getting more so. Men who recently have been through the States report a growing conviction about Administration incompetency and a general feeling that our best brains are not being utilized in this crisis.

* * *

This feeling is well founded. It is a fact that the real ability and experience available in America have been either by-passed or barred by the Administration. The first-grade men are outside, not inside. This is attested by any analysis of personnel. Those in the highest posts are definitely not topnotchers. Either unwilling or unable, the President has failed to bring the best equipped and available citizens here and clothe them with power. That would have involved putting aside his personal prejudices and asking help of men who have effectively opposed him politically and whom he does not like personally. Instead, he has largely manned his organization with personal and political friends.

* * *

There are plenty of good men here, but they are not the key men with the real power. It is not necessary to call the roll to prove this. All one need to do is point out that the two most important figures in the picture are those of Mr. Harrp Hopkins, who has been directing the gigantic lease-lend operations, at the same time acting in various other capacities; and Mr. Leon Henderson, who as Price Administrator, has almost life and death power over our economic system. To contend that these two men are the best in the country for their jobs is to be absurd. And so far as Mr. Nelson is concerned, while he is honest, earnest and hard-working, he got his job primarily because he had become the favorite businessman of the little New Deal group about the President. When you say that Mr. Nelson is "pretty good" you have just about gone the limit.

* * *

The fact is that the job is much too big for the type of men trying to do it. This is unhappily demonstrated by the situation in which after nearly two years we now find ourselves. We find, for example, that through mismanagement and lack of foresight many factories with war contracts are now threatened with stoppage by the shortage of basic materials, chiefly steel, copper and rubber. We find, too, that no one here knows the facts about these shortages or what to do about them. We find further that without a firm labor policy the effort to keep down prices has been futile and that despite the vast amounts expended to prevent inflation, inflation steadily becomes more of a reality.

* * *

We find that the tax problem has been botched and that the pending bill falls far short of its avowed purposes than any other tax bill in history. In the vital business of military strategy, the President has increased confusion by appointing a personal chief of staff without making it clear whether he is to be superior to the existing chiefs of staff or is to supplement them or cooperate with them. Further, we find that the submarine attacks upon our shipping, which we were told months ago would be stopped, are becoming more devastating all the time. And finally, we find the President and his aides wasting time and energy of incalculable value upon political activities, which force the conclusion that their thoughts are on the nominee of the next Democratic National Convention.

* * *

Few men can consider these facts —and they are facts—without being disturbed. It is unthinkable to acquiesce in them and it is not in the national interests to ignore them. Reflecting upon them, it is rather sickening to be told that the people must be "shaken out of their complacency" and made to realize that the war can be lost. Of course, it can be lost, but the place where it can be lost is not out in the country but in Washington where confusion and incompetency reign and politics is smeared all over the White House doorstep.

GRANTSVILLE

Lightning Strikes Barn

Grantsville firemen were called Sunday night to the home of Ervin Hetrick, Negro Mountain, where his barn, which had been struck by lightning was ablaze.

Although the firemen responded immediately the barn was so nearly destroyed it was impossible to save it.

Two calves and ten tons of hay which were in the barn were destroyed.

Fete Nets $70

The annual lawn fete at Reformed church, New Germany, was well attended. The church netted approximately $70, which will be added to the church fund.

Drive Nets $110

Miss Viola Broadwater, chairman of the USO-Navy Relief campaign in the Grantsville area, reports a contribution totaling $110. Miss Broadwater was assisted by solicitors, Miss Rita Edwards, Miss Mildred Frickey and Miss Betty Jo Durst.

Yoder Lectures Rotarians

Alvin J. Yoder, Grantsville, addressed the Rotary club recently on "War Gases." Yoder recently completed a course in incendiary bombs and poisonous gases.

Woman Honored at Dinner

Mrs. Lucretia Messersmith was guest of honor at a chicken dinner given by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Livengood, at her home here.

The occasion was to celebrate Mrs. Messersmith's ninety-sixth birthday.

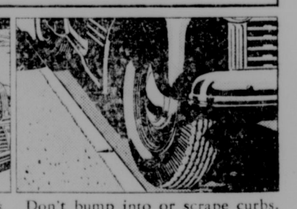
How to make your car last a lot longer

Five neighbors, with only 6,000 miles left on their tires, can, by taking turns driving, each ride 50,000 miles before any re-treading is necessary. Start or join a driving club today and save precious tires.



Don't bump into or scrape curbs. Check pressure weekly. Thirty per cent under-inflation reduces tire mileage 80 per cent. Drive "40 or less." Avoid "squeaking" on turns . . . many extra tire miles will result.

Visit a Pontiac dealer at least once a month for a wheel alignment check. A wheel one-half inch out of line will drag a tire sidew.ys 87 feet in every mile. Have him switch tires every 4,000 miles, too.

Pontiac's FREE "Motor Doctor" inspection prevents little troubles from becoming costly repairs. Regular inspection by your Pontiac dealer is the cheapest way to preserve something you can't replace until the war is won.

Pontiac PRESCRIBED LOW-COST SERVICE

BETTER IN 6 IMPORTANT WAYS:

1. Saves money 2. Assures prompt cooperative attention 3. Includes special free examination by a trained motor doctor 4. He prescribes only necessary operations 5. You pay only for what you need when you need it 6. Lengthening car life at minimum cost

Work Being Speeded On Savage River Dam

Large Fleet Of Equipment Arrives; December First Seen As Finish Date

A fleet of thirty or more trucks, several steam and power shovels and a quantity of other equipment has been moved to the site of the Savage River Dam to begin work on final stages of the river control project in Garrett county.

The equipment was moved there by S. J. Groves and Son, Ridgefield, N. J., contractors, who were granted the contract to complete the huge dirt embankment around the pool.

An elaborte system of night lighting has been installed to enable the contractor to work two ten-hour shifts daily. By this method it is believed the project will be completed by December first.

The contract for the completion of the big water control plan was awarded June 27 in Baltimore by the Works Progress Administration. The project is sponsored by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

The Savage River Dam project, long publicized and long discussed as a control project will provide a large area for storage of water in wet seasons. During dry seasons the water can be released, thereby controlling the flow and depth of the Potomac River. This will be an aid to industry as well as sanitation, and will also help control the danger of floods in the Potomac valley by holding back large volumes of water caused by early spring rains and melting snows from the Savage River watershed, the stream flowing into the Potomac just above Luke at Bloomington, in this county.

McKeldin Finds Much Sentiment for Change

Republican Candidate for Governor Says Many People Dissatisfied

Theodore R. McKeldin, Republican aspirant for the governorship declared he is "surprised by the statewide sentiment for a change at Annapolis."

McKeldin said he was saving his major campaign efforts until after the primaries, but said he was receiving promises of support not only from the counties but from Baltimore city "and from some surprising sources, at that."

"I didn't know so many people were dissatisfied with the present regime at Annapolis. I get telephone calls and letters every day assuring me of support. All of these promises make my chances of election better. Some of those people who give me only a slim outside chance are going to be surprised.

The Republicans have yet to select a candidate for attorney general. William A. Gunter, Cumberland, choice of a GOP canvass committee for the nomination, notified the party he was declining the offer on the advice of his physician.

Another problem will be the selection of a state party chairman to succeed W. David Tilghman, Jr., who announced he would withdraw as chairman immediately after the party convention September 18. Galen L. Tait is one of the Republican leaders mentioned for the chairmanship and for the job of being McKeldin's campaign manager if McKeldin wins at the primaries September 8.

LAWRENCE FRALEY

Republican Candidate for Nomination for

STATE SENATOR

To the Voters and Citizens of Garrett County:

For some time past many of the citizens and voters of Garrett County have expressed to me their wish that I become a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator for Garrett County. I have filed my certificate of candidacy for this office, feeling that my past experience fully qualifies me to successfully fill this important office.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County and have always been a loyal Republican and active party worker. I have served as Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and on numerous occasions been a delegate to Republican State Conventions and was a delegate from Maryland at the last Republican National Convention at Philadelphia.

For the past thirty years I have been active in business in Garrett County, have served as Postmaster at Oakland, served as President of the City Council of Oakland and have been elected Mayor of Oakland seven times, and am at the present time its Mayor. I am also serving as Director of Civilian Defense for the Southern Section of Garrett County. In both my official and civilian activities, I have always done everything in my power to bring to our County business enterprises, and have always been active in advertising and interesting others in our many resources. I was one of the organizers of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and have been an active member since its organization and have served as its President.

By reason of my long and varied experience, I feel that I am qualified to serve the people of this County as their Senator at Annapolis, and if nominated and elected, I will do my utmost to serve all of the people of the County with courtesy, and it will be my purpose to advise with and consult the people of the county on legislative matters.

In the present National emergency it is the duty of everyone to do his part towards the successful prosecution of the war and at a time when we are all called upon to make sacrifices and additional taxes are imposed upon us, I favor the strictest economy in normal governmental expenses, consistent with good government.

I am opposed to any legislative enactment providing for the bonding of the County for any purpose without a referendum, giving the people of the County the opportunity to express their opinion.

I will work for, and strive to interest others in the many natural resources of our County.

I believe that there can be improvement in the preservation and propagation of the fish and wild life in our County, and I promise the sportsmen of the County that if I am nominated and elected I will cooperate and work with them towards this end.

I have always believed in fair treatment of the laboring man and if nominated and elected I shall continue to support that policy.

Our County has some of the finest agricultural sections to be found anywhere and it shall be my purpose to support any legislation that is beneficial to the farmer and that will help the farmers of Garrett County.

We have here an unsurpassed recreational area and I have done my utmost to advertise and promote this great natural resource and if I am elected to serve you at Annapolis I am confident that I will be able to do much more than I have done in the past, through contact with State and Government officials.

I believe if proper effort is made, more coal and agricultural products from this County can be used by our State institutions and I shall work to accomplish that result.

When peace comes, the people of our State and County will face many serious problems, and if I am your representative at that time I shall lend my aid and support to those who have served their country in its armed forces and help them in every possible way in their return to civilian life.

Because of the short period of time now remaining before the primary, it will not be possible for me to see personally each voter, but I solicit the support of my friends throughout the County.

LAWRENCE M. FRALEY.

Political Announcements

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Having presided over the Circuit Court for Washington county for more than one year and a half, I have served through five regular jury terms and two non-jury terms of that Court, in addition to sitting, upon occasions, with Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Huster in the Circuit Courts for Allegany and Garrett counties, and I believe that the experience which I have gained qualifies me to continue my services on the Bench.

Since assuming my judicial duties I have been ever mindful of the high standard of service set by my predecessor in office, the late Judge Frank G. Wagaman, and I have endeavored to faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability administer the duties of the high office which I am privileged to hold.

I have been told that my services have been satisfactory to the members of the Bars of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, and I hope also to the citizens generally of those counties which comprise the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Our American form of Government intends that the Judiciary shall be a department separate and apart from the Legislative and Executive branches, and as such shall be engaged in the impartial and equal administration of justice to all citizens. I have believed in those ideals and have always conscientiously tried to follow them.

If you feel that I am qualified by reason of experience, training, temperament and ability to continue to occupy the position I now hold, your support and influence will be greatly appreciated.

JOSEPH D. MISH.
Hagerstown, Md., July 20, 1942.

FOR STATE SENATOR

DR. C. OSCAR HALL

At the urgent request of many friends in various parts of the county, I have filed for the office of State Senator and hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, subject to the Democratic primary. I have been a citizen of the county for the past seven years, own my home in Mtn. Lake Park and for the past two years have served as Mayor of that corporation, having been elected by a large majority of its citizens. In making this announcement, I fully appreciate the duties involved and I assure the citizens of the county that if nominated and elected I shall perform them honestly, without fear or favor and to the best interest of all. I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of Democratic voters throughout the county.

DR. C. OSCAR HALL.

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland.

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-nomination for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

With past experience in the House, I feel I can serve the people of the county and state better. I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thank you for past favors.

Most respectfully yours,
NELSON BRENNEMAN.
McHenry, Md., District No. 6

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

ALBERT G. ROSS

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination at the coming primary election for Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

In seeking this very important office of the county, I solicit your support upon my record and qualifications gained through years of experience in the office.

If nominated and elected, courtesy to all will be my motto and the law will be my guide.

I respectfully solicit your support.

ALBERT G. ROSS.
June 22, 1942*

FOR SHERIFF

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have always voted and worked for the success of the Republican ticket. I have lived my entire lifetime in the Swallow Falls setion of the county and have always had the best interests and welfare of the county at heart, and if I receive the nomination and am elected, I promise to devote my full time to the duties of the office and execute the same without fear, favor or partiality.

I respectfully solicit the support of my neighbors, friends and acquaintances throughout the county.

THEODORE E. SINES.
Oakland, Md., June 9, 1942.*

FOR STATE SENATOR

E. RAY JONES

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from Garrett County. My application for a place on the primary ballot has already been filed as required by law.

In recent weeks many of you have urged me to become a candidate for this position, and have kindly expressed the view that because of my training, experience and the knowledge of legislative and other governmental affairs which I acquired while serving as Secretary of State of Maryland, I could be of some real service to our State and county during the difficult years which lie just ahead. It is in response to this and in this spirit that I have become a candidate.

During the next four years, many difficult and perplexing war and after-the-war problems will be faced. In the solving of these it will be the duty of us all to participate. Many will require legislative action and it will be the duty of the Senator and Members of the House from this county to help in the framing and passage of the necessary legislation. If nominated and elected, it will be my pleasure, as well as duty, to assume my share of this responsibility and to assist to the best of my ability in the working out of these problems. At the same time I will give due and constant consideration to the needs and interests of our county and endeavor to obtain proper recognition for it.

I shall appreciate your support and influence.

E. RAY JONES

If I receive the nomination and am elected, I assure the citizens of the County that I shall perform the duties of the office honestly and without fear or favor and to the best interest of all.

I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of all voters throughout the county.

JONAS W. SINES.
Swallow Falls, July 8, 1942*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—
Ladies and Gentlemen:

As a member of the Republican party, and having had an experience of four years in the office of County Commissioner, I again seek the nomination and election as a member of the Board.

With my former experience, I feel that I am fully qualified to again fill the office I seek and solicit the support of all members of the party in all parts of the county.

If nominated and later elected, I shall endeavor to execute its duties in fairness to all and economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
Dist. 5* JOHN W. HERMAN.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am hereby announcing my candidacy for re-nomination and re-election as a County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the primary election.

I have served the county the past four years as Commissioner, and if re-nominated and re-elected I will continue to give my best services to the taxpayers.

I stand for home rule, better county government, a plan that will work to the improvement of all secondary roads and bridges by the use of the 1½ cent gasoline tax.

Sincerely yours,
CHESTON H. BROWNING.
District No. 7, July 29.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland.

I feel that my past experience of two terms as a member of the Board of Commissioners fully qualifies me to capably fulfill the duties of the Commissioners' office.

I respectfully solicit the support of my friends and all party members.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN.
District No. 14, July 29.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in the mercantile business at Deer Park for twelve years and as a farmer and live stock dealer near Deer Park for the past five years. For a year I was acting postmaster and was town treasurer for six years. Before going to Deer Park I was employed in the Offutt store in Oakland for eight years.

With my experience in these several lines of business, I feel that I am well prepared to execute the duties of the office which I seek to the satisfaction of the general public.

Soliciting the support of all Republicans in every part of the county, I am, Very respectfully,

J. EDWARD HELBIG.
Deer Park, District No. 10*

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for Treasurer of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election.

Having served as County Commissioner for almost four years, and being in close contact with the office of Treasurer, I feel qualified to serve the public in this capacity.

I am also grateful to the voters for their confidence placed in me and their cooperation in the past.

I most earnestly solicit your continued cooperation and support in the coming primary election.

PAUL M. FRIEND.
District No. 7, July 29.

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I most respectfully announce my candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County and crave the votes and influence of my friends at the primary election to be held September 8, 1942.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS E. BISHOFF.
Oakland, District No. 7, June 23*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

After being asked by a number of friends to again place my name on the ballot for Judge of the Orphans' Court, I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. After serving the public in this office for the past seven years I know I am better qualified now than I was when first elected.

I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thanking you for past favors, I remain, yours to serve,

Dist. 5* FRANK CALLIS.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I was born in Friendsville and am now a resident of Mountain Lake Park, in District No. 16. I have always been a Republican and have been a taxpayer for many years.

My father, Thomas Cuppett, served as Judge of the Orphans Court for a number of years and I desire an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity. I solicit the support of the Republican voters from all sections of the county. Very sincerely yours,

E. CALVIN CUPPETT.
Mt. Lake Park, Dist. 16, June 29*.

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

I hereby announce my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County.

It is with gratitude to the voters of this County that I express my appreciation in having been privileged for some years past to serve the public interests of our County in this same capacity and assure you of my continued effort to discharge faithfully the duties of the office if I am reelected.

Earnestly soliciting your support at the Republican primary election to be held September 8, 1942, I am,

Very truly yours,
VERNIE R. SMOUSE.
Election District No. 14*

For State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from Garrett County, subject to the primary to be held on September 8th.

I am connected with no clique or faction and if I am nominated and elected, I shall accord to all, without regard to party faction or clique, a respectful and unprejudiced hearing at all times and shall honestly endeavor to serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability.

I pledge to use the major portion of my time at the State Capitol, to secure some real worthwhile legislation, beneficial to our County, which is not now and has not been receiving consideration in a legislative way in proportion to benefits had by other counties in our State.

I have been actively engaged in business in Garrett County over a period of twenty years, during which time I have been in close touch with the affairs of the county and feel that I am fully acquainted with its needs and can creditably represent its people in this most important office.

I solicit your favorable consideration and assure you it will be deeply appreciated.

Arthurdale Homesteaders Are Paid Premiums To Purchase Their Farms

Arthurdale (West Virginia) Residents Are Given Rental Credits To Check Exodus And Hasten Sales

It seems a long, long time ago since Arthurdale, West Virginia, was in the news as a subsistence homestead. What is its status now? What has happened to it in wartime? The answer is outlined in the following article prepared for the Baltimore Sunday Sun by Carroll E. Williams, a staff correspondent of that newspaper.

Arthurdale, W. Va.—In this model New Deal community homesteaders are being paid a premium to purchase subsistence farms that cost the United States an average of $18,000 to create.

To check the outward migration of homesteaders and to hasten the sale of 165 properties into which over $2,646,000 has been poured in an eight year period, tenants, in lieu of planking a cash payment down, are given credit for a portion of rentals paid since 1936. This means the properties are now offered at from $800 to $1400.

With that credit on the purchase price, the balance due is repayable over a forty-year period with interest at three per cent.

These houses are comparable in design, construction and facilities to dwellings in war production centers like Charleston, W. Va., and Baltimore, renting for $40 to $50 monthly and selling for from $4,500 to $5,500 each.

Despite the seemingly attractive sales proposition, under which the Farm Security Administration is writing off a loss of $2,500,000 by offering the combined properties for $175,000, present occupants are in no rush to buy houses and garden plots for which they have been paying monthly rentals of $12 to $20.

Only sixty sales contracts have been cosummated to date, leaving more than one hundred properties still on the market.

Industries Still Sought

Architects of this model village strove in vain to establish industries to replace coal mining.

Thus it was proposed to solve the problem of the unemployed miners by providing them with farm homes where they might be self-sustaining with their gardens and the profits on cooperative ventures in dairying, poultry raising and handicraft work and part-time work for wages in industries.

After eight years the sponsors are still looking for industries willing to pay paltry rents for costly factory buildings where employment might be afforded a substantial number of men and women. Private industry will have none of it.

NYA Setting Up Center

The biggest enterprise the community has yet attracted—now in process of development—is a National Youth Administration resident center that proposes to put 225 youths into war production training.

It has taken over one or three modern factory buildings erected at great cost beside the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's tracks into Reedsville, W. Va., in the heart of an area once nationally known for the quality of its soft coal and less for the buckwheat and potatoes grown on what are regarded the richest, fattest acres in West Virginia's northern plateau.

Industries Have Gone Away

In another of the factory buildings twenty or twenty-five workers are turning out wooden radio cabinets. In the third a handful of workers are making sound amplifiers.

Not that industries have not come to Arthurdale. But they have gone away, one after another, victims of divers blights.

Congress killed the first chance the community had to get an industry—namely, a plant to make postoffice equipment.

Up to 1936 a majority of the residents worked for the community enterprises. Many still are on those pay rolls.

Horses And Mules Preferred

A vacuum-cleaner assembly plant was set up. Then a shirt factory began operations. In 1938 the Administration's homestead project decided to locate a Michigan tractor manufacturing firm here, and $200,000 was provided for equipment and $125,000 for construction of a plant.

The project was completed in April, 1939. By that time it became clear the assemblying of tractors had been just a side line of the Michigan firm and that only a handful of its 300 employes had been engaged in such manufacturing operations.

Also, it was recognized that the tractor would not sell in competition with the nationally known makes, and, moreover, that West Virginia farmers prefer horses and mules to work hillside and valley patches.

Sponsors Not Daunted

It failed to provide much employment. Farmers were reluctant to spend money for a tool that might be soon orphaned—as it subsequently was—and after producing about 200 tractors the factory closed.

The Government owns the factory buildings, and less than $90,000 of the original allocation of $200,000 for equipment was spent.

By the time this factory got into operation the shirt and vacuum-cleaner plants had closeed down.

Nothing daunted, the sponsors argued that the depression years discouraged establishment of new plants by private enterprises and that once the tide changed industries would be quick to move to a model community like Arthurdale.

Two Cooperative Farms Fail

Boom times find the industries going elsewhere, and homesteaders here are commuting to Morgantown and other war production centers to reap the big-time pay while enjoying the low, subsidized rentals still prevailing at Arthurdale.

By 1939, or less than five years after the community had been established, two of the experiments in cooperative farming — dairying and poultry raising—had proved financial flops.

High wages paid the homesteaders to run these ventures took all the income—and more—of the cooperative association.

So, too, the homesteaders failed to make a go of the production of handicraft articles of wood, pewter and wrought iron.

The community has a sorry appearance. It is all run down at the heel, with its vast nursery school, elementary and high school plant, its community gymnasium and its general buildings needing paint and its public grounds grown high in weeds.

There are unmistakable signs that what was to be a model for all other like New Deal communities in a $25,000,000 politico-sociological experiment is a failure. It had good backing. It was promoted by Rexford Guy Tugwell, then Under Secretary of the Agriculture and head of President Roosevelt's Resettlement Administration. It was nurtured through all its formative stage by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who visited it frequently.

Homesteaders Hand-Picked

The homesteaders were hand-picked. Heads of agencies that fell heir to it and sister communities hold that it was doomed to failure because it was settled by families on relief, selected on the basis of their needs rather than on their capabilities as part-time agriculturists or industrial workers.

But the favorite local project of the First Lady of the land had all the benefits of science in choosing its settlers. True, some of the family heads had not been steadily employed since the coal strike of the 20's. But they were sized up as capable workers, with a sense of social responsibility eager to turn to the soil for a living.

Test Took 45 Minutes

The settlers were picked from hundreds of applicants in a stampede to live in new houses with baths, heating furnaces, electric lights and give up grotesquely appearing shacks, perched precariously atop abandoned mines.

A test that lasted all of 45 minutes was designed to ascertain their agricultural backgrounds. A plaster cow was used to check their knowledge of dairying, and a technical test to determine if a prospecet, claiming a knowledge of poultry raising, could tell the difference between a "liar and a layer."

A test of educational, physical fitness, attitudes, ambitions and of agricultural aspirations followed.

Only Three Remaining

Then, skilled interviewers were detailed to interrogate members of the families of wage earners rated highest in all of the above tests.

Of the first fifty families "I only know of three remaining heres," said Mrs. Ira Murphy, who in 1934 moved into the first model house completed here.

Mr. Murphy has a war job—secured a year ago—at an ordnance plant in Morgantown. There are three children, 9, 13 and 15 years of age.

"We have just bought our home, and like it very much," she related.

She was at work in the almost idle handicraft shop of the community center when interviewed.

Monthly Payments $15

Mrs. Rosa Mayor, whose husband has been working for the Arthurdale association ever since the couple and their seven children settled here in 1934, was also working a hand loom.

The Mayors bought their home a month ago, "but we are moving into a larger home," said Mrs. Mayor. "We find what we bought isn't what we want, so they are exchanging it for us."

Allowing credit for the rents paid since 1936, Mrs. Mayor said the monthly payments run to $15.

Two of the 165 houses are vacant and thirteen are occupied by youths employed by the National Youth Administration.

FIGHT FOOD WASTE

When you throw away a bad egg, or spoiled meat, or more good milk goes sour than you can use—STOP! LOOK! FIGHT FOOD WASTE!

Multiply that egg and meat and milk by the nation's 34 million homes. You have a staggering total of wasted food and wasted energy producing it.

There is plenty of food in this country—but none to waste. And summer is the season when food wastes invariably increase. Therefore home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture offer the following timely suggestions for taking care of the most perishable foods.

Foods To Watch

Put on your list of foods to watch most closely meat, eggs and milk. Not only are these the foods that spoil most quickly, but they are all on the list of "more" foods in the Food-for-Freedom campaign. Farmers are making an all-out effort this year to produce more of all of them.

So don't take any chances on wasting them. To keep them over a day you need a refrigerator or another very cold storage space. If you haven't such a storage space, don't keep any more on hand than you can use immediately.

In addition to being foods that spoil quickly, meat and milk and egg mixtures can become sources of dangerous food poisoning.

Meat

Keep raw meat, poultry and fish in the coldest part of your refrigerator or your coldest storage place. A temperature of 45 degrees Fahrenheit or lower is needed. If your coldest storage space isn't this cold, buy meat the same day you use it, and keep it as cool as possible up to the time you cook it. Be doubly careful of ground, raw meat. It spoils more quickly than meat in one piece. Keep it extra cold and use it extra quickly.

When you bring meat home from the store, take off the wrapping paper. Store it loosely covered with wax paper.

Wash poultry thoroughly—inside and outside. Pat it dry. Store it wrappeed or loosely covered until time to cook it. Then, if you don't plan to eat it right away, chill it quickly ard keep it chilled until serving time.

As for fish, that spoils at only a few hours of room temperature. Cook it at once or wrap it in wax paper to keep the fish odor out of other food and store it in a very cold place.

Cover cooked meats before you put them away. Cut or chop meat just before you plan to serve it. Meat that has been cut or chopped spoils more quickly than cooked meat in one piece.

Make up meat sandwiches and meat salads only shortly before you intend to serve them. Keep them cold until serving time.

Milk

In many parts of the country every-other-day milk deliveries are accenting the usual problem of keeping milk sweet in the summer. If you haven't ample refrigerator room, it may be better to buy every other day's supply at the store.

Milk, like meat, belongs in the colder part of the refrigerator. Never let it stand out at room temperature. When you get milk out for cooking, take only as much of the bottle as you need—pop the bottle back into the cold quickly. Put away milk or cream you've used at the table the first thing after the meal, but don't pour it back into the main supply. Keep milk away from odorous foods, such as fish, onions, cabbage or melons. Milk is kept covered, of course. Use suds and sun on all milk containers.

Opened condensed milk and dried milk keep better well covered in the refrigerator.

Eggs

Eggs can lose a lot of their freshness after a few hours in a warm room. Keep them in your coldest storage sppace. Take out as many as you want at one time, but keep the main supply in the icebox, refrigerator or other cold place. Best storage containers for them are open bowls or wire baskets. Never wash eggs before you store them, or you wash off the protective "bloom" or film that keeps out air and odors. If eggs are soiled, wipe them with a dry, rough cloth.

Milk-And-Egg Dishes

The combination of milk and eggs is a summertime favorite, and one of the quickest to spoil. It is best to make up custards, cream pies, puddings, cream puffs not long ahead of time. Put them in the refrigerator immediately after they are prepared and keep them there until serving time.

In the same class of easy-to-spoil foods are homemade salad dressings made with egg, egg sandwiches, deviled eggs.

Sale of Auto Use Tax Stamps Continues

The sale of auto use tax stamps is continuing at all postoffices during August. The stamps cost $4.59 and cover the period August 1, 1942, to June 30, 1943 .The cost of stamps is prorated throughout the fiscal year.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendment to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journal with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendment shall be published by order of the Governor in at least two newspapers, in each County where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspaper published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland, in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 191

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4 title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or hereafter be prescribed by which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such interlocutory terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, that the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 10B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 10A and to be numbered 10B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

10B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment", and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 716

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its sanction for, gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Amendment to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article XIV of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of orders or denominations, and providing for submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter:

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 191, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, DONE AT THE CITY OF ANNAPOLIS THIS 15TH DAY OF JULY, IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

By the Governor:
HERBERT R. O'CONOR

THOMAS ELMO JONES
Secretary of State

LAW OFFICES OF JONES & JONES.

Chester H. Bobet and Nina Bobet, his wife, vs. Mary K. Myrick, and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne, and George W. Branne, her husband.
No. 3655 Equity.
In the Circuit Court for Garrett County.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Chester H. Bobet, Mary K. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds arising therefrom.

The bill states:

That the said Chester H. Bobet is seized and possessed of an undivided one-half interest in and to a dwelling-house property situated in Deer Park, Garrett County, Maryland; said property having been conveyed to him and one Henry F. Bobet, as tenants in common, share and share alike, by William B. Miller and wife, by deed dated February 3, 1919, and recorded in Liber No. 76, folio 44, one of the Land Records of said Garrett County, the original of said deed, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'A'", having been filed with the bill, and prayed to be considered a part thereof; that the undivided one-half interest of the said Henry F. Bobet in the aforesaid property was subsequently conveyed by him to Mary K. Myrick and Eva Ellen Branne, as tenants in common, by deed dated November 4, 1938, and recorded in Liber No. 118, folio 187, Land Records of said Garrett County; a certified copy of said last-named deed having been filed with the bill, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'B'", and prayed to be taken and considered a part thereof; that said property is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and that it would be to the advantage of all of said parties to have said property sold under a decree of Court, and the proceeds divided amongst the parties in interest, according to their respective rights; that none of the parties to said suit are residents of the State of Maryland, but that Chester H. and Nina Bobet reside in Marion County, in the State of West Virginia, and that Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne reside in Franklin County, in the State of Ohio.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of the said real estate, and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom, and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of July, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs, by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 14th day of August, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne, her husband, of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 29th day of August, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

Final Rites Held For Dr. Workman

Final rites were held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the First Methodist church in Buckhannon, for Dr. J. B. Workman, who died in that city suddenly last Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. He was a former Oakland pastor and father of Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, Alder street.

Dr. Workman had been living in Buckhannon since his retirement from the active ministry last September. He had observed his fiftieth anniversary of his entry into the ministry last August when pastor of the Methodist church at Mannington.

He was a native of West Virginia, having been born at Wayne, and spent his entire ministry in the West Virginia conference. He began his ministry at Wayne, then subsequently served at Davis, Acme, Brandonville, Oakland, Wheeling, Fairmont, was superintendent of the Buckhannon district eight years, served six years at Mannington, thence to Central church in Charleston for six more. He then returned to Wheeling as minister at Edgewood Methodist church and from there returned to Mannington about four years ago.

Dr. Workman led two drives in the Buckhannon district, one for the West Virginia Wesleyan college Centenary movement, and one for the permanent trust fund for retired ministers.

In 1912 he was a delegate to the General conference of the church in Minneapolis, and later was twice elected as reserve delegate. He served four years as secretary of the West Virginia conference and for many years served as a trustee of Wesleyan college. Dr. Workman received his degree from West Virginia Wesleyan.

He was united in marriage to Miss Grace Wellman, and they observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1939. Dr. Workman was a member of the Masonic fraternity and served as president of the Kiwanis club at Buckhannon.

Surviving are his widow, Buckhannon, and the following children: Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, Oakland; Paul Workman, Clendenin, W. Va.; Mrs. Charles Holderby, Huntington; Mrs. Frank E. Campbell, Holliday's Cove, W. Va.; Mrs. William Manser, Buckhannon. Three daughters are deceased. There are also eight grandsons, one granddaughter and two great grandsons; two brothers, Hugh B. Workman and McClure Workman, Huntington; and two sisters, Mrs. Julia Smith, Huntington, and Mrs. John Parks, Seattle, Washington.

Funeral services were in charge of Dr. Hugh E. Kelso, superintendent of the Buckhannon district; assisted by Dr. J. W. Engle, retired minister of West Virginia conference and a lifelong friend; Dr. Wallace B. Fleming, vice-president of West Virginia Wesleyan college; Dr. Charles G. Slater, pastor of the First Methodist church at Fairmont. Five grandsons and one nephew acted as active pallbearers, while thirty fellow clergymen were selected as honorary pallbearers. Interment was in the Heavener cemetery at Buckhannon.

Attending the services from Oakland in addition to the Stemple family were Rev. Minor Sprague, Mrs. Harold Harned, Mrs. F. E. Rathbun, Mrs. Arthur Lawton, and Mrs. D. M. Dixon.

DIED

THOMAS CIANSAGLIONE

Thomas Ciansaglione, 22 Kempton, died suddenly last Wednesday afternoon, July 29, in an Elkins hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks.

A native of Albert, West Va., he was the son of Nuzio and Emma Ciansaglione. Besides his parents he is survived by his widow, the former Selma Broll, and a five-months-old daughter, Judith Ann. Brothers and sister surviving are William, Joseph, Andrew, John, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Donnacci, Emma Lee, Eleanor, Patricia Ann and Christine, all at home.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Thomas' Catholic church in Thomas, West Va., on Saturday, August 1, with Rev. Signor Newman officiating. The United Mine Workers of America, of Kempton, had charge of the services at the grave.

MRS. JANE L. TAYLOR

Mrs. Jane L. Taylor, aged 79, widow of the late William L. Taylor, a former president of the Pennsylvania Associated dailies and for many years manager of the York Dispatch and Daily in York, Pa., was found dead in her bed at the Deaconess home in Mt. Lake Park on Tuesday morning when she failed to respond to the breakfast bell.

She had been at the Park for several weeks. Death was due to a heart ailment from which she had been suffering for some time. She had retired at the usual time on Monday evening.

She had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edwin E. Calverley, a physician in Hartford, Conn. Another daughter, Mrs. Coyd Yost, of Keyser, W. Va., survives, also five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Her remains were taken to York where funeral services are being conducted today.

DIED

DAVID ARTHUR DEWITT

David Arthur DeWitt, aged 41, of Hutton, died Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock in the Monongalia County hospital in Morgantown, W. Va., following an operation for ulcers of the stomach. He was admitted there Monday afternoon after he became suddenly ill.

The deceased was born in this county June 13, 1901, a son of Mrs. Catherine Sanders DeWitt and the late Lucien DeWitt. He was employed as a miner for the Stanley Coal company at Crellin. He had been in ill health for a number of years but continued at work. He was a member of the Pentecostal church at Crellin.

Surviving are his widow and two children, Arthur and Gladys, at home; his mother, also one brother, John DeWitt, Crellin; three sisters, Mrs. Marshall McCabe, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Gilbert Weimer, near Oakland, and Mrs. William DeWitt, Oakland.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bolden Funeral home, with Rev. R. A. McCauley, Davis, W. Va., officiating. Interment will be in the Gortner cemetery.

GEORGE A. MILLER

George A. Miller, aged 83 years, died Sunday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Kahl, near Accident, following a brief illness.

A son of the late Philip and Catherine (Gochringer) Miller, he had been a lifelong resident of Garrett county. His wife died forty-three years ago.

Surviving are ten children: A son, Adam Miller, Oregon City, Oregon, and nine daughters, Mrs. Edwin Georg, Mrs. John Kahl, Mrs. Frank Georg and Mrs. Lewis Harmon, of Accident; Mrs. Earl Bowser, Selbysport; Mrs. Albert Glass, Uniontown, Pa.; Mrs. Jonas Kemp, Somerfield, Pa.; Mrs. August Neil, Friendsville, and Miss Rose Miller, Baltimore; also one sister, Mrs. Mary Nolte, Coal Run, Pa., and three brothers, Lewis Miller, Zanesville, O.; Melchoir Miller, Somerset, Pa., and Frank Miller, Salisbury, Pa.

Funeral services were held yesterday from Zion Evangelical Lutheran church at Accident, of which he had been a member for many years. The Rev. C. F. Dauphin, pastor, officiated. Interment was made in the Accident cemetery.

MRS. PERRY G. DIEHL

Mrs. Emma Diehl, aged 51 years, wife of Perry G. Diehl, Cumberland, who died Tuesday at Springfield State Hospital, was a native of Swanton and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mosser.

Surviving are Mrs. Dolly Friend, Swanton, and another sister, along with a brother, T. H. Mosser, of Deer Park.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon in the Deer Park Methodist church and interment will be made in the cemetery at that place.

Directors Named in Local Cooperatives

New members were named to various boards of directors of Southern States cooperatives at recent meetings.

Harry Harmon, Accident, and Ray W. Georg, Grantsville, were elected to the Grantsville section at a meeting July 29, attended by more than 450.

Martin Frazee and William Umbel were named to the Friendsville board.

Featuring the meeting at Grantsville was a cake baking contest in which twenty-one angel food, pound cakes and three layer iced cakes were entered. Prizes were awarded as follows:

Cakes—Mrs. Walter Richter and Mrs. Carl Richter, Accident; Mrs. Albert Camp, Mrs. Joel Beachy, Mrs. O. J. Glotfelty, Mrs. Raymond Loechel, Mrs. C. C. Beachy, Grantsville.

V-Mail

Space occupied by mail on planes and ships serving the armed forces of the nation outside the continental United States reduces the space available for war materials. Full use must be made of the space in order that our forces will receive the maximum amount of supplies and mail. V-Mail was inaugurated for that purpose.

V-Mail letters in their original form or on micro-film, occupy considerable less space than correspondence of the usual type and Army planes carrying mail outside the United States give V-Mail preference over all other classes.

V-Mail micro-films are now being sent to and received from our forces in the British Isle, Egypt, the Middle and Far East, Hawaii, Australia and other points in the Pacific.

V-Mail letters may be obtained at the postoffice on request, without cost.

Winters Reunion

The Winters reunion will be held at Gnegy church, on route 219, south of Red House, on Sunday, August 9. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The USS aircraft carrier Essex launched at Newport News, the first since Pearl Harbor.

LAND IN GARRETT COUNTY IS ACCEPTED BY THE STATE

Maryland's Public Works Board on Tuesday formally accepted two tracts of land in Garrett county, totaling 1,652 acres, bequeathed by the late Charles McHenry Howard for furtherance of State conservation purposes.

The board immediately authorized that the land should be placed under the joint jurisdiction of the Inland Fish and Game Commission and the State Forestry Department. The land is to be converted into a State game reserve and a State forest.

Accepting the bequest in the board's name, Governor O'Conor said: "Such generous action should be given public acknowledgement. The terms of Mr. Howard's will provided that the two areas should be used as a 'game reserve, forest reserve, agricultural station or any similar uses for the benefit of the public or of the State." I am sure all our citizens will be of one mind that this will serve as a monument to Mr. Howard.

In his will Mr. Howard gave the State permission to sell "parts of the areas" if it desired, but expressed the hope that the proceeds would be spent to improve or extend remaining areas of the original grants.

Aircraft engineers disclosed they had designed a flying cargo plane which would be lifted and propelled by a combination of engines, helium gas and air tunnels.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Germany's supreme offensive in attempt to crush Russia carried closer to Stalingrad but Reds said Nazi losses were so terrific that Hitler was rapidly consuming his last reserves. Reds retreated slowly in Bataisk area but more slowly in bend of the Don. Stalin himself asked his men to stand firm or die. RAF stepped up its raids to cripple Germany's war effort along coast and at vital points. Axis bombed Cairo while battlefield in Egypt was in stalemate. A Brazilian ship was sunk. Germans obliterated 16 villages in Slovenia and shot all inhabitants. British hinted a continental invasion was in the offing as four U. S. generals and fresh Canadian troops arrived in England.

SATURDAY — Soviet troops fell back south and southeast of Bataisk while reserves rushed to the Don stalled the Nazi drive in the big bend. London asserts Marshall is favored as 2nd front chief, and troops may strike soon. Planes clouded the skies in duels over France, as RAF kept hammering continental areas. Navy said Japs in Aleutians numbered about 10,000. Japs pushed forward farther in New Guinea jungles toward Port Moresby and enemy showed signs of attempting heavier raids against Australia. Egyptian air bases of allies were bombed by Rommel's forces in effort to curb Allies raids on Nazi forces. The lull on the desert front was laid to exhaustion of both sides. German bombers struck several towns in industrial Midlands. Japs had 400,000 impatient troops along 1,000-mile Soviet frontier. U. S. planes in China destroyed 7 Jap craft.

SUNDAY—U. S. planes sank a U-boat in Caribbean. RAF bombed city of Dusseldorf with 150 two-ton block-buster bombs and many other explosives. Russian Cossacks and marines were bracing the Red lines against the Nazi push. U. S. air force in Egypt announced new successes against Axis port and harbor facilities and convoys at sea. Eighty-seven enemy aliens were seized in New York. Seven generals were weighing the fate of the 8 Nazi saboteurs. American shipyards completed 71 cargo ships and tankers in July, setting a world record. It was revealed that a large Polish army was guarding Syria against Axis.

MONDAY—Soviet armies, locked in plane and tank combats, slowly retreated toward Caucasus but reported they had stopped fresh Nazi onslaughts on Don bend. Nazis sent parachute troops into Don bend but Reds said they made short work of them and also many spies and fifth columnists. RAF attacked targets in Low Countries and British torpedo boats dashed across Channel and sank two German boats. German planes raided Norwick. Allied bombers hammered Axis supply lines in Egypt. Chinese said they had stopped a Jap column around Wenchow. Movements in Burma indicated a move toward Indian border. Cargo planes were held to be vital to a second front, and their construction was being urged in U. S.

TUESDAY—Germany's offensive in Caucasus was slowed 138 miles from Maikop oil fields and two threats to Stalingrad were stopped. Germans driving South along 700-mile railway leading to Baku were by no means stopped and Russian peril gave rise to more talk of second front. Nazi-held Norway was expecting trouble and Germans boasted of defenses there. One plane went 600 miles to bomb Iceland. British bombers were grounded by weather but scout planes reported Dusseldorf areas in ruins. Patrol skirmishes occurred on Egyptian front but RAF there concentrated on supplies and ships. Japs were trying to strengthen their chain around northern part of Australia. Japs tried to knock out air base in China without success as on land Chinese recaptured town north of Wenchow. India's leaders declared they would welcome Japan unless Britain granted immediate independence. Convoy system was said to be beating sub menace in Caribbean.

WEDNESDAY — German troops made another fifty-mile advance in Caucasus to threaten important junction on Soviet railway stem, and also gained northwest of Stalingrad. Chinese troops surrounded Jap strongholds of Linchwan. U. S. bombers aided Chinese by blasting Jap docks along Fu river in that city. Gandhi admitted urging India to deal with the Japs. English parliament was in secret session and it was thought the members may have dealt with the Russian situation and need for a second front.

THURSDAY — Capture of town sixty miles north of Maikop oil fields and crossing of Kuban river deep in Caucasus were claimed by Germans as Russians acknowledged retreats in that sector. German parachute troops dropped behind Russian lines with baby tanks. A United States air force commander landed a bomber in Moscow to make aid to Russia more effective. India Congress offered to line up beside United Nations against Japs or any other aggressor provided Britain grant immediate independence. Otherwise they threatened civil disobedience. In China U. S. bombers hit Jap wharfs, warehouses and shipping near Hankow. New Guinea-Australia front was quiet and only patrol skirmishes and artillery exchanges broke quiet of Egyptian front. U. S. and British bombers were busy hitting merchant ship, damaging two others. A British sub sank an Italian supply ship. German planes twice attacked isolated spots in Iceland. British planes bombed German Ruhr area.

Eight hundred refugees from European and middle east theatres of war arrived in Baltimore.

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, AUGUST 13, 1942. NUMBER 25.

Our "Fifth Freedom" . . .

It takes critical times like these to make us realize what our American way of life really consists of and what it would mean if we lost it.

A unique advertising campaign launched a few weeks ago shows the way the wind is blowing today. A well-known food manufacturer took four pages in a home economics journal to sell home economics teachers, not his food, but free enterprise. It shows that this man, as do many others, considers the fate of our free enterprise system far more important than his own profit. To quote from his message:

"The American way of life is based on four fundamental principles: freedom of speech, freedom of religious belief, freedom of the press, and freedom to choose the form and personnel of government.

"These are the ideals of democracy. To make them work for the benefit of the people called for a fifth freedom—freedom of enterprise.

"From our very start as a nation this fifth freedom has been recognized as a vitalizer and nourisher of all we hold dear. It is the freedom that has built the best way of life ever known, on the best set of principles ever adopted.

"This fifth freedom was born of foresight, initiative and hard work. It has been sustained by fair competition, backed by skills developed through scientific and practical research.

"This freedom has built up the nation's outstanding industries which today defend our prosperity, which supply so large a part of the people's everyday needs, and which give to millions of workers an equal opportunity to enjoy the benefits and blessings of liberty."

SEVEN AMENDMENTS TO BE ON ELECTION BALLOT

Include Two Acts Calling for Increased Compensation And Change in Juvenile Court

Seven bills passed by the 1941 session of the General Assembly proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State of Maryland will be submitted to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection at the general election on Tuesday, November 3.

The following acts will appear on ballots issued at poling places in all parts of the State:

Publicizing By Pamphlet

1. That the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments to the Consitution in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers.

2. Provides for the residential qualifications and method of selecting associate judges in the Third Judicial Circuit (Baltimore and Harford counties). Two of said associate judges shall at all times be residents of Baltimore county and one of said associate judges or the chief judge be a bona fide resident of Harford county, and said judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

Right To Fix Salaries

3. An act to change the present provision of the Constitution which limits the compensaiton of any clerk of the court or register of wills to an annual salary of $3,000; also provides fees must be earned out of office and gives the Legislature the right to fix salaries.

4. An act to enlarge powers of the State Roads Commission. Where property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by the State Roads Commission, or into court, such sum as said commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that subsequently may be awarded by a jury.

Proposed Pay Increases

5. An act to increase the compensation of members of the General Assembly. Provides for the payment of $1,000 per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from the session; also mileage not exceeding twenty cents a mile; and the presiding officer of each house shall receive an additiona compensation of $250 per annum. Under the present law members of the General Assembly receive $5 a day compensation, or $900 for two ninety-day sessions during their four-year term of office, while under the proposed amendment, if adopted, they will receive $4,000, mileage charges and other perquisities for the four-year term of office.

6. Provides that the Legislature may, by law, regulate, restrict or require its sanction for gifts, devises (real estate) or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religuios sect, order or denomination. This act gives the Legislature the right to fix and determine what gifts require sanctioning.

Concerns Juvelile Courts

7. Provides for the establishing of a juvenile court for Baltimore city to be a court of record, and gives the General Assembly the right to fix the qualification of judges, salary, etc. Also gives the legislature the right to establish juvenile courts in any incorporated city or town or county of the State with exclusive jurisdiction over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age.

Under the present law the juvenile court is part of the magistrates system and if the new amendment is adopted the juvenile court will be placed in the same category as the circuit court. The new act, if adopted by the voters, also gives the Legislature the right to provide the method of selection of judges of the juvenile court. At the present time the governor has the power to appoint judges for the court.

Under the proclamation issued by Governor Herbert R. O'Conor, the full text of the seven proposed amendments, namely, Chapters 337, 494, 569, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, are appearing in the newspapers of the State and will also be on the official ballots in abbreviated form for the general election in November of this year. The text of these Acts will be found on page seven of The Republican today. The words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment" will appear on each ballot with each proposed amendment.

Don't Expect School Bus Regulations to Affect Pupils Here

That school children in this county who ordinarily ride the buses would still be accorded that privilege, was intimated here this week by school board officials.

In other localities including Allegany county it was stated there was a possibility that children living within two miles of schools would not be transported for the duration of the war, but would have to walk.

A six-point program affecting school bus service has been evolved by the Office of Defense Transportation and provides that children who live within two miles of schools must walk, unless private transportation is furnished. But the order provides for transportation of physically handicapped children and also those when walking would cause the child to leave home too early in the morning or cause him to reach home after dark.

Another point permits children to stand when it is safe and another declares that the number of stops must be reduced to a minimum.

In Garrett county where there are no defense industries, it was not expected there would be any restrictions on use of school buses for transportation of all children living in outlying districts.

Baptists Plan All Day Session Sunday

The annual all-day meeting which is the feature of the annual revival and evangelistic meetings now in progress at the Deep Creek Baptist church, will be on Sunday, August 16.

There will be two guest speakers, Rev. Edmund C. Tull, Baptist pastor at Brookmont, Md.; and Rev. William B. Orndorff, of Eckhart, former pastor here. The latter will speak at 3 p. m., and Rev. Tull will speak at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Rev. Orndorff will also speak Monday and Tuesday evenings.

There will be a basket dinner at 1 p. m., and also in the evening. The revival will continue Monday through Friday and close Sunday, August 23.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES THAT

A negro boy confessed setting fire to the Ringling circus tent which caused loss of 42 animals.

The Detroit restaurant man was sentenced to hang as traitor of U. S. for aiding escaped Nazi from Canadian prison camp.

The office of war information, warning that "we could lose this war," declared production had fallen behind schedule in June and that increasing sacrifices must be made by civilians if the war program is to be successful.

Senator Tydings declared a billion dollars could be cut off government expenditures without hurting essential war activities.

Existence of ingeniously constructed markers which pointed the way for enemy air attack on vital eastern air fields and airplane factories, has been disclosed. All have been eradicated.

War officials were told that U. S. was fully prepared to use chemical warfare in any proportion, in any place, at any time it becomes desirable or necessary.

Mrs. Byron Drops Out Of Congressional Race

Representative Katharine E. Byron announced she had withdrawn as a candidate for renomination in the Sixth Congressional district of Maryland.

Mrs. Byron issued a statement explaining that she had not expected opposition for the Democratic nomination. "I had not expected opposition as incumbent representative due to my 100 per cent voting record for the war effort under the leadership of our great President," Mrs. Byron said. "However, my expectation was not realized."

Mrs. Byron's husband, Representative William D. Byron, was killed in an airplane accident near Atlanta on February 27, 1941. She was elected at a special election in May, 1941, to complete his unexpired term. She is the first and only woman representative from Maryland. She has five sons.

Woman Found Guilty In Traffic Mishap

A woman driver of an automobile that struck an aged New Germany resident at Colonial Inn, route 40, last Sunday, was fined for violating two motor vehicle laws and a fine on a third charge of drunken driving, was suspended by Magistrate Charles S. Zeller, Grantsville, at a hearing one day last week.

State Trooper Graydon S. Dunlap, who investigated, said Helen Armentrout, 25, Baltimore, was the driver of the automobile that struck Stephen P. Broadwater, 88, causing abrasions of his left ankle, body bruises and shock.

The woman paid a fine of $10 and costs for driving without a license and $5 and costs for reckless driving. A fine for drunken driving was suspended when James William Green, Lonaconing, riding in the car, agreed to pay Broadwater's medical expenses.

Green, who was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate the machine, was acquitted when he testified that he was asleep in the car.

DIED

MRS. DONALD SIMPSON

Mrs. Mary Warnick Simpson, 78, widow of Donald Simpson, died Sunday morning, August 9, at 4 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Grantsville, with whom she resided.

Mrs. Simpson was a native of New Germany and a life-long resident of Garrett county. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ashford Simpson. Her husband preceded her in death by eleven years.

Mrs. Simpson was an active member in the Grantsville Methodist church and was a member of the Ladies' Aid Society.

Besides Mrs. Edwards she is survived by three other daughters, Mrs. Arthur Broadwater, Lonaconing; Mrs. Arch Cook, Lonaconing, and Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Barnsville, Ohio. Four sons, Oscar Simpson, Deer Park; George Simpson, Richards, W. Va.; Elmer Simpson, Lonaconing, and Forrest Simpson, Pekin, Md. Sixteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Simpson leaves three sisters and three brothers. They are Mrs. Clara Broadwater, Salisbury; Mrs. Effie Garlitz, Cresaptown; and Miss Bertha Warnick, Mt. Lake Park; Arthur C. Warnick, Oakland; John H. Warnick, Martinsburg, W. Va., and Horace R. Warnick, Cumberland.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday in the Grantsville Methodist church with the Rev. V. R. Gillum, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Grantsville cemetery.

Members of the Oakland 4-H club and invited guests enjoyed a hayride to the Snaggy Mountain hunting lodge, on Monday evening. Over fifty-five attended including Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reckard, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Glotfelty, Mr. and Mrs. S. Townshend Naylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman.

Sunday guests at the Floyd Wensel home were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wensel and daughter, Evelyn, Canton, Ohio; E. L. Wensel, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boyd and son Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wensel, Neil Richard and Elinore Wensel, of Keyser, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Murray and Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver, Washington, Pa.; O. S. Wensel, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Ida Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Simmons, Mt. Lake Park; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Orendorf and Mrs. Earl Durst, Oakland. The Walter Wensel family returned home Monday, after spending the week-end with relatives.

McKeldin Finds Many Becoming Interested In Coming Campaign

Republican gubernatorial candidate Theodore R. McKeldin told people at Hagerstown Monday night that various groups of dissatisfied voters are "increasingly rallying" to Republican leadership and called for the GOP to save the two-party system of government in Maryland.

"The duty devolves upon us to maintain our two party system of government and to prevent Maryland becoming frozen into a one-party totalitarian state under a governor who aims at a one-man monopoly."

The present governor, McKeldin said, opened his campaign with a repudiation and a confession.

"The repudiation," he said, "was his callous turning of the back on his election pledge of a single term. The confession was his broadcast declaration, after sixteen years of silence while state's attorney, attorney general and governor, that the legislature all those years, is inefficient or worse and should be purged."

"The most effective purge," McKeldin continued, "can be assured by entrusting the task not to those who created and tolerated but to those who have opposed these conditions."

Entire County to Be Tested for Bang's Disease in Cattle

Partial Test by Veterinarians Shows Slight Increase in Infestation

Because of an increase in infestation of Bang's disease among cattle a test of the entire county is now being conducted, according to John H. Carter, county agent.

Two or three months ago two veterinarians began a routine test of 20 percent of the cattle so that Garrett county could maintain its rating as a modified accredited area. To keep that rating there must be less than one half of one percent of infected cows.

According to Mr. Carter the tests in these areas selected at random showed a slightly higher percentage so it was decided to make a test of the whole county, and it was felt that the accredited rating could be maintained.

Instead of two veterinarians there are now four at work and the testing will not be completed before October. It was estimated there were more than 15,000 head of cattle in the county.

Mr. Carter said it would not be necessary for any farmer to make application for the test as the veterinarians would cover the entire county, but if a farmer was missed in a certain area, then to notify the county agent's office.

All animals found to be infected will be designated for slaughter and the difference between the price obtained and the appraised price, if sold below appraised price, will be borne equally by the owner, the federal and state governments.

Historical Society Has Local Exhibit

War Equipment of Previous Wars and Indian Relics Shown In Window Display

The Garrett County Historical society has placed its first exhibit, arranged by its museum committee, in one of the large windows of the Oakland Hardware and Furniture store on Third street, according to Charles E. Hoye, president, and invites the attention of all to the exhibit.

Mr. Hoye said the exhibit consisted largely of equipment used in previous wars and of Indian relics.

The society is collecting material for a permanent county historical museum and those interested are invited by Mr. Hoye to contribute for this purpose, either as donations or as loans, articles of historical interest.

The County Commissioners have assigned a suitable room in the Court House for the use of the County historical society, Mr. Hoye said. The museum committee includes William A. Sturgiss, Mrs. B. H. Sincell and William D. Casteel.

Draftees Leave Today

Sixty-one draftees left Oakland early this morning for the Baltimore induction station.

Following a physical examination, if successfully passed, they will be allowed to return home for a fourteen-day period if they so desire, or they can be assigned at once.

Test Shows Oakland Water Supply Pure

That the public water supply Oakland was quite all right, was announced this morning by Olonzo Fike, sanitary inspector for this area, following an exhaustive test conducted in the Cumberland laboratory of the State Health Department.

The test showed that there was neither contamination nor pollution.

Regular tests of the town's water supply are made from time to time and this additional test was made after several unsubstantiated rumors had been circulated to the effect that the water here was not satisfactory.

Jaycees Select Sparky Casteel And Irvin Smith

The Jaycees this week selected the names of Carroll W. "Sparky" Casteel and Irvin Smith, Jr., in continuing their "service man" project.

Their names will be placed in the three drug stores and Hamill's, where all are asked to drop in and write a few lines and deposit some small gift if so inclined.

Last week's response was very good, according to those in charge. A large number of notes and a number of gifts have been received for Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., in England, and Lawrence Means, in Panama.

Casteel is a bombardier in the United States air force and is located somewhere in Australia. Irvin Smith, Jr., is located at Camp Pine, N. Y. He was recently promoted to the rank of corporal.

Service Men Like Jaycee Project

Another letter of appreciation has been received by the Junior Chamber of Commerce here from one of those in the service who have been selected in the "service man project." His letter to Emeric Dusic, treasurer of the Jaycees here, follows:

I received your package of all of those swell gifts in good condition. I can't tell you how much it meant to me to receive such a package and particularly to hear from so many of the folks back home. It gave me quite a thrill to be remembered in such a way. I want to thank, through you, all of the nice people who were responsible for such fine gifts and letters. It means a great deal to a soldier to know that the folks back home are behind him.

You and the boys are doing a swell job. I think that your idea of remembering the boys in the service in such a manner is one of the best yet and I sincerely hope that it will continue. I know that they will all get as big a thrill out of receiving such a package as I did. Keep up the good work. Good luck and continuing success to you all. Thanking you again, I remain, very sincerely yours,

Pvt. William C. Smith,
Headquarters company, 8th infantry,
Camp Gordon, Ga.

Forty Persons Get Tire Certificates

Forty persons obtained certificates to purchase tires, tubes and retreads from the war ration board this week, but only seven of these were for passenger rubber.

The seven got two tires, 11 tubes and 13 retreads and they were George A. Beeman, William A. Custer, Luther C. Nine, William Eggers, Louis A. Morgart, George Sanders and Lawrence Schroyer.

The thirty-three getting rubber for trucks included Foster Frazee and Ward Sisler, Ernest Ashby, Thane O. White, L. and M. Company, H. V. Leighton, John Keister, Nevin Jay Miller, Joseph E. Callis, Berchdorf and Frankhouser, John A. Menges, Sherman Frazee, Aubrey C. Brenneman, Bert C. Ream, Charles Teets, Marko Mance, George E. Bishoff, A. P. Sanders, H. E. Shahan, Thomas Wilson, Sr., Bruce C. Brenneman, Lester Bittinger, Perry E. Glotfelty, Grover C. Sisler, Jonas Broadwater, Helen F. Barr, John C. Beachy, Asa M. Queer, C. A. Ringer, Fred Humberson, Edward Moon, D. O. Martin, Charles Pattison, Frederick B. Glotfelty.

Classifications Sustained

Two classifications assigned by the Garrett county draft board have been sustained by the Selective Service Board of Appeals in Hagerstown.

Wayne Friend, Friendsville; and John Bayliss, Mountain Lake Park, were classified in 1-A, from which they appealed, but the decision of the appeal board keeps them in the 1-A class.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED ON SHARP TURN AT GORMAN

Lonnie McCrady, Parkersburg, Goes Over Embankment Last Saturday Morning at 2 o'Clock

The sharp turn at the top of the hill at Gorman, on route 50, claimed another victim early last Saturday morning when Lonnie Valard McCrady, 31, of Parkersburg, W. Va., died from injuries received when his tractor-truck ran over the steep embankment.

McCrady was employed by the Deem Motor Express, of Parkersburg, and he was enroute to Romney to pick up a trailer when the accident occurred at 2 o'clock in the morning.

It was assumed that McCrady fell asleep at the wheel as there was no evidence of him attempting to make the turn, according to authorities who investigated. The truck traveled about one hundred yards down the steep bank, just short of the Western Maryland railroad tracks, damaging the vehicle beyond repair. McCrady received a fractured skull, crushed face, and other injuries. He was carried to the office of Dr. Drinkwater in Gormania, where he died before he could be taken to the hospital.

Charles E. Hott, Parkersburg, another occupant of the truck, was asleep in a compartment behind the seat. He sustained a back injury and other bruises but no bones were broken. Both men were thrown clear of the truck before it came to a stop. Hott was taken to Parkersburg in the automobile owned by Sam Thomas, of Gormania, and McCrady's body was brought to the Bolden Funeral home in Oakland, and later sent to Parkersburg. McCrady was married and father of two children.

Corporal Thomas Currie of the State Police, State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner investigated the accident. The latter, county medical examiner, declared the death accidental and an inquest unnecessary.

Mr. Warnick's Official Announcement Appears Today

The official announcement of George Warnick, Republican candidate for nomination for county commissioner appears for the first time on another page of the newspaper today.

Mr. Warnick now residing at his home on Seventh and Alder streets, Oakland, has been engaged in business in the Bloomington section for many years. He has been a lifelong resident of the county and always a heavy taxpayer.

He served as County Commissioner a number of years ago and in 1935 was appointed on the Upper Potomac River Commission, which planned the construction of the Savage River dam. He served on that body until this year.

Meyers Also Announces

Walter G. Meyers also made public announcement this week for the first time as a candidate for County Commissioner.

Mr. Meyers has served as clerk to the County Commissioners for a number of years and in his announcement states that he feels his experience there will serve him well in the capacity of commissioner and that the taxpayers would be benefited thereby.

Mr. Meyers is from district No. 16. He declares he belongs to no faction or clique.

Incendiary Bombs to Be Demonstrated at Youth Club Meeting

The Garrett County Youth Club will hold its regular meeting on Friday evening, August 21, at 8:00 p. m., at the Bittinger Recreational Area.

The program committee has arranged for a demonstration on incendiary bombs and what to do during an air raid. While this area is not in a war production zone, it was thought good to have this demonstration so that people might know the problems and difficulties which would arise from an enemy air raid in large cities and production centers.

The public is invited to attend the demonstration.

Bingo for Benefit of Air Raid Spotter Post

The entire proceeds from the Bingo games of the I. O. O. F. lodge, conducted in the Manhattan hotel, Oakland, on Saturday, August 15, will go for the benefit of the air raid observation post of the American Legion,, now under construction on the city property on Third street, according to W. H. McRobie, Jr., chairman of the Bingo committee and noble grand of the Odd Fellows organization.

BITTINGER

Have faith in the cause in which you now fight;
Your faith, if it be untainted by doubt,
Will put all the Huns and the Dagoes to flight,
And give to the Japs a quick knock-out.

The annual picnic of the Lutheran church and Sunday school will be held in the Broadwater grove near this village, on Saturday, August 22. It will be an all-day affair and there will be on sale throughout the day all usual refreshments and various entertaining features will be provided. All are cordially invited to attend.

Ralph and Kenneth Buckle, who are employed in Baltimore, spent the past week-end here with their home folks.

Miss Mary Jane Emory is spending this week at Camp Galilee, near Terra Alta, West Va., with a group of young people.

Mark H. Moon, of Oakland, one of the several candidates for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff, was calling on voters in this community one day last week.

Attorney E. Ray Jones, candidate for the State Senate, was in this village briefly enroute to Grantsville one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hetrick, of near Fairmont, West Va., visited relatives here a few days ago.

John Klotz, of the Amish settlement, was a pleasant caller in town on Friday of last week.

AVILTON

Several residents of this community attended the Crowe reunion on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fike and their daughter and Miss Elaine Shuck, of Frostburg, spent Sunday here with the former's parents.

Paul Hetz is spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Fike.

Oscar Chaney and family were here Monday where they visited with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Weitzell, of Mt. Savage, was here on Sunday evening with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Stark, of Baltimore, spent last week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stark.

Peter Broadwater was visiting his brother Albert Broadwater and family last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grove and son Cecil and Galen McKenzie were guests on Thursday evening of O. S. Fike and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wilhelm and children, of Lonaconing, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm on Sunday.

Mrs. Leah DeVault and family, of Midland, are here for some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Robeson.

Rev. Higgs, of Mt. Savage, will preach at Cherry Grove church on Sunday morning, August 16, at 11:00 A. M., and Sunday school at 10:00 A. M.

FRIENDSVILLE

WSCS Meeting

The WSCS held its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. Mrs. L. L. Friend presided and Mrs. F. O. Speicher was in charge of the program, the topic of which was "A Time of Preparation in the Local Church." Mrs. Manilla Friend and Mrs. Faye Friend gave talks on this theme. Mrs. Julia Skidmore led devotions. Mrs. James Friend, Mrs. Beuna Vista Welch, Mrs. H. J. Black, Mrs. Iva Rush, and Mrs. Q. A. Murphy participated in this service. Refreshments were served by circle three, with Mrs. Margaret Williams, Mrs. Aleta Murphy, Mrs. L. L. Friend and Ada Purbaugh in charge. Other members present included Mrs. Robert Greynolds and Mrs. Nellie Wheeler.

Lawn Party

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church held a lawn party at the home of Mrs. Harvey Friend, on Thursday.

Dedication Services

Special services were held in the St. John's Lutheran church of the Accident parish, at Cove, Sunday morning for the purpose of dedicating the re-building, remodeling, and the addition of the new chancel furnishings. The Rev. L. A. Wagner, pastor, was in charge of the dedication service and Holy Communion service which followed.

Dr. A. B. Leamer, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland, gave the principal address. Members of the church council who served as the building committee were: E. S. Duckworth, Bert Griffith, Bert Frazee, Harry Brown, Earl Georg, and Arthur Butler. Others who assisted were: E. F. McClintock, Olin Glass, G. E. Hetz and members of the Ladies Aid, Mrs. Bert Griffith and Mrs. G. E. Hetz.

Gifts made to the church by members of the congregation and furnishings include new ceiling, redecorating, painting of interior and exterior, new floors, pews, chancel with choir screen, electron, pulpit, altar, reredos, altar paraments, baptismal font, cross, candelabra, pulpit, Bible, vases and pedestals. A painting "Christ in the Garden," in the reredos above the altar, was made by Mrs. Lillian Sincell, Oakland.

The remodeling was in charge of Frank Wright, and the interior decorating was supervised by Charles Barkley.

DIARY OF THE WAR

TUESDAY — U. S. marines, supported by warships and planes, landed on Solomon islands and were engaging Jap forces in heavy fighting. Enemy counter-attacked with rapidity and vigor. Naval attack had cost an American cruiser sunk, two damaged and two destroyers and one transport damaged. Japs suffered loss of large number of planes and surface units put out of action but nothing was definite. U. S. flyers in Australia bombed enemy air bases in fighting area. Germans in Paris executed 93 for anti-German attacks. Rioting in India mounted. Reds abandoned hope of saving any of west Caucasus oil fields but were fighting hard to protect Stalingrad and Volga-Caspian waterway. They were applying the torch to oil and wheat in scorched earth policy. U. S. airmen in China raided Haophong in North Indo-China through which Jap invasion troops moved, taking Japs by surprise and causing much damage.

WEDNESDAY—U. S. Marines were reported outpunching a strongly resisting Jap enemy in Solomon islands in first offensive action in Pacific. Land forces were aided by air and naval support. Planes from Australia bombed Jap bases extending from New Britain flank to Timor, more than 2,000 miles westward. Germans were striking southeast toward Caspian Gulf to isolate principal Russian oil fields. Reds acknowledged further withdrawals and were preparing to defend Black Sea naval stations. India seethed with violence on third day of mass disobedience campaign. Germans claimed sinking of British aircraft carrier Eagle in Mediterranean. The Jap force on Aleutians was also attacked by U. S. navy in some force.

THURSDAY — U. S. offensive on Solomons appeared to have reached state of consolidation and reinforcement and were digging into jungle-land already won. Allied flyers meanwhile damaged airdrome runways, ships and wharfs in New Britain, New Guinea, the Kei islands and Timor. Flyers from China bombed Jap island of Formosa off China coast. Germans thrust further into Caucasus along Rostov-Baku railway, endangering Grozny oil fields. Russians still held firmly around Stalingrad. British acknowledged sinking of aircraft carrier with most of crew and men saved. RAF made heavy raid on German city of Maine with about 400 bombers. Rioting in India was wearing down.

MARRIED

WHORTON — MORONEY — Announcement has been received in Oakland of the marriage of Staff Sergeant Joseph Whorton, of Oakland, to Miss Julia Moroney, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, which occurred yesterday morning. Sergeant Whorton is the son of Mrs. Mary Whorton and the late Gilderoy Whorton, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Whorton, all of Oakland. Sergeant Whorton was graduated from Oakland High school in the class of '39. He is now a clerk in the personnel department at Will Rogers Field, Oklahoma. The couple will reside in Oklahoma City.

BELL-GORDON — Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gordon of Gerrardstown, W. Va., announce the marriage of their daughter, Anne vonGroff, to Jay Lewis Bell, of Mountain Lake Park. The marriage took place in the Episcopal church in Oakland, at 6 o'clock Saturday, August 8, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Kearney Jones. Mrs. Neil C. Fraley played prenuptial music and the wedding marches.

The bride wore a street length dress of blue crepe with blue accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of red rose buds and gypsophila.

Miss Vivian Clary, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore yellow chiffon with yellow accessories, and a corsage of yellow rose buds and white button chrysanthemum. Harley Dawson, of Mountain Lake Park, was best man.

Mrs. Bell is a graduate of Martinsburg High school and studied voice at the Conservatory of Music at Shenandoah College, Virginia. Mr. Bell is a graduate of Oakland High school and a graduate of Shenandoah College, Dayton, Va., class of 1942. He is now employed in the office of the Stanley Coal Company at Crellin, where the couple will later reside.

Immediately following the ceremony a small reception was held at the groom's home in Mountain Lake Park.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gordon, parents of the bride, of Gerrardstown, W. Va.; Mrs. H. A. Donald, and Sadie Weeks, of Lexington, Va.

FRIEND-STANTON — Miss Margaret LaVerne Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Stanton, West Main street, Frostburg, and W. Martin Friend, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Friend, Oakland, were married Saturday evening at the rectory of St. Michael's Catholic church by Rev. Dominic A. Bonomo, assistant pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keating were the attendants.

The bride wore a brown and gold street-length ensemble with shoulder corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Keating wore navy blue and white and a corsage of red roses.

The bride, a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers' College, has been a teacher in public schools in Garrett county for five years.

Mr. Friend is employed by the Pennsylvania Electric Company, Deep Creek Lake.

Following a dinner at Happy Hills, with members of the immediate families in attendance, Mr. and Mrs. Friend left for Chicago.

HELBIG-LEIGHTON—Miss Stella Leighton and Mr. Fred W. Helbig were married on Monday evening, August 10, at the Catholic rectory with Rev. John C. Broderick, pastor, officiating. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. John Maroney.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Leighton, of near town. She was graduated from Oakland High school in 1938 and since in April has been employed in the County Draft Board office as a stenographer.

Mr. Helbig is a son of Edward Helbig and the late Mrs. Helbig. He was graduated from Oakland High school in 1934 and for the past two years has been employed in the F. A. Smouse store as a salesman. He left Oakland this morning with the group of selectees for the Baltimore induction station.

It HAS happened here!

In many sections of our country there is a serious shortage of farm labor. If you are shorthanded it may be that electricity can help you to get more done without additional farm hands. Our Rural Department has made a serious study of this problem. Its representatives may be able to help you work out methods of using your present equipment so you will have more time for other work. Their services are free to you. Why not call upon them? They, and electricity are at your service.

LAWRENCE FRALEY

Republican Candidate for Nomination for

STATE SENATOR

To the Voters and Citizens of Garrett County:

For some time past many of the citizens and voters of Garrett County have expressed to me their wish that I become a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator for Garrett County. I have filed my certificate of candidacy for this office, feeling that my past experience fully qualifies me to successfully fill this important office.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County and have always been a loyal Republican and active party worker. I have served as Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and on numerous occasions been a delegate to Republican State Conventions and was a delegate from Maryland at the last Republican National Convention at Philadelphia.

For the past thirty years I have been active in business in Garrett County, have served as Postmaster at Oakland, served as President of the City Council of Oakland and have been elected Mayor of Oakland seven times, and am at the present time its Mayor. I am also serving as Director of Civilian Defense for the Southern Section of Garrett County. In both my official and civilian activities, I have always done everything in my power to bring to our County business enterprises, and have always been active in advertising and interesting others in our many resources. I was one of the organizers of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and have been an active member since its organization and have served as its President.

By reason of my long and varied experience, I feel that I am qualified to serve the people of this County as their Senator at Annapolis, and if nominated and elected, I will do my utmost to serve all of the people of the County with courtesy, and it will be my purpose to advise with and consult the people of the county on legislative matters.

In the present National emergency it is the duty of everyone to do his part towards the successful prosecution of the war and at a time when we are all called upon to make sacrifices and additional taxes are imposed upon us, I favor the strictest economy in normal governmental expenses, consistent with good government.

I am opposed to any legislative enactment providing for the bonding of the County for any purpose without a referendum, giving the people of the County the opportunity to express their opinion.

I will work for, and strive to interest others in the many natural resources of our County.

I believe that there can be improvement in the preservation and propagation of the fish and wild life in our County, and I promise the sportsmen of the County that if I am nominated and elected I will cooperate and work with them towards this end.

I have always believed in fair treatment of the laboring man and if nominated and elected I shall continue to support that policy.

Our County has some of the finest agricultural sections to be found anywhere and it shall be my purpose to support any legislation that is beneficial to the farmer and that will help the farmers of Garrett County.

We have here an unsurpassed recreational area and I have done my utmost to advertise and promote this great natural resource and if I am elected to serve you at Annapolis I am confident that I will be able to do much more than I have done in the past, through contact with State and Government officials.

I believe if proper effort is made, more coal and agricultural products from this County can be used by our State institutions and I shall work to accomplish that result.

When peace comes, the people of our State and County will face many serious problems, and if I am your representative at that time I shall lend my aid and support to those who have served their country in its armed forces and help them in every possible way in their return to civilian life.

Because of the short period of time now remaining before the primary, it will not be possible for me to see personally each voter, but I solicit the support of my friends throughout the County.

LAWRENCE M. FRALEY.

Political Announcements

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Having presided over the Circuit Court for Washington county for more than one year and a half, I have served through five regular jury terms and two non-jury terms of that Court, in addition to sitting, upon occasions, with Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Huster in the Circuit Courts for Allegany and Garrett counties, and I believe that the experience which I have gained qualifies me to continue my services on the Bench.

Since assuming my judicial duties I have been ever mindful of the high standard of service set by my predecessor in office, the late Judge Frank G. Wagaman, and I have endeavored to faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability administer the duties of the high office which I am privileged to hold.

I have been told that my services have been satisfactory to the members of the Bars of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, and I hope also to the citizens generally of those counties which comprise the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Our American form of Government intends that the Judiciary shall be a department separate and apart from the Legislative and Executive branches, and as such shall be engaged in the impartial and equal administration of justice to all citizens. I have believed in those ideals and have always conscientiously tried to follow them.

If you feel that I am qualified by reason of experience, training, temperament and ability to continue to occupy the position I now hold, your support and influence will be greatly appreciated.

JOSEPH D. MISH.

Hagerstown, Md., July 20, 1942.

FOR STATE SENATOR

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I am hereby publicly announcing my candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I have served as Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners for a number of years and feel that my experience in this capacity would be of much value to the taxpayers of the county in the conduct of the affairs of the county as a Commissioner.

I am not bound to any one faction or group and have always been a faithful member of the Republican party before and during my years of service in the Court House.

I ask your support and influence in the coming primary on September 8th.

Very sincerely yours,

WALTER G. MEYERS.

District No. 16*

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I most respectfully announce my candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County and crave the votes and influence of my friends at the primary election to be held September 8, 1942.

Very respectfully yours,

THOMAS E. BISHOFF.

Oakland, District No. 7, June 23*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

After being asked by a number of friends to again place my name on the ballot for Judge of the Orphans' Court, I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. After serving the public in this office for the past seven years I know I am better qualified now than I was when first elected.

I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thanking you for past favors, I remain, yours to serve,

Dist. 5* FRANK CALLIS.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I was born in Friendsville and am now a resident of Mountain Lake Park, in District No. 16. I have always been a Republican and have been a taxpayer for many years.

My father, Thomas Cuppett, served as Judge of the Orphans Court for a number of years and I desire an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity. I solicit the support of the Republican voters from all sections of the county. Very sincerely yours,

E. CALVIN CUPPETT.

Mt. Lake Park, Dist. 16, June 29*

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

I hereby announce my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County.

It is with gratitude to the voters of this County that I express my appreciation in having been privileged for some years past to serve the public interests of our County in this same capacity and assure you of my continued effort to discharge faithfully the duties of the office if I am reelected.

Earnestly soliciting your support at the Republican primary election to be held September 8, 1942, I am,

Very truly yours,

VERNIE R. SMOUSE.

Election District No. 14*

FOR STATE SENATOR

E. RAY JONES

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from Garrett County. My application for a place on the primary ballot has already been filed as required by law.

In recent weeks many of you have urged me to become a candidate for this position, and have kindly expressed the view that because of my training, experience and the knowledge of legislative and other governmental affairs which I acquired while serving as Secretary of State of Maryland, I could be of some real service to our State and county during the difficult years which lie just ahead. It is in response to this and in this spirit that I have become a candidate.

During the next four years, many difficult and perplexing war and after-the-war problems will be faced. In the solving of these it will be the duty of us all to participate. Many will require legislative action and it will be the duty of the Senator and Members of the House from this county to help in the framing and passage of the necessary legislation. If nominated and elected, it will be my pleasure, as well as duty, to assume my share of this responsibility and to assist to the best of my ability in the working out of these problems. At the same time I will give due and constant consideration to the needs and interests of our county and endeavor to obtain proper recognition for it.

I shall appreciate your support and influence.

E. RAY JONES

Oakland, July 28, 1942.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am in this manner announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election and the votes of Republicans in all parts of the county.

I have been a resident of Garrett county all my life and served as a Commissioner twenty-seven years ago. I have been in business in this county for over 52 years and have always been a heavy taxpayer of the county.

If nominated and later elected I shall endeavor to execute the duties of the office in fairness to all and with economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE WARNICK

For State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from Garrett County, subject to the primary to be held on September 8th.

I am connected with no clique or faction and if I am nominated and elected, I shall accord to all, without regard to party faction or clique, a respectful and unprejudiced hearing at all times and shall honestly endeavor to serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability.

I pledge to use the major portion of my time at the State Capitol, to secure some real worthwhile legislation, beneficial to our County, which is not now and has not been receiving consideration in a legislative way in proportion to benefits had by other counties in our State.

I have been actively engaged in business in Garrett County over a period of twenty years, during which time I have been in close touch with the affairs of the county and feel that I am fully acquainted with its needs and can creditably represent its people in this most important office.

I solicit your favorable consideration and assure you it will be deeply appreciated.

BERNARD I. GONDER.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to be section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided such Amendment or Amendments shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where no more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 394

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, except-ing the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judgeships in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit, nor are two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties, provided he shall be embraced in the Act of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges in the seventh circuit shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 39 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 39 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 39 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

15. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 10B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 10A and to be numbered 10B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

10B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than hereinbefore provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of orders or denominations, and providing for submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly may law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter.

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State of Maryland, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 394, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, DONE AT THE CITY OF ANNAPOLIS THIS 15TH DAY OF JULY, IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

By the Governor:
HERBERT R. O'CONOR
THOMAS ELMO JONES
Secretary of State

LAW OFFICES OF JONES & JONES.

Chester H. Bobet and Nina Bobet, his wife, vs. Mary K. Myrick, and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne, and George W. Branne, her husband.
No. 3655 Equity.
In the Circuit Court for Garrett County.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Chester H. Bobet, Mary K. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds arising therefrom.

The bill states:

That the said Chester H. Bobet is seized and possessed of an undivided one-half interest in and to a dwelling-house property situated in Deer Park, Garrett County, Maryland; said property having been conveyed to him and one Henry F. Bobet, as tenants in common, share and share alike, by William B. Miller and wife, by deed dated February 3, 1919, and recorded in Liber No. 76, folio 44, one of the Land Records of said Garrett County, the original of said deed, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'A'", having been filed with the bill, and prayed to be considered a part thereof; that the undivided one-half interest of the said Henry F. Bobet in the aforesaid property was subsequently conveyed by him to Mary K. Myrick and Eva Ellen Branne, as tenants in common, by deed dated November 4, 1938, and recorded in Liber No. 118, folio 187, Land Records of said Garrett County; a certified copy of said last-named deed having been filed with the bill, marked "Plaintiffs' Exhibit 'B'", and prayed to be taken and considered a part thereof; that said property is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and that it would be to the advantage of all of said parties to have said property sold under a decree of Court, and the proceeds divided amongst the parties in interest, according to their respective rights; that none of the parties to said suit are residents of the State of Maryland, but that Chester H. and Nina Bobet reside in Marion County, in the State of West Virginia, and that Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne reside in Franklin County, in the State of Ohio.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of the said real estate, and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom, and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of July, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs, by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 14th day of August, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, Mary K. Myrick and Harry H. Myrick, her husband, and Eva Ellen Branne and George W. Branne, her husband, of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 29th day of August, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

DeWitt Reunion Held At Terra Alta Sunday

Paul DeWitt, Oakland, was elected president for the ensuing year at the fifteenth annual DeWitt family reunion held Sunday in the Terra Alta Park, Terra Alta, W. Va. Other officers are Mrs. Earl Lee, Oakland, secretary; and Mrs. George Sanders, also of Oakland, treasurer. Mrs. William H. DeWitt, Cumberland, is historian.

August 8 was chosen for the date of the reunion to be held again in the Terra Alta park next summer.

A large three tier golden cake with fifteen yellow candles baked and donated by Mrs. Ernest Gortner, of Gortner, was a feature of the elaborate dinner served the 250 members attending. It was cut by Benjamin H. DeWitt, president, and given to each member.

The DeWitts are descendants of the French Huguenots who came from Holland and settled in New Amsterdam in 1620, and later in Esopus Valley, now Kingston, N. Y. Ezekiel DeWitt and his family moved to this section in 1768 settling at Turkey Foot, now Confluence, Pa.

A special musical program of instrumental and vocal selections was presented following the dinner. The first prize was awarded to Milton DeWitt and his string band, of Sang Run; second prize to Martha Jane and Susan DeWitt, Sang Run, vocalists and third to Madeline and Pauline DeWitt, also vocalists of Sang Run.

Mrs. Jennie DeWitt, 75, of Sang Run, received the prize for being the oldest member of the clan present and Judy Hare, infant daughter of Mrs. Jean DeWitt Hare, Cumberland, the youngest; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sanders, Morgantown, the couple married the longest having been married forty-five years; and Mr. and Mrs. William DeWitt, Crellin, the youngest, eight months; Mrs. Mamie Grimes, Akron, O., came the greatest distance; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeWitt, Crellin and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCroby, Sang Run, tied for the family with the greatest number of children present, both having eight.

While the government urges and insists that industrial plants commercial establishments and owners of homes spend their money for preparations for blackouts, they are only permitting blackouts in postoffices in cities of 250,000 or more, due to lack of funds, the Maryland Defense council director has charged.

The list of persons eligible to buy bicycles under rationing is only slightly broader than auto and tire rationing lists.

MT. LAKE PARK

One week from tonight (Thursday), August 20, the Ladies' of the Bethel church will present at the auditorium, a comedy in three acts entitled "A Tourist's Romance." It's an all-star cast. Curtain time set at 8 o'clock.

So far the ice situation remains the same. There does not seem to be anything that can be done, what with shortage of tires—price of labor, etc., there's no hope. So those strangers who arrive and rent a cottage and do not have a car will be forced to depend upon calling a taxi or a neighbor, all of which doesn't help to keep cottagers here. Perhaps next year some one will find out before the season begins just what the ice situation will be.

Personals

It is with deep regret that this column reports the death in Columbus, Ohio, on Friday, August 7, of Miss Margaret Clark, known as (Aunt Maggie), to all her legion of friends here. Miss Clark had been a summer visitor to the Park for a great number of years having come when Camp Meeting was first begun. She resided in the summer home of her relative, Mrs. W. Brent Maxwell, of Clarksburg. Services were held on Monday at Delaware, Ohio.

"16 to 1" you don't know how far your tires will go...

"16 to 1" they will go a lot farther than you think...

"16 to 1" you'll be amazed at the extra mileage your Esso Dealer will soon be able to help you get.

The odds are not just figures we have pulled out of a hat. They are the result of tests made with a new method to increase tire mileage among customers at a number of Esso Dealer stations. 16 out of every 17 car owners were astonished at the mileage made possible.

Because the preservation of tires is so vital to the country in the present emergency, we are making every effort to introduce this new service at Esso Dealer stations with the utmost speed. It requires both equipment and training and we are supplying both as rapidly as possible. As soon as these are available your own Esso Dealer will be able to help you get the greatest possible mileage from your own tires short of retreading. Further announcement will be made in newspapers shortly.

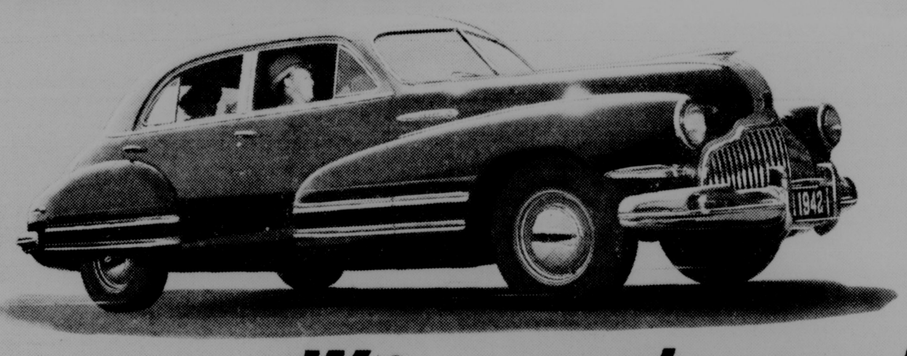
Got the need?



We've got the cars!

Rationing Rules were not Meant to Prevent Replacement of Cars which are Really Needed. It Sometimes Helps More to Replace that Old Car than to Try to Keep it Running

CONSIDER the reasons for present rules and regulations governing the purchase of new cars.

They were not meant to handicap owners whose cars fill necessary purposes. Nor to keep cars on the road beyond the point of safety or efficient operation. Nor to stop the normal process whereby cars pass from owner to owner and thence out of service to become much-needed scrap metal.

They were simply meant to see that cars now built and ready for sale got into the hands of those who needed them — as their needs demanded.

If your car serves a really necessary purpose, Buick dealers are prepared to make immediate delivery on brand-new, gas-thrifty, dependable new models built for the purpose of seeing you through the duration.

With such a car, you travel safely, make best use of gasoline and oil, start fresh with brand-new tires on wheels designed to get maximum life from them. For dependable performance of necessary jobs, such a car is frequently far more of an asset to the country than one which has passed its prime.

Why not drop in on your Buick dealer and talk over all details of the whole situation?

Are you included in this list?

ARE YOU directly or indirectly engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war?

ARE YOU a physician, surgeon, nurse, veterinarian, clergyman or farmer?

DO YOU use your car in public service, such as fire or police, public health, highway maintenance work or the like?

ARE YOU owner of a taxicab or other vital means of public transportation?

ARE YOU a newspaper wholesaler, or a salesman in essential fields connected with war work?

THESE ARE the broad groups who are eligible under present rationing rules to buy new automobiles. There are other details of eligibility, of course, but if you are included in the above, it will pay you to see your Buick dealer now and get full information. A Million Mallet Blows . .

William Ernest Hocking, professor of philosophy at Harvard, points out in a Fortune editorial that man is fashioned by a million mallet blows from the outside. Today those blows are pounding us hard and fast! Doubts, fears, worries, uncertainties, problems, smash at our minds and spirits, like bombs from a dive bomber.

And yet, here is the great truth that Hocking points out: You and I have the last word about how those blows shall modify us. Even amidst wars we are still the rulers of our mental kingdoms. Life is ten per cent what we make it and ninety per cent how we take it.

Often we see one man who is crushed by the blows of life. And we see another who has received far greater pounding, yet keeps the flag of his spirit flying gallantly at the top of the mast. The difference is not in the blows, but in the way the blows are taken.

Have you watched a fighter ride the punches? He moves with the blows and they seem to do little damage. The art of successful living is learning how to mentally ride the punches that life hands out.

STATE OFFICE SEEKERS HAVE BEEN CERTIFIED

Election Officials Receive Official Notice of Names to Be Placed on Primary Ballot

Election officials here have received official notice of the certification of State candidates on both the Democratic and Republican tickets, which indicates that there will be only six names on the county Democratic ballot while there will be 32 names on the county Republican ballot in the primary election on Tuesday, September 8.

Seven Democrats are certified as state candidates but only the four contestants for governor will appear on the ballot, the others having no opposition. The other two names are local candidates for State Senate, Bernard I. Gonder and Dr. C. Oscar Hall.

Four Reublicans are certified as state candidates, two for governor and two for Congress, and they will appear on the Republican ballot in addition to 28 other names, candidates for county offices.

Democrats certified were Herbert R. O'Conor, Annapolis; Thomas E. Cook, Frederick; John Kennedy, Baltimore city; and Stephen B. Peddicord, Baltimore city, for governor of Maryland.

J. Millard Tawes, Crisfield, for comptroller.

William C. Walsh, Cumberland, for attorney general.

E. Brooke Lee, Silver Spring, for representative in the 78th Congress of the United States.

Republicans certified were Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin, Baltimore city; W. Pinkney West, Jr., Baltimore city, for governor of Maryland; J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg; Henry C. Triesler, Hagerstown, for representative in the 78th Congress of the United States.

Also appearing on the Republican ballot will be the following:

Associate Judge, Fourth Circuit—Ellsworth R. Roulette and Leo O. Miller, both of Hagerstown.

State Senate—E. Ray Jones, Oakland; Lawrence M. Fraley, Oakland.

House of Delegates (3 to be named)—Nelson Brenneman, McHenry; Otho S. Fike, Avilton; Daniel N. Green, Swanton; Jasper C. Myers, Kitzmiller.

County Commissioners (3 to be named)—C. H. Browning, Oakland; G. B. Giessman, Oakland; John W. Herman, Accident; James W. Savage, Sang Run; Jonas W. Sines, Oakland; Walter G. Meyers, Mt. Lake Park; George Warnick, Oakland.

County Treasurer—J. Edward Helbig, Deer Park; Paul M. Friend, Oakland.

Sheriff—Theodore E. Sines, Oakland; Mark H. Moon, Mt. Lake Park; James A. Cover, Friendsville; George E. Coddington, Mt. Lake Park; Floyd C. Stahl, Oakland.

State Central Committee (4 to be named)—William D. Casteel, S. H. Lewis, Francis Sanders, Benj. H. Sincell, Spencer Graham, Lester Bittinger, all of Oakland.

Where there is no opposition the names of candidates for these offices will not appear on the ballot. There is no opposition for the office of register of Wills, Judges of the Orphans' Court, Clerk of the Circuit Court, chief judge of fourth circuit, and state's attorney. The State Central committee will name a candidate for county surveyor, the only office for which there was no aspirant.

Democrats Name Candidates

At the Democratic meeting last night four candidates were named who will oppose Republicans in the General election in November. They are Harvey Gortner, for County Commissioner; William E. Spoerlein, Treasurer; Norval Speelman, judge of the Orphans' Court; and Asa T. Matthews, state's attorney. The group also named William R. Browning as a delegate to the Democratic convention. The county is entitled to four. William Miller, Accident, had previously filed.

The committee has already filed these names with the clerk to the Election Board.

Five members of the six-man committee were present last night; Grover C. Stemple, Stuart H. Hamill, W. R. Browning, W. E. Spoerlein and A. T. Matthews.

Commissioners Try New Type Treatment For County Roadways

If you see little white flakes on some of Garrett County's unpaved roads this summer it isn't a mid-summer snow. It's Calcium Chloride, a new type of treatment for our county roads—at least new to Garrett county—although this treatment has been increasingly used for over twenty years by federal, state and county highway departments throughout the United States. Such is the announcement made by the Garrett County Commissioners, who have already made arrangements to have some of the county's new road bases and some unimproved roads treated with Solvay Calcium Chloride.

While this road treatment will be used primarily to lay the dust and compact and bind the road surfaces, it is also used as a means of reducing maintenance costs and developing a better road base for future pavements.

Calcium Chloride comes in the form of small, white flakes which are spread uniformly over the road surface. These flakes attract moisture from the air as a magnet attracts steel. In fact they will absorb sufficient moisture to dissolve themselves completely and soak in to the road surface. This solution is clean, odorless, colorless and harmless and results in a surface that is slightly damp, compact, and dust-free since the moisture is held in the ground for an indefinite period of time.

The commissioners point out as well, that this is an inexpensive treatment since Calcium Chloride itself is low in cost and since substantial savings are effected in blade maintenance and loss of surfacing materials. In fact, other counties which have used Calcium Chloride report that the savings on maintenance and blading alone often pay for the Calcium Chloride.

This is the same type of treatment as is used on various Federal Public Roads Administration roads such as the Scenic Sky-Line Drive and Blue Ridge Parkway. Also, many states have used Calcium Chloride successfully on thousands of miles of unpaved roads.

Three-Act Comedy To Be Presented At Mt. Lake Tonight

"A Tourist's Romance," a comedy in 3 acts, wil lbe given this evening, August 20, in the Auditorium at Mt. Lake Park, with a cast of 30 persons, by the women of Bethel Methodist church. Just one year ago on this Thursday a fire destroyed the historic Tabernacle that had been in service for three score years. Tonight's play affords the last opportunity this summer to inspect the modern building erected on the same site, following closely the pattern of the old, but now completely enclosed and ensuring perfect comfort for the audience in any kind of weather. The proceeds for this annual entertainment of the local Woman's Society of Christian Service, will go for a needed coat of paint on Bethel church. The curtain rises at 8 o'clock sharp. The admission price is 25 cents including federal tax. All service men in uniform are cordially invited to attend free.

Eclipse Visible August 25

There will be a total eclipse of the moon on night of August 25-26, which will be visible in general throughout the United States.

The eclipse will begin at 9:02 p. m., EWT, and will be complete at 2:34 a. m.

IDEAL EXHIBITION SHOWS SCHEDULED BY PYTHIANS

Will Furnish Entertainment at Twenty-Third Annual Labor Day Picnic on September 7

The Ideal Exhibition Shows will furnish the entertainment at the twenty-third annual Labor Day picnic, to be held here on Labor Day, Monday, September 7, it was announced by the Knights of Pythias lodge, which is sponsoring the celebration.

The Shows will consist of 12 rides and 12 shows and a few concessions and there will be a free exhibition daily in addition, it was stated. The entertainment will remain at the picnic grounds, the former Helbig Grove, at the north edge of town, from Monday to Saturday.

Lewis Jones, committee member, has issued about 40 invitations to fire companies, drum corps and bands, for participation in the Labor Day parade which always officially opens the day's program.

There will be the usual band concerts and speaking in the afternoon. Robert Lohr was named chairman of the parade committee. The large souvenir program will be ready for distribution within a few days.

Delbert M. Davis, chairman of the Selective Service Board, will address members of the lodge on Friday evening at their regular meeting on the activities of the Draft Board.

Five County Teachers Among those Receiving Degrees at Maryland U

Five women of Garrett county who have been teaching in the public schools, were among the sixty-nine persons who completed final requirements toward their bachelor's degrees at the University of Maryland's seven and a half weeks' summer course of study which was concluded last Wednesday at College Park.

For most of the teachers the diplomas mean substantial pay increases, as the State Department of Education raises its salary scale for teachers holding degrees.

Margaret Mary Blocher, Grantsville; Lillian L. Harvey, of Oakland; Phyllis Edna Harvey-Williams, of Gorman, and Miss Grace Filer, Red House, were graduated from the College of Education.

Ann Alexandra Dilgard, of Oakland, received her diploma from the College of Home Economics.

Following the exercises of graduation, a luncheon was served in the dining hall of the University at which Dr. Byrd, president of the school, presided and presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Jaycees Select Lawton and Root

Robert Lawton and George Root were selected by the Jaycees this week in continuing their "service man" project.

Lawton is located in the state of Washington and Root, recently inducted, is stationed at Red Bank, N. J.

Response still remains good and the members urge citizens to continue to write and send gifts to the soldiers selected each week.

Copies of Game Laws Are Now Available

Copies of the game laws of the State of Maryland, effective June 1, 1942, have been received at the office of A. G. Ross, clerk of the Circuit court, for distribution.

The deer season will be for a period of six days, beginning the first Monday in December. The limit is one deer per hunter per season.

Squirrel season in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, will open September 15 to September 30, and from November 1 to November 30. A land owner residing on his farm lands or a tenant of said farmlands may kill any squirrel if said squirrel is destroying corn on said farmlands, between August 15 and September 14, inclusive. The bag limit on squirrel is six per day.

It is unlawful in Garrett or Allegany counties to hunt or kill doves at any time, and is unlawful in Garrett county to hunt or kill wild turkey or bear.

Rabbit season opens in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties November 1 and remains open until November 30. The same dates apply to ruffed grouse and quail. The limit on rabbits is six per day, ruffed grouse, 2, and not over six per season, and the limit on quail is six per day.

Over 250 county resident hunting licenses have been issued thus far at the clerk's office.

No Traffic Fatalities Reported During July By 14 State Counties

Fourteen Maryland counties had no fatal traffic accidents in July, the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission announced, and Garrett and Kent counties reported no injuries from road accidents.

There were 1,402 traffic accidents reported from the State during the month, with 29 persons killed and 692 injured, bringing the year's total to 10,599 accidents with 272 killed and 5,295 injured—28 percent reduction in accidents, 17 percent reduction in deaths, and a 20 percent reduction in injuries over the first seven months of last year.

The fourteen counties without traffic accident fatalities were: Allegany, Caroline, Carroll, Charles, Dorchester, Frederick, Garrett, Howard, Kent, Queen Anne, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico and Worcester.

Baltimore City reported 964 accidents with 10 deaths and 398 injured, while the counties had 438 accidents with 19 deaths and 294 injured.

Lutheran Week Scheduled For West Virginia Synod

The ninth annual "Lutheran Week" will be observed at Jackson's Mill, West Va., beginning Sunday, August 30, by the West Virginia Synod of the United Lutheran church in America and its auxiliary organizations.

Representatives will attend from thirty-three congregations in West Virginia and Garrett county, Maryland, including Red House, Oakland, Accident and Bittinger parishes.

Rev. A. B. Leamer, D.D., Oakland, is a member of the executive committee.

The Lutheran Brotherhood will have its convention on Wednesday, September 2. E. S. Smith, Oakland, is president of this group.

Car Destroyed By Fire

An automobile belonging to Clinton Friend, of Turner-Douglas, near Crellin, was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning near the Youghiogheny river bridge on the Swallow Falls road.

According to reports Friend abandoned the automobile earlier in the evening when it broke down and went to his home, and it was believed the fire may have been of incendiary origin.

Corporal Thomas Currie investigated the mishap. The Oakland Fire Department was called to extinguish the blaze when a passing motorist saw the blazing car and came to town to report it.

Women's Club Will Furnish Recreation For Young People

Project Undertaken by Business And Professional Women's Club

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club have undertaken a project to furnish recreation for the children of the community, it was announced this week. Mrs. Kathryn Helbig heads the committee that is working on plans, and she stated they hoped to have some get-together meetings for the young folks by September.

The club had its August dinner meeting at the Mt. Lake Hotel on Tuesday evening. At this time plans were also made for other service activities of the club for this fall and winter. The club's war efforts will include a $10.00 donation for equipment of kits for sailors and soldiers and the club will also sponsor this project and see that the necessary equipment is assembled and the kits filled.

All members of the club volunteered to give one night each week at the surgical dressing station until the work is completed.

The club is expecting to extend its membership to include ten additional people. The September meeting will be held at the William-James hotel.

Dies Suddenly As He Talks With Friends

Peter S. Bowser Suffers Heart Attack And Succumbs Almost Instantly At Helbig's Mill

Peter S. Bowser, 72 years of age, of the Deep Creek Lake community, fell dead Monday morning while in front of the Helbig Mill on Green street, engaged in conversation with William R. Browning and other friends.

Mr. Bowser had been complaining of not being well for several years as a result of heart disease.

Dr. R. R. Williams, who was summoned, pronounced the man dead as the result of a heart attack, and Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney, said no inquest would be necessary.

Mr. Bowser was born in Garrett county on March 28, 1870, a son of the late Daniel and Catherine Bowser, and had resided in this county all his life. He was engaged in farming and was a member of the Pentecostal church at Sand Flat.

Surviving children by his first wife are Mrs. Catherin Nine, Kingwood, West Va.; Mrs. Russell Warnick, of Swanton; Mrs. Henry L. Bowman, Oakland; Mrs. Ethel Bowman, McHenry; Mrs. Russell Sanders, Swanton; Dewey Bowser, Terra Alta; Arthur Bowser, Bittinger; Lloyd Bowser, Swanton; Donald Bowser, Oakland; Elwood Bowser, Somerset, Pa.

Also surviving are his widow, the former Opal Friend, and three small children, Ronald, Wayne and Peggy; also forty-seven grandchildren, twenty-two great-grandchildren; two brothers, Arch Bowser, Clarksburg, West Va., and Truman Bowser, Deer Park.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at two o'clock in the Sand Flat tabernacle, with Rev. Carroll Skipper officiating, assisted by Rev. R. C. McCauley, of Davis, W. Va. Interment was in Flatwoods cemetery.

Sugar Stamp No. 8 Good for 5 Pounds

Sugar ration stamp No. 8 will be good for five pounds of sugar in the ten-week period beginning August 23 and ending October 31, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

While not changing the basic ration of one-half pound per person per week, it will enable consumers to make purchases in larger units and facilitate the disposal of 5, 10 and 25-pound packages.

Stamps numbers six and seven will be good until closing time on Saturday, August 22, for two pounds each.

1-B Class Abolished In Draft Board List

General Draft of Married Men Under Forty-Six Will Come Soon

The Selective Service system has abolished its "limited service" Class 1-B, the group constituting minor physical defects and ordered all but the totally unfit reclassified as available for military service.

Reclassifying of men in this group will begin September 1 to be completed by New Year's Day. Not more than one-fourth of the 1-B registrants in any local board area are to be shifted to class 1-A in any single month.

A general draft of married men under forty-six with dependents will come "in the not far distant future," a spokesman for Brig.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey's National Selective Service Board predicted in Boston, in a speech there on Monday.

He said the nation's reservoir of 1-A men was "practically exhausted" and that it now would be necessary to obtain soldiers from other classes.

He declared first they would take men fit for limited service, formerly 1-B class, then married men without dependents and next the married men with dependents.

Rev. L. A. Wagner Resigns Pastorate

Served Lutheran Churches In Accident, Friendsville, Cove

The resignation of Rev. L. A. Wagner as pastor of the Accident Lutheran pastorate, became effective on Tuesday. Rev. Wagner has accepted a call to become pastor of the First Lutheran church in Parkersburg, W. Va., the former pastor having been accepted by the United State armed forces as a chaplain.

Rev. Wagner has served in the Accident parish for the past three years and under his supervision a number of improvements were made in the three churches which comprise the charge.

Grace church, Friendsville, was repainted and redecorated. A new heating system was installed in St. Paul's at Accident, and St. John's, at Cove, was completely remodeled and redecorated. All of the churches were supplied with new Sunday school hymn books during the pastorate of Rev. Wagner.

Last Thursday evening Rev. and Mrs. Wagner were guests of honor at a reception given by the Ladies' Aid Society and Church Council at Accident. Other parishes of the charge presented the pastor and Mrs. Wagner with a number of gifts.

Rev. Wagner was graduated from Gettysburg Theological Seminary and served in Penn's Valley charge before coming to Garrett county. Rev. and Mrs. Wagner have two sons.

Twenty-Seven Obtain Tire Certificates

Twenty-seven persons obtained certificates enabling them to purchase tires, tubes or retreads, from the war ration board this week, according to Walter W. Dawson, chairman, but the rubber for passenger cars was scarce.

Four people got two tires, four tubes and four retreads and they were Henry Smearman, Maynard Moon, V. T. Steyer and Mark H. Moon.

Twenty-three persons got certificates for 22 tires, 10 tubes and 38 retreads. They were G. E. Bishoff, A. P. Sanders, Wilbur Hinebaugh, William Sharpless, Earl Shank, A. G. Thayer, Audley Brenneman, John N. Grimes, Half Price Stores, Walter Harman, Claude Pope, J. E. Helbig, Belvin Fazenbaker, Sarah A. Turner, Foster Frazee, Carroll Martin, E. H. Ault, Marquette Bailey Lumber Company, Carl Sweitzer, Arnold Sines, Hobard Harvey, Noah Frazee, Wallace B. Davis.

Ration Board Broadcast

The Ration Board has announced a "Neighborhood Call" radio program devoted to local board achievements, at 7:30 p. m. on Friday, August 21, over a nation-wide Red network.

"TWISTER" HITS PART OF COUNTY MONDAY MORNING

Demolishes Farm Buildings and Orchards in Altamont and Deer Park Area—No One Injured

A tornado struck parts of Garrett county on Monday demolishing farm buildings and orchards, uprooting trees and playing peculiar and unaccountable tricks during its brief but damaging assault. There were no injuries as far as could be learned and no farm homes blown down, although portions of them were whisked away.

William Fitzwater, near Altamont, lost his chicken house and some chickens, his garage, barn doors, the roof from his silo, while 20 or more fruit trees all around his home were toppled. The house was untouched except for the posts under the front porch which were knocked over. The automobile in his garage was not moved. Large oak trees were twisted out of the ground by their roots.

Alex Wilson, nearby, lost his chicken coop and the front door of his house was broken to bits. A tree rested on his housetop.

The wind whisked the roof from the home of Robert Davis, near Deer Park, and also demolished his front porch and chicken coop. At Levi Glotfelty's a cupboard was upset and dishes smashed in the kitchen but no other part of the house damaged. At McHenry, near Deep Creek Lake, a path 100-feet wide was cut through the forest on James Glotfelty's property. The width of the path around the Fitzwater farm was estimated at 100 yards or more. Cal Glotfelty, Swanton, had a number of trees uprooted.

Fitzwater related peculiar tricks that the wind played around his house and was thankful the twister left his home standing. He was working on a farm nearby at the time and his small son noticed the clouds "whirling round and round." Later a neighbor told him he wouldn't recognize his place when he returned as "Sampson had been there." He said he agreed with the neighbor when he saw all that happened.

Mr. Fitzwater was unable to understand how the garage had been demolished without as much as scratching the auto and he told of keys being found on the ground nearby after having been left in the switch prior to the storm.

His cows were on the outside edge of the tornado path but one of them was close enough to get a full charge of mud in its face. "Couldn't have lasted more than three minutes, said Mrs. Fitzwater, who had run out just in time to save the week's washing from the line before the storm struck.

It was just last year, on August 15, that a tornado struck in the Sang Run and Meadow Mountain section which wrecked dwellings occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Thomas, Sang Run, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bittinger, Meadow Mountain, and other farm buildings and tore down hundreds of forest and orchard trees.

Monday was just another day of rain to persons in other parts of the county with an extra heavy downpour at the time of the "twister."

Jasper Myers' Official Announcement For House of Delegates

Jasper C. Myers, of Kitzmiller, District No. 13, officially announces himself a candidate in today's issue of The Republican for the Republican nomination for member of the House of Delegates. His announcement appears on page six of this paper.

Mr. Myers has been a resident of the Kitzmiller community for a number of years where he has been engaged in farming. He was born in Friendsville and has spent his entire life in this county with the exception of two years during the first World War when he served in the armed forces in the States and in France. He was attached to the 313th Infantry regiment. He is now a member of the Wilson-Fidler Post, American Legion of Kitzmiller.

As he states in his announcement that due to the tire shortage and need of gasoline for the war effort, that he will not make any intensive personal campaign through the county, but is asking for the support of all Republican voters at the primary on September 8.

World war tanks, 177 of them which rusted at Camp Meade since 1918, are being sent to the scrap pile.

Small Auto Tag May Be Legalized

Motor Vehicle Office Hopes Corner Plates Will Be Voted Into Law

Maryland vehicles are going to have the "corner plates" next year—just as this year—but it is going to be legal—the office of the Motor Vehicle Commissioner hopes.

The large license plate is going to be the same old 1941-1942 plate, with the aluminum background and black numerals, but the corner plate, bearing the numerals "1944" is going to be the reverse—black background and aluminum numbers.

No Law In Support

As of the current year, the corner plates were issued because of the steel shortage—with no law to back up the practice. And the "1944" miniature plates already are being prepared on the same "emergency" basis.

But in the coming session of the Legislature an amendment to the uniform motor-vehicle code is to be introduced legally to authorize the corner plates.

The cost of a corner plate, which fits over the year numeral of the previous year, is 6¼ cents to make and pack, whereas the full-size plate costs 15 cents.

The saving of 8¾ cents over the 15-cent cost for the larger tags amounts to $45,500 a year on the basis of the issuance of 520,000 tags a year, it was said at the office of the Motor Vehicle Commissioner.

372 Tons of Steel Saved

The plan of issuing the corner plates instead of the large tags has resulted in a saving of 372 tons of steel in the making of license plates.

Ordinarily, 390 tons of steel are required at the Penitentiary for the making of the large plates, whereas only 28 tons were required for the corner plates.

Should steel be denied the Penitentiary for the making even of corner plates after this year, officials of the State are discussing the feasibility of using either stickers on windshields or the manufacture of a plastic plate.

BITTINGER

Never a war has yet been won
Alone by the man behind the gun,
Nor the marshal in his chair;
The patient toiler on the farm
With skillful hand and brawny arm
Contributes a sure and vital share.

Remember the annual picnic to be held in Broadwater's Grove, near this village, next Saturday, August 22nd. A variety of entertaining features will be presented and there will be all sorts of refreshments, including politicians, peanuts and pop corn.

The Beitzel family reunion will be held in Pleasant Valley Park, just south of Bittinger, on September 6, and all family connections are invited to attend with their friends. Bring lunch and spend the day.

THE MAGIC OF REALITY

If I could rub Aladdin's lamp,
I would ask two magic keys;
A singing heart, a seeing mind,
Yes, I would ask for these.

For the seeing mind may range afar
Yet be by four walls bound,
And the singing heart remains in peace,
Though storms may rage around.

Why should I seek magician's art?
The real power is in these:
The seeing mind, the singing heart,
Magic realities.

Cars Collide

Automobiles driven by Joseph Welch, Mt. Lake Park, and Homer Brinkley, of Mt. Clare, W. Va., collided near the Gnegy mill at Mt. Lake Park on Sunday evening, causing considerable damage. No one was seriously injured. Welch was traveling east on the Mt. Lake road and Brinkley attempted to turn onto the highway from Cozy row. Both pleaded guilty to reckless driving before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch.

Cars driven by Miss M. L. Long and John R. Rembold collided at the Darby intersection on State road last Sunday afternoon. Rembold, heading north on the highway turned off to take the old Deer Park road, while Miss Long, returning to Oakland, attempted to leave the highway to go south on Fourth street. Magistrate Loraditch pointed out that each thought the other would remain on the main highway. Both cars were damaged to some extent but no one was injured. Both were found guilty of reckless driving charge.

Conservation ★★★ CHIEF WEAPON OF THE HOME FRONT

SAVE POWER...
by Eliminating Waste

Every housewife knows, because of the many demands on her time, that conservation in everything has to be practiced to keep things going smoothly for the family. She knows, for example, that by cooking complete oven meals she saves fuel costs interpreted in terms either of electric power or gas. She knows also that by refrigerating her foods properly in the electric refrigerator that she avoids spoilage, another form of waste. She eliminates wasted time by keeping her appliances in good condition, having them checked by a serviceman before trouble develops. And through these, and all other operations over which she has direct supervision, she saves money that can be spent for other necessary things. Yes, conservation is the chief weapon on the home front and one that is indispensable for victory!

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

We are finding that the lack of noise or confusion can be as disconcerting as having an abundance of it.

Seems like the neighborhood has been full of kids for weeks, and where there are children one doesn't have to look for noise or confusion. It actually hits one in the face as soon as he comes within sight of home.

If I elected to write this column at home I wouldn't be able to collect my thoughts. For more than a week there was a big battleship on the landing which took all the card tables in the house to form the hull. With anti-craft shells exploding in ack-acks, airplanes zooming continuously and an occasional depth bomb charge going off, there hasn't been much chance for relaxation, let alone concentrated thought.

Then it was all over for a few days. The boys have gone to make noise and confusion in the home of friends, and if I can still call them friends next week at this same time they'll be friends in need and friends indeed.

But how about at home? Why it's so quiet that the stillness itself is disconcerting. Wondering where they are, what they are doing, and if they remembered all the do's and don'ts that we crammed into their minds before they left, is enough to start the mind on things that never bring peace and quiet.

Already we are now yearning for the normal amount of noise to replace the quietude that we yearned for just a few days ago. We're funny that way.

Seems too Silly

A new regulation that may become effective in other counties of the state this year seems just too silly for words. We hope it doesn't become effective in this county for many reasons, one of them being the wintry weather during many of the school months.

The regulation provides that school buses will not transport children within two miles of the school which they usually attend, but that children will be compelled to walk.

All these buses will have to collect students more than two miles from the schools. They will have to pass by the students who live less than the two miles. They will cover the same mileage and it certainly seems foolish to make any children walk when there is plenty of room in the buses already in use, if they don't consolidate any more schools. The one who made a regulation like that, (living in Washington or Baltimore) ought to be made to come here next January and try it out personally.

The Oakland Jaycees, in inaugurating the idea of the service mar project, have gained considerable attention in other sections. They are starting a similar project in Frostburg, and a number of other places have praised the idea and may adopt it later.

YESTERDAY IS TOMORROW

Life is but a collection of memories. By what do we measure time? Not by the swift passage of the years but by intangible, and long-remembered scenes, sounds and scents. The brown depths of a little stream seen from a car window bring back the brown-depthed quiet pools of half-forgotten woodlands long ago.

The great oak towers in the quiet field. There was once another friendly tree that swarmed with happy children. Our memories are of simple things—laughter, peace, the carefree summer days, tiged lilies flaunting by the roadside, hollyhocks straight against a wall. "Since yesterday it is so long ago."

There are those who bewail the passing of time. There are those who feel that in the new purposeful world there will be no time for little things. But they misinterpret the signs.

We fight for one reason only—that we may return to those things that men call little, but which are after all the great things of life. Only this time we will cleave closer to the credo that these simple happinesses are the right of all—and at the end we will see to it that they are the lot of all.

It was not the Germans of the old school, steeped in the quiet peace of "gemutlich" living, who followed Hitler—but the young whose lives had been warped by war, who grew up without traditions and without the pride of stainless honor. The collapse of France came long before the fall of France. The Chinese, however, fight on because they have known from birth that what has been will be again.

We failed at Pearl Harbor because we had forgotten. But once our memories awoke, not to vainglorious thoughts of Yorktown, Trenton and Manila, but to Valley Forge, to the Alamo, to Gettysburg, then we rallied and stood firm.

All of which we are sure lies in the past. The strong, certain things of living—on these we can build, so that again small children may pick black-eyed Susans in a field free from the threat from the sky, young love can dream and plan the carefree hours away, and those who have loved may go on together, sharing both life and memory.

"Since yesterday it is so long ago"—but yesterday is tomorrow.

Children Must Be Vaccinated Before Entering School

Dr. Riley, State Health Department, Reminds Parents Of Their Duty

Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the Maryland State Health Department, reminds parents of young children who will enter school this fall, of a certain "must-be-done" that will have to be attended to before the children may be received in any public school in the State. For the sake of the children, their health and general well-being now, and in the future, he also makes certain other suggestions.

The "Must-Be-Done" is vaccination against smallpox which is required by the Maryland law before a child may be received at any public school in the State.

Parents are expected to have their children vaccinated by the family physician before the babes are a year old, or very soon after. Until a child enters school, the responsibility rests with the parents and the family doctor. After that, it is shared with the school authorities. Teachers who enroll a child who has not been vaccinated are liable to a fine of ten dollars for each enrollment.

"Largely through the voluntary observance of this law Maryland has been free from smallpox for a number of years," Dr. Riley said. "Tho there have been no cases here, the disease has been widely prevalent in other States. Because of the large number of families that have moved recently into Maryland from other parts of the country, many of them from sections in which vaccination is not compulsory, it is very important that this requirement be understood by the newcomers. It is equally important that it be remembered by other residents of the State who have neglected to have their children protected.

"Protection against diphtheria is not required by law in Maryland, but it is equally quite as important that children be protected against this disease before they start to school, as againtst smallpox. This should be added to the "Must-Be-Dores."

"Before the schools open every prospective first-grader should be taken to the family physician, or to the nearest health department child health conference for a complete physical examination, if that has not already been done, so that conditions in need of attention can be cared for at once.

"Complete information about the places and dates of child health conferences can be obtained from the lacal county health officer. Information regarding clinics for vaccination against smallpox and for protection against diphtheria can be obtained from the same source."

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—American fighting men were in attack forces on four fronts, in a new conflict in Mediterranean, on a bombing mission over continental Europe, in southwest Pacific and in China. Japs were reported driven from many positions on three islands in Solomons and Jap naval forces had lost control of Tulagi harbor. Big bombers smashed four Jap transports out of Rabaul and a Dutch sub there hit two enemy vessels. Germans claimed advances to within 150 miles of Caspian sea in effort to isolate Russia from Allied forces in Middle East. U. S. bombers rained bombs on several Italian cruisers in Grecian port. In convoy battle Germans claimed they fired the U. S. carrier Wasp and broke up the convoy, also crippling some British ships.

SATURDAY — American offensive was increasing in South Seas as Navy pushed supplies through and protected lines of communication. Shore positions were being consolidated. Jap bases and reinforcement convoys were being blasted by bombers from Australia. Tokyo claimed sinking 35 Allied warships and transports. Red armies were on offensive along northern fronts but in Caucasus the Germans were making a tremendous effort to overrun the Grozny oil fields. The Mediterranean convoy reached Malta with loss of British carrier Eagle and one cruiser. Japan declared it would not tolerate the use of India for Allied war purposes. A returning journalist from Japan placed their army at 4 million under arms with reservoir of 8 million more.

SUNDAY—U. S. Navy blasted five Jap ships at Kiska during a bombardment there. U. S. marines were reported having taken important coastal bases on Solomon islands. Japs admitted fierce fighting there for first time. German armies threatened Stalingrad in furious new attack and without regard to casualties. U. S. planes were aiding RAF in Egypt. British fleet shelled Italian island of Rhodes.

MONDAY—Marines were tightening grip on Solomon islands as battle ended its tenth day. Japs grudgingly admitted battle was continuing. Details were still lacking. A sea battle in Dover straits was reported. U. S. army fighters along with Canadians made long sweeps over France and participated in convoy patrols and interception sorties. Reds massed guns in an effort to stop Germans pushing toward Stalingrad. The German push in Caucasus was blocked but Nazis pushed on toward Caspian sea. Counter drives in Northern section were having success. Seventeen died in an army plane crash in Massachusetts. Eight ships including two destroyers, were launched from a Maine shipyard.

TUESDAY—U. S. air force bombers made first attack on Nazi-occupied France, blasting Rouen. It was disclosed Churchill was in Moscow in conference with Stalin and other British and American officials. Russian armies gave up some new ground northwest of Stalingrad and in foothill approaches to Grozny oil wells. MacArthur's bombers made new attacks on Timor island. A detailed report of Solomon islands battle says that the Marines are well established there and that the Navy saved the transports from the Japs.

WEDNESDAY — Fresh American forces arrived in Middle east area as British reorganized its command there by naming Harold Alexander to succeed Auchinleck. U. S. army bombers also were in the Egyptian battle for the first time, raiding Matruh, Tobruk and other points. Probability of a decisive naval engagement in south Pacific was indicated as bitter fighting continued on Solomon islands. Russian armies showed signs of holding in Volga and mid-caucasus sections. Brazil was on verge of war over Axis sub attacks which sank five Brazilian ships in 3 days and took lives of hundreds of Brazilian soldiers and civilians. Axis admitted bitter fighting on Pacific islands, saying Americans had landed in force. Reds claimed German losses of 1,250,000 men in three months; Soviet losses, 606,000.

THURSDAY—Picked U. S. British and Canadian soldiers completed greatest commando raid of the war on French coast, smashing vaunted German defenses at Dieppe in all-day battle. It was costly to both sides in lives and material. A thousand planes protected the practice invasion, with 95 lost but shooting down 82 enemy destroying gun batteries, ammunition dump, radio location station, etc. Germans claimed sinking allied vessels and taking 1,500 prisoners. Russian reports were no better as Germans hammered closer to Stalingrad and deeper in Caucasus. Egypt battleground was quiet. Red bombers raided towns in Baltic area. Two torpedoes hit Curacao island with no damage. An American sub sank a Jap warship in Aleutians. The Solomon battle was continuing.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

FALLING DOWN

Washington, Aug. 15.

After eight months of war a situation exists here which, in the national interests, ought to be made plain to the people. Perhaps they can be induced to do something about it. If, for example, instead of patiently listening to endless repetition of patriotic platitudes from Administration mouthpieces the people, reversing the usual procedure, should turn upon the Administration with the direct charge of incompetency and an insistence that it be ended, the effect might be very salutary, indeed.

* * *

Another real demonstration of public impatience seems to be exactly what is needed now. Months ago, when the citizens generally reacted against fan dancing and other silly aspects of the OCD, they got results. Congress responded. A house cleaning was forced and the whole setup revamped. It is not ideal now, but it is so much better than it was that there is no comparison.

* * *

It is becoming increasingly clear that if we are successfully to sustain our role as the "arsenal of democracy" it is not American industry which will have to be stimulated. That has been effectively done. If there is failure now the responsibility will not rest upon industry but upon the feeble men who have been mismanaging our war production effort in Washington. There is not much dispute about that among informed persons. It is conceded—even by the Administration—that the industrial plant of the country has wrought marvelously in producing the implements of war and in preparing to produce them upon an even vastly enlarged scale.

* * *

The President, himself, has said so. Despite red tape and restrictive labor demands, manufacturing industry has organized itself so as to more than fulfill the "fantastic" estimates of the President early this year, only to find that it is unable to function fully because of shortages in basic materials, with the production and distribution of which industry has nothing and Government has everything to do. Industry has been converted, expanded and equipped to meet the utmost Roosevelt requirements—and to go far beyond them—merely to find that it is now blocked by shortages over which it has no control. It is industry's job to turn out the weapons of war from the materials provided, but it is the Administration's job to supply the matrials. Industry has done its job to the hilt; it is the Administration which has fallen down.

* * *

Why? The answer is through lack of foresight and executive capacity in Washington. It is not so much a question of production as a question of distribution and it is in the latter that the Administration incapacity has been most clearly shown. Its system of priorities has not worked. Its efforts to coordinate and allot have been ineffectual. Its control has been lax and uninformed. It has not had all the facts and it has not acted with intelligence upon the facts it has had. As a result, we have reached a stage where a thousand factories are threatened with stoppage through a lack of materials, an adequate flow of which would have been insured by a competent Administration. It is not industry which has "checked short" in meeting the President's requirements, it is his own confused organization.

* * *

These facts have been noted by practically every independent and informed commentator and newspaper. They are ignored only by the Administration propagandists who evade the Washington mess by profound pronouncements about India, or Egypt, or Russia, concerning which they know little. Those who face the domestic realities are in two groups. Both agree that responsibility largely rests upon Mr. Donald Nelson. One contends the trouble is that Mr. Nelson lacks real power. The other insists he has plenty of power but is not strong enough to wield it. Actually, both contentions are true. Notwithstanding the apparent delegation of all-out authority, there were hidden White House strings on Mr. Nelson when he went to bat. He had two strikes on him to start with. But, even had this not been so, it is doubtful that he had it in him to be the kind of ruthless, forceful, dominant, driving boss for which conditions called. At any rate, he has not been that kind of boss and present staggering situation is the result.

* * *

A state of affairs exists which justifies the people not only in resentment of pompous Administration preachments about the necessity of sacrifices but warrants a feeling that the President and his aides are falling below the standard they asked industry, particularly, and the people, generally, to meet.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

The writer of this column last week was reminiscing about former summer seasons, comparing them with the present and future trends. It would perhaps be well to add a sequel by comparing the vacation patterns of the past with the present. In the old days vacation was just a more pastoral setting for parlor affairs—some pretentious, others petty.

The debutante and dowager were often seen supervising the trunks as they were lifted from the baggage wagons and transported to their hotel suite. In fact one of the ways in which society 'boasted' of its might was to see which family had the most trunks and the largest collection of foreign hotel stickers pasted on all sides. It was a gay life that after a time became too socially strenuous.

Others would come and occupy the same armed rocking chair that their mother, grandmother and great-grandmother had occupied before them. These people were known as members of the front-porch brigade of the Mt. Lake Park Hotel and the various summer boarding houses. As a child I often would pass by—and wondered what could possibly be fun, sitting day after day on a front porch, quite often just staring into space; at other times reading or chatting with friends. But to come up to a mountain resort—and ambulate between bed-room, dining room and front porch for a whole season seemed more in keeping with an old people's home.

And there were others who felt that during the busy winter season when they must work hard for money, that in the summer they could take on some extra culture and religion—hence the Chautauqua and Camp Meeting. Yes, even the Hall of Philosophy boomed for several seasons. Summer seasons in the old days was largely a matter of dress, manners, parties at Deer Park. At Mountain Lake, particularly in Loch Lynn, these same interests prevailed almost to the same degree, but together with social primness, religion and culture was taken just as seriously.

But in the present the vacationer takes nothing seriously, not even himself. Vacation now means a momentary escape from a standard of living that becomes more and more unbearable and insecure. All that the vacationer does is what one would expect of a person victimized by a protracted fatigue. Instead of the women bringing trunks — they are content with hand-bags. The question of dress is not how many clothes one needs for a trip—but how few. It appears that the fair sex have lost the old ambitions of dressing in extravagant fineries. Their piece de resistance is the display of physique rather than a Tiffany pearl or a Lord and Taylor evening gown.

Over against the former love for social affairs, camp meetings, cultural programs, there is the urge for more intimate association with the outdoors. The various sports associated with Deep Creek Lake have enhanced this urge. Then the building of Log Cabins in the recreational areas suggest the primitive, simple life of our forefathers. Certainly dress fashions in vogue on front porches of a Mountain Lake boarding house would be about as appropriate as a nun's habit in a tavern.

In spite of trends toward the outdoors, simple dress, and simple quarters, such as cabins and lodges, the old and the new vacationists have one thing pretty much in common. It is languor and inertia, whether it be a Mountain Lake front porch or a Saturday night beer party on the Lake. We are like a flock of chickens—we have lost the sense of adventure; we stay too close to our grub and a comfy bed. Here in this vacation paradise where there are miles upon miles of trails, unusually interesting, out of the way places, yet the vacationist misses these real chances for the reconditioning of the whole life, all because he or she can't quite overcome the demon of inertia.

This past May a splendid old couple from Philadelphia by the name of Kurrie registered at the Hotel William James. They had picked up the folder "The Switzerland of Maryland" issued by the Oakland Rotary club. This folder interested them to the extent that they decided to give our section one week's try. After the first day they decided to remain three weeks. During that period they averaged ten miles a day, varying the hike by alternating directions to and from Oakland. Their fine new Cadillac car remained idle during the entire period. They were so fascinated with the landscape that according to Mr. James Towler, the genial proprietor of Hotel William James, they sent hundreds of souvenior post-cards to their friends. It would seem that they derived a maximum benefit of our mountain air, the crystal waters, the undulating terrains, the fascinating variety of flora and fauna. These people really absorbed themselves in the primitive, and by doing so went to the other extreme from streets, rooms, porches, roads, and all the other beaten paths of life so inflexibly associated with urban existence.

One of the first of our summer colonists to recognize the importance of primitive, simple living—in fact we might look upon him as the pioneer of the Log Cabin, a la mode, was the late George Stewart Brown. A Baltimorean and Marylander by birth and tradition—yet the climax of his career was as Judge of a Federal Court in New York City. Judge Brown died this past season. He together with his cultured wife have been regular summer visitors for a long time. They have lived in a charming cabin against Backbone Mountain near Altamont. They have not lived unto themselves, but have taken a helpful interest in their neighbors in that section. It was through them that in large measure the Log Church was built at Altamont during the pastorate of our friend Rev. David Trimble. The Baltimore Sun paid glowing tribute to 'Stovey' Brown in editorials. His son, Stewart Brown, is a popular young Baltimore lawyer, who is courageously fighting for a clean chance to serve cleanly the people of this state. He is an independent—the kind that the writer admires—who does not lean on ward-politicians. These are the kind of leaders we need in government, and the kind that should be supported. Because Mr. Brown is an independent the writer feels that he is not misusing this column as a medium for political recommendations. Mrs. Brown is here for the summer—very likely other members of the family with her at "The Wee Hoose in the Wood."

And there are other old-timers who inspire us to sing Auld Lang Syne, such as the Bolgianos of Baltimore; the Skyles of Hagerstown; the Jarvises, Jared Young, Maxwells, Taylors, Miss Kate McClain and Clarks. There is Ira McKee, of Pittsburgh, who comes to his cottage on the hill just as you enter the Park. The writer is wondering if Mrs. Parker, of Baltimore, who has not missed a summer season at Mt. Lake Hotel since back somewhere in the 1880's or 90's is there this year? And last, but not least, Mrs. Daisy Fleming and her sister, Miss Maud Bosley, sisters of Mrs. Nell Darby in Oakland. They have retained the spirit of the past, and thru such as these, the departed glory of the Victorian era seems as a heritage not altogether consumed.

This younger generation has no means of comparison—but we who stand midway between the new and the old—would I think if by some divine fiat or thru a modern Joshua commanding the sun to stand still have our choice would prefer those glamorous old Victorian days with the starched collar and shirt to these latter days of "The Vicious Circle" where the dull regimented routine has made all people and things lifeless and unreal. Certainly there were many incongruities and superficialities in the old order. But these are to be condoned in view of the indisputable fact that the people, in themselves, were then more alive.

Radio Artists To Appear For Benefit Show at Mt. Lake Park

Slim Bryant and his Georgia Wildcats of Radio Station KDKA will be presented in the Bashford amphitheatre, Mountain Lake Park, on Friday evening, August 28, it has been announced by Wm. H. McRobie, Noble Grand of Oak Lodge No. 8, I.O.O.F., of Loch Lynn, which is sponsoring the show.

An open air concert by Mickey's Band will be presented from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock preceding the entertainment.

The main performance will feature Sue Sanders and her western songs; Jerry Wallace and his banjo; Kenny Kenton, tenor and fidlier; Loppy Bryant, master of ceremonies and bass viol player, and Slim Bryant, funny man, songwriter and guitarist.

These radio stars are heard over the air at 6 A. M. and also at 8:45 P. M., and in the tri-state barn dance show. Bryant was first heard on KDKA in 1931. He returned in 1936 and has been on the station program ever since. He and his "Wildcats" have written many hillbilly and cowboy songs, approximately fifty having been published.

There will be no rules nor regulations about makeup and unmentionables among the navy WAVES just so they aren't conspicuous. They will wear navy blue.

The Rural Electrification construction program was halted by order of WPB.

The bride wore a street length dress of navy blue crepe with matching accessories.

Mrs. Yoder is a graduate of Grantsville high school, class of 1940. Mr. Yoder attended Meyersdale high school and at present is employed at the Meyersdale Manufacturing Company. The couple will reside in Meyersdale.

Soldier Dragged from Plane Has Relatives Here

One of the soldiers dragged to safety when the large army plane crashed in Massachusetts, killing seventeen, has relatives here in Oakland, it was learned this week.

The three who survived the crash were severely burned. Sgt. Robert Lee, of Columbus, his own clothes completely burned from his body, made two trips from the flaming wreckage dragging four fellow-passengers. First he carried out Pvt. James Fern, Abington, Va., and Pvt. Alonzo Pearson, of Windber, Pa., who were given a good chance for recovery at Mercy hospital in Pittsfield, Mass. Then he carried out two others only to find that they already were dead. Lee, who has a 50-50 chance for recovery, has received a soldier's medal for heroism.

Pearson, of Windber, Pa., is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Coplin, Second street.

Farewell Party Held For Navy Man

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thrasher at Deer Park on Saturday, August 15, for their son Carl William Thrasher and Miss Juanita Wrightsman.

Those present were Miss Wrightsman, Frank Clary, Kathleen Black, Marie Kimmell, William Bryant, Margaret Thrasher, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Thrasher, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Thrasher, Mr. and Mrs. George Comp, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thrasher and the honoree.

Carl Thrasher left Deer Park on Tuesday for Cumberland where he enlisted in the Navy and on Wednesday was sent to the induction station in Baltimore for final examination.

Miss Wrightsman will enter a hospital in Baltimore City for training the latter part of the present month.

Red Cross Knitters Busy

Listed among the volunteers still knitting for the Red Cross this week were Mrs. H. A. Loranditch and Mrs. George Deavers, of Terra Alta as heading the group, having finished three army sweaters. Others turning in sweaters to Mrs. D. Edward Offutt, knitting chairman, were Mrs. Maud Bailey, and Mrs. Warden Freeland.

Other material turned in: Miss Katharine O'Donnell, large muffler; Mrs. Ray Taylor and Miss Rosellen Fries, children's sweaters; Mrs. Lloyd Cook, Mrs. Hervey Bittner, Mrs. Warden Freeland, Mrs. Mason Callis, army socks; Mrs. George Deavers, Mrs. Lawrence Moomaw, Mrs. Sue Moore, Navy sweaters; Mrs. Mary Elliott, Miss Mamie Wolf, sweaters.

The County chapter has eighty helmets and forty sea boots to finish by this fall.

Missing In Action In South Pacific

SECOND LIEUTENANT CARROLL W. CASTEEL

Mrs. Margaret Casteel, of Oakland, has been notified by the War Department that her son, Second Lieutenant Carroll W. "Sparky" Casteel, of the Army Air Corps, stationed somewhere in Australia, has been missing in action in the southwest Pacific theatre since August 11. The message to the mother of the young flyer came last Saturday evening.

A graduate of Oakland High school and of Washington College at Chestertown, Lieutenant Casteel was employed by a packing company in Baltimore and later became managing editor of the Dorchester News, a weekly newspaper published at Hurlock, Dorchester county. He was at Harlock when he was accepted as a flying cadet.

He completed flying training at Coral Gables, Florida; was commissioned last December 3 and went to Hawaii shortly thereafter as an aerial navigator. He was 26 years old last May.

"Sparky" was one of those chosen in the Jaycee Service Man project last week and those in charge urged that the writing of notes to him continue just the same, so that in case he later returned to base the messages could be sent to him.

Members of his family had heard from him just a few days before the telegram from the department came, the letter carrying photographs of his camp in Australia.

He is a brother of Mrs. Mason Glotfelty, Mrs. Arthur Savage, Mrs. Nelson Bucklew and Miss Louise Casteel, of Oakland, and of Mrs. Charles Hall, Fairmont; Mrs. Loraine Weeks, Richmond Heights, Mo., and Welba Casteel, of Keyser, W. Va.

MRS. CHARLES MERSING

Mrs. Clara Mersing, wife of Charles Mersing, of Crellin, died at the State Hospital at Thurmont on Saturday, August 15. She had been a patient there since July 12.

Mrs. Mersing was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marquess L. White, of New York State, and had lived in Crellin for twenty years. She was born in Potter county, Pa., June 1, 1887, and was agen 55 years.

Mrs. Mersing had been in ill health since 1928. She was a member of the Church of the Brethren at Eglon, W. Va.

Surviving are her husband, Charles Mersing, eight children, Clyde, James, Elmer and Lewis Mersing; Mrs. Nora Fowser, Mrs. Miami Johnson, Anna Belle Mersing and Nettie Susan Mersing, all of Crellin; also 23 grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Nettie Varner, of Wymer, West Va.; three brothers, Clarence White, Norton, W. Va.; Stephen White and Leonard White, of Crellin.

Funeral services were conducted at her late residence on Monday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Ezra Pike, of Eglon, officiating. Interment was in the Ashby cemetery near Crellin.

ROBERT FELTY

Robert Felty, well known in this section, died very suddenly on Monday evening, August 17, at the Mt. View Hotel in Aurora, W. Va., about 7 o'clock. He and Mrs. Felty had spent about a month at the Miller house, Second street, Oakland, and had gone to Aurora last Thursday. Death was due to a heart attack.

Mr. Felty was born in Eglon, W. Va., November 17, 1861, a son of the late John and Christiana Felty, natives of Germany, and former residents of Oakland. He was aged 81 years and nine months.

In his young manhood he traveled for ten years as a wholesale groceryman, later conducting a wholesale grocery store at Confluence, Pa., for ten years. He moved to Springfield, Ohio, and started the Farmers National Bank which later merged with the First National Bank of that city. He was president of the Farmers Bank and vice-president and manager of the First National Bank, there.

He retired in 1932 and since that time he and Mrs. Felty had spent their winters in Orlando, Fla., and the balance of the year in Baltimore with their daughter, Mrs. Roberta F. Franke.

He was a member of the Methodist church and belonged to the Masonic fraternity at Springfield.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lena G. Felty, one daughter, Mrs. Franke, Baltimore; two grandchildren, Robert and Lehn Franke; three brothers, John Felty, Rowlesburg, W. Va.; Godfrey Felty, Eldridge, Md.; and Adolphus Felty, Columbus, O.; and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Simpson, Chicago.

Short funeral services were conducted Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock from the Bolden Funeral Home with Dr. A. B. Leamer, Lutheran pastor, officiating. His remains were then shipped to Springfield, O., for interment.

Errol Flynn, Irish-born movie star, was granted American citizenship in California.

Isaac S. George, executive director of Maryland Council of Defense resigned, effective September 1. Chief Judge Robert France, of Baltimore Traffic Court, will succeed him. George will remain as a member of the State defense council.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses following the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Charles Mersing. Also for the floral tributes and the use of automobiles.

Political Announcements

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Having presided over the Circuit Court for Washington county for more than one year and a half, I have served through five regular jury terms and two non-jury terms of that Court, in addition to sitting, upon occasions, with Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Huster in the Circuit Courts for Allegany and Garrett counties, and I believe that the experience which I have gained qualifies me to continue my services on the Bench.

Since assuming my judicial duties I have been ever mindful of the high standard of service set by my predecessor in office, the late Judge Frank G. Wagaman, and I have endeavored to faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability administer the duties of the high office which I am privileged to hold.

I have been told that my services have been satisfactory to the members of the Bars of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, and I hope also to the citizens generally of those counties which comprise the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Our American form of Government intends that the Judiciary shall be a department separate and apart from the Legislative and Executive branches, and as such shall be engaged in the impartial and equal administration of justice to all citizens. I have believed in those ideals and have always conscientiously tried to follow them.

If you feel that I am qualified by reason of experience, training, temperament and ability to continue to occupy the position I now hold, your support and influence will be greatly appreciated.

JOSEPH D. MISH.
Hagerstown, Md., July 20, 1942.

FOR STATE SENATOR

DR. C. OSCAR HALL

At the urgent request of many friends in various parts of the county, I have filed for the office of State Senator and hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, subject to the Democratic primary. I have been a citizen of the county for the past seven years, own my home in Mtn. Lake Park and for the past two years have served as Mayor of that corporation, having been elected by a large majority of its citizens. In making this announcement, I fully appreciate the duties involved and I assure the citizens of the county that if nominated and elected I shall perform them honestly, without fear or favor and to the best interest of all. I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of Democratic voters throughout the county.

DR. C. OSCAR HALL.

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland.

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-nomination for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942. With past experience in the House, I feel I can serve the people of the county and state better. I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thank you for past favors.

Most respectfully yours,
NELSON BRENNEMAN.
McHenry, Md., District No. 6

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for nomination for member of the House of Delegates, subject to the result of the Republican primary election, and am asking the support and influence of the voters throughout the county.

I was born at Friendsville and have spent my entire life in this county with the exception of the time spent with the United States forces during the First World War. I am a member of the Wilson-Fidler Post, American Legion, of Kitzmiller.

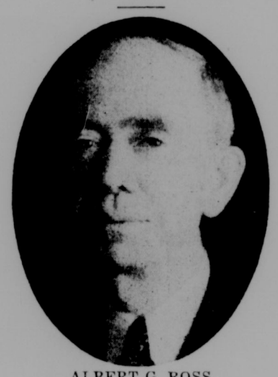
I have been a resident of District No. 13 for a number of years where I am engaged in farming.

Because of the shortage of tires and the need of gasoline for the war effort, it will be impossible to make an intensive personal campaign, and I am taking this means of contacting the citizens of the county and requesting their votes.

If nominated and later elected I promise to represent the people of the county in a fair and capable manner at the State House in Annapolis.

Sincerely yours,
JASPER C. MYERS.
August 18* District No. 13.

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT



ALBERT G. ROSS

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination at the coming primary election for Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

In seeking this very important office of the county, I solicit your support upon my record and qualifications gained through years of experience in the office.

If nominated and elected, courtesy to all will be my motto and the law will be my guide.

I respectfully solicit your support.
ALBERT G. ROSS.

FOR SHERIFF

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have always voted and worked for the success of the Republican ticket. I have lived my entire lifetime in the Swallow Falls setion of the county and have always had the best interests and welfare of the county at heart, and if I receive the nomination and am elected, I promise to devote my full time to the duties of the office and execute the same without fear, favor or partiality.

I respectfully solicit the support of my neighbors, friends and acquaintances throughout the county.

THEODORE E. SINES.
Oakland, Md., June 9, 1942.*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

Ladies and Gentlemen.

The undersigned, native of Garrett County, announces his candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election to be held on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in business for a number of years and at present am a County Constable and serving as Deputy Sheriff. With the experience thus gained, I feel that I am qualified to fill the duties of the office I seek and shall execute the same without fear or favor, should I be nominated and later elected to this most important position.

I most respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends in all parts of the county.

Very respectfully
MARK H. MOON.
District No. 16*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942, and most respectfully solicit the support of Republicans at the polls in all parts of the county.

JAMES A. COVER

If nominated and later elected to this office I shall execute the duties incumbent upon me to the best of my ability and in accordance with the law and directions of the Court.

JAMES A. COVER.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Sheriff for Garrett County, subject, however, to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared on a farm in this county and for the past thirty-five years have been engaged in business in Oakland.

As a citizen and taxpayer I have never sought nor held any public office. I now come before the people as a candidate.

Should I be nominated and later elected to this important office I shall endeavor to execute its duties to the best of my ability and without partiality.

Most respectfully yours,
FLOYD C. STAHL.
Oakland, District No. 14.*

GEORGE E. CODDINGTON

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for Sheriff of Garrett county at the coming Republican primary election, on September 8.

I have been a life-long Republican and was born and reared in District No. 8, of this county.

I believe that I am qualified to fill this important office and I respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends and all Republican voters in all sections of the county.

GEORGE E. CODDINGTON.
District No. 16, July 29.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

The undersigned announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett county, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have been a tax payer for many years.

If successful in the primaries and later elected as a member of the board my aim will be to represent the people of the entire county.

Soliciting the support of the Republican voters of all sections, I beg to remain, Very sincerely,
JAMES A. SAVAGE.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

At the urgent request of many voters in various sections of the County, I have filed for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County and hereby announce my candidacy for nomination, subject to the result of the Republican Primary election.

I have lived my entire life in Garrett County and have always had the best interest and welfare of the county at heart. If I receive the nomination and am elected, I assure the citizens of the County that I shall perform the duties of the office honestly and without fear or favor and to the best interest of all.

I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of all voters throughout the county.

JONAS W. SINES.
Swallow Falls, July 8, 1942*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

Ladies and Gentlemen:

As a member of the Republican party, and having had an experience of four years in the office of County Commissioner, I again seek the nomination and election as a member of the Board.

With my former experience, I feel that I am fully qualified to again fill the office I seek and solicit the support of all members of the party in all parts of the county.

If nominated and later elected, I shall endeavor to execute its duties in fairness to all and economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
Dist. 5* JOHN W. HERMAN.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland.

I feel that my past experience of two terms as a member of the Board of Commissioners fully qualifies me to capably fulfill the duties of the Commissioners' office.

I respectfully solicit the support of my friends and all party members.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN.
District No. 14, July 29.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am hereby announcing my candidacy for re-nomination and re-election as a County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the primary election.

I have served the county the past four years as Commissioner, and if re-nominated and re-elected I will continue to give my best services to the taxpayers.

I stand for home rule, better county government, a plan that will work to the improvement of all secondary roads and bridges by the use of the 1½ cent gasoline tax.

Sincerely yours,
CHESTON H. BROWNING.
District No. 7, July 29.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County.

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I am hereby publicly announcing my candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I have served as Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners for a number of years and feel that my experience in this capacity would be of much value to the taxpayers of the county in the conduct of the affairs of the county as a Commissioner.

I am not bound to any one faction or group and have always been a faithful member of the Republican party before and during my years of service in the Court House.

I ask your support and influence in the coming primary on September 8th.

Very sincerely yours,
WALTER G. MEYERS.
District No. 16*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in the mercantile business at Deer Park for twelve years and as a farmer and live stock dealer near Deer Park for the past five years. For a year I was acting postmaster and was town treasurer for six years. Before going to Deer Park I was employed in the Offutt store in Oakland for eight years.

With my experience in these several lines of business, I feel that I am well prepared to execute the duties of the office which I seek to the satisfaction of the general public.

Soliciting the support of all Republicans in every part of the county, I am, Very respectfully,
J. EDWARD HELBIG.
Deer Park, District No. 10*

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for Treasurer of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election.

Having served as County Commissioner for almost four years, and being in close contact with the office of Treasurer, I feel qualified to serve the public in this capacity.

I am also grateful to the voters for their confidence placed in me and their cooperation in the past.

I most earnestly solicit your continued cooperation and support in the coming primary election.

PAUL M. FRIEND.
District No. 7, July 29.

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

A MESSAGE FROM THEODORE E. SINES, CANDIDATE FOR THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR SHERIFF OF GARRETT COUNTY

To the Citizens and Voters of Garrett County:

I have already publicly announced my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County in the Republican primary.

I want to state at this time that I have always been a loyal Republican and an active worker at the General Elections, and if I am not successful in seeking the Republican nomination I shall loyally support the successful candidate.

I have heard it said that I was a conscientious objector to serving my country in the armed forces. This is not true. I am not a conscientious objector and made no claim to be one when I filed my questionnaire with the local draft board. I am ready to serve my country in any capacity that I may be called upon to perform at any time.

I believe in fair treatment to all, and if nominated and later elected, I shall give my best and conscientious effort to successfully fill this important office.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am in this manner announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election and the votes of Republicans in all parts of the county.

I have been a resident of Garrett county all my life and served as a Commissioner twenty-seven years ago. I have been in business in this county for over 52 years and have always been a heavy taxpayer of the county.

If nominated and later elected I shall endeavor to execute the duties of the office in fairness to all and with economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE WARNICK

For State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from Garrett County, subject to the primary to be held on September 8th.

I am connected with no clique or faction and if I am nominated and elected, I shall accord to all, without regard to party faction or clique, a respectful and unprejudiced hearing at all times and shall honestly endeavor to serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability.

I pledge to use the major portion of my time at the State Capitol, to secure some real worthwhile legislation, beneficial to our County, which is not now and has not been receiving consideration in a legislative way in proportion to benefits had by other counties in our State.

I have been actively engaged in business in Garrett County over a period of twenty years, during which time I have been in close touch with the affairs of the county and feel that I am fully acquainted with its needs and can creditably represent its people in this most important office.

I solicit your favorable consideration and assure you it will be deeply appreciated.

BERNARD I. GONDER.

FOR STATE SENATOR

E. RAY JONES

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator from Garrett County. My application for a place on the primary ballot has already been filed as required by law.

In recent weeks many of you have urged me to become a candidate for this position, and have kindly expressed the view that because of my training, experience and the knowledge of legislative and other governmental affairs which I acquired while serving as Secretary of State of Maryland, I could be of some real service to our State and county during the difficult years which lie just ahead. It is in response to this and in this spirit that I have become a candidate.

During the next four years, many difficult and perplexing war and after-the-war problems will be faced. In the solving of these it will be the duty of us all to participate. Many will require legislative action and it will be the duty of the Senator and Members of the House from this county to help in the framing and passage of the necessary legislation. If nominated and elected, it will be my pleasure, as well as duty, to assume my share of this responsibility and to assist to the best of my ability in the working out of these problems. At the same time I will give due and constant consideration to the needs and interests of our county and endeavor to obtain proper recognition for it.

I shall appreciate your support and influence.

E. RAY JONES

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thence forth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 494

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case only two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidate for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall not be less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they have been appointed or elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all times have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 10B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 10A and to be numbered 10B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland:

10B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, before the same shall be tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of orders or denominations, and providing for submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter:

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment, captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 494, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

Notice To Landowners Of Inquisition For Condemnation

To Bella Szijjarto and Threasa Szijjarto, his wife; Margaret Tarr, Albert Tarr and Irma Tarr, his wife; Elizabeth O'Sick and John O'Sick, her husband; and Frank Tarr.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the first day of September, 1942, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., an Inquisition will be held on a parcel of land which is owned by you or in which you or either of you have some interest, lying in Garrett County, Maryland, which land is particularly described by metes and bounds, courses and distances, and shown on the plat of the Youghiogheny River Reservoir Project and filed in the case of the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, a corporation, against Bella Szijjarto and Threasa Szijjarto his wife; Margaret Tarr, Albert Tarr, and Irma Tarr, his wife; Elizabeth O'Sick and John O'Sick, her husband; and Frank Tarr, infant, the same being number 1317 Miscellaneous in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, for the purpose of condemning a Right-of-Way as therein described to the extent of securing to the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, an easement or Right-of-Way for public use for a public road in perpetuity.

The said Inquisition to be held to determine whether or not the condemnation of said Right-of-Way for said purpose is necessary and proper for the use of the said County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, for the aforesaid purposes and for the due exercise and enjoyment of its corporate privileges in relation to the same and to determine by said Inquisition of the jury the value of the damages which you and each of you will sustain by the taking, occupation and use of said Right-of-Way by the said County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, for such period of time and for such purpose, and thereafter on the same day at 2:00 o'clock P. M., in the Court House in Oakland, Maryland, all such questions will be submitted to said jury of Inquisition and the damages that you and each of you will sustain by said taking, use and occupation of said Right-of-Way for said purpose will be valued and assessed to you by said jury of Inquisition.

You and each of you are hereby notified to be present in person or by your Agent or Attorney at said times and places to take such action thereon upon your part as you may see fit.

HORACE P. WHITWORTH, Jr.,
Attorney for the County Commissioners of Garrett County, a Corporation.

Missionary to Speak At Deer Park Church

MISS IDA TATE

Miss Ida Tate, of the Oriental Missionary Society, will speak at the Deer Park Methodist church on Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock.

Miss Tate served in the Orient for a number of years as an evangelist and also teaching in the Oriental Missionary Society Bible institutes. She is said to be a dynamic speaker.

The Oriental Missionary Society i an interdenominational organization, founded in 1901. Since then about 1200 churches and out-stations have been established in Japan, Korea and in China, in addition to five Bible training institutes where about 2500 native Christians have been trained to evangelize their own people.

Two Bible training institutes have been opened in India this year and plans are being made for an extension of the work into Mexico and South America. The society has always laid emphasis upon training of a native ministry.

CANNING AND DRYING CORN

Fresh corn on the cob or off holds a spotlight all its own at any meal, from a picnic to a formal dinner. Almost everyone likes corn, and there is plenty of it these summer days—crisp and fresh, straight from the fields.

But not so far away is colder weather, when fresh vegetables will be a thing of the past for the time being. If we want corn then, we have to make preparation now—while we can still get it newly picked and just right for storing.

Canning and drying are two ways to put up corn for future use. Here are some pointers on just how to follow through with these methods.

Canning Corn—Whole Grain Style

Use only freshly gathered corn, with husks green and kernels tender and full of milky juice.

"Two hours from garden to can" is a good rule to follow with sweet corn for canning. The sugar in corn begins turning to starch as soon as the ear leaves the stalk. And in hot weather especially, other changes can take place that may make canned corn difficult to keep if the corn stands around very long before it is put up. Can it quickly, and keep it cool until you do.

When you are ready to can, shuck and silk the corn and cut it from the cob—deeply enough to take off most of the kernels without removing the hulls too. Do not scrape the cobs for whole-grain style canned corn.

Put the corn in a kettle. Add 1 teaspoon of salt for each quart of corn, and half as much boiling water as the corn by weight. The amount of water needed will be about 2 cups to a quart of corn.

Heat to boiling, and then pack hot into glass jars. Be sure to leave head space when packing—1 inch for glass jars and ½ inch for tin cans. Head space is necessary so the corn will have room to expand during processing.

Once the hot corn is packed into glass containers, lose no time in getting it into the pressure canner.

And, above all, process canned corn under steam pressure, in a regular pressure canner. It is not safe to try to can corn in a boiling water bath or in the oven. Corn is starchy; heat penetrates it slowly. And corn must be thoroughly processed to the center of the jar to kill the bacteria that may make it spoil.

So, to play safe, process corn at 240 degrees F. or 10 pounds pressure. Processing time is as follows: 60 minutes for pint glass jars, 70 minutes for quart glass jars.

Then cool the corn thoroughly and store in a cool, dry place—a dark one, too, for glass jars. "Flat sour" can easily develop in home-canned corn not cooled quickly enough or stored in too warm a place.

DRYING CORN FOR STORAGE

Drying is an old method of keeping summer's sweet corn for winter's eating. In recent years it has given way to a great extent to canning. But wartime brings a shortage of canning equipment, and so again homemakers are turning to drying as a way to conserve food. You can dry corn either by controlled heat or by the warmth of the sun.

Use any good table corn, gathered when it is in good condition for immediate eating. As in the case of canning, plan to use it right away—do not let it stand for any length of time before drying.

First, husk the corn and remove any blemishes. You do not need to silk it, however, because the silks separate easily from the kernels after they are dried.

Then steam the corn for 10 minutes, or hold it in boiling water from 8 to 12 minutes—or until the milk is "set." The milk is set when no fluid comes from the kernels when you cut across them.

If you steam the corn, you will find a pressure cooker ideal for this purpose. Put a small amount of water in the cooker, heat to a rapid boil, and steam the corn by placing it in a wire basket or colander set above the water level. Keep the cooker covered and the petcock open while the corn is steaming. If you do not have a pressure cooker, use a steamer or any large kettle or deep container having a tight fitting cover.

When through steaming or boiling the corn, drain it, cool it, and cut from the cob.

If you have some way to dry the corn by controlled heat, you will find this method much quicker than sun drying. If you have a drier, or can make one, spread the kernels on trays ½ to ¾ inches deep and dry the corn at 130 to 140 degrees F. Stir while drying, to separate the grains.

Whether or not you use a thermometer to keep check on the drying process, you can learn by feeling the food whether or not it is drying satisfactorily. It should be moist to the touch and cooler than the air flowing over it. If it is just about at air temperature and not moist to the touch, it is drying too fast.

Properly dried corn is hard, brittle, and semi-transparent. The kernels break cleanly when crushed.

When you take the corn from the drier, sort it over carefully. If there are any kernels that show signs of moisture put them back in the drier. Also if you are not sure that the corn as a whole has dried sufficiently, keep it in the drier a little longer, but with the temperature lowered.

Seal the dried corn immediately in moisture-proof containers and store in a cool, dark, dry place. Examine them once in a while. If you see any signs of moisture, reheat the corn to 165 degrees F. and reseal in the containers.

As a precaution against insects, you can return all foods to the drier just before storing them, or at any other time that seems necessary, and reheat for 10 to 15 minutes at a temperature from 165 to 180 degrees F.

Dried fruits and vegetables will keep for a year or longer, if properly dried and stored away.

AURORA-EGLON

Mrs. Laura Calhoun, 88, is ill at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stemple, of near Aurora.

Drs. Harold and Blanche Miller and daughter, Bonnie Jean, and Virginia Lois Fike, all of Eglon, left Tuesday for Elgin, Ill., where they will visit for a couple of weeks at the home of Dr. Blanche's parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Bonsack.

Mrs. Matilda Fike returned to her home at Eglon, Sunday, after a two weeks' visit with relatives in Delaware.

For Sheriff

MARK H. MOON

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

The response to the announcement of my candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of our County has been very gratifying to me. My friends everywhere have expressed their confidence in my ability to serve in this important office and to enforce the law and perform the other duties of Sheriff of Garrett County impartially, without fear or favor.

With this encouragement, if I am elected I shall have the added responsibility of keeping faith with all of my friends who have been so kind. I pledge myself to keep faith with you, the voters and citizens of this County, to serve to the utmost of my ability, and to try to be one of the best Sheriffs this County has ever had.

I know that, with the experience I have had, I will be able to keep that pledge and answer my responsibility to the County and my friends.

Respectfully yours,
MARK H. MOON

COMMISSIONERS MEETING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the Board of County Commissioners for Garrett County, Maryland, will be in session for the transaction of all routine business that may properly come before them on MONDAY AND TUESDAY,

SEPTEMBER 8 AND 9, 1942,

By order of the Board—
W. G. MEYERS, Clerk.

"16 to 1" your tires can go farther than you think!...

● Keeping cars on the road despite the acute rubber situation, is a vital problem. It is so vital that our entire sales and service organization is working day and night to equip and train Esso Dealers to render this remarkable new tire service. Thousands are ready now. Others are being added to the list every day. Ask the Esso Dealer in your neighborhood to explain this important new service.

This is the Tire Life Indicator—part of the new Esso Dealer Service. It gives your tires a new lease on life!

New Esso Dealer Tire Service helps you get amazing extra mileage

How would you like to discover that your present set of tires contains far more mileage than you may have thought possible even with the best of care?

This is not an idle question. Back of it is a new and scientific method of increasing tire life. Tests have already been made at a number of Esso Dealer stations. In 16 out of every 17 cases car owners were literally amazed at the extra mileage their present tires could deliver. The chances are that you can get a lot more mileage too. See the Esso Dealer in your neighborhood.

Minute Jumping . . . . .

From atop the Empire State Building you can look across at the giant clock in the Metropolitan Tower. The minute-hand on this clock is seventeen feet long and weighs a ton. Each minute it jumps a foot! Watching it, you can see it jump. Each hour it jumps 60 feet—each day 1440 feet.

That minute-hand is a reminder that life is a matter of minute-jumping. How high we jump in a year, or a lifetime, simply is the grand total of our minute-jumping!

Each minute gives you an opportunity to jump toward your goal. Jump upward by using that minute to push your work, start an important letter, begin a friendship, learn something new, or renew your faith. Let each minute find you a jump ahead on the path to your heart's desire.

Where you are today depends upon the minute-jumping you did during your yesterdays. Where you will be tomorrow depends upon the minute-jumping you do from now on! Use each minute to jump toward the bigger, broader, finer life that can be yours!—The Silver Lining.

OAKLAND HIGH INSTRUCTORS ARE ANNOUNCED

Teachers In Four Other High Schools Of County To Be Announced Next Week, Mr. Rathbun States

Instructors who will teach in Oakland High school for the coming school term were announced this morning by F. E. Rathbun, County Superintendent, but the appointments to the Friendsville, Accident, Kitzmiller and Grantsville schools were not complete and will not be released for publication until next week, it was stated. The appointments as made are subject to approval by the County Board of Education.

There are nine new instructors listed in places of those who resigned for various causes, among the total of twenty-three teachers in the local school.

Foster D. Bittle was reappointed principal, and those who are returning include Catherine Baker, fine arts; Marshall Brown, social studies, library; Mrs. Ruth C. Brown, music, English; Mrs. Adrian Carter, home economics, related science; Helen Custer, English; Ruth Field, physical education, social studies; Dorothea Fridinger, English; Mary Lyle Glotfelty, mathematics; O. T. Graser, agriculture, farm shop, related science; Mrs. Palma Lucente-Hennigan, home economics, related science; Ruth Ann Poling, music, English; Ervin Smith, commercial subjects, commercial law, business economics; Ernest Spoerlein, vocational guidance, mathematics, science of aeronautics.

New Instructors

Nine new instructors were listed by the County Superintendent, as follows:

Asa Lewis, assistant principal, social studies. Mr. Lewis has been principal of Kempton High school which has been closed, the pupils to be transported to Thomas High school in West Virginia.

Mr. Rathbun said the problems of this position are increasing from year to year due to the larger number of pupils, new teachers and limited building facilities.

Mary Rosamond Allen, mathematics. Miss Allen has a master's degree from the University of West Virginia at Morgantown, and has taught during the past three years at Charleston, W. Va., with several years' experience elsewhere preceding that at Charleston. Her home is at Brookside, W. Va.

Martha Virginia Brown, physical education, biology, home economics. Miss Brown is a graduate of Fairmont State Teachers College, in West Virginia, and her home is near Grafton.

Luda V. Semenuk, physical education and social studies. Miss Semenuk, from Shinnston, W. Va., holds a Bachelor's degree from Fairmont State Teachers' College as also a Master's degree from Ohio University, Athens, Ohio. Miss Semenuk taught last year in Wyatt high school, Wyatt, West Va.

Mildred S. Fike, general science, biology. Miss Fike holds a B.S. and Master's degree from the University of West Virginia, and recently taught at Masontown, W. Va., with previous experience in Bramwell Senior High school in southern West Virginia.

Eugene Harpold, industrial arts, defense training. Mr. Harpold holds a B.S. degree from the University of Terra Haute, in Indiana, and has taught industrial arts in Kitzmiller during the past five years.

In addition, Mr. Harpold will carry on an extensive program of training high school students for defense work in the fields of acetylene and electric welding, auto mechanics and other defense training activities. Mr. Harpold will continue his work upon the request of the Federal Government as coordinator for Garrett county of defense training activities for adults in fields such as aircrafts and ships as well as related wood working activities. Mr. Rathbun said the Government's plans for this call for doubling the number of trainees during the coming winter over the number trained last year.

Sybilla J. Paynter, English, French. Miss Paynter is a recent graduate of the Woman's College, Duke University, Durham, N. C., and holds a B.S. degree from that college. Her home is in Salisbury, Md.

Robert Sprague, social studies, chemistry, biology and physical education. Mr. Sprague was assistant teacher in the Kempton high school.

Virginia Weeks, commercial subjects, commercial law, business economics. Miss Weeks who resides in Loch Lynn Heights, is a graduate of Bowling Green Business college, in Kentucky. She has been instructor in a business college in Morgantown, W. Va., the last few years, with previous high school teaching in the State of Virginia.

Teachers who will not return this year are Elizabeth Powell, Thomas V. Baucom, Crystal Elliott, Barbara Ann Fogelsanger, Carl Everly, Warren Gillespie, Mildred Bittinger, Charles Ward and Mrs. Genevieve Ward.

Mr. Rathbun said that public schools of the county would open on Tuesday, September 8, the day following Labor Day.

An all-day teachers' meeting is scheduled for Friday, September 18.

With Our Men In the Service

Robert W. Muma, of Cumberland, and well known figure in Deep Creek Lake yachting circles was sent by the navy recruiting station to the Baltimore induction station last Friday. Muma enlisted for service in the Navy M-2 classification which confines its activities to the operation of small craft.

* * *

Army enlistments Monday at Cumberland included Bernard L. Wills, of Shallmar.

* * *

Harold Y. Resh, Grantsville, and Shirley M. Ramsey, Oakland, have completed preliminary training at the Norfolk naval station and are home on leave.

* * *

Corporal Daniel L. Riley, who has been stationed for some time in Dilworth, N. C., has been transferred to Camp Blanding, Florida.

* * *

Sergeant Stanley Calhoun, who is stationed at Camp Stewart, Savannah, Ga., is spending a seven-day furlough at the home of his father, M. C. Calhoun, on route 219.

* * *

Richard M. Wilson, of Germania, W. Va., who enlisted in the Navy and who completed his preliminary training at Norfolk, Va., has been assigned to duty in the Alaskan area. He is a son of Mrs. Nelle M. Wilson.

* * *

E. Wayne Fitzwater, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzwater, of near Swanton, was advanced to the rank of captain in the U. S. Marine corps on Monday, August 17. He was stationed at the Marine base at Quantico, Va., but has received orders for a change of station.

W. N. Savage Sells to National Publication

Miss Katherine Piper, secretary to Guy H. Richardson, editor of Our Dumb Animals, published monthly at Boston, Mass., recently notified Wilbert N. Savage, Sang Run, of the acceptance of an illustrated article submitted in early July.

Our Dumb Animals is widely circulated, and is the official publication of the American Humane Education Society and the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Mr. Savage's article, "King of The Skies," deals with our American bald eagle, its habits, when it became our national emblem, etc.

STUDY RURAL WAR PRODUCTION TRAINING

Department of Education Will Sponsor Courses for Garrett County Farmers

A program for rural war production training for both Garrett and Allegany counties was formulated at a meeting of educators in the office of the Board of Education at Cumberland last Friday afternoon. Dr. H. F. Cotterman, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, and James R. Ward, supervisor of rural war production training, both from the State Department of Education, Baltimore, were in charge.

This year's program again will be featured by courses to train farmers in the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery, supplemented by instruction in methods to achieve production goals in farm commodities designated by the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Besides its mechanical phase, the course will include training in metal work, woodwork and elementary electricity; and methods of increasing milk, poultry, eggs, pork, beef, mutton, lamb, wool, soybean, peanut and commercial vegetable production.

Classes Start Soon

The rural war production training will be operated by the State and County Departments of Education, actual classes to begin as soon as organization and development of proper forms for approval can be enacted.

Other educators attending Friday's meeting were Charles L. Kopp, Allegany county superintendent of schools; F. E. Rathbun, superintendent of Garrett county schools; James H. House, district co-ordinator; J. D. Lonnholm and Eugene Harpold, Allegany and Garrett county co-ordinators, and the following school principals and vocational agriculture teachers: B. O. Aiken, of Accident; George E. Reiter, of Oldtown; Elsie Hill Roland, of Flintstone; O. T. Graser, of Oakland; Charley B. Miller, of Friendsville; Lawrence Faith, of Grantsville, and V. O. Dolly, of Oldtown.

Md. Married Men To Be Inducted Starting in October

Others with Dependents Also to Be Called, Stanwood Says

Every effort will be made by Maryland selective service officials to avoid disturbing the production of war materials even though married men and others with dependents may be inducted as early as October, Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state director, has stated.

He assured A. A. Liverwright, area director of the War Manpower Commission, that selective service officials would give full support to the effort to effect voluntary transfer of essential workers into war plants, and expressed the hope that employers and employes both would co-operate with the plan.

Will Take Plant Workers

"The pressure of requirements for the armed services has become so great in Maryland," Col. Stanwood said, "that we are now telling the war production industries that we must take their young men who can be replaced with men who are not subject to military service, or with women.

"Even though we take large numbers of young men with limited industrial training and skills, it appears inevitable that we must in the near future induct many men who are now in deferred classifications because they have dependents.

"According to present plans, when we make selections of men with dependents, we will give considerable weight to the occupational status of the man as well as to his dependency status. This will mean that we will induct few men, at least for the present, who have essential skills and we are using them effectively for the war effort.

Stanwood Sees Difficulties

"We expect to adhere closely to the expressed intent of the Congress that family relationships be disturbed as little as possible, but some disruption of these relationships will be unavoidable," Col. Stanwood continued. "It is a difficult choice between a man without dependents who is essential to war production and a family man who is not performing essential work.

"Our experience of duty will be greatly aided if skilled workers in non-essential industry will transfer voluntarily to those plants which are making weapons of war."

Maryland must contribute 173,000 tons of scrap iron and steel by December 31 to fill its quota.

Jaycees Select Roy and Thayer

Dwight Roy and Percy Thayer were the persons selected by the Jaycees this week in continuing their "service man" project.

Roy is located somewhere in Australia, and Thayer is at Keesler Field, Mississippi.

Response still remains good and the members urge citizens to continue to write and send gifts to the soldiers selected each week. Robert Lawton and George Root, selected last week, received quite a number of letters and gifts, those in charge stated.

Patapsco Camp Will Be Made Seamen's Rest

Garrett County Site Is Rejected Because of Distance from Ports

Governor O'Conor announced Tuesday that officials of the war shipping board and state selective service officers had reached a verbal agreement to convert the Patapsc State Park camp for conscientious objectors into a merchant seamen's retreat.

The agreement followed the war shipping board's earlier objection to a camp site, selected last week, near Oakland, which formerly housed the army's CCC project in Garrett county. The board objected on the ground the camp would be a "great distance" from Baltimore.

O'Conor said that the Patapsco camp would be occupied by seamen when final details of the transfer are worked out by the war shipping board, selective service officials and the board of public works.

"This is the first such retreat for merchant seamen on the east coast," he said. "I have been notified that not only will men whose port is Baltimore be permitted to use the camp but the war shipping board intends to send men from the ports of New York and Norfolk, Va., to Patapsco."

O'Conor said that the state had agreed to transport the men to the camp from Baltimore.

The conscientious objectors' camp would be moved elsewhere when selective service officials decide where they want it located. The governor said that although they might be sent to Oakland several other sites could be considered.

The Patapsco Camp has facilities for 125 men but must be enlarged to accommodate from 200 to 250. O'Conor said that the expense involved "is small."

Dairy Farmers Win Registered Jersies

Three Garrett county and one Allegany county dairy farmer last Saturday received registered Jersey bulls from Governor O'Conor, presented at the University of Maryland in behalf of Jersey breeders of the state as part of a nation-wide Victory Bull campaign sponsored by the American Cattle club.

Winners were selelcted on the basis of herd development, contributing to the herd industry and need for a blooded bull for breeding purposes.

Those receiving the bulls were W. P. DeBerry and Charles Randall Jordan, Oakland; Sam Yoder, Grantsville, and F. B. Cosgrove, Westernport.

Beulah V. Stevey May Be Paroled

Mrs. Beulah V. Stevey, twenty-four-year-old Garrett county housewife serving a two year term in the Maryland Women's prison for manslaughter, may be paroled soon.

Mrs. Stevey, one of 120 Maryland convicts given hearings last Thursday, by State Parole Director Herman M. Moser, was sentenced last December for the fatal shooting of her sixty-three-year-old husband.

"If she obtains suitable employment, I am sure the state would have no objection to her parole," Moser said. "Testimony at her trial disclosed she shot her husband following a series of domestic quarrels in which he often had threatened her and their three children."

USO Drive Totals $1,074.98

The amount of the United Service Organization fund to date is $1,074.98, it was announced this morning by Cecil Smith, treasurer.

Of the total Oakland contributed $301.65; Friendsville, $177.65; Kitzmiller, $155.50; Mt. Lake Park $133; Crellin, $114; Grantsville, $112.50; Deer Park, $71.05; Swanton, $9.63.

C. L. Briner, Jr., chairman for the county, said that there were still some places to report.

CEILING PRICES BEING MAINTAINED IN COUNTY

Leo H. McCormick, State OPA Head, Says Cooperation Here Is Considered Excellent

A survey of inspection of retail stores in Oakland and the rest of the county indicates that ceiling prices are being generally maintained, according to Leo H. McCormick, Baltimore, state director of the Office of Price Administration.

Mr. McCormick and others from the state office were in Garrett county yesterday and he stated that cooperation in this area was excellent and that from now on there should be no difficulty in everyone observing the price regulations.

He said an inspector will be in the county again in the near future.

Mr. McCormick indicated also that there probably would be additional commodities to come under the ration system. He complimented the Garrett County Board for the work which its members had done and for the condition of the affairs of the office.

Inspectors stressed four points: that ceiling prices be calculated correctly, that ceiling prices of all cost-of-living items be posted in plain view in the store; that a list of prices on cost-of-living items be filed with the local rationing board; and that a complete list of ceiling prices on all merchandise be available in the store.

Accompanying Mr. McCormick on his trip were Edward H. Cashell, administrative officer; J. William Eggleston, state rationing director; and James D. Degnan, state organization officer.

Mr. McCormick called attention to the heavy penalties contained in the General Maximum Price Regulaltions as well as consumer's suits.

Garrett Farmer Suffocates When Trapped in Mine

Ernest Bowser, Near Grantsville, Pinned by Rock in Sand Hole

Ernest Bowser, 53, farmer of near Grantsville, was pronounced dead Monday afternoon from suffocation after he was trapped in a sand mine when the roof caved in.

Graydon S. Dunlap, State trooper, who investigated the accident, said Bowser was dead when he was brought from the mine. Efforts of the Grantsville Fire Department and State police, who were using the Cumberland Police department's resuscitator, proved futile.

Dunlap said Bowser was working in the mine with a group of boys who were stationed at the entrance. Dunlap said a 600-pound rock pinnioned Bowser under the sand fall and the boys had to work several minutes to recover the body. He said Bowser's body was shattered by the fall.

According to persons nearby, farmers living near the mine which is located five miles west of Grantsville along Amish road on Negro mountain, have been taking sand from the mine for use on their farms. Several other men were working in the mine Monday morning but left before the fall.

Bowser was married and leaves besides his widow a number of grown children.

Surviving Mr. Bowser are his widow and six children, Russell Bowser, in the U. S. Army; Wilbur, Olin and Alvin, at home; Mrs. Harold Green and Mrs. Park Hetrick, Negro Mountain; also three brothers and one sister, William Bowser, Bittinger; George Bowser, Jennings; Samuel Bowser, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Silas Beachy, Bittinger.

Lions Club to Meet At Boy Scout Camp

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club will hold its next meeting on Monday, August 31, at the Boy Scout camp on the Lake. William Gibson is providing the meal.

At the last meeting Rev. Minor Sprague had charge of the program. The first part consisted of a skit in which Paul Turney, Virgil Kelley, Herbert Leighton and Max Jarboe took part. The second part was a quiz program conducted by Rev. Sprague.

All Lions present wrote Corporal Robert Lawton, a short note in conjunction with the Junior Chamber of Commerce "service man" project as Lawton's name was one of those selected this week. Service men's diaries have been purchased and are being sent to the five members of the club who are now in the armed forces.

County Spends $16,190 For Welfare in July

Garrett county's public assistance bill for July amounted to $16,190.42, according to a report released by J. Milton Patterson, director of the State Department of Public Welfare.

This was shared as follows: old age, $7,691.65; dependent children, $5,319.13; needy blind, $197.19; general public assistance $2,553.34; foster home care, $424.11.

In Allegany county a total of $35,532.67 was expended in July.

Cumberland Engineer Dies in Car Accident On Route 40 Sunday

Clement B. Huntsman Killed As Car Hits Culvert on Little Savage

Clement B. Huntsman, 67, Cumberland, retired Baltimore and Ohio railroad engineer, was killed instantly at 11 o'clock Sunday morning when the car he was driving struck a westbound truck and then crashed against a culvert on route 40, between Big and Little Savage mountains, east of Grantsville. The car was completely demolished.

State police said Huntsman lost control of his car while rounding a sharp curve and struck the Pittsburgh-bound van-type truck driven by Michael A. Dusic, Cumberland, former Oakland resident. The road was wet from rain.

The truck was only slightly damaged and neither Dusic, his wife, young son nor brother-in-law was injured. Mrs. Daisy Smith, a passenger in Huntsman's car, also escaped injury.

Huntsman's body was taken to Frostburg where it was viewed by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner. He received a fractured skull and other injuries. No charges were entered against Dusic.

The fatal accident was the third in Garrett county this year and the second during August. The first occurred in January and the second on August 8, when Lonnie McCrady, Parkersburg, plunged down the embankment near Gorman.

Thirty-One Leave For Service Today

Thirty-one young men who were inducted into the army on August 13, and who had taken advantage of the two-week furlough period, left this morning by train for Camp Lee, Va., to begin training.

They include Glenn R. Alexander, Hugh R. Fazenbaker, Harold W. Fazenbaker, Jerry E. Ray, James E. Weicht, Harold G. Gortner, Grover C. Green, Raymond E. Butler, Carl H. Everly, Franklin E. Sweitzer, Edison C. Broadwater, Harper P. Paugh, Lemuel L. McKenzie, Luther W. Savage, George C. Sanders, James A. Bowman.

Stanley J. Friend, Everett C. Lewellen, Iven V. Harvey, John P. Burzenski, Francis J. Spoerlein, Frederick W. Helbig, Floyd T. Hoover, Jefferson J. Lohr, Raymond T. Failinger, Harry Brown, Joseph L. Burrell, Michael A. Orbin, Clifton E. Holliday, James M. Maust, Arvil C. Garlitz.

Six others who were inducted on August 13, went directly to camp. They were Walter Clifton Thrasher, Timothy Michael Gilmore, Jr., Wade Frazee, Alfred Paul Wolfe, Max Lee White, Doran Madison Ellis.

Another list of inductees is being made up, according to H. L. Jones, draft board clerk, and this group will leave about the middle of next month.

Plans Progress for K. of P. Celebration

As plans progress for the annual Labor Day picnic, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias lodge, it was announced this week that all profits from the celebration would be invested in war bonds.

The Ideal Exhibition Shows, which will furnish entertainment will come here from Winchester, Va., and will stay the entire week, from September 7 to 12.

Those in charge of the parade are asking the young people who have bicycles to participate in the procession.

Tire Quota Fixed

The tire quota for Garrett county for September has been fixed as follows: passenger tires, 6; retreads, 148; and tubes, 99.

Truck tires, 150; retreads, 139; and tubes, 113.

JURORS CHOSEN FOR SEPTEMBER TERM OF COURT

Edward A. Shaffer Named Foreman of Grand Jury Which Convenes on Monday, September 14

Grand and petit jurors for the September Term of the Garrett County Circuit court were selected Tuesday morning in the office of A. G. Ross, clerk of the Circuit court by Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan, in the presence of local attorneys and court officials.

The Grand jurors are ordered to report on Monday, September 14, at 10 o'clock a. m., to begin their investigation into alleged offenses against the laws of the land. Edward A. Shaffer, Oakland, was named foreman of the grand jury, and the other twenty-one men who will compose the grand inquest will be Horace L. Coddington, John W. McIntire, Albert Baker, Charles V. Harvey, Clarence O. White, Franklin E. Spoerlein, Lloyd W. Cook, Jimmy Vodopivec, Joseph L. Matthews, Patrick R. Maroney, E. Scott Duckworth, Ervin S. Tichnell, Elliott E. Devers, Hayward S. Custer, Harry L. Porter, Roy Gibbs, T. F. O'Donnell, Carlton M. Lohr, Albert S. Shaffer, Aubrey C. Brenneman, Herman C. Broadwater, Paul Friend.

Twenty-five men compose the petit jury and they include Herbert B. Buckel, Bradford Blocher, Robert Campbell, Raymond E. Bittinger, M. V. Kildow, Jasper T. Fike, Ramsey Smith, W. R. Beckman, Thomas Devine, Howard S. Hoffman, Harry C. Sincell, W. S. Arnold, Lester Bittinger, Harry S. Mickey, Wilbur N. Savage, Noah Frazee, Arthur L. Friend, Charles J. Emmart, Asa A. Callis, Richard L. Howard, Earl L. Hare, Owen Mattingly, Adam J. Richter, Vernon C. Beachy, Frisby Humberson.

The criminal docket will not be called until more than a week after the grand jury concludes its sessions.

Whitworth Accepts Party Call to Run As Attorney General

Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., of Westernport, has accepted the offer of the slate-making committee of the Republican party in Maryland to be its candidate for attorney general at the November election. His papers of candidacy were filed Saturday night in Annapolis.

Whitworth will oppose Attorney General William C. Walsh, Cumberland, who is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

The Republican committee decided not to enter a candidate on the ticket for State Comptroller, leaving J. Millard Tawes, incumbent, unopposed for re-election. Several weeks ago Theodore R. McKeldin, Baltimore attorney, accepted the Republican gubernatorial bid of the committee. Since that time W. Pinkey West, Jr., Baltimore, also announced for governor.

Mr. Whitworth, a native of Westernport, graduated from the University of Maryland Law School in 1904, one of three honor men of his class. He is fifty-nine years of age and since admittance to the Bar has practiced law in Allegany county, maintaining offices in Westernport, where he is associated in practice with his son, Horace P. Whitworth, Jr.

Applicants Wanted For Position In Aircraft Factory

Representatives from the factory of Fairchild Aircraft, Hagerstown, Maryland, will be at the Oakland office of the United States Employment Service in the Mance building on Friday, September 11, between the hours of 10:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m., to interview applicants for employment at Hagerstown.

The age requirements are 18 to 45 for women and 17 to 45 for men. No experience is necessary.

Interested persons are requested to visit the Oakland office and complete an application and obtain full particulars before the date of interview.

The last interview was held on August 7, at which time sixty persons were interviewed, many of which were offered employment.

Mr. Paul Fitez, Employment Manager for Fairchild Aircraft, stated he was well pleased with the type of applicants interviewed at Oakland and requested that another pooled interview be held.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Let Him Now Buckle Down

Washington, Aug. 22.

It is a rather dreadful thing that, in the midst of so terrible a war, there should be widespread gratification over any discomfiture to the Commander in Chief. But, certainly, popular satisfaction with the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt's candidate in the recent New York State Democratic convention has been as general as pronounced.

* * *

Neither the face-saving gestures of his friends nor the President's own transparent insistence that he had no candidate; that there was no fight between Mr. Farley and himself; that he was too busy with the war to take any interest in politics—none of these contentions diminishes the discredit of a performance which only those tied to him personally or politically attempted to defend—because none of them is true. The truth is that after personally assuring Mr. Farley that he had no objection to Attorney General Bennett, Mr. Roosevelt made himself the center of the Farley-Bennett opposition and used his personal influence to force the reluctant Senator Mead to enter the field. Through "Eddie" (Paving Blocks) Flynn and other New Deal aides, he extended himself to the limit to ditch Mr. Farley's candidate and force his own choice on the convention. Had he succeeded, Mr. Farley would have been eliminated from political life and Administration control of the 1944 New York delegates assured.

* * *

Every posted newspaperman and politician knows these things to be true. Instead of rising above the level of politics and centering his whole energy upon winning the war, Mr. Roosevelt has been revealed as guilty of exactly the kind of partisan political activity he had urged should be abandoned until our enemies have been crushed. When one considers the vast responsibilities the war has placed upon the President; when one knows how far from effectively his war machine in Washington is functioning; when one realizes that the lives of millions of young Americans and the fate of the nation itself depend upon the quality of our national leadership, the part played by the White House in this New York factional struggle is peculiarly revolting.

* * *

It would be much worse than any loss of Presidential prestige if popular belief in the President's sincerity and singlemindedness should be shaken at this time. Faith in his wholehearted, unselfish concentration upon the war effort is vital to the success of the United Nations. He has no right to risk shattering that faith no matter what the political or personal temptation. As things turned out, he has sustained a totally unnecessary defeat which has damaged him personally and conferred no benefit upon the great cause to which he is supposed to be wholly dedicated. He has wasted both time and energy, neither of which he could spare, and to a considerable extent has justified the condemnatory comments that have followed the convention.

* * *

In addition, by press conference evasions and the slyness with which he directed this political campaign while pretending to have nothing to do with it, he has forfeited the respect of at least some who heretofore have been friendly. There is no mystery about the somewhat extraordinary unanimity with which press and people were pleased with the outcome of this struggle. For one thing, there was a general feeling that the President, without justification, had protruded himself into the contest—had, in fact, made the contest. There was also more than a little resentment over the manner in which New York politicians had been running in and out of the White House and a pretty deep-seated notion that there was distinct impropriety—to be mild about it—in any Presidential participation in such a fight at such a time.

* * *

There was the further feeling that Mr. Farley had not been decently dealt with; that this was an effort to "liquidate" him; that, take them all in all, he is about the straightest, cleanest, most honorable politician in the country—a man whose word is always good and whose loyalty to his friends has not been questioned. For still another thing, there was very great relief in every part of the country that the radical leaders of the American Labor party, with whom Mr. Roosevelt has conferred and cooperated, were unable to bully Mr. Farley into dropping his candidate or to dictate the course of a major political party in the greatest of the States. Probably there were other reasons, but these are enough to account for the fact that no more popular political victory that Mr. Farley's over Mr. Roosevelt has been recorded for quite a while.

As to the "party harmony" about which Mr. Roosevelt so touchingly wrote to Governor Lehman, there should be no trouble about getting it with Mr. Bennett. Certainly, the President and his Labor party friends do not want Mr. Dewey elected Governor. They must know that lukewarmness on their part toward Mr. Bennett tends straight in that direction. They will bluff around for a while, of course, but in the end the labor professionals have no real alternative. At any rate, it is hoped that from now on the President, abandoning his political diversions, will put everything he has in the way of thought and time and energy into the war effort. The confidence of the country would hardly stand another exhibition of White House politics. Heaven knows there are enough important things crying to be done—and undone—in Washington to tax the full strength of any man. Let the President buckle down now to them and forget there is such a thing as politics.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—American marines were credited officially with the capture of Solomon islands on which they landed two weeks previous and were mopping up on at least three islands. Stories from the Dieppe Commando raid told of smashing Allied attacks on German positions. The Nazis feared new uprisings among natives and rounded up 1,000 hostages in Holland. News from Russia was that Germans were within 75 miles of Stalingrad. Brazil's people were furious over Nazi U-boat sinking of their ships and there was possibility of that country declaring war on Germany. RAF pilots swept over northern France and American flying fortresses bombed railway yards at Amiens.

SATURDAY — U. S. flying fortresses, 11 of them, encountered 25 new Nazi battle planes over North Sea and in 20 minutes six enemy were downed, all fortresses returned with one badly damaged. Military experts were considering that the Dieppe raid showed possibilities of opening successful second front. Nazis were claiming Allied losses were so great that there was no danger of second front. They claimed 2,095 prisoners. Japs hinted at new U. S. blow on island in mid-Pacific in Gilbert group. A naval-air battle was in progress off coast of Portugal. Russians yielded ground but said there was no break-through. Reds bombed Warsaw and East Prussia. Brazilian and U. S. airmen were patroling coastline in search of U-boats. Serbs wrecked a train to continue guerilla warfare.

SUNDAY—Brazil joined allies in war on Axis. RAF revisited Dieppe and found guns stilled and very little opposition in anti-aircraft. Germans hammered at Stalingrad and continued to advance in Caucasus. U. S. navy announced that subs in Pacific sank four Jap ships, possibly one destroyer, raising toll to 60 sunk. A Jap stab at Solomons failed with 700 killed. Chinese widened their hold on Chekiang-Kiangsi railway to 80 miles and wiped out many enemy troops. British declared 1,000-plane raids will be stepped up.

MONDAY — German armies were beating closer each day to Stalingrad and deeper into Caucasus. Russians however were vigorously counter-attacking. Brazil summed up her strength at two battleships and two cruisers, old; four subs and a dozen destroyers; 100,000 trained and 300,000 partially trained troops; an air force of 5,000 men; construction of 600 new airfields. Uruguay, Colombia and Venezuela were reported on verge of war. Chinese were driving the Japs away from important railway and were within 20 miles of potential U. S. air base which could be used to bomb Japan. A flying tiger stated upon return from China that 100 fighters and fifty bombers in China could wipe out Jap air power in China. The largest American convoy of the war arrived in Britain with vast quantities of war materials, fighting units, etc.

TUESDAY—Churchill returned to England from Russia and Middle East. Brazil confiscated 17 Axis ships and closed their banks. Chinese recaptured Linchwan a big Jap base in Kiangsi province and pressed on in new drives. U. S. fortresses bombed Nazi shipyards near Rouen, in France. Russians fought grimly to stem a twin Nazi drive on Stalingrad. There was increased air activity over Egyptian desert and continued Axis efforts to get convoys across Mediterranean.

WEDNESDAY — A million Germans and their armored might were pushing on Stalingrad and in the Caucasus German Alpinists were ascending the high passes in their drive on the oil fields. The Japs were counter-attacking in Solomon Islands with naval units and U. S. navy announced a critical battle. They listed a Jap battleship, two aircraft carriers, several cruisers and a transport effectively bombed. A drive by British to relieve Russia was predicted soon. Churchill promised a defense of Egypt as if it were England, as the desert battle was about ready to be removed. Allied planes visited Rhineland cities.

THURSDAY — Russia disclosed it was making its own second front with a 15-day offensive on a 125-mile front before Moscow, and progressed 25 miles, killing 45,000 Germans and recapturing more than 600 towns and villages. Germans meanwhile advanced on Stalingrad and into Caucasus. Strong Jap naval forces in Solomon area were beaten back by American forces with many hits on Jap warships but battle was still in progress. Chinese laid siege to Chuhsien, site of important air base for air attack on Japan. Considerable movement of Axis troops was noted in Egypt desert indicating a decisive battle may begin there.

The Senate tentatively decided to lower personal credit for dependents from $400 to $300 and to tax all future issues of state and municipal bonds.

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

A Baltimore News columnist, Louis Azrael, believes the busiest business in Baltimore county is that of making steel ships, and the second busiest business, that of the slot machines.

We print some of his comments either to show how much alike two counties could be, or how fortunate Garrett county could be in being dissimilar. But is it?

But at least in Baltimore county Azrael says "Something's funny down that way. Maybe the people haven't heard of the State-wide law against slot-machine gambling. Or maybe the police don't recognize a machine when they see one. Or maybe they don't see. Or maybe other things that are more easily believed."

This columnist made a special trip along two highways and found them at every stop with most of them busy.

He added, "Even though the police don't seem to know anything about these places, the politicians apparently found them with little difficulty. In every place, with one exception, campaign posters hung on the wails."

Most of you know Garrett county pretty well. Is it similar to Baltimore county or isn't it?

Sines-Johnson Homecoming

The Sines and Johnson reunion and homecoming will be held Sunday, September 6, at Sines.

The Sunday School session will be held at 10 a. m., followed at 11 o'clock by a program of singing and speaking. An afternoon program is also planned following the dinner.

In Marine Corps

PVT. WILLARD H. RINGER

Private Willard H. Ringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ringer, Cranesville, W. Va., is now in the United States Marine corps, having enlisted on July 23.

He is now at Parris Island, S. C., and will complete his training there on September 28, after which he will be assigned to duty.

Ringer is a grandson of the late Thomas and Fannie Haigh. He was graduated from Terra Alta high school in 1939.

T. B. Clinic Scheduled

The regular monthly tuberculosis clinic has been scheduled for Wednesday morning, September 9, beginning at 9 a. m., at the county health office in the Court House.

Revival Closes

The annual revival and evangelistic meetings of the Deep Creek Baptist church closed Sunday evening, August 23, with the pastor, Rev. B. Finney Bragg, speaking on the subject, "Final Judgment." The meetings closed with good success, three visiting ministers having helped the pastor: Rev. E. S. Price, Second Baptist church, Cumberland; Rev. Wm. B. Orndorff, former pastor, now at Eckhart, and Rev. E. C. Tull, Brookmont.

There were seven additions to the church, one by letter and six by Baptism. This brings the total awaiting Baptism to fourteen. These will be immersed Sunday afternoon, August 30, at 3:00 o'clock.

Be Sure to Give Him plenty of the Right Foods!

Nurses and doctors can tell you that a high percentage of functional disturbances, bringing hospitalization, lost time, and distress, are the direct result of poor selection and preparation of food. It isn't enough, we know, to eat regularly and until our appetites are satisfied. To keep well and strong, we must give our bodies the basic essentials they need. The U. S. needs US strong to win this war!

Every Day "Musts" for Good Health

It's no longer "scientific folderol" that you should have these things every day:

- Whole grain or enriched bread or cereal
- Butter or other spreads
- Green and yellow leafy vegetables
- An orange, grapefruit, or tomatoes
- Meat, poultry, or fish
- Eggs
- Two to four glasses of whole milk

Eat whatever else you like, but make sure of these things. All of us are buying more wisely because of present food costs. We should also see to it that what we buy is properly refrigerated and prepared to save the health-giving elements. If you'd like information about war-time menus for better health, call our home economics kitchen. These menus are free and may help you solve the family food problem. If they also help you to save food dollars, turn them into bonds and stamps. We've got to keep Uncle Sam strong and healthy, too!

In today's Republican Mr. Frazee advertises at public auction live stock, farming implements and household goods, the sale to occur at his home on September 12. Mr. Frazee's farm, or the greater portion of it, has been taken over by the Government and will become a portion of the flood control project of the Youghiogheny River Valley. Following the sale Mr. Frazee and family will move to a point near Harnedsville, Pa., where Mr. Frazee has already purchased a farm. Thus Garrett county loses another good citizen and progressive agriculturalist.

MARRIED

LIVINGSTON-STUCK — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Stuck, of Second street, Oakland, was the scene of a pretty wedding when their daughter, Miss Adaline Virginia Stuck became the bride of Mr. Homer L. Livingston, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Livingston, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Minor Sprague on Saturday afternoon, August 22, at 2:30 o'clock.

The bride wore a long white dress of Jersey and a corsage of orchids. Miss Helen Giessman, of Oakland, was maid of honor, and Jack Livingston, of Pittsburgh, was best man. Miss Giessman wore a long light blue dress of Jersey and a corsage of yellow and white roses.

Mrs. Livingston is a graduate of Oakland High school and attended Hood College, at Frederick. She was graduated from the Institute of Art in Pittsburgh, and for the past two years has been teaching designing and art at the School of Louise Salniger, Pittsburgh. Mr. Livingston is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. He is a metallurgist and is employed in one of the steel mills of that city.

A reception was held following the ceremony for the two families and a few intimate friends. Immediately after the reception the couple left for a short honeymoon through Ohio and a cruise on the Great Lakes. Upon their return they will be at home at 3323 Beechwood Boulevard, Pittsburgh.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Livingston and son, Jack, Mrs. Charles Dent, of New York City; Mrs. H. A. Clark, Pittsburgh; Mr. W. F. Shick, Newburg, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Wiles and son, Monessen, Pa.

BROADWATER-DIELING — Mr. and Mrs. George Dieling, New Germany, announce the marriage of their daughter, Anne, to Glen Dale Broadwater, private first class, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Broadwater. The ceremony was performed last Wednesday afternoon, August 19, in St. Stephen's Catholic church, Grantsville; with Rev. Dominick Unger officiating. Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Beatrice Frazee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazee, Friendsville, to Mr. Nordeck Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shaffer, Crellin.

The ceremony was performed Saturday night, August 22, by the Rev. J. C. Foster, pastor of the U. B. church, at Loch Lynn.

The bride is employed at Rudy's department store, Oakland, while the groom is a yeoman in the U. S. Navy, stationed at Washington, D. C.

DIED

CHARLES EDGAR WHITE

Charles Edgar White, aged 77, died at his home on Oak street about 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning, August 22. He had been in failing health for some time but his death was not expected. He had been a patient for a day in a Cumberland hospital about two months ago but had returned to his home here.

Mr. White was born July 23, 1865, in Oakland, and was a son of the late Rowan and Margaret White. He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church and the Holy Name Society.

He was married to Theresa Helbig and she died twenty-one years ago.

Surviving are two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Delia Slabaugh, Akron, O.; Miss Bert White, Oak street, and George D. White, Third street.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the Catholic church with Rev. Fr. John C. Broderick, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Pallbearers were Wendell Turney, Russell Brown, Francis R. Shaffer, Frederick Thayer, Leo Helbig, and J. Edward Helbig.

SARAH ELIZABETH FERGUSON

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Ferguson died at her home at Turner-Douglas, near Crellin, last evening.

She was a daughter of the late Isaac and Catharine Strawser and was born at Cranesville, W. Va., May 8, 1866. She was aged 76 years.

Surviving are six sons and one daughter, Arthur and Amos Ferguson, Reedsville, W. Va.; Mrs. Martha Sloan, Deer Park; Joseph F. Ferguson, Crellin; William F. Ferguson, of Stottler's Cross Roads, W. Va.; Roy Ferguson, of Quantico, Va.; George F. Ferguson, Deer Park, and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral service will be conducted from the U. B. church in Loch Lynn on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. J. E. Johnson. Interment will be in the Hoyes cemetery.

CARRIE KERINS MOORE

Mrs. Carrie Kerins Moore died Friday, August 14, at the Springfield State hospital, Sykesville. She was a daughter of Mrs. Ida Kerins George and was aged 24 years.

Surviving are her husband, Dallas Moore, and mother, three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Alice Cooper, Gormania; Mrs. Edith Cooper, Vindex; Mrs. Anna Ahern, Westernport; Luther Kerins, Mt. Lake Park.

Funeral services were conducted from her home near Loch Lynn on Sunday afternoon, with Rev. J. C. Foster in charge. Interment was in Mt. Nebo cemetery.

ALBERT WALTER SHAFFER

Albert Walter Shaffer, formerly of the Gortner community, died at his home in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Tuesday, August 25, following an illness of long duration. He was aged 67 years.

Mr. Shaffer was a son of the late Henry and Catherine Shaffer and was born in Oakland September 9, 1875. He was a member of the Catholic church. He left Oakland about nineteen years ago.

Surviving are his widow, who was Miss Mary Dumire; a brother, Charles A. Shaffer, and a sister, Mrs. Noah Parker, both of Pittsburgh.

His body was brought to Oakland yesterday and funeral services were conducted this morning at nine o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church with the Rev. John C. Broderick, pastor, officiating. Interment was in St. Peter's cemetery.

Moving Grantsville Farm Security Office

The office of the Farm Security Administration, in Grantsville, is to be moved to Cumberland the first of next week, it has been announced, and Miss Mary Emily Butt, stenographer at Grantsville, is being transferred to the Oakland office.

Mrs. Blaine Newlon, of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Elmo Browning and Mrs. Bessie Beckman, of Fairmont, W. Va., and Mrs. Winona Loraw, of Grafton, W. Va., attended the funeral of the late Charles E. White, which was held in St. Peter's Catholic church Monday morning.

Hosmer Cropp returned to his home in Clarksburg on Wednesday, having been called here by the sudden illness of his brother, J. Fred Cropp. Mr. Cropp suffered a heart attack while walking on Alder street last Saturday and is confined to his bed, but is improving.

The demand for meat is on the increase with total cattle slaughtered in July setting a record for that month.

Abundant Vitamins From Maryland Farms

State Has Abundance of Fruits And Vegetables for Home Use

With bumper crops of fruits and vegetables reported all over the State, Marylanders don't have to worry about the sources of their daily supply of necessary vitamins, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department, pointed out in calling attention to the following bulletin from the Nutritionist of the Department.

"Marylanders are very fortunate in the abundance of fruits and vegetables, rich in nature's vitamins, that are ripening in farms and gardens all over the State. Sweet corn, lima beans, peppers, tomatoes, okra, watermelons, cantaloupes, peaches—to mention just a few of them—are all available now, and will be for several weeks to come.

"All of them are sources of important Vitamins—C and A among them. Both of these vitamins are aids in strengthening the resistance of the tissues of the body to infection. Vitamin C also helps to build strong bones and teeth and is an aid in keeping the gums healthy. Large quantities of Vitamin A are required for growth and development.

"Make all possible use of these home grown fruits and vegetables for the table, while in season. Dry, or can the surplus and put away for use next winter. If you have more than your family and your friends can use, offer what you can spare to the local committee that is arranging for school lunches for next winter.

"The day's requirements of certain vitamins, for a normally healthy adult, are contained in the following:

"One large piece of luscious, ripe cantaloupe, will supply the day's requirement of Vitamin C; a generous sized slice of juicy, pink watermelon, or two heaping cups of the fruit cut into cubes or balls will provide about half of your daily need of Vitamin C. Five medium sized peaches also provide about half the day's requirement. One and a half cups of canned or raw tomato will furnish the quota of Vitamin C needed for the day.

"Raw peppers are very rich in this vitamin. One medium sized one will cover the needs for a day. Stuff the pepper with cream cheese or with cottage cheese and add it to a mixed vegetable salad. It will be both appetizing and nutritious.

"A deep yellow, orange, or green color indicates the presence of Vitamin A in the vegetable or fruit. After the vegetables are picked from the field or purchased from the market they must be cooked very carefully to prevent the loss of vitamins. Cook in as little water as possible and in the quickest time. If there is any of the water left, use it in soups or gravies. Refreshing vegetable juice drinks can also be made from the water in which vegetables have been cooked. The addition of lemon juice improves the flavor and increases the amount of Vitamin C.

"To get your vitamins in the natural way, eat at least one raw vegetable and one raw fruit every day. For more detailed information about vitamins go to your local library, or write to the State Department of Health, 2411 N. Charles Street, Baltimore.

Pennsylvania Electric Company Employees and Families at Flag Raising Ceremony

Employees of the Deep Creek plant of the Pennsylvania Electric Company held an impressive flag raising ceremony and picnic on the grounds at the plant recently. A large United States flag and a Minute Man flag were raised during the ceremony which was opened by prayer by Rev. Garrett Evans, Methodist pastor of Mt. Lake Park.

S. J. Mayhew, superintendent of the Generating Station raised the flags while Mickey's Boys' Band from Mt. Lake Park played the national anthem.

The Minute Man flag was awarded the local plant by the Treasury Department of the United States when 100 percent of the employees signed to take at least 10 percent of their pay in war bonds. A third flag, showing the 10 percent emblem, will be added as soon as received.

After the flag raising Mr. Jesse E. Aiken, a Red Cross first aid instructor, of Washington, D. C., awarded to all 26 employees the first aid cards earned in their class last spring.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon and Mickey's Boys' Band rendered several selections. Guests included S. J. Mayhew, Roy Flegal and Sam Jones, from the Pennsylvania Electric Company, Johnstown; Rev. and Mrs. Garrett Evans, of Mt. Lake Park; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Corliss, of Somerset, Pa.; Miss Helen Miller, R. N., Friendsville; Mr. Jesse E. Aiken, Washington, and William Miller, of Accident.

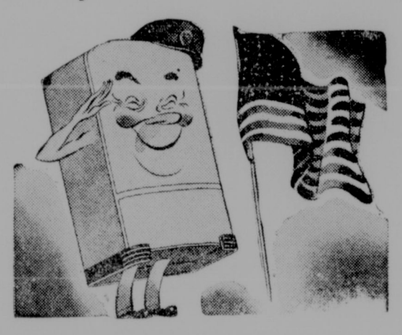
Dont forget to Oil the motor

The Axis is gambling tens of thousands of men and a great armored blitz to get oil in the Caucasus. They think the prize, if won, will be worth the terrible price being paid. Here on the home front, as a part of Allied victory plans, we're urging you to take the best of care of your electric motors by oiling them as often as they need it. You're gambling nothing when you do it, but you are eliminating a gamble that you won't keep your electric appliances running for the duration. Uncle Sam needs everything working its best to win. Don't forget your appliances and chances are they'll serve you faithfully for years to come.

They're in the Army Now



Refrigerators, washers, ironers, sweepers, and all your other household helpers have enlisted for victory. Give them proper servicing to do the job quickly and economically with electric power.

MONONGAHELA SYSTEM

Please Don't Call Washington unless you must!

WITH the war effort of 27 United Nations centered upon it, Washington is probably the busiest city in the world. It is fast outgrowing its physical limits—and its telephone facilities.

Since Pearl Harbor, long distance telephone calls in and out of Washington have increased from 45,000 a day to about 70,000 or more than 50 per cent. Some of these calls, of vital importance, get caught in the rush.

Now, it is no longer possible to expand telephone facilities as in the past because critical materials are needed for the fighting fronts.

So we must ask you to cut down on every call you can to Washington and other busy cities across the country—so that the Army, Navy and the Government can have the right-of-way to get America's biggest job done.

If you must make a long distance call, won't you place it in the off-peak hours—

More extra mileage than you can get by any other method short of retreading!

In the words of one Esso Dealer . . .

"Never knew I could be so helpful to my customers before. This new method of increasing tire life is the real McCoy . . . it sure works!"

care saves wear

Esso DEALER

Copr. 1942, Esso Inc.

● Nothing, of course, will replace worn off rubber except retreading. But if you can extend the life of the rubber on your present tires, you've got something of vital importance in our present emergency.

That is what Esso Dealers are now able to do!

This new service helps you get the last ounce of wear out of every tire on your car. In many cases it will extend the useful life of those tires by thousands of extra miles — keep your car running far longer than you have thought possible, even with the best of care.

It is simple and inexpensive. Every car owner can afford it. In fact, we believe no car owner today can afford to be without it.

In view of the vital need of keeping America's cars running in spite of the acute tire situation, we have tried to make this service available through Esso Dealers as fast as possible. Thousands are already equipped and trained. Your own dealer is probably among them. Ask him to show you the new Tire Life Indicator. Find out how much extra mileage you can get with this remarkable new method. Give your tires a new lease on life!

It's a little early to mention Christmas, but according to a bulletin received at the local postoffice Christmas cards and parcels for members of the armed forces should be mailed during the period beginning October 1 and ending November 1.

In view of the urgent need for shipping space the package should not exceed 11 pounds in weight or 18 inches in length, or 42 inches in girth and length combined. The public is urged to restrict the size of the parcels to that of an ordinary shoe box and the weight to six pounds. If possible see that the covering is fixed so that time will be saved by the censor handling it.

Here's something to remember: Not more than one Christmas package or parcel shall be accepted for mailing in any one week when sent by or in behalf of the same person or concern in or to the same addressee.

If you do not believe in mailing early, we do. Last week being unable to get to the countyseat, we mailed our letter in what we thought was plenty of time. Somewhere along the line it slipped. Anyhow, that's why you were not bored last week.

Whether or not it is still the fashion to give orchids, here's one for Jared Young, director of last Thursday evening's play sponsored by the Woman's Bible class of Bethel church, and there's one for each and every member of the cast. It would be impossible to pick any outstanding player. They were all superfine and showed the hard work they had done under "grueling" (apologies to Mr. Young) rehearsals. A nice sum was realized, which will be used toward the cost of painting the church.

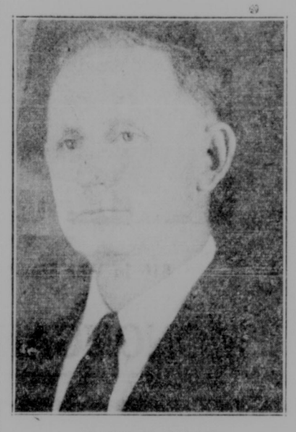
Fall Term at Catherman's Business School Opens Sept. 8

Catherman's Business School, Cumberland, will begin its fall term on September 8, marking the beginning of the school's twenty-sixth year of operation under the guidance of Mr. Charles S. Catherman, owner and president.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the school was passed on August 17, for it was on that date in 1917 that Mr. Catherman, until that time associated with Strayer's Business College in Baltimore, purchased the Cumberland institution and changed its name from the Tri-State Business College to its present title.

With the demands of the Government and business for office workers exceeding all previous records, the school is expecting the largest enrollment in its history this fall.

For Sheriff



MARK H. MOON

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

The response to the announcement of my candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of our County has been very gratifying to me. My friends everywhere have expressed their confidence in my ability to serve in this important office and to enforce the law and perform the other duties of Sheriff of Garrett County impartially, without fear or favor.

With this encouragement, if I am elected I shall have the added responsibility of keeping faith with all of my friends who have been so kind. I pledge myself to keep faith with you, the voters and citizens of this County, to serve to the utmost of my ability, and to try to be one of the best Sheriffs this County has ever had.

I know that, with the experience I have had, I will be able to keep that pledge and answer my responsibility to the County and my friends.

Respectfully yours,
MARK H. MOON

GRANTSVILLE

Infant Drowns

Lettie Melvina, year-and-a-half-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Yommer, near Jennings, was drowned last Friday morning when she fell in the spring at her home.

The parents said the accident occurred while they were storing away dairy products in the spring house. The child, they said, was playing around the spring house with other children and fell in.

They said she was recovered from the water shortly after the accident, but efforts to revive her failed.

OTHO S. FIKE

District No. 15, Avilton

To The Republican Voters:

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination as a member of the House of Delegates from this county and solicit your vote and influence at the coming primary election on September 8.

I served in this capacity upon a previous occasion and gave a fair, honest and impartial administration of my duties as a representative of all citizens and taxpayers.

I was born in this county and have lived here all my life where I have been engaged in farming for a number of years. I am a heavy taxpayer and have always been a staunch Republican supporter in county, state and national affairs.

If nominated and elected it will be my pleasure to serve the citizens of this county to the very best of my ability.

Very sincerely yours,

OTHO S. FIKE

An Open Letter To The Republican Voters of The Sixth Congressional District!

Ladies and Gentlemen:

My name is Henry C. Triesler, of Hagerstown. In the primary election on September 8th, you will have the right and opportunity to choose either J. Glenn Beall, of Frostburg, or myself, as your nominee for the National House of Representatives.

Your decision should not be final until you have given much thought in reviewing the character of each candidate, his qualifications and his chances of bringing victory to the Republican party. This has been made easier since we know that the unopposed E. Brooke Lee, of Montgomery County, will be the Democratic nominee.

If our desire to win is sincere we must plan now to overcome this opponent. To my mind the first step would be to size up his weaknesses; the second step to find out if our candidates have similar weaknesses; the third where our strength lies.

Let us then analyze E. Brooke Lee. Reliable sources have told me that he is a ruthless politician—a demagogue in spirit, who delights in ruling—likes to bully the timid—he is glib-tongued. His interests come first regardless of fairness, in short, he is an unscrupulous and egotistical individual. These facts are borne out and are readily seen when you ponder upon his audaciousness in aspiring for such an important office having behind him records which entangled him in the state roads scandal and the bank failures of Frederick County.

All upright citizens, Democrats and Republicans alike, agree that these are not the prerequisites of a Congressman. It would be wise then to pit against him the candidate whose record shows no long outstanding judgments, no compromise settlements of bank loans, no scandalous transactions. It is said that the Democratic nominee's labor legislation record as State Senator was anything but favorable to labor. We must be sure that our nominee hasn't a similar record.

We must be sure that our candidate for this high office does not bear the taint of suspicion of having aided the campaigns of opposition candidates, for there are many who would hesitate to judge as high his political shrewdness but rather would judge his party loyalty as low.

The Democratic nominee has the reputation of great political strength. Where was it when he opposed Radcliff, Tydings, O'Conor and Mrs. Byron? Should we be equally foolish and claim that we have a candidate of great political strength because he failed in a County primary and even failed in a recent effort to overcome opposition in his own small town election.

Read between the lines—then investigate and decide for yourself where our strength lies. It should plainly lie with the candidate who is in a position to attack the weaknesses of the Democratic nominee without dodging and without hedging.

It is true that the citizens of the sixth district want a businessman as their Representative in Congress. One who has a clean record and lived a clean life, and possesses the qualities of a statesman rather than a politician.

I offer myself to you as the candidate who can fill the bill. I invite you to come to Hagerstown and dig into my record as to my trustworthiness and my Republican party loyalty.

I am 50 years old. I have been a resident of Hagerstown for 37 years. I am a graduate of Western Maryland College. This is my first venture into politics but I believe that my knowledge of economics gained through 26 years in the investment banking business would stand me in good stead as your Representative both in this period of stress and the period following the close of the war. I have gloried in the business of helping to raise funds for corporations through the sale of investment securities knowing that it would mean more jobs for some and greater prosperity for us all. I believe there is nothing more terrifying to a man than to be out of a job. I believe there is nothing finer than to help him to a job.

In as much as I would like to take each one of you by the hand, it is physically impossible to do it, realizing I must cover five counties. I therefore take this opportunity to thank you for your vote and influence.

HENRY C. TRIESLER.

He Has Character! He Is CLEAN!
